REVIEW OF FEBRUARY—COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL EVENTS.

February was the last month of the Hoover Administration, and a very trying period it proved to be. There was a new accumulation of troubles and difficulties fully as serious as any that had preceded during the whole of the four years of the Presidential term. For one thing, a new series of banking difficulties cropped out that involved the banks of one State after another, until it seemed as if the whole banking structure of the entire country might be undermined because of the loss of confidence in the banking situation thereby engendered, and this last is what actually happened early in March. In such a state of things there could be no revival of trade and business, but instead, business received a new setback and the prevailing depression became intensified and was rendered still more acute, reducing trade activity to new low levels outstripping the worst of previous months.

The new eruption of banking troubles had its origin in the State of Michigan, and knowledge of it to the general public came with great suddenness when on Tuesday, Feb. 14, following the legal holiday the day before in celebration of the birthday of Abraham Lincoln, it appeared that Governor William A. Comstock of Michigan had proclaimed an eight-day State bank holiday, or moratorium, from Tuesday, Feb. 14, to Tuesday, Feb. 21, both days inclusive. What a startling piece of news this was is evident from the fact that it meant the closing for the time being of all the banks and trust companies in the State of Michigan, to the number of about 550, and involved the tying up of aggregate deposits of $1,510 385,767. The immediate effect was to cause a further loss of confidence in the general banking situation, already so deeply disturbed, and to lead to runs on, or large withdrawals of deposits from, banks in other States, besides completely demoralizing once again the security markets, prices of bonds no less than of stocks melting away to an alarming extent.

For the time being all attention converged upon the state of things in Michigan, which, it became increasingly more evident from day to day, was desperate in the extreme. It was not merely a question of arranging for the opening of the closed institutions, but also of providing ready cash for the current needs of business, since with the banks closed it was not possible to make payments or withdraw by means of checks. Strenuous efforts were made to restore the normal functioning of the banks, and also to provide for the enlarged demands for ready cash. The Federal Reserve banks did their part in providing the latter, and especially the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, as it has a branch at Detroit, while financial aid was also extended by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York and the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland. Aid was likewise tendered, or actually extended, by banking interests generally in the East and in the West. The Reconstruction Finance Corporation also stood ready to help, but, of course, only on proper conditions. Progress nevertheless towards a return to the normal was slow and difficult. The holiday period having expired, the Governor of Michigan issued a new proclamation allowing the banks to open, but to operate under severe restrictions and limitations—all in the interest of safety. However, uneasiness persisted and anxiety deepened as plans for reorganizing the First National Bank of Detroit and the Guardian National Bank of Commerce, where the Michigan banking troubles originated, were found difficult of execution. Day after day passed without a solution, and it was not until Henry Ford, who had huge deposits in both institutions, stepped in on Sunday night, Feb. 26, and agreed to provide the needed new capital on condition that he be allowed to select the officials to direct the management of the two new banks to be established, according to his own ideas as to the proper way to run banks, that even a glimmer of hope appeared that the difficulty might be cleared up, and as it happened, this plan, too, was quickly destined to fail.

In the meantime, however, banking difficulties developed elsewhere, as frightened depositors began to draw out their funds from the banks. Late Friday night, Feb. 24, Governor Albert C. Ritchie declared Saturday, Feb. 25, and also Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 27 and Feb. 28, legal holidays for all banking and financial institutions in Maryland, so as to enable banks within the State to protect themselves against heavy withdrawals of deposits and to allow time for new legislation to meet the requirements of the situation.

In Ohio, likewise, the situation became acute, runs on several of the larger banks in Cleveland being precipitated. In the early morning hours of Monday, Feb. 27, seven member banks of the Cleveland Clearing House Association announced that effective immediately withdrawals by depositors would be limited temporarily to 5% of net balances. In Akron, Ohio, the five Clearing House banks on Sunday, Feb. 26, with approximate resources of $75,000,000 and deposits of about $43,000,000 agreed to proceed with business beginning Monday, Feb. 27, upon a restricted basis, while the City Commission of Dayton, Ohio, declared a three-day banking holiday for the three banks in that city. Banks in various other Ohio cities—Youngstown, Canton, Lorain, Lima, etc.,—also put into effect limitations on withdrawals, and on Monday night, Feb. 27, Governor George White of Ohio presented a bill to the legislature giving all banks in the State authority to restrict withdrawals down to as low as 1%, with the approval of the Governor and the Attorney General, and also providing that new deposits be segregated and held at the demand of the depositor without any restrictions whatever. In Indiana also a tense situation developed. On Feb. 27 national and State banks in various Indiana cities began limiting withdrawals from all types of depositors' accounts to 5% of balances as of Saturday, Feb. 25. Following announcement of concerted action by the Indianapolis Clearing House, banks in other cities of the State instituted similar restrictions. It appeared that under the new Indiana bank codification law which was signed by Governor Paul C. McNutt the previous week, directors of each individual bank may restrict withdrawal of deposits at any time after notice is given if they believe such action to be for the best interests of the depositors generally.

It happened, too, that some startling disclosures made concerning the National City Bank of New York by the Senate Banking and Currency Committee in its inquiry into the stock market served further to disturb confidence in the general banking situation. The Committee had before it several of the high officials of the National City Bank, and of its investment affiliate, the National City Company, and drew from them testimony which showed that millions of dollars had passed back and forth between the National City Bank and the National City Company during the period of the speculative craze in 1927, 1928 and 1929 with an ease and readiness that did not bespeak banking practices that could be considered conducive to sound and safe management. Moreover, Charles E. Mitchell, Chairman of the Board of both institutions, testified that he had in 1929 sold a large block of stock of the bank owned by him after it had tremendously declined, in order to escape payment of income taxes, and quite a long time afterwards had bought back the stock at the same figure, though the stock had in the meantime suffered enormous further depreciation, this being done with a view to protecting the relative to whom the stock was sold from the loss involved. Mr. Mitchell also testified that he had received during the three-year period referred to nearly $3,500,000 from a management fund especially created for the benefit of the higher officials of the bank to properly compensate them for their services to the institution. Mr. Mitchell and Gordon S. Rentschler, President of the National City Bank, and Hugh B. Baker, President of the National City Company, also testified to large transactions by the National City Company in the stock of the National City Bank (the national banking law prohibiting banks from holding their own stock) and the Committee likewise brought out the fact that National City Bank stock with a par value of $20 a share and a book value of not over $60 or $70 and paying dividends of only $4 a share had sold as high as $580 a share and then had dropped as low as $25 a share, subsequently recovering somewhat. In the week of Mr. Mitchell's testimony the stock dropped over 10 points and sold down to 29¼ as a result of the disclosures.

The outcome of these revelations was that on Sunday, Feb. 26, Mr. Mitchell resigned all of his posts in the National City Bank and in the National City Company, saying that he was "not willing that the criticism which has been directed at me as the result of public misunderstanding of testimony given in ex parte hearings before the Senate Committee on Banking and Currency during the past week shall react upon the institution on my account." At a meeting of the Board of Directors on Monday morning Feb. 27, the Board of Directors of the National City Bank accepted the resignation and elected James H. Perkins, President of the City Bank Farmers' Trust Company, head of the bank. Mr. Mitchell had held the post of Chairman of the bank. A new position, however, was created for Mr. Perkins and he will be officially Chairman of the Board of Directors. Hugh B. Baker also resigned as President of the National City Company.

In Congress all sorts of propositions of an inflationary character were offered or discussed and this with the banking suspensions created renewed apprehensions as to the ability of the United States to maintain gold payments and led once again to huge withdrawal of foreign funds from the United States. Nearly all the foreign exchanges turned against the United States as these developments proceeded. One especially disturbing event of that character was the action of the Coinage Committee of the House of Representatives of Congress in voting on Wednesday, Feb. 22, to demand action by the House before March 4 on legislation that would, according to Associated Press advices, "tap the world's silver supply for $250,000,000 in new money." This action was the more disturbing as it came in the nature of a surprise inasmuch as only the day before the Coinage Committee had rejected the bill by a vote of 8 to 3. The Committee now reversed itself and by a vote of 9 to 1 approved the bill and instructed Chairman Andrew L. Somers to make every effort to get the measure before the House before the end of the session. Mr. Somers was quoted as saying that the bill would in five years add $250,000,000 to the $800,000,000 in silver certificates already outstanding. No less than $190,000,000 of gold was earmarked for foreign account during February, and this followed a net increase of $19,000,000 in the gold held under earmark during January, besides a decrease in this latter month of $72,600,000 in gold held abroad for account of the New York Reserve Bank.

Foreign developments also were far from assuring, Japan continued to press military operations in Jehol province west of Manchuria and defied the unanimous verdict against it of all the members of the League of Nations by withdrawing from the League, when on Friday the Assembly of the League formally adopted the report and recommendations of the Committee of 19 declaring against the operations of Japan in Manchuria and also calling Manchukuo a puppet State of Japan and recommending maintenance of Chinese sovereignty in Manchuria. President-elect Roosevelt held another conference on inter-Governmental debts and related economic problems of world importance on Monday, Feb. 20, on the return to the United States of the British Ambassador, Sir Ronald Lindsay, and the next day the French Ambassador, Paul Claudel, also conferred for an hour with Mr. Roosevelt, it being evidently the desire of Mr. Roosevelt to include France in the negotiations that are to be taken up after March 4 with the advent of the Roosevelt administration to control of the Government.

Mr. Roosevelt on Tuesday night, Feb. 21, also made an advance announcement regarding his selections for Secretary of State and for Secretary of the Treasury; he made known his intention to appoint Senator Cordell Hull of Tennessee as Secretary of State and William H. Woodin, President of the American Car & Foundry Co., as Secretary of the Treasury and these selections were well received. The advance notice in the case of Senator Hull was made with the idea that Mr. Hull could take up promptly the debt negotiations with foreign countries and could also confer with Secretary of State Stimson on the subject.

An attempt at Miami, Florida, late on Wednesday night, Feb. 15, to assassinate Mr. Roosevelt after his return from an eleven-day fishing cruise in Southern waters fortunately miscarried. The gunman seriously wounded Mayor Anton J. Cermak of Chicago, who had hastened to greet Mr. Roosevelt, and also hit four other persons, from the effects of which Mr. Cermak died early in March.

While legislation in Washington made very slow progress the two houses of Congress did pass the resolution for the repeal of the 18th or Prohibition amendment to the Federal Constitution. The Senate adopted the resolution on Feb. 16 by a vote of 63 to 23 and the House passed it on Feb. 20 by the overwhelming vote of 289 to 121 leaving 15 votes to spare over the two-thirds necessary to adopt the resolution.

Unemployment in United States at All-Time Peak in January—More than 12,000,000 Out of Work, According to President Green of American Federation of Labor—Holds 30-Hour Week Recovery Standard.

Unemployment in the United States reached an all-time peak of more than 12,000,000 in January, according to William Green, President of the American Federation of Labor. Mr. Green, in a statement issued at Washington on Feb. 12, said:

Our estimate for December showed 11,900,000 unemployed, and trade union reports showed an increase in unemployment from December to January which, when applied to the country at large, indicates at least 200,000 more laid off in industry alone by the first of the year. Trade union unemployment increased from 24.9% of the membership in December to 25.5% in January.

This new peak of unemployment is the worst tragedy of the depression. It makes the need of shortening work hours more than ever urgent. Hundreds of thousands of jobs have been completely eliminated during the depression; the only way we can ever put our working population back on a basis of self-support and turn our man power to creating wealth is by shortening the work week.

In 1929 there were already 2,400,000 out of work, and the average actual work hours per employee in industry were 48.7 per week. To-day with 12,000,000 unemployed, the average actual work week is 41.6 hours. If the work week were universally shortened to 30 hours, we could put to work 6,500,000 of the unemployed.

The 30-hour week is the recovery standard. To put to work 6,500,000 unemployed would give immense impetus to every one. It would put new hope into the hearts of millions who for years have known nothing but despair; it would give new courage and raise our national morale to have these men at work instead of walking the streets in idleness while their fellow-citizens carry the heavy burden of relief. Thirty hours a week is a conservative standard, leaving nearly 5,500,000 still to be absorbed into work as industry recovers.

Meanwhile, relief need is mounting daily, and hundreds of thousands of families are dependent on Government funds. In November the number of families receiving city and county relief in 125 cities was 152% above last year; the amount given then was above last November by over $9,000,000—an increase of 202%. Private funds cannot begin to bear the burden; increasingly we are depending on Government relief. Last November Government funds furnished 73% of all relief, this year 88%. In November, in 125 cities, 925,000 families received $27,706,000 in relief, according to Labor Department reports.

The average relief grant per family per month was $20.57, nearly $3 above that for last November. This in itself indicates the exhaustion of personal resources and the increased dependence on charity. In addition, requests have come to the Red Cross from 4,750,000 families for flour, and from 4,425,000 for clothing, from the Government supply of wheat and cotton made available by Congress for relief.

Details of our unemployment estimate from Government figures show the following for December: On farms, 220,000 were laid off with the winter season; in factories, 100,000; building construction and roads, 200,000; service industries, nearly 20,000; Government, nearly 7,000. The Christmas season gave jobs to nearly 300,000 in retail stores. The total increase in unemployment from November to December was over 300,000.

President Hoover Signs Couzens Resolution Granting Emergency Powers Over National Banks to Conform to State Action Where Banking Exigencies Exist—Legislation Outgrowth of Michigan Banking Situation.

Sweeping power to protect deposits in National banks was given to the Comptroller of the Currency on Feb. 25, as the Couzens amendment to the National banking law was enacted by Congress and quickly signed into law by President Hoover. The New York "Times" reporting this from Washington Feb. 25 added:

It will enable the President, through the Comptroller, to exercise for six months the same authority on National banks as is held by State officials in respect to State Banks, and he can, within his discretion, extend this power for another six months.

The only restriction placed upon the Comptroller is that he must first obtain the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury.

Adoption of the legislation was accelerated by the action of Governor Ritchie in proclaiming a three-day banking holiday in Maryland. A more extended closing has been in effect in Michigan to help banks solve their problems.

Congress hoped to add confidence to the situation by extending the same benefits to the National banks as given to other banks in any State.

The Couzens bill had been endorsed by Secretary Mills and Governor Meyer of the Federal Reserve Board, and was signed by President Hoover almost immediately after it was transmitted to him.

Quick Action in Both Branches.

All in all, the speed with which this legislation moved through both branches of Congress may have set a precedent.

The House took up the measure under a special rule and reached a final ballot after less than 40 minutes. . . .

Within a few minutes the proposal was back in the Senate for concurrent action on minor amendments, which was given by unanimous consent and without debate.

"The purpose of the resolution" said the report of the House Committee on Banking and Currency, "is to grant to the Comptroller of the Currency authority in dealing with difficulties resulting from insolvency or temporary embarrassment in National banks to exercise the same powers that are given State banking authorities as to State banks."

Following a reference to a provision inserted by the House Committee denying authority for the establishment of branch banks, or the consolidation of banks, except as provided for in existing law, the report continued:

"The power conferred upon the Comptroller of the Currency is limited to a period of six months, with authority granted the President of the United States to extend the power for an additional period of six months."

The following is the text of the Couzens resolution in the form in which it was signed by President Hoover on Feb. 25:

Joint resolution authorizing the Comptroller of the Currency to exercise with respect to National Banking associations powers which State officials may have with respect to State banks, savings banks, and(or) trust companies under State laws.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, that, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, the Comptroller of the Currency shall have and may exercise to such extent as he deems advisable with respect to any National Banking association any powers which the State officials having supervision of State banks, savings banks, and(or) trust companies in the State in which such National Banking associations are located may have with respect to such State institutions under State laws now in force or hereafter enacted; provided, that nothing herein shall be construed to permit the establishment of branches of either National or State member banks or allow consolidation of either National or State member banks not allowed by existing laws.

Expenses incurred by the Comptroller of the Currency in the exercise of such powers may be assessed by him against the banks concerned, and when so assessed shall be paid by such banks.

Nothing herein shall be construed to impair any power otherwise possessed by the Comptroller of the Currency, the Secretary of the Treasury, or the Federal Reserve Board.

The powers herein conferred shall terminate six months from its approval by the President; but the President of the United States may extend its force by proclamation for an additional six months.

Governor Lehman of New York Signs Bill Permitting Closed Banks to Be Reopened by State Banking Superintendent on Basis of Liquidity of Assets.

On Feb. 21 Governor Lehman of New York signed the Robinson bill, which permits the State Banking Superintendent to reopen banks which he has taken over for liquidation, even though the assets do not fully measure up to the requirements of the law. An Albany dispatch to the New York "Journal of Commerce" said:

The reopened bank would be permitted to make payments to depositors only in proportion to the aggregate of assets which are judged to be sound and liquid by the Banking Superintendent.

As a bank is reopened under the new Act the Banking Superintendent may surrender possession of it upon terms agreed upon between himself and the Board of Directors. The Board would then run the institution. Within sixty days, however, a new Board is to be elected.

Unless special permission is given by the Banking Superintendent a reopened bank is to pay out to depositors no more than 80% of the assets judged to be sound, each depositor being paid in proportion to the total of sound assets.

For the amount which is not paid out the bank is to issue certificates bearing interest at the rate of 3% annually. Until these certificates, which hold first claim against the doubtful assets, have been retired or funds accumulated for their retirement, no dividends may be paid on the capital stock.

The Act provides for the receipt of new deposits. Such deposits are to be paid in full regardless of the percentage amounts paid on old accounts.

Governor Moore of New Jersey Signs Two Newly Enacted Bills—Extends Time Limit Allowed State Banks Within Which Notice of Withdrawal of Deposits Must Be Given.

Governor A. Harry Moore of New Jersey, on Feb. 21, signed a bill to give the State Banking Commissioner broader powers to stabilize banking, said Associated Press advices from Trenton on Feb. 21, which also stated:

The measure was approved unanimously by the New Jersey Legislature last night.

One provision of the measure specifies banks shall keep new deposits separate from old accounts and invest them in liquid assets.

Under the bill the Banking Commissioner is empowered to extend for 90 days or further the time in which notice must be given for withdrawal of time deposits. The Commissioner would also be permitted to postpone payment of any proportion of demand accounts.

Reconstruction Finance Corporation Lends $1,500,000 to Reopen the Twelve Nevada Banks Known as the Wingfield Chain of Banks.

Announcement was made in Reno, Nev., on Feb. 4 that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation had granted a request for a loan of $1,500,000 to be used to refinance and reopen the twelve closed banks in the Nevada group controlled by the George Wingfield interests. Associated Press advices from Reno on Feb. 4, authority for the foregoing, went on to say:

William Woodburn, counsel for the Wingfield banks, confirmed a statement by Victor Palmer, Chairman of a San Francisco, Calif., committee assisting in the reorganization plan, that the Reconstruction Board has granted a loan.

Complete details of the plan as finally approved by the Federal corporation were not immediately made known here, but in general it provides for the setting up of a stockholders' mortgage corporation and a banking corporation which would operate branch banks throughout the State. Depositors in the closed banks would control both corporations.

A second dispatch by the Associated Press from Reno on the same date (Feb. 4) contained further particulars, as follows:

It is proposed to form a large mortgage company and an entirely new bank, located in Reno with branch offices in other cities where Wingfield banks have been operating. Before the plan can become operative, however, the State Legislature must first remove a prohibition against branch banking.

Banking officials said the new institution would have a capital stock of $500,000 and a surplus and reserve of $500,000.

In addition to its loans, which would be made up of selected securities from the present Wingfield banks, it would have cash and cash items of $2,380,387.

On opening it would owe the present depositors of the Wingfield banks $4,839,789.

When they closed recently the various Wingfield banks owed their depositors approximately $14,000,000.

President Hoover Signs Bill Extending for a Year Provisions of Glass-Steagall Act Broadening Credit Base of Federal Reserve Banks.

On Feb. 3 President Hoover signed the bill extending the provisions of the Glass-Steagall Banking Act for another year the currency expansion provision of the Glass Steagall Act. The text of the measure was given in the Bank & Quotation Record for Feb. 10 1933, page 3.

Bankruptcy Bill Passed by Congress and Signed by President Hoover—Is Expected to Provide Relief for Railroads.

Congressional action on the bankruptcy bill was completed on Mar. 1, and the bill was signed by President Hoover on Mar. 3. The bill originally passed the House on Jan. 30. It was ordered reported to the Senate Feb. 13 by the latter's Committee on Judiciary after the Committee had stricken from the bill all provisions relating to corporate proceedings in bankruptcy and reorganization of railroad companies. But in a last minute rush to provide relief for railroads and individual debtors faced with bankruptcy the Senate on Feb. 27 gave its approval to the Sumners bankruptcy reform bill in modified form and cleared the way for its final enactment before adjournment of Congress on Mar. 4. A Washington dispatch Feb. 27 said:

As passed by a vote of 44 to 8 the measure eases the way for railroads faced with receivership to reorganize and scale down their capital structures and at the same time provides a means of readjusting the debts of individuals and farmers without the debtors being ever declared a "bankrupt."

Regarding the acceptance by the House (on Mar. 1) of the Senate amendments the Washington advices Mar. 1 to the New York "Journal of Commerce," said:

Forewarned that several railroads will be forced into receivership within the next few weeks unless prompt action is taken to meet the situation, the House to-day gave its approval to the bankruptcy reform bill and cleared the way for acceptance of the measure by President Hoover.

Efforts to block the request of proponents of the measure that the House accept the amendments made by the Senate proved futile and the bill was finally adopted by a standing vote of 207 to 26. It will go to the White House immediately for his signature before the session adjourns this Saturday.

Need for prompt action to meet the railroad situation was emphasized by Representative La Guardia (Rep.) of New York, who did much of the work in drafting the railroad reorganization features of the bill when it was before the House.

Report of the National Transportation Committee—Survey Urges Wide Rail Reform, Looking Eventually to Single National System—Competitive Rates Attacked—Loans or Fare Rises Held No Cures for Old Errors—Repeal of Recapture Clause Urged—Ex-Governor Smith Files Separate Opinion Urging One Man Board to Replace Present Inter-State Commerce Commission.

The National Transportation Committee, which was organized Oct. 7 1932 under the Chairmanship of the late Calvin Coolidge, to make a comprehensive study of the railroad problems and transportation generally, made public its report on Feb. 15. The Committee, organized at the instance of savings banks, insurance companies and colleges, included (besides the late Mr. Coolidge) Bernard M. Baruch, Vice-Chairman, former Governor Alfred E. Smith, Alexander Legge, former head of the Farm Board and President of the International Harvester Co. and Clark Howell, publisher of the Atlanta Constitution and a director of The Associated Press. The report took the form of a statement signed by Messrs. Baruch, Howell and Legge and a supplemental report signed by Mr. Smith.

The report recommended that regional consolidations of the nation's railroads, looking eventually to a single national system should be hastened and where necessary enforced. It stated that "neither holding companies nor any other device should be permitted to hinder consolidation or evade the letter or the spirit of regulatory law." It urged reform of present operating and financial methods of the railways, drastic amendment of the rate-making section of the law, relaxation of government subsidies to waterways and regulation of all forms of transport competitive to the railroads.

Four emergency measures to meet the present crisis also were recommended by the committee. It listed as the first among these, revision of the bankruptcy procedure to facilitate corporate reorganizations. The second was the retroactive repeal of the recapture clause of the Transportation Act of 1920, under which prosperous roads are required to contribute out of their surplus earnings to weaker lines. Revision of the statutory rule of rate-making to substitute a common-sense and forthright basis which would enable well-managed roads to make a reasonable profit, for the present requirement of costly and cumbersome valuations of railroad properties, was the third emergency step urged by the committee. The fourth and last was interpretation of the law governing the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, so that the "adequate security" required for railroad loans should not be judged on the basis of its marketability where they are sufficiently protected by priority of lien and reasonable prospects of earnings.

That there must be a scaling down of many railroads' capital structures was agreed upon by all the committee, but Mr. Smith's phraseology was the most vigorous in discussing this phase of the report. The other signers recommended "realistic reorganization of over-capitalized corporate structures without destructive receiverships and judicial sales on depressed markets, to the end that the railroads' justifiable borrowing requirements may be met with safety to the lender under adequate protection." Mr. Smith, however, said:

I believe that the banks, trust companies, insurance companies and other holders of railroad securities must be realistic about this phase of the problem. The public will not stand for making them a preferred class of investors who must get 100 cents on the dollar irrespective of the true value and condition of the business they have invested in, when values in all other fields are being readjusted and cut down.

Plans for Readjusting Real Estate Situation in New York City Announced by Owen D. Young of Banking and Industrial Committee—Creation of Realty Stabilization Corporation Under Presidency of William Church Osborn with Capital of $10,000,000—Interest on Mortgages to Be Reduced to 4%.

Through the proposed creation of a new institution under the name of the Realty Stabilization Corporation, the real-estate interests of New York City augmented the measures previously undertaken to strengthen and "readjust the real estate situation in New York City in the light of changed economic conditions." The plans for the formation of the new corporation were announced on Feb. 10 by Owen D. Young, Chairman of the Banking & Industrial Committee of the New York Federal Reserve District. The Realty Stabilization Corporation is to have initial authorized capital assets of $10,000,000, which, it is announced, has been subscribed by banks, trust companies, mortgage companies, banking houses, and other real estate interests. William Church Osborn accepted the presidency of the corporation. Funds with which advances are to be made by the new corporation are to be supplied by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the latter, it was noted in the New York "Herald Tribune" of Feb. 11, contributing an announced amount, said to be $100,000,000. Mr. Young reported that the proposed plan was approved by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, which, in recording its general policy toward the Realty Stabilization Corporation stipulated that "it is the opinion of the directors of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation that . . . holders of the first mortgages should stand ready to grant extensions of time of not less than five years and to accept a reduction of interest to not more than 4%." As indicative of the magnitude of the real estate situation, Mr. Young drew attention to a statement Feb. 7 of the Citizens Budget Commission estimating the assessed valuation of taxable New York real estate in 1933 at $18,500,000,000. It was further stated that against aggregate properties represented by these valuations there are outstanding mortgages amounting to possibly $8,000,000,000. We further quote:

The interest on these mortgages is estimated at an average of probably in excess of 5%, representing a total interest charge of at least $400,000,000. The reduction of the present interest charge by, say, an average of 1%, would mean an alleviation of the burden upon the New York real estate owner by $80,000,000. This, if added to the reduction of $88,000,000 in the taxable budget, would represent a possible aggregate relief to real estate holders this year of nearly $170,000,000.

Under the proposed plan it is contemplated that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation may advance money on mortgage interest holdings where the property on which the lien exists has a present-day appraisal value of at least 10% in excess of the total mortgage interest on the property. The security to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation will be supplemented by the obligation of the mortgage company borrowing the money plus that of the Realty Stabilization Corporation.

President Hoover Signs Bill Authorizing $90,000,000 for Crop Production Loans.

The crop production loan bill, making $90,000,000 of Reconstruction Corporation funds available for advances to farmers in 1933 was signed by President Hoover on Feb. 4. The bill, which passed the Senate on Dec. 22, passed the House in amended form on Jan. 16. To adjust the differences the bill was sent to conference, and on Jan. 24 the conference report was agreed to by both the House and Senate. On Feb. 4 Associated Press advices from Washington stated:

Opponents, including Representative Snell of New York, minority leader of the House, attacked it on the ground it would serve to increase agricultural surpluses already large and burdensome.

The bill provides that the Secretary of Agriculture may lend the money to farmers in return for a lien on the crop. Formulation of rules and regulations is placed in the hands of the Secretary.

A cut in production of as much as 30% may be required by the Secretary in return for a loan, but the law does not compel him to make that stipulation. The measure also provides $1,000,000 for loans for live stock feed in drouth-ridden areas, the borrower to give a lien on the live stock.

At the White House it was said that the President had received a report on the bill to-day from the Department of Agriculture and he approved it within a short time after a visit from Secretary Hyde.

The measure, as finally approved by Congress, was a compromise between the bill authorizing $75,000,000 passed by the House and one calling for more than $100,000,000 approved by the Senate.

Measures for production loans to farmers have been passed virtually every year since 1921, but the sums were comparatively small until 1930, when about $60,000,000 was voted after a severe drouth which seared large sections in the South and West.

Rules laid down by the Department of Agriculture last year limited the amount an individual farmer might borrow to $400 and those to landlords with tenants to $1,600.

The primary purpose of the bill is to furnish funds for crop production, but money may also be loaned under its terms for harvesting.

Farmers Procuring Crop Production Loans Will Be Required to Cut Acreage 30%, According to Secretary of Agriculture Hyde.

Reduction of 30% in the acreage planted to cash crops will be required this year of farmers who procure crop production loans, Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde announced on Feb. 17 in making public the regulations governing the 1933 loans. Regarding the 30% cut in acreage incidental to loans, the Washington correspondent of the New York "Journal of Commerce" on Feb. 17 said:

A sweeping Federal drive to reduce production of surplus crops was instituted to-day, when Secretary of Agriculture Hyde, in prescribing crop loan regulations for this year, announced that all borrowers from the $90,000,000 fund set aside by Congress for this purpose will be required to cut their acreage 30%.

The Department's insistence upon drastic reduction of production as a prerequisite for further feed and seed loans is to apply to all cash crops, with specified minimum acreage exemptions.

Acreage reduction will not be required of farmers who plant this year no more than 8 acres of corn, 2½ acres of truck crops, 12 acres of sugar beets, 8 acres of potatoes, 30 acres of rice, and 8 acres of peanuts.

In announcing the regulations for loans from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation funds authorized by Congress, Secretary Hyde disclosed that he took advantage of the specification set forth allowing him to require as the condition of any loan that the borrower reduce acreage or production.

Attention has been attracted to the regulations because Secretary Hyde in a recent letter to Senator McNary, Chairman of the Senate Agricultural Committee, opposed the acreage allotment plan for farm relief, questioning the practicability of that measure's device for limiting agricultural production.

James C. Stone Resigns from Federal Farm Board—Letter of Resignation Refers to Efforts in Behalf of Co-operatives.

On Feb. 23 James C. Stone tendered to President Hoover his resignation as a member and Chairman of the Federal Farm Board. In his letter, Chairman Stone, alluding to the work of the Board, stated that "we have loaned to co-operatives, aside from stabilization operations, approximately $370,000,000, and to date they have paid back $213,000,000 of these loans." He added that "the loans outstanding, in my opinion, are in better condition than commercial loans of comparable size." Mr. Stone, in conclusion, stated:

If the Board is allowed to continue to function for the development of a better marketing system, owned by the farmers themselves, great good will be accomplished for the American farmer.

President-Elect Roosevelt Invites State Governors to Confer with Him in Washington March 6—Taxation, Unemployment Relief, Mortgage Foreclosures to Be Considered—Response by Governors.

An invitation to all the State Governors to confer with him in Washington, on March 6, was extended by President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt. Announcement of the proposed conference was made on Feb. 7 by Mr. Roosevelt's Secretary, Louis McHenry Howe. The invitation was written on Mr. Roosevelt's personal stationary, bearing his New York City address. Among the matters which he suggested for discussion were taxation, unemployment relief, mortgage foreclosures, &c. As made public, the letter follows:

49 East Sixty-fifth Street, New York City.

Because so many Governors will be in Washington on March 4, I want to take that opportunity of holding a conference in relation to a number of matters in which the Federal Government and the State governments are mutually interested. For that reason I want to invite you to come to the White House on Monday, March 6, at 11 a.m. to attend an informal conference.

It is my thought that we should discuss for our mutual benefit certain subjects, such as:

(a) Conflicting taxation by Federal and State governments;
(b) Federal aid for unemployment relief;
(c) Mortgage foreclosures, especially on farm lands, and
(d) Better land use by afforestation, elimination of marginal agriculture land, flood preventations, &c.;
(e) Reorganization and consolidation of local government to decrease tax costs.

It is possible that other subjects will occur to the Governors or to me as being essential for discussion.

I do not believe that more than one day will be required for this informal meeting. But it will give me the opportunity of having the pleasure of meeting many of the Chief Executives of the States. I hope much that you will be able not only to come to the inauguration but also to stay over through Monday for this meeting at the White House.

Will you be good enough to send a letter to me at the above address, letting me know whether you can come?

With my sincere regards,

Faithfully yours,
FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

Steel Trade Experiences a New Set Back—Reflects Banking Disturbances and Growing Lack of Confidence in the Business World—Non-Ferrous Metals Show Considerable Stability—Coal Production Beginning to Compare Well with Previous Year.

Steel production suffered a renewed decline during February after some increase in the early weeks of the month. The early improvement was in face of some handicaps which, however, proved only temporary. At the beginning of the month the Ford Motor Co. still labored under some small disadvantage as the result of the strike at the Briggs Manufacturing Co. plants in January which had been supplying the greater part of the car bodies used by the Ford people. The strike had been settled before the close of the month, but a few days were required to get back to the normal. It so happened, too, that 3,000 automobile body workers at the Hudson Motor Car Co.'s plant at Detroit, Mich., on Feb. 7 struck work. The plant had gone into full production Feb. 6, after a partial shutdown of several weeks. The strike closed it again. The Vice-President of the company in charge of manufacturing issued a call on Feb. 8 for all employees of record to return to work on Feb. 9, the workers being assured that the matters in dispute would be adjusted to their satisfaction; in response, about half of the strikers returned to their jobs on Feb. 9, and thereafter the number rapidly increased, so that advices from Detroit, Feb. 16, were able to say on the authority of the officials of the Hudson Co. that employment and operations at the company's plants were at a higher level than before, when 3,000 were at work in the body plant and 3,000 in the main plant. Despite these interruptions the steel mills of the country increased their output from about 19% of capacity to an average of about 20%, and in its issue of Feb. 16 the "Iron Age" remarked that the most definite improvement in steel business, apart from automobile requirements, thus far witnessed in the new year had occurred within the past week, and further stated that "moreover, there has been a loosening up of automobile tonnage with the release of steel for 10,000 cars by the Ford Motor Co. and the settlement of the strike at the body plant of the Hudson Motor Car Co., which had affected its entire works."

gitized for FRASER

But on Feb. 23 the "Age" stated that the steel ingot production for the country at large had declined to a shade under 19% as the result of a combination of circumstances, chiefly a falling off in automobile tonnage, which had been offset only in part by an increase in releases by the Ford Motor Co. In addition, it was remarked that the flattening out of steel demand might also be ascribed to unsettlement over a weak price situation and the Michigan bank holiday or moratorium. The immediate outlook for the steel industry, it was asserted, was still uncertain, owing to the lack of a substantial volume of new building work, the almost complete absence from the market of the railroads, and the indefiniteness of automobile schedules after the current month—three major lines of consumption to which the mills must look for gains if steel output was to rise much above the prevailing low level. Seasonal activity in building construction was being limited chiefly to the award of small jobs. In its issue of March 2, bringing conditions down to the end of February, the "Age" was obliged to report a further relapse, the Michigan banking situation with a long suspension of banking operations in that State, and banking troubles elsewhere of the same kind in several other parts of the country having acted as a pall on business activities nearly everywhere. The "Age" now reported the steel mills employed to only 17% of capacity, with the possibility that a further slight decline before the end of that week, and it described conditions as follows:

In sections of the country where banking troubles have been most marked, such as Michigan and Ohio, industrial plants are having difficulty in obtaining sufficient cash to meet payrolls and other running expenses, and as a consequence have restricted their steel orders to the barest minimum. Hundreds of the smaller banks in Michigan, being unable to withdraw money from Detroit banks, have remained closed, and thus in effect the Michigan bank holiday is continuing.

The sentimental effect of the banking situation on steel business has been acutely felt in districts where there are no serious bank difficulties, such as New York, where steel orders, except for tin plate, have dropped almost to the vanishing point.

Even with the curtailment of the past week, steel production in February probably has shown a slight gain over that of January on a daily basis, but March, which in normal years is one of the best months of the year for the steel industry, shows no marked promise. A resumption of the moderate upward trend of January and early February is scarcely to be expected until confidence has been restored. For this the steel industry is looking hopefully to the new Federal Administration, which takes office Saturday.

The automobile industry, which weathered the first week or so of the Michigan bank holiday without appreciable change in its production schedules, is now proceeding more cautiously because of the effect which the situation has had upon retail sales of cars. Except for the Ford Motor Co., which has pushed output up to 1,000 cars a day, with a goal of 1,600 to be reached some time this month, motor car makers are revising schedules downward. Chevrolet has reduced work in its gear and axle plants to four days a week, and its March quota of 72,000 cars has been pared down to little more than 50,000, or approximately its February total. Some steel mills now have very small back-logs of automobile orders. However, Chevrolet and Chrysler have asked for second quarter prices and may close contracts within two weeks.

Meanwhile, the long-expected aid from the railroads has failed to materialize even to the extent of inquiries.

The "Age" made the composite price of finished steel, Feb. 28, at 1.923c., the same as a month earlier, and comparing with 1.926c. at the corresponding date of the previous year. The composite price of pig iron was likewise left unchanged, namely, at $13.56 per gross ton, but comparing with $14.47 a year earlier, and the price of steel scrap also without change at $6.83, but comparing with $8.25 12 months before.

In the non-ferrous metals there were no material changes and no new developments of consequence, aside from the fact that dissatisfaction with tonnage allocations led the American Smelting & Refining Co. to resign on Feb. 11 as a member of Copper Exporters, Inc. According to reports, the company wished to continue to handle the business given its West Coast plant by Japanese interests without interference. The membership of Copper Exporters, Inc., was reduced at the time of the passage of the 4c. a pound American tariff, most of the foreign companies withdrawing. These included, among others, the Union Miniere du Haut Katanga, International Nickle Co. of Canada, Ltd., Cerro de Pasco and Chile Copper Co. The Phelps Dodge Corp. also resigned. In truth, the export association had been inactive since the passage of the tariff disrupted established world trade routes for copper metal. "Metal and Mineral Markets," Feb. 23, remarked with reference to copper that enough business had been placed to create the impression that the metal at 5c. a pound was looked upon with favor in several directions, especially for late second quarter delivery. Much of the copper sold, it was remarked, was for shipment during May and June. Sellers were not disposed to offer copper for third quarter shipment, those buying copper appeared to be counting on further curtailment in output as well as a moderate gain in general business during the last six months of the year. In its issue of March 2 the same publication remarked that notwithstanding the banking troubles the domestic market had been by no means stagnant, several round lots changing hands on the basis of 5c. per pound delivered in Connecticut for second quarter shipment. Here in New York the price of Lake copper remained unchanged at 5c. a pound, and the price of electrolytic copper unchanged at 4.75c. Lead at New York remained throughout the month at 3.00c. Tin fluctuated within a narrow range, and was quoted at 23.20c. Feb. 28 against 23.25c. on Feb. 1.

Coal production in some of the weeks of February showed higher totals than for the corresponding weeks of 1932, and coal mining has on occasion been a better guide to business activity than anything else. In this case the larger output may have been related to a spell of very cold weather the early part of the month which originated in the Far West and spread over the whole of the northern part of the country, accompanied by a heavy fall of snow—the snowfall in Chicago reaching 12.7 inches, and for a few days completely tying up local activities. Here in New York there were two heavy snowfalls—one of 2.0 inches, on Feb. 4; and the second of 8.6 inches on February 11, but in each case they were followed within two or three days by warmer temperatures and rains, which quickly served to clear away the accumulated snow, though in the case of the last one quite an army of snow shovelers had to be put to work at the same time. January had been a month of mild temperatures, and February, as a matter of fact, was not exceptionally severe anywhere, the manifestation of the rigors of winter being largely confined to the particulars mentioned. The output of bituminous coal for the week ending Feb. 4 was reported at 5,850,000 tons as against 7,250,000 tons in the corresponding week of 1932, but for the week ending Feb. 11 this year's production was 7,736,000 tons as against 6,626,000 tons in the same week of 1932; for the week ending Feb. 18, 7,520,000 tons against 6,630,000 tons, and for the week ending Feb. 25 6,100,000 tons against 6,332,000 tons.

Textile Trades in a State of Great Quietude—Banking Troubles Have a Depressing Effect—Raw Silk and Crude Rubber Continue to Rule Very Low.

The textile trades during February were unusually dull, and the latter half of the month plainly showed the unsettlement caused by the banking troubles in the Middle West and elsewhere. Ordering was largely for small fill-in lots of near-by goods. The banking troubles were attended by severe declines in the security markets, bonds as well as stocks, and this served further to increase the feeling of disquietude. In the cotton goods trade, in addition, discussion in Congress of various proposals for stabilizing the price of cotton was an element of some uncertainty, though it cannot be said to have had much influence in affecting the course of the price of raw cotton. On Feb. 11 the Agricultural Committee of the United States Senate voted to make a favorable report on the Smith Bill (so called because sponsored by Senator E. D. Smith of South Carolina), designed to cut 1933 cotton production by 3,500,000 bales. The bill provided for a 3,500,000-bale Government pool, to comprise all cotton which the Farm Board and other Federal agencies now control. A share in this would be allotted to producers who cut their production 30%. Out of this share, it was reasoned, the cotton farmer would profit by the difference between the present price and the price after Aug. 15, it being assumed that cotton prices would rise because of the resulting smaller crop. On Feb. 15 the Senate Agricultural Committee also ordered a favorable report on the so-called domestic allotment plan, but confining its operations to wheat and cotton. The Committee also eliminated the so-called "parity plan," wrote into the bill the flat provision that growers should receive 12.4c. per pound for cotton and 88.4c. per bushel for wheat, reaching this arbitrary figure by establishing it as the same as the 1909-1914 average. The bonuses paid to growers of these two commodities would be recovered by the Government through taxes levied on processers or manufacturers of products made from wheat and cotton. Neither the grain trade, however, nor the cotton market, paid any attention to this; and though the Smith Bill passed the Senate on Feb. 18, and was approved by the House on Feb. 28, with some amendments, in which amendments the Senate concurred on March 1, President Hoover killed the measure with a pocket veto just before the life of Congress expired on March 4. Nor did the cotton market take much notice of the signing, on Feb. 8, by President Hoover, of the bill authorizing distribution of 350,000 bales of Government-owned cotton to the American National Red Cross and other organizations for relief of the distressed. Congress last July had provided 500,000 bales for the same purpose, taking the cotton likewise from the stabilization stocks accumulated by the Farm Board.

Raw cotton fluctuated somewhat erratically, but, on the whole, within a narrow range. Taking middling upland spot cotton in New York as the basis, the extremes for the month were 5.90c. recorded on Feb. 1 and Feb. 2, and 6.15c. as the high, recorded on Feb. 9, Feb. 10, Feb. 17, Feb. 18, Feb. 20 and Feb. 24, with the price Feb. 28, 6.05c. Print cloths at Fall River for 28-inch 64x60s was marked down on Feb. 4 from 2⅜c. to 2 5/16c., but marked up again to 2⅜c. Feb. 10. The price of 27-inch 60x64s was quoted Feb. 28 at 2¼c. against 2¼c. Jan. 31, and of 30-inch 40x30s 7-ounce Osnaburgs at 4¾c. against 4¾c. The United States Census on Feb. 14 issued its customary monthly report, and this showed that 471,202 bales of lint cotton and 48,412 bales of linters were consumed by the mills of the United States in January 1933 as against 434,726 bales of lint and 51,635 bales of linters in January 1932. The Association of Cotton Textile merchants discontinued publication of their monthly statistics regarding sales, stocks, orders and production of cotton cloths.

Raw silk prices continued to rule low, though with occasional upward reactions. Here in New York Japanese double extra 13-15 deniers were quoted Feb. 28 1933 at $1.17½@$1.22½ against $1.15@$1.20 Jan. 31 1933; $1.47½@$1.52½ Dec. 31 1932; $1.42½@$1.47½ Nov. 30; $1.55@$1.60 Oct. 31; $1.75@$1.80 Sept. 30; $2@$2.05 Aug. 31; $1.40@$1.45 July 30; $1.12½@$1.17½ June 30; $1.10@$1.15 May 31; $1.35@$1.40 April 30; $1.50@$1.55 March 31; $1.67½@$1.70 Feb. 29; $1.87½@$1.90 Jan. 30; $1.85@$1.90 Dec. 31 1931; $2.20@$2.25 on Nov. 30, and also on Oct. 31 1931, and comparing with $4.70@$4.75 on Jan. 31 1930. In the 20-22 deniers, Japanese crack double extra were quoted Feb. 28 1933 at $1.15@$1.20 against $1.12½@$1.17½ Jan. 31 1933; $1.47½@$1.52½ Dec. 31 1932; $1.42½@$1.47½ Nov. 30; $1.45@$1.50 Oct. 31; $1.60@$1.65 Sept. 30; $2@$2.05 Aug. 31; $1.45@$1.50 July 30; $1.17½@$1.22½ June 30; $1.10@$1.15 May 31; $1.32½@$1.37½ April 30; $1.42½@$1.47½ March 31; $1.70@$1.80 Feb. 29; $1.95@$2 Jan. 30; $1.85@$1.90 Dec. 31 1931; $2.30@$2.32½ Nov. 30; $2.10@$2.15 Oct. 31 1931, and comparing with $4.60@$4.65 on Jan. 31 1930.

Crude rubber prices showed complete lack of any recovery from the low levels reached in January. Ribbed smoked sheets for spot delivery were quoted Feb. 28 1933 at 2 15/16c. asked against 2⅞c. bid and 2 15/16c. asked Jan. 31 1933; 3 3/16c. bid and 3¼c. asked Dec. 31 1932; 3¼c. bid and 3⅜c. asked on Nov. 30; 3½c. asked on Oct. 31; 3⅝c. bid and 3 11/16c. asked Sept. 30; 4⅜c. Grain Prices Steady—Wheat Fluctuates Within a Narrow Range—Corn Prices Lower—Sugar Prices Show Sharp Recovery—Coffee Prices Slightly Lower.

There were no developments of special moment in the grain markets during February. Wheat prices as a whole fluctuated within narrow limits. The May option for wheat in Chicago covered a range only of 46 to 49⅛c., with the close Feb. 28 at 47⅛c. against the opening price of 47¼c. on Feb. 1. The July option for wheat closed Feb. 28 at 47¾c. against the opening price of 47½c. Feb. 1. At Winnipeg the May option closed Feb. 28 at 47⅞c. against 47⅛c. the opening price Feb. 1. Canadian export shipments of the grain were large, while those from the United States were small, with none going to Great Britain owing to the fact that Canadian wheat, under the Ottawa agreements, enjoys Empire preference and is admitted to the United Kingdom free of duty, while wheat grown in the United States is subject to a duty of 6c. a bushel. Corn prices moved lower, and the May corn option at Chicago closed Feb. 28 at 24¼c. against 26c. the opening price Feb. 1. July corn closed Feb. 28 at 25¾c. against 27½c. the opening on Feb. 1. May oats at Chicago closed Feb. 28 at 16¼c. against 16¾c. the opening on Feb. 1, while July oats at Chicago closed Feb. 28 at 16⅜c. against 17c. the opening price Feb. 1.

Sugar enjoyed sharp recovery, and sales of Cuban raw sugar were made Feb. 28 at 0.87c. c.&f. as against 0.75c. the latest price in January. No change occurred in February in the wholesale price of refined sugar, all the leading refineries at New York continuing to quote 3.90c. per pound. As to coffee, the New York office of the Farm Board, Feb. 24, sold 41,750 bags of Santos, this being the amount remaining out of the 63,000 bags allotted for sale during February by the Grain Stabilization Corporation. The coffee brought prices ranging from 8.53c. to 9.05c. a pound. This compared with a range of 9.25@9.76c. realized on a sale of 21,250 bags sold on Jan. 25 out of the 63,000 bags assigned as the February allotment, but which the Grain Stabilization Corporation offered in advance on Jan. 25 instead of Feb. 1, because of the supposed shortage of desirable Santos coffee, but which shortage did not appear in evidence. President Vargas of Brazil on Feb. 11 abolished the Coffee Council, creating instead the National Coffee Department, to be directed by three members appointed by the Government. It was stated that no radical changes were contemplated in the Brazilian Government's coffee policy because of the establishment of the Coffee Department to replace the National Coffee Council. The Government, it was averred, would continue its program of eliminating surplus stocks and also embark on a world-wide advertising campaign with the purpose of increasing consumption. Present export taxes, it was said, would be maintained. No. 7 Rio for spot delivery in the New York market was quoted Feb. 28 1933 at 8@8⅛c. against 8½c. Jan. 31 1933; 8¼c. Dec. 31 1932; 8½c. Nov. 30; 8¼c. Oct. 31, and the nominal price of 10c. bid on Sept. 28. This compares with 8¾c. bid Aug. 31; 8¼c. July 30; 7⅞c. on June 30; 8½c. May 31; 7¾@7⅞c. April 30; 7¼c. March 31; 7¼c. Petroleum and Its Products—Better Sentiment Develops After Some Further Cuts in Prices.

During the first half of February some further sharp cuts in gasoline prices occurred, due to local competitive conditions, but the most of these were recalled later in the month. In the following we show all the principal price changes of the month, both in the case of crude oil and the refined product:

Crude Oil.

Feb. 27.—Derby Oil Co., Wichita, Kansas, posts new schedule of crude prices, effective March 1, ranging from 28c. a barrel for below 29 gravity to 60c. for 42 gravity and above.

Feb. 27.—Derby Oil Co , Wichita, Kansas, posts new schedule of crude prices, effective March 1, ranging from 28c. a barrel for below 29 gravity to 60c. for 42 gravity and above.

Feb. 28.—Humble Oil & Refining Co. posts reductions of 6c. to 11c. a barrel in Panhandle crude. Gray County was cut 6c. to new range of 30c. for below 36 degrees gravity to 40c. for 40 gravity and above; Carson and Hutchinson Counties reduced 11c., new schedule ranging from 20c. for below 36 gravity to 30c. for 40 gravity and above. Humble has also posted a flat price of 30c. a barrel for Jones and Fisher County crudes.

Gasoline and Kerosene.

Feb. 8.—Atlantic Refining Co. reduces gasoline prices 1c. a gallon in eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware, and 1½c. in western Pennsylvania. Philadelphia is not affected by change.

Feb. 8.—Standard Oil Co. of New York reduces service station gasoline price 1½c., and tank wagon price ½c. a gallon, in Boston area.

Feb. 14.—Major oil companies in southern California reduce Ethyl and standard gasoline 1c. a gallon, and third grade 2c. a gallon. The prices in the Los Angeles district are now 18½c. for Ethyl; 15½c. for standard, and 10 9-10c. for third grade. In the southeastern part of the State the third grade was reduced only 1c.

Feb. 14.—Standard Oil Co. of New York reduces tank wagon and retail prices up-State, ranging from ½c. to 2c. a gallon. Sharpest reduction was at Utica, where tank wagon net price was lowered 2c. to 9½c. Albany was reduced 1c., and Poughkeepsie ½c. Other points affected included Rochester; Manchester and Burlington, Vt.; Portland, Me.; Newburgh, N. Y.; New Haven, Bridgeport and South Norwalk, Conn.

Feb. 15.—Standard of New York reduces tank wagon and service station prices 1c. a gallon at New London, Norwich, and Danielson, Conn., and Peace Dale and Westerly, R. I.

Feb. 21.—Standard Oil Co. of Louisiana advances tank wagon and service station prices ½c. a gallon on gasoline throughout its territory, with exception of Tennessee, where advances range from ½c. to 2c. per gal.

Feb. 22.—Standard Oil Co. of New York advances gasoline prices at Buffalo, N. Y., 2c. a gallon service station, to new price of 10½c., and 1c. a gallon tank wagon to new price of 9½c. Advances were also posted at Niagara Falls, where both service station and tank wagon prices were raised ½c. a gallon.

Oil Production Allowable Fixed at 152,914 Barrels for Oklahoma City Oil Field.

The "United States Daily" of Feb. 28 stated, according to advices from Oklahoma City, Okla., Feb. 27, that the Oklahoma Corporation Commission had issued an order fixing daily allowable production of oil from the Oklahoma City oil field for March at 152,914 barrels, slightly less than recent runs, but almost 60,000 barrels daily above the allowable set at the conclusion of a hearing a month earlier.

Plan for Distribution of Government-Owned Cotton by American National Red Cross Signed by President Hoover.

President Hoover, Feb. 8, signed the Jones Bill (H. R. 13607), authorizing distribution of Government-owned cotton to the American National Red Cross and other organizations for relief of distressed. The "United States Daily" of Feb. 9 1933 stated:

Besides making available approximately $4,500,000 of unexpended balances of an appropriation made for similar purposes under an Act of July 5 1932, it also appropriates an additional sum of $4,100,000, and provides that any additional amounts necessary for such purposes shall be paid from the revolving fund of the Federal Farm Board, established by the Agricultural Marketing Act.

The bill permits cotton to be used for providing cloth, wearing apparel, bedding, comforters and blankets for the needy and distressed people of the country. The cotton is to be delivered by the Federal Farm Board through the Cotton Stabilization Corporation and the bill provides for adjustment of its loans to that Corporation accordingly.

Congressional action on the bill to turn over 350,000 bales of Farm Board cotton to the Red Cross to provide clothing for the needy was completed on Jan. 20 when the Senate agreed to minor amendments made by the House. Congress in July 1932 provided 500,000 bales for the purpose, taking it likewise from the stabilization stocks accumulated by the Board.

Tire Prices Cut by Major Companies—Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. Takes Initiative by Reducing List Prices 5 to 10%—Mail-Order Houses Follow with Lower Quotations.

The initiative was taken on Feb. 2 by the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., one of the largest manufacturers of automobile tires in the country, in cutting list prices on tires 5 to 10% to meet competition from mail-order houses. According to the New York "Herald Tribune" of Feb. 3, it was the first general revision of prices made since the previous June, when the manufacturers attempted to pass on to consumers a part of the Government tax by advancing prices 11 to 15%. Although other large manufacturers were said to be opposed to the action by Firestone, it was admitted in virtually all quarters that the lower quotations would have to be met. We quote further from the "Tribune" as follows:

Countering Firestone's action, Montgomery Ward & Co. and Sears, Roebuck & Co., leading mail-order houses specializing in volume sales of automobile tires, announced corresponding price cuts to preserve the differential between mail-order and dealer quotations.

Announcement of the general reduction in tire prices was foreshadowed last month when skirmishes on prices occurred between dealers at Cleveland, where quotations were cut 56% for one day, and in other cities. In addition, it is said, price cutting has been going on under cover among dealers for some time to prevent loss of sales to the mail-order houses.

Hope was expressed by one interest in the industry that the 5 to 10% cut by Firestone, if attended by efforts to adhere strictly to list prices by all companies, should actually result in increased returns to factories, as discounts from list quotations in order to get business have been very large in recent weeks, factories allowing much more than normal discounts on sales to dealers. On the contrary, the price structure in the industry is in danger, if the practice of bidding competitively for available business is followed.

Firestone's action was clearly directed against the mail-order houses, and the announcement once more stated the company's opposition to the tire selling activities of these distributors. The 5% cut on second-line tires was aimed particularly at the mail-order concerns, as these compete with the highest priced mail-order brands, previously selling 5% under manufacturers' prices in the mail-order stores. The cut of 10% in Firestone's first-line tires narrowed the spread, when compared with second-line tires, and tends to strengthen the competitive position of the first line, it was estimated.

Within a short time after the Firestone announcement, statements had come from Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. and the B. F. Goodrich Co., accepting the new schedules. John A. MacMillan, President of the Dayton Rubber Manufacturing Co., Dayton, said his company would reduce prices. Officials of Seiberling Tire Co. declined to comment.

Cigarette Prices Reduced Second Time Since January—Wholesale Price Now $5.50 a Thousand Cigarettes—Retail Price Varies.

For the second time since the beginning of 1933 the American Tobacco Co. took the initiative in announcing a reduction in the wholesale price of cigarettes. The company, makers of Lucky Strikes, announced on Feb. 11 that the price for 1,000 cigarettes had been cut from $6 to $5.50. The $6 price had been in effect since Jan. 3, at which time the price was reduced from $6.85. The present change was immediately followed by announcements by the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., manufacturers of Camels; the P. Lorillard Co., manufacturers of Old Golds, and the Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co., who make Chesterfields, of similar reductions. The new prices are less the usual discounts of 10% and 2%. The changes were immediately reflected in retail prices. Announcement was made by the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. that it had reduced the price of the four brands in all its stores to 10c. a package and $1 a carton. Previously, the price had been two packages for 25c. and $1.19 a carton. It was also announced by executives of the United Cigar Stores Co. that beginning Feb. 13 the retail price for these four brands in packages of 20 would be two packages for 23c. and $1.10 a carton. A. Schulte indicated that his chain would meet whatever prices the United Cigar Co. posted. The Silver Rod Stores posted that they had lowered their prices to 11c. a package and $1 a carton. The New York "Times" of Feb. 12 said:

The general slash made by the four leading manufacturers was regarded in Wall Street as a move to increase consumption of cigarettes, and to restrict the marketing of new brands offered in the last two years at 10c. a package. By reducing wholesale prices to a level which will permit some retailers to sell the older brands at 10c. a package, the large manufacturers hope to carry on an aggressive sales campaign against the new brands.

The latest price cut of the leading brands may lead to a reduction in prices by their new competitors, it was expected in Wall Street. In view of the fact, however, that the Federal tax alone on 20 cigarettes is 6c. a package, it is not believed that any important reduction from the present level is possible.

After deducting the wholesale discounts of 10% and 2%, the price received by the manufacturers of the four leading brands is $4.851 for 1,000 cigarettes. Since the Federal tax is $3 a 1,000, the net revenue to the manufacturer is $1.851 a 1,000, out of which he must pay for tobacco, manufacturing costs and overhead expenses. In other words, the cigarette manufacturing industry is now attempting to make a profit by selling cigarettes at less than a fifth of a cent a piece. At the same time, the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. is buying cigarettes at $4.851 a 1,000, and is selling them at $5 a 1,000.

The new wholesale price is the lowest since March 1918, when the price of the popular cigarette brands was $5.25 a 1,000.

The United Cigar Stores Co. and the Schulte Retail Stores Corp. announced lower prices for the leading brands of cigarettes on Feb. 16. The new prices were quoted at 11c. a package, two packages for 21c. and $1.05 a carton. Advices from San Francisco said that the Safeway Stores, Inc., had reduced the retail price of the leading brands to 10c. a package and 99c. a carton. The company's stores are mostly west of the Mississippi. On Feb. 17 the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. reduced the prices of Wings and Paul Jones cigarettes from 10c. a package to 9c. a package in its Eastern division.

J. I. Case Co. and Deere & Co. Follow Price Guarantee Plan for Farm Crops of International Harvester Co.

The following, from Chicago, Feb. 11, appeared in the New York "Times":

In an effort to stimulate sales of the farming implements which it makes, the J. I. Case Co. this year will offer its customers a commodity price guaranty plan based on wheat at 70c. and corn at 45c. a bushel here, and cotton at 8½c. a pound in New Orleans. The plan applies to payments in the autumn on merchandise bought this year.

At the time of the maturities of the notes, if the prices of the commodities have not reached the guaranteed levels, the customers will be credited with the differential between actual and promised prices.

Chicago advices, Feb. 17, also reported:

Deere & Co. will follow exactly, in 1933, the commodity price guarantee plan initiated by International Harvester Co., which assures the farmer 70c. Chicago wheat on 1933 autumn payments for merchandise purchased this year. If the average Chicago quotation at maturity of the note is less than 70c. a bushel, the purchaser will be credited with the price differential. This applies to purchases of $150 or more. The 1933 payment plan is confined to 40% of total purchase price on purchases of less than $150. Where the note represents not more than 80% of the total price, the farmer will be credited with one-half the price differential. in territories where corn or cotton is the principal money crop, a corn price guarantee will be applied at 45c. a bushel for No. 2 yellow at Chicago, or 8½c. a pound, New Orleans, for middling cotton.

Farm Allotment Bill Covering Only Wheat and Cotton Reported to Senate—Committee Strikes Out Hogs, Tobacco, Butter, Peanuts, Rice, Acreage Control—But Measure Not Advanced to Pass.

Deleting all provisions relating to hogs, tobacco, butter fat, rice and peanuts, and rejecting proposals for acreage control, the Senate Agricultural Committee on Feb. 15 ordered a favorable report on the so-called domestic allotment plan, limited to wheat and cotton. No further progress, however, was made with the measure, and it died with the adjournment of Congress on March 4.

Merger of Four New York Commodity Exchanges Made Effective by Approval of National Raw Silk Exchange.

The National Raw Silk Exchange, in New York City, by an overwhelming vote, Feb. 9, decided to merge with Hide, Metal and Rubber Exchanges to form Commodities Exchange, Inc. The other three Exchanges involved having already approved the merger, the action of the Silk members made the consolidation effective and binding upon all the Exchanges. An announcement in the matter, issued Feb. 10, said:

Although the Silk Exchange cast the largest number of ballots in favor of the merger, the vote was not unanimous as was the case with the other three Exchanges. The Silk vote was 204 for merging, 15 against.

The next step in the merger is the mechanical consolidation of the four Exchanges into a single organization operating on one floor. Pending the completion of this, each Exchange will continue to operate as a separate unit.

The Conferences Regarding Intergovernmental Debts Between President-elect Roosevelt and the British and French Ambassadors.

The negotiations for a review of the intergovernmental debts arising from the World War were continued during February. Acting in accordance with the British request of last November for immediate steps to this end, President-elect Roosevelt discussed the problem intermittently throughout the month with the British Ambassador, Sir Ronald Lindsay, while some exchanges also occurred in the closing days of the month with the French Ambassador, Paul Claudel. After the early conferences of the month, Sir Ronald made a hasty journey to London in order to inform the British Cabinet of the course of the negotiations. The precise significance of these discussions was not disclosed, but it became apparent that the scope of the formal review of the war debts would be widened materially to include economic matters of world significance.

The President-elect conferred with Sir Ronald Lindsay at Mr. Roosevelt's winter home in Warm Springs, Ga., late in January, on the war debts problem, with the knowledge and consent of the State Department, then presided over by Henry L. Stimson. No information regarding this meeting was made available. Sir Ronald sailed for London Jan. 31, and interest in his journey was heightened sharply by a speech on the war debts delivered in London, Feb. 1, by Chancellor of the Exchequer Neville Chamberlain. Declaring that silence caused more misunderstandings than speech, Mr. Chamberlain asserted that the idea of bargaining in the debt discussions was not the conception of his Government. Great Britain does not admit, he added, that the occasion calls for the ordinary give and take of commercial transactions. "Our view is," he said, "that an adjustment of these debts is as much in the interest of the creditor as of the debtor, and, therefore, I deprecate the suggestion that the coming negotiations should be regarded as a big swapping deal." He held specifically, a London dispatch to the New York "Times" said, that in the matter of tariffs Great Britain will have nothing to offer in the coming talks at Washington, except possibly reciprocal negotiations covering a very limited field. He tried hard to be conciliatory and hopeful, the dispatch added, and referred to the conversations at Warm Springs, Ga., as "the best thing that has happened yet."

After the arrival of the British Ambassador in London, Feb. 6, all phases of the war debts problem were discussed in a series of protracted meetings of the British Cabinet, attended by Sir Ronald Lindsay. In these cases also, information regarding the course of the discussions was withheld. London dispatches declared, however, that the Cabinet members were much less optimistic regarding the forthcoming negotiations after their talks with Sir Ronald than before. The Ambassador is said to have explained carefully to the Ministers that it is most difficult, if not impossible, to convince the harassed Americans that it would lessen their own difficulties to forgive the debts owed to their country. The rumors and reports in the British press occasioned a number of interpellations in the British House of Commons soon thereafter, and a little informaton regarding the proposed formal negotiations finally was made available, as a result. Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald informed the House, Feb. 13, that the British Government hoped to "go on harmoniously" with the negotiations. He gave the impression, London dispatches said, that the Government is taking a far more conciliatory attitude regarding the American position than was revealed by Chancellor of the Exchequer, Neville Chamberlain. In reply to a question whether the negotiations would be limited to war debts, Mr. MacDonald said that all significant economic questions of mutual interest would be discussed.

The preliminary negotiations again were transferred to this side of the ocean, immediately on the arrival of Sir Ronald Lindsay in New York, Feb. 20, for resumption of his official duties. Before returning to Washington, Sir Ronald visited Mr. Roosevelt at the latter's home in New York City. A brief announcement issued at the close of the two-hour conference disclosed only that the views of the British Government on the broader aspects of the world economic situation were conveyed by the Ambassador, but that no specific proposals were discussed. The war debt conferences of the coming President were widened, Feb. 21, when Paul Claudel, the French Ambassador, also called at Mr. Roosevelt's home for an "unofficial discussion of all questions relating to collaboration between France and the United States in world affairs." This incident was viewed generally as ending a "kind of diplomatic exclusion" exercised against France by the United States authorities after that country defaulted on its Dec. 15 debt instalment. No further meetings between the British and French officials and Mr. Roosevelt were held in February, but additional discussions were initiated with Senator Cordell Hull, after Mr. Roosevelt announced that the Senator would be appointed Secretary of State in his Cabinet.

The Bank for International Settlements.

Of interest in connection with the forthcoming debt negotiations is a change made in the executive direction of the Bank for International Settlements, according to an announcement issued at Basle, Feb. 14. The fate of this institution, which was established chiefly to handle reparations transfers, has been much debated since reparations were discontinued. Its position has been rendered additionally anomalous by the fact that many of its greatest supporting countries, such as England, have been driven off the gold standard, whereas the bank is based essentially on the gold standard. At the end of the B. I. S. fiscal year, in May, Gates W. McGarrah, the American head of the bank since it was founded in 1930, will retire, and he will be succeeded by Leon Fraser, also of the United States, who has acted as Vice-President and as Mr. McGarrah's alternate in board meetings.

Renewal of the German Standstill Agreement.

Renewal of the standstill agreement covering foreign short-term banking credits outstanding in Germany was arranged in Berlin, Feb. 17, after three weeks of discussion by the foreign creditors' and German debtors' committees. The new accord will run for one year from Feb. 28, on terms closely approximating the second standstill agreement which it replaces. It covers credits totaling about 3,700,000,000 marks ($880,000,000), of which it is estimated that 40% is held in the United States. Other creditor countries represented included Great Britain, France, Italy, Holland, Switzerland and Sweden. Interest rates were lowered slightly by the creditors, payments on cash balances being lowered from 5 to 4¾%, on acceptance credits from 5 to 4½%, and on commercial drafts from 4½ to 3⅞%. A 5% repayment in the respective foreign currencies will be effected during the year, and this will be augmented, through the introduction of a new clause, by repayments in reichsmarks within fixed percentages and at stated periods. Such repayments will become registered balances of the creditors, which are to be employed in various ways open to the holders. "For the most part," the report of the standstill conference states, "these ways lead to exchanging the registered balances for categories of investments in securities, mortgages, loans, &c., under proper regulation, and an important and useful employment of balances is in their permitted use for the purpose of tourist traffic. It is considered probable that through the use of these balances by tourists in the form of travelers' checks, letters of credit, &c., repayments in creditors' currencies may run to very substantial figures."

The report points out that Germany reduced her standstill indebtedness by 608,000,000 marks ($144,700,000) through the operation of the agreement during the year about to end. This figure, the report states, reflects German determination and ability to meet both the problems peculiar to herself and those created for her by the outside world. It is added, moreover, that "the results of the World Economic Conference may be of such a character as to require prompt consideration in connection with the present agreement." Reviewing the position of the Reich, the report of the conference finds that "in measures undertaken to cope with her internal difficulties, as well as in her adjustments to external developments, Germany has shown impressive results. These have come, not only from the effectiveness of the plans themselves, but also from the steady co-operation of the Government, the Reichsbank and the business community. Underlying all has been the continued support by the masses of the people who, schooled in bitter experience, willingly support a program which negatives any cheapening of the currency or any impairment of the gold basis of that currency."

The Political Happenings in Germany.

Although the financial situation in Germany showed steady improvement, it was not possible to say as much of the political position in that country. The sudden change of government in the Reich late in January, when the Fascist leader, Adolf Hitler, took over the Chancellorship and appointed Ministers from his own party and the Hugenberg Nationalists, was followed in February by a campaign for a general election on March 5 which was marked by many elements of unfairness towards the opposing parties. Chancellor Hitler used his high office on all possible occasions to suppress the campaigning of his opponents of all parties, not only the Communists, but the Republican Centrists groups being subjected to all manner of repression. An effort was made by Hitler, Feb. 1, to enlist the support of the Centrists for his Government, but Dr. Bruening and his associates demanded Constitutional guarantees as the price of their support, and Hitler declined to furnish them. A Presidential decree dissolving the Reichstag was issued the same day, and new elections ordered held March 5. Hitler immediately made plain his unrelenting opposition to Constitutional rule and the parties upholding the Weimar document by declaring in his first campaign speech that the past 14 years of Constitutional rule constituted a "disgrace and humiliation" which he said he would wipe out in four years. Among the pillars of his program, he said in his first address on Feb. 1, is the idea of compulsory labor service. Communism must be suppressed, as it would destroy Germany within a year if it gained power, the new Chancellor said.

Measures taken subsequently, until the very eve of the election, were all designed to suppress opposition parties of all stripes in the national election and, as one press correspondent said, "bludgeon the German people into acceptance of National-Socialist domination." Chancellor Hitler and his associates stated again and again that they intended to remain in office no matter how the election turned out. Orders were issued, beginning Feb. 2, forbidding Marxian parties from holding outdoor meetings, while indoor gatherings were closely regulated and utterances censored. Communist headquarters and offices throughout the Reich were raided on a number of occasions, while all newspapers and other publications of Communist persuasion were forbidden to appear. Equally drastic methods were employed Feb. 6 to insure the holding of elections for the Prussian Diet, March 5. When authorities of the Diet demurred at the Federal demand for suspension and the holding of elections, a Presidential decree was issued divesting the Prussian Cabinet of all powers and transferring them to Vice-Chancellor Franz von Papen, who is also Reich Commissioner for Prussia. Under a further decree of Feb. 6, power was granted the authorities to suspend any publication whatever on such convenient grounds as insulting the established Government or officials, incitement to treason or to general strikes, dissemination of deliberately false news prejudicial to the interests of the State, and other similar charges that could serve as convenient pretexts for acts of oppression.

Intimidation and violence also were employed liberally by the Fascist rulers of Germany during the campaign. Not content with ruthless proceedings against Marxian parties, they acted through the Fascist organizations to disrupt by violence a number of election meetings of the Catholic Centrist parties. A final repressive decree was issued Feb. 28, after a fire of incendiary origin had destroyed the session chamber of the Reichstag building, in Berlin, during the previous night. This decree suspended all Constitutional safeguards and placed the nation under the rule of a dictatorship apparently quite as severe as those in Italy or Russia. It was stated that the fire which furnished the pretext for his decree was started by a self-confessed Communist named Van der Luebbe. Dispatches to the New York "Times" from Berlin maintained, however, that the so-called Communist was expelled from the Dutch Communist party several years ago as a police spy and agent provocateur. The correspondent of the New York "Herald Tribune" remarked laconically that "the Government is said to have been seeking a good reason for the suppression of the Communist party, which is the bitterest enemy of Hitler's Fascist movement."

Misgivings were caused in most European chancelleries by these developments in Germany and their possible international significance. It was noted, especially, that Hitler appeared to make overtures of one kind or another to the Fascists of Italy, and the assumption in unofficial diplomatic circles in Great Britain and France was that a more definite Central-Southern European bloc was under formation, with an implied danger to the peace of Europe that all observers found most disquieting. Questions based on these considerations were put to Sir John Simon, the British Foreign Secretary, in the House of Commons, March 1, but Sir John made no statement in clarification of the position. He indicated merely that the Government did not consider it needful to take extraordinary measures for the protection of British nationals in Germany.

The Japanese Operations Against China and Defiance of the League of Nations.

Developments in the Far East proved even more disturbing, as they resulted in the outbreak of another unofficial war between China and Japan, notwithstanding the intense efforts of the League of Nations to prevent further difficulties of this nature between these antagonists. The Japanese desire to add the Province of Jehol to the new State of Manchukuo, which was set up by Japan, was realized to all intents and purposes, through a swift and effective military campaign in the final days of February. Japanese forces for the invasion and control of the minerally rich Province were set in motion after a protracted debate in the League on methods for conciliation of the Manchurian dispute. All conciliation plans failed, however, owing to Japanese insistence on an interpretation of affairs in the Far East which is at variance with the considered opinion of all the rest of the world. Japan eventually withdrew from the League of Nations, in consequence of findings by that body which clearly hold Japan the aggressor in Manchuria and Jehol.

The League Committee of Nineteen met in Geneva in January to arrange conciliation of the Manchurian trouble on the basis of the Lytton report. In accordance with that report, the Committee asked for a recognition by Japan of Chinese sovereignty in Manchuria, but this the Japanese delegates at Geneva refused. Government spokesmen in Tokio asserted that Japan was determined to maintain the independence of Manchukuo regardless of the consequences. In this situation the League Committee of Nineteen had no alternative but to condemn Japan and to submit recommendations to that effect to the League Assembly for action. The Committee indicated in its study, which was published Feb. 17, that Manchukuo is in effect a "puppet State" of Japan, as the "main administrative and political powers of the Government of Manchukuo rest in the hands of Japanese officials and advisers." China was specifically absolved from responsibility for events since September 18 1931, when the Japanese invasion of Manchuria began. The recommendations of the Committee called for maintenance of Chinese sovereignty in Manchuria and the withdrawal of Japanese troops to the railway zones recognized in treaties. The principle of non-recognition of Manchukuo, either by member States or non-member States, was upheld. It was suggested that the League form a negotiating committee, to which the United States and Russia could be invited, for adjustment of the conflict.

The League Assembly met Feb. 21 and considered the report and recommendations, but deferred adoption until Feb. 24 to avoid hasty action. On the latter date the Assembly adopted the document formally, after an impassioned plea by Yosuke Matsuoka, the Japanese delegate for rejection. All voting countries, save only Japan, voted for adoption, and as the vote of an interested State in a dispute does not count, M. Paul Hymans, of Belgium, the Acting President, declared the document adopted unanimously. The Japanese delegation walked out of the Assembly and declared simply, "We are not coming back." It was generally accepted that Japan had withdrawn from the League. Later the same day the Assembly appointed a Committee of Twenty-One for further consideration of the dispute, and invitations were issued for the United States and Russia to join the group. Russia has not yet replied, but Secretary of State Stimson answered the League invitation promptly on Feb. 25, expressing the "general agreement" of this country with the League Committee findings and purposes. The invitation suggested that the two great non-member States "concert their action" with that of the League, but Secretary Stimson made no mention of this point. Great Britain took an interesting step, Feb. 27, when an arms embargo against both Japan and China was announced by the MacDonald Cabinet. This embargo is viewed by most observers as more detrimental to China than to Japan, as the latter country can rely upon its vast war stocks and will be able to continue imports of materials for arms manufacture within Japan. It was assumed rather widely that Great Britain took the action mainly to prevent embroilment in the Far Eastern dispute through possible seizure by Japan of British vessels carrying arms supplies to China. Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon remarked significantly in the House of Commons that "under no circumstances will this Government authorize this country to be a party to the conflict."

Extensive preparations by the Japanese for invasion of the Province of Jehol apparently were completed Feb. 25, when the War Office in Tokio announced tersely that the general Japanese and Manchukuan offensive in Jehol was starting that day, with the aim of ridding the territory of Chinese "bandits." There were numerous preliminary skirmishes between Japanese and Chinese forces, but the military developments that started Feb. 25 overshadowed all such movements. Three main columns of Japanese troops crossed the Manchuria-Jehol border that day and moved along the main highways toward Jehol City, the objective of their campaign. Chinese defenses proved entirely inadequate, and the Japanese swept all before them in an advance that wrested control of the area from the Chinese in hardly more than a week. The invading troops entered Jehol City early in March and rapidly consolidated their position, with the announced intention of completing subjugation of the Province by March 11. There were reasons for assuming that the Japanese invasion might be extended to parts of North China proper, which Japanese military authorities said might be occupied for the "protection" of Manchukuo against the Chinese.

Poland on Gold Basis—Bank's Shareholders Vote to End Exchange Standard—Earmarking of Gold at New York Federal Reserve Bank.

From the New York "Times" we quote the following from Warsaw Feb. 9:

Gold became the sole cover of the Polish zloty as the Bank of Poland abandoned the gold-exchange standard to-day. The bank's status changed at a shareholders' general meeting. The directors were authorized to exchange foreign currency, notes and checks, serving as the zloty's reserve, into metal gold. Simultaneously the obligatory reserve was lowered from 40 to 30%, making possible an increase by nearly $70,000,000 the present low note circulation of some $130,000,000 and expand bank credit facilities.

Together with silver and copper coins, Poland's entire money circulation on Jan. 31 amounted to $160,000,000, or $5 per capita.

An 8% dividend was voted by the bank for 1932. Its President, Dr. Wroblewski, former Minister to the United States, emphatically declared that banks and the Government were against any kind of inflation.

Noting that the Federal Reserve Bank of New York reported on Feb. 9 a loss of $15,999,900 gold through earmarking of that amount for foreign account, the New York "Times" on Feb. 10 said:

The operation, the largest of its kind since last Spring, was connected by the financial community with the return of Poland to the full gold standard instead of the gold-exchange standard, announced in Europe Feb. 9 as effective on Feb. 8.

Record Mining-Stock Trading Taxes Toronto's New Tickers.

The new high-speed tickers of the Toronto Standard Stock and Mining Exchange, in use on Feb. 6 for the first time, were, according to advices from Toronto that day to the New York "Times" taxed to capacity by the most active trading in shares in nearly four years, gold stocks holding the centre of the stage. The dispatch added:

The facilities on the floor of the Exchange, recently augmented, and of brokerage offices and their telephone services were used to their limit all day. The turnover was 1,815,000 shares, the highest record since May 27 1929. There were 4,220 separate transactions, the largest number since compilations of trading on the Exchange began.

From Toronto, Feb. 4, Canadian Press dispatches said:

The Standard Mining Market to-day had its most exciting Saturday session in the last five years. Quotations on gold shares bobbed about like a leaf in a gale, variations of 10 and 15 points showing between sales in some cases. The tape did not stop a second throughout the two hours. It carried no bid and asked prices, having time only for actual sales.

The high-priced gold shares still hold the stage for volume. Lake Shore got up to a new high, above $39. Dome pushed above $18, McIntyre above $27. Hollinger above $8, Wright Hargreaves and Pioneer above $5 and Teck Hughes to about $4.85. There was a slight sell-off from these prices before the close.

The secondary group, especially Sylvanite, Howey and Ventures, were in active demand and much stronger. The other favorites in recent sessions were under fair accumulation. Noranda was just as active as the straight gold shares, but it made less headway on the upside, touching only $25 for a 35c. rise. Nickel lagged, while Falconbridge gained 5 cents and the other base metals were quiet.

London Traders Rush for Gold Mine Stocks—Prices Soar, Then Crash Till Gains Are Lost.

There was also wild speculation in the gold mining stocks in London, Eng., as appears from the following London dispatch Feb. 2 to the New York "Times":

The wildest speculation in gold-mining shares in almost forty years rocked the London Stock Exchange to-day. In the streets behind the Bank of England brokers scrambled to buy at rapidly rising prices half an hour before the opening of the Stock Exchange. When the opening gong sounded, dealers inside the building were swamped with orders.

Old members of the Exchange said they could not remember such scenes in South African mines since the boom of 1895. Buyers besieged the booths all morning. By afternoon, however, selling in Johannesburg, South Africa, checked the boom and soon prices were tumbling faster than they had risen. In most cases closing prices were lower than yesterday's.

Since Christmas there has been an extraordinary demand for gold-mining shares, caused by South Africa's abandonment of the gold standard, and the mines reaped benefits in sterling of the heavy premium on gold.

Figures issued to-day showed the Johannesburg Consolidated group earned £922,234 in depreciated sterling in January, compared with £454,398 in December. [The gold pound was worth about $4.87; sterling now is worth about $3.39.] The Central mining group earned £896,211, compared with £347,881, while the Anglo-American group showed profits of £336,896 in January, compared to £156,750 in December.

Temporary Closing of Stock Exchanges at Tokio, Osaka and Nagoya as Stocks Decline Anew.

Associated Press advices Feb. 15 from Tokio, were published as follows in the New York "Herald Tribune":

Owing to a continued slump on the Stock Exchange, caused by indications that anti-Japanese sentiment was developing at Geneva, the usual afternoon session of the market was suspended. It was the second severe slump in three days resulting from the League crisis.

Matching Monday's fall soon after to-day's opening, leading stock issues dropped nine to fifteen points, cotton spinning shares suffering the most. The declines continued throughout the morning session. The leaders dropped thirteen to twenty points.

All indications are that Japan's commercial and financial leaders do not share the confidence which military men and politicians profess to have though confronted with the prospect of Japan's withdrawal from the League of Nations.

Commodity markets, including cotton, rice, and others, following the decline in the share market, were virtually devoid of confidence.

Recent losses in the stock market have wiped out all gains from a boom which the Japanese economic world has enjoyed since September 1932, largely as a result of inflation and the activity of war industries.

The Stock Exchanges at Osaka and Nagoya likewise were closed. Since the beginning of 1933 stock exchange averages have gone down 30%.

THE FEBRUARY FINANCING OF THE U. S. TREASURY.

The financing of the United States Treasury during February was confined entirely to the sale of several blocks of Treasury bills on a discount basis, and, indicative of the firmer money market conditions growing out of the bank suspensions in Michigan and several other States, the cost to the United States Government of this form of borrowing increased with each succeeding new issue of bills, though the cost nevertheless remained inordinately low. The Government put out $227,516,600 of 2⅝% Treasury notes running for five years and bearing date Feb. 1 1933, but these were actually disposed of the latter part of January and were referred to in our review for that month.

On Feb. 1 announcement of a new issue of 91-day Treasury bills to the amount of $75,000,000 was made by Ogden L. Mills, Secretary of the Treasury. The bills were dated Feb. 8 1933, and mature on May 10 1933. It was stated that the proceeds of this issue of bills would be used to meet $75,056,000 bills maturing on Feb. 8. Tenders were invited up to 2 p. m. Eastern Standard time on Monday, Feb. 6. The tenders aggregated $234,790,000, out of which $75,228,000 were accepted. The average price realized by the Government was 99.955, making the average rate on a bank discount basis about 0.18% per annum. This was also the average rate of the last sale in January, which consisted of $80,020,000 of 91-day Treasury bills offered on Jan. 23 and dated Jan. 25. Another issue of 91-day Treasury bills to the amount of $75,000,000 was offered Feb. 10, the proceeds to be used to retire a block of $75,480,000 of maturing bills. This issue was dated Feb. 15 and matures May 17 1933; the subscriptions aggregated $281,122,000, and the amount of bids accepted totaled $75,202,000; the average price realized by the Treasury was 99.942, and the average rate on a bank discount basis about 0.23% per annum.

On Feb. 16 Secretary Mills gave notice of an offering of 90-day Treasury bills to be dated Feb. 23 and maturing May 24 1933. Tenders were received up to Feb. 20, and the applications now footed up only $123,929,000. These bills were to replace an issue of the same amount maturing Feb. 23. The amount of the bids accepted was $60,074,000, and the average price realized by the Treasury was 99.864, equivalent to an average rate on a bank discount basis of about 0.55%. Still another offering of bills was announced by Secretary Mills on Feb. 22, this time for amount of $100,000,000, and consisting of 91-day bills, dated March 1 1933 and maturing May 31. These bills were to replace an issue of similar amount falling due March 1. Applications were received up to Feb. 27, and they reached a total of $254,283,000, of which $100,613,000 were accepted. The average price received by the Treasury on this issue was 99.750, being an average rate on a bank discount basis of about 0.99%. It will be seen that the increase on these successive issues was from a basis of 0.18% to 0.99%.

All the foregoing offerings of bills, as noted, were for the purpose of meeting maturities of bills already outstanding. But Government deposits growing out of the sales of certificates of indebtedness and Treasury notes were being rapidly drawn down as the result of repeated calls for repayment of such deposits, and on March 1 Secretary of the Treasury Mills gave notice of still another offering of bills. This offering was not for the purpose of meeting maturing bills, but to provide the Treasury with new funds. The amount of the offering was $75,000,000, and the bills were 93-day bills, dated March 6 1933, and to mature on June 7 1933. Tenders were received up to Friday, March 3, and the sale showed still another advance in the cost of this class of borrowing to the Government. The applications footed up $94,101,000, and the Treasury accepted $75,266,000, the average price realized being 98.909, making the rate on a bank discount basis 4.26% per annum.

We have spoken of Government deposits having been rapidly drawn down during the month. It will be recalled that in our review for the month of January we found that after the call for repayment of deposits made on Jan. 30, and which required the repayment of $19,497,700 Feb. 2, and the same amount on Feb. 3 ($9,241,900 being in the New York District in each instance), and which used up the balance of the deposits growing out of the October sales of $508,338,600 of 3% 4½-year Treasury notes, there still remained untouched the deposits of $184,661,000 growing out of the sale in December of $360,533,000 of 2¾% Treasury notes running for four years and $254,364,000 of ¾% Treasury certificates of indebtedness running for a year. With these deposits and some still remaining from earlier issues, total Government deposits still stood at $215,922,000 (of which $86,328,256 in the New York District) plus the deposits growing out of the sale in January of $227,516,600 of five-year 2⅝% Treasury notes, which deposits amounted to $132,000,000, payment for these Treasury notes not having been required until Feb. 1, the date of the notes. Calls on these deposits came in rapid succession during February, but it was not until a call on Feb. 23 for repayment of $17,787,100 on Feb. 27, and the same amount on Feb. 28, that the entire deposits growing out of the December sale were exhausted. A further call came on Feb. 27 requiring the repayment of $33,193,200 on March 1 1933, and this was against the deposits growing out of the sale of the five-year 2⅝% Treasury notes in January, but which are dated Feb. 1 1933. After this call there remained of the deposits growing out of the January sale, together with some deposits growing out of some very old issues, a balance of $130,834,800, of which $52,641,656 represented deposits in the New York Federal Reserve District.

NEW SECURITY ISSUES AND DIVIDENDS IN FEBRUARY.

The month of February was a very unpropitious one for financing of any kind, due to the general banking situation and the poor state of trade. Many States declared bank holidays or moratoria for the banking institutions within their borders, making it a difficult task to undertake financing of any kind. As a result, domestic financing for the month was practically at a standstill with the exception of the placing of a few State and municipal obligations. Below we give the offerings of $1,000,000 or over for February.

MUNICIPAL FINANCING.

$3,200,000 Cleveland, Ohio, 5½% water works bonds, due $80,000 annually from 1934 to 1973 incl., purchased by Lehman Bros. of New York and associates at a price of 100.057, a basis of about 5.49%. Re-offered to yield from 5 to 5.10%.

2,050,000 Mississippi (State of) hospital and deficit bonds, of a total of $6,657,000 for which no bids were received on Feb. 13, were sold later as follows: $1,500,000 to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. and the New York Life Insurance Co., both of New York, and $550,000 to a Southern banking group. This latter amount was sold at a price of 97. Block of $500,000 re-offered to yield 6%.

1,959,000 Columbus, Ohio, 4, 4½ and 5% bonds sold by the Sinking Fund Trustees on Feb. 10 to a syndicate headed by the Banc-Ohio Securities Co. of Columbus at 100.656, a basis of about 4.259%. Re-offered to yield from 3.50 to 4.40%.

1,200,000 Newark, N. J., 4¾% public park bonds, due serially from 1934 to 1981 incl., purchased at a price of par by the Prudential Insurance Co. of Newark, the only bidder for the issue. No public offering was made.

1,000,000 Mount Vernon, N. Y., 4½% tax relief certificates of indebtedness, due on Feb. 15 1936, purchased at par by George B. Gibbons & Co., Inc., and Dewey, Bacon & Co., both of New York, jointly. Block of $500,000 re-offered at 102.11 to yield 3.75%.

1,000,000 Utah (State of) 4½% highway bonds purchased by the First National Bank of Salt Lake City and associates at a price of 101.25. No public offering was made.

Changes in dividend declarations in February were not as numerous as in previous months and were again mostly of an unfavorable nature. The following table, divided into two sections, namely, "Favorable Changes" and "Unfavorable Changes," gives the more important of the changes:

THE COURSE OF THE STOCK MARKET DURING FEBRUARY 1933.

The New York stock market during February was weak and depressed, as was natural under the steady accumulation of adverse news and developments. After considerable pressure at the very commencement of the month, there was a rallying tendency from about the 4th to the 9th of the month, but beginning with Tuesday, Feb. 14, the day after the holiday in celebration of Lincoln's birthday, when news came that all the banks in the State of Michigan had been closed for a period of eight days, by a proclamation of the Governor of the State, the market became badly demoralized, and the tendency of prices thereafter was almost steadily downward, with only an occasional rally up to the close of the month. The market had a bad beginning on the first day (Feb. 1), owing to the fact that after the close of business the day before (Jan. 31) there had come news of the reduction in the quarterly dividend on United States Steel preferred from $1.75 a share to 50c. a share. This, and some other dividend reductions, precipitated sharp declines all around on Feb. 1, while further unfavorable developments drove stocks still lower on Feb. 2 and Feb. 3. Steel common opened at 27 Feb. 1 as against 28¼ at the close the preceding day, and closed Feb. 1 at 26¾; Steel preferred opened at 57¼ Feb. 1 as against 61½ the final sale on Jan. 31, and closed Feb. 1 at 56⅝. A break in the stock had been foreshadowed by the action of the shares on the San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchanges late in the afternoon on Jan. 31. One other dividend announcement that served to accelerate the downward movement of prices at this time was the action of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey in omitting the declaration of the 25c. a share extra, previously paid each quarter, and declaring only the regular quarterly payment of 25c. a share. The extra dividend had for some time been paid out of accumulated surplus, but the company quoted an excerpt from its report for 1931 which said that "it is obvious that the use of earnings of the past for payment of dividends cannot continue indefinitely, and that there must be an improvement in our business to justify the continuance of the present rate," and added that "unfortunately no such improvement had taken place." Standard Oil of N. J. stock opened on Feb. 1 unchanged from the previous night at 29½, but dropped to 25¼ and closed at 25⅝. The weakness of the Canadian dollar also proved a depressing feature on Feb. 1, the dollar selling at a discount of 20% in London owing to widespread talk of inflation in the agricultural section of the Dominion, though there was subsequently a reaction to a lower discount rate; here in New York the highest discount on Feb. 1 was 18½%, with a drop the very next day to 15 1/16%. Other dividend reductions added their weight to the prevailing weakness, and on Feb. 2 there came as a further depressing feature reductions of 5% to 10% in tire prices by the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. The bond market was heavy, and so continued for the remainder of the month, even the higher grade issues yielding to the pressure, while the speculative and semi-speculative issues sharply declined. In the foreign issues German Government obligations moved lower on the accession of Adolf Hitler to the Chancellorship of Germany, followed by a decree dissolving the German Parliament and calling for a new election.

The market continued depressed for a few days, but on Monday, Feb. 6, after early weakness, it was favorably affected by a sudden rise in sterling exchange, the rate bounding up over 4c. to the pound, cable transfers on London advancing from $3.40 to $3.44 1/16, or the best level touched in months. The rise followed abandonment of official control of sterling in London for the time being. An upturn in wheat at this juncture, due to the strength of wheat in Winnipeg owing to the increased purchasing power of the pound sterling, helped further to improve the tone. The declaration of the regular quarterly dividend of 25c. a share on General Motors common also served to brighten sentiment, though in the absence of any great amount of buying the stock market really did little better than mark time. The action of the Union Pacific RR. in continuing the quarterly dividend on common at 1½% likewise served to strengthen confidence in railroad securities for the moment, and there appeared to be considerable buying of certain share properties, Union Pacific being in special demand for a few days.

The generally improved tone, however, did not last very long. On Saturday, Feb. 11, there came announcement of another cut in the price of cigarettes. The American Tobacco Co. led in the step by reducing the price of a package of 20s to $5.50 a thousand from $6. This was the second price reduction since the first of the year, a cut from $6.85 a thousand to $6.00 having been made on Jan. 3. On the following Monday, Feb. 13, the Stock Exchange was closed in observance of Lincoln's Birthday the day before. On Tuesday, Feb. 14, as already stated, there came the news that all of the banks in the State of Michigan, to the number of about 550, with deposits in excess of $1,500,000,000, had been closed by proclamation of the Governor. As a result, stocks tumbled in every direction. On Wednesday, Feb. 15, the morning papers printed the report of the National Transportation Committee, which had been making an extended investigation into the condition of the railroads, and which former President Calvin Coolidge had headed before his death. This report had been looked forward to with great interest, but the community was rather puzzled as to its meaning and significance, owing to the diverse character of some of the recommendations and suggestions. However, the declaration of the regular dividend at the annual rate of 9% on American Tel. & Tel. Co. stock appeared to be regarded as a favorable influence, notwithstanding that accumulated surplus had to be drawn upon heavily to maintain the rate. The market accordingly showed considerable steadiness on that day. On Thursday, Feb. 16, however, prices again plunged downward, the railway list being especially weak, evidently because of some comments contained in the National Transportation Committee's report. The unsuccessful attempt on the life of President-elect Roosevelt the night before appeared to have no influence on the course of values here, but in Europe this, along with the Michigan bank moratorium, had a markedly depressing effect. The placing of the Willys-Overland Co. in the hands of a receiver the day before appeared to have a weakening effect on the automobile stocks. A sharp break occurred in Texas Gulf Sulphur on the announcement of a reduction in the quarterly dividend from 50c. a share to 25c. a share; this reduction came as a complete surprise, and Texas Gulf Sulphur shares sold down to 17⅜ as against 22½ the closing price the day before (Feb. 15). An additional depressing feature was the fact that the bond market was as weak as the stock market, and, indeed, on occasions, even weaker, the declines extending to the high-grade issues as well as to the low-priced ones. Many of the foreign bond issues were also weak, this applying particularly to the Japanese issues and the German issues. The Japanese yen moved lower on the unsettled financial conditions in that country, which led to the closing of the Tokio Stock Exchange for the afternoon session, while sharp contraction in Germany's export balance for January and the political disturbances growing out of the campaign of Adolf Hitler precipitated selling of the German issues.

The rest of the month the stock market became steadily more demoralized and further severe declines in prices kept occurring day after day. The Michigan Bank moratorium was followed by runs on other banks in the Middle West, and considerable selling of the different United States Government issues, in order to meet the extra demand for cash, served further to weaken these Government issues as well as the genral bond market, already under great pressure and showing slumps in prices no less conspicuous than the stock market. Advances in the open market rates for bankers' acceptances foreshadowed the tension in the money market which was to develop later, and the increased cost to the Government of sales of Treasury bills operated further to depress market prices of all United States Government obligations. Foreign news also was far from encouraging, disturbances in Germany in connection with the campaign of the Hitlerites for the Parliamentary elections scheduled for Sunday, March 5, led to solicitude regarding German affairs, and Japanese bonds were adversely affected because of the high-handed policy which the Japanese Government was pursuing in Jehol Province, and also its defiance of the League of Nations. On Feb. 20 the news from Tokio was that Japan had decided to withdraw from the disarmament conference at Geneva as well as from the League of Nations, and this threat was carried out on Friday, Feb. 24. The news regarding Mr. Roosevelt's Cabinet appointments, given out at night on Feb. 21, to the effect that Senator Cordell Hull had been named as Secretary of State and William H. Woodin as Secretary of the Treasury was without influence on the security markets, and the action of the House of Representatives in passing, on Monday, Feb. 20, by a vote of 289 to 121, the resolution to repeal the Prohibition Amendment to the Federal Constitution also was without influence except that it stiffened for the time being some of the stocks that seemed likely to benefit directly or indirectly from the sale of beer—stocks like Owens Glass.

Other unfavorable developments kept cropping up to accelerate the downward flight of prices, both of stocks and bonds. American Tel. & Tel. was adversely affected by reductions in the dividends of two of the subsidiary companies in which it is interested; the New England Tel. & Tel. reduced its quarterly dividend from $2.00 a share to $1.50 a share, and the Bell Telephone Co. of Canada reduced its quarterly dividend from 1¾% to 1½%. The utilities suffered from the reduction of the quarterly stock dividend of North American Co. from 2½% to 2%. Then the United Gas Corp. reduced the quarterly dividend on its $7 cumul. nonvoting pref. stock from 87½c. a share to 25c. a share. The news that the House Coinage Committee had on Wednesday, Feb. 22, reversed its action of the day before and voted to report a silver currency measure caused acute weakness in all the security markets on Thursday, Feb. 23. The continued earmarking of gold on foreign account, day after day, increased the feeling of gloom. Steel production again decreased, the mills of the United States being engaged to only 17% of capacity at the close of February against 19% earlier in the month. Then the banking situation grew steadily worse. Many other States followed the example of Michigan in declaring banking moratoria for longer or shorter periods, or by imposing restrictions on deposit withdrawals of one kind or another, and as a consequence confidence in the financial and economic condition of the country became more and more impaired. At the same time the ordinary course of business was seriously interfered with owing to inability to indulge in the use of checks against the vast volume of deposits tied up, even though the Federal Reserve System, along with the member banks, extended aid in a very free-handed way. Continued large gold withdrawals for foreign account served further to accentuate the feeling of disquietude prevailing in the banking and financial world. Virtually all the leading foreign exchanges turned against New York, facilitating and reflecting the gold withdrawals from the United States. In short, all the indications and developments pointed to the acute crisis which was to overwhelm the country with unexampled swiftness in the early days of March.

Taking the 50 stocks included in the list of averages compiled by the New York "Times," the high figure for the month was recorded on Feb. 1 at 58.44, and the low figure on Feb. 25, at 47.02, with the close on Feb. 28 at 48.57. In the case of the 25 industrial stocks forming part of the total of 50 stocks, the high figure was reached on Feb. 1 at 93.22, and the low figure at 75.54, on Feb. 27, with the close Feb. 28 at 77.99. In the case of the 25 railroad stocks, the high for the month was 23.98 Feb. 10, and the low 18.39, Feb. 25, with the close Feb. 28 at 19.15. On the New York Stock Exchange 713 stocks dropped to new low figures for the year during February, while only 192 stocks registered new high figures for the year. On the New York Curb Exchange 443 stocks dropped to new low figures for the year, and 185 stocks recorded new highs. Trading was very light, even though slightly heavier than in January, and the smallest of any February since 1922. The dealings aggregated 19,314,200 shares, which compares with 18,- 718,292 shares the previous month, but with 31,716,267 shares in February 1932; 64,181,836 shares in February 1931; 67,834,100 shares in February 1930, and 77,968,730 shares in February 1929. On the New York Curb Exchange the sales for the month aggregated 2,280,257 shares, as against 3,975,765 shares in February 1932; 11,939,237 shares in February 1931; 18,629,575 shares in February 1930, and 29,886,750 shares in February 1929.

As far as the separate stocks are concerned, American Tel. & Tel., after advancing from 102¾ Feb. 1 to 103⅞ Feb. 9, dropped to 94 Feb. 27, with the close Feb. 28 at 97. United States Steel, after rising from 27 Feb. 1 to 29¼ Feb. 9, dropped to 23½ Feb. 28, with the close on that day at 24¼; Steel preferred, after rising from 57¼ Feb. 1 to 60⅞ Feb. 9, declined to 55 Feb. 25, with the close Feb. 28 at 56⅛; J. I. Case Threshing Machine, from 46¼ Feb. 1, tumbled to 30½ Feb. 27, with the close Feb. 28 at 32⅝; American Can fell from 61 Feb. 1 to 49½ Feb. 25, and closed Feb. 28 at 51¾; Allied Chemical & Dye dropped from 85⅞ Feb. 1 to 70¾ Feb. 27, with the close Feb. 28 at 73¾; E. I. du Pont de Nemours declined from 39⅜ Feb. 1 to 33 Feb. 25, with the close Feb. 28 at 34; General Electric declined from 15 Feb. 1 to 10½ Feb. 24, with the close Feb. 28 at 12; Consolidated Gas of New York dropped from 57¼ Feb. 1 to 44¼ Feb. 27, with the close Feb. 28 at 45¾; North American fell from 27¼ Feb. 1 to 17¼ Feb. 25, with the close Feb. 28 at 18¾; Westinghouse Elec. & Mfg. declined from 29 Feb. 1 to 19⅜ Feb. 25, with the close Feb. 28 at 20¾. In the railroad list Atchison broke from 46½ Feb. 1 to 34⅝ Feb. 25, with the close Feb. 28 at 36¾; Union Pacific, from an opening price Feb. 1 of 76, rose to 77½ Feb. 10, then dropped to 65 Feb. 25, and closed Feb. 28 at 68½; New York Central, from 19¼ on Feb. 1, moved up to 20⅞ Feb. 9, and then declined to 14 Feb. 25, and closed Feb. 28 at 14⅝; Delaware & Hudson, from 50⅞ Feb. 1, rose to 54¼ Feb. 9, then tumbled to 37⅝ Feb. 25, with the close Feb. 28 at 42½; Reading, from 29⅛ Feb. 1, moved up to 32⅛ Feb. 11, declined to 24 Feb. 27, and closed Feb. 28 at 24¼; Southern Pacific, from 19⅛ Feb. 1, declined to 11⅛ Feb. 25, with the close Feb. 28 at 12⅞.

A feature of the speculation at one time during the month was the activity in the gold mining stocks, induced by speculation in the South African gold mining shares in London. Some of these gold mining stocks on the New York Stock Exchange sold up to new high figures for the year, though they did not fail to share in the general collapse the last half of the month. Homestake Mining, from 151 Feb. 1, advanced to 169 Feb. 15, and closed Feb. 28 at 160⅞; Dome Mines rose from 13 Feb. 1 to 15¾ Feb. 6, and then declined to 12½ at the close Feb. 28; Noranda Mines sold up from 18¼ Feb. 1 to 21¼ Feb. 3, and closed Feb. 28 at 19⅛, and McIntyre Porcupine advanced from 20 Feb. 1 to 23⅜ Feb. 6, then declined to 19⅜ Feb. 27, with the close Feb. 28 at 20.

The bond market, it has already been indicated, during February was as badly depressed as the stock market, with severe declines all around, both in the domestic and the foreign issues, and with gilt-edged issues (not excluding United States obligations, which were under constant pressure) as weak as the speculative and semi-speculative low-priced issues. In the following table we indicate, as usual, the fluctuations in the different issues of United States obligations and also in a large list of railroad and industrial bonds and a considerable number likewise of foreign bond issues.

THE MONEY MARKET DURING FEBRUARY 1933.

The banking troubles in Michigan and elsewhere were reflected in a distinct increase in rates in all branches of the money market. With the Michigan banks closed for a period of eight days, and then allowed to reopen on only a restricted basis; with the Maryland banks also completely closed for a three-day period; with the Ohio banks the latter part of the month also curtailing withdrawals; with the Indiana banks following suit, and with banks at many other points individually or collectively also restricting withdrawals, an immense volume of deposits was tied up, and this of course meant a heavy extra demand for cash. The loss of confidence engendered by this unfortunate situation added still further to the demand for cash. Banks not directly involved in the banking suspensions extended aid very liberally, both in the West and in the East, and of course where out-of-town banks had balances to their credit at such centers as New York, Chicago, &c., they drew them down very rapidly, reducing the supplies of loanable funds, and this quickly found reflection in the rates charged for money. Where special banks were deeply involved, as in the case of two large banks in Detroit, Mich., which Henry Ford finally took under his wing, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation was also called upon for huge loans, the amount of which was limited to what the Reconstruction Finance officials deemed was warranted by the exercise of due prudence.

In the last analysis the strain bore with extreme severity upon the Federal Reserve banks, and these responded with the freedom which they can always be depended upon to display, even in ordinary times, and still more in periods of emergency. It will give an idea of the extent of the relief which came from the Federal Reserve System by noting that the 12 Reserve institutions in the period between Jan. 25 and Feb. 28 increased the volume of Federal Reserve notes in circulation from $2,705,667,000 to $3,000 248,000, and the volume of Reserve credit outstanding from $2,064,-031,000 to $2,345,644,000, as measured by the total of the bill and security holdings. As part of the process for making this large additional volume of Reserve credit available, the Reserve banks found it necessary to resume purchases of United States Government securities on a large scale, and also to add greatly to their holdings of acceptances purchased in the open market, which last was accomplished by adjusting their buying rates for acceptances to the changed situation. As to the contribution of the different Reserve banks for the relief of the situation, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago increased the total of its Reserve notes outstanding from $691,940,000 Jan. 25 to $920,238,000 Feb. 28; the New York Reserve Bank from $545,077,000 to $798,264,000; the Cleveland Reserve Bank from $276,590,000 to $382,847,000; the Philadelphia Reserve Bank from $227,711,000 to $287,893,000; the Boston Reserve Bank from $184,905,000 to $215,877,000, and the St. Louis Reserve Bank from $133,763,000 to $153,340,000.

Simultaneously, the Federal Reserve banks were called upon to meet heavy withdrawals of gold (or, what is the same thing, earmarking of the metal) on foreign account, Europe having again become deeply apprehensive of the maintenance of the gold standard in the United States because of the bank moratoria in Michigan and numerous other States, and the advocacy of measures in Congress for debasing the value of the gold dollar, together with propositions of one kind or another for inflating the currency. The New York Federal Reserve Bank, in its "Monthly Review" for March 1, reports earmarkings of gold for foreign account during February in the huge sum of $190,000,000, "reflecting largely the operations of foreign central banks." This was in addition to $19,000,000 of gold earmarked during January and also in addition to a decrease of $72,600,000 in gold held abroad for account of the New York Reserve Bank, this gold abroad representing gold originally paid over to the Reserve Bank by Great Britain on Dec. 15 on account of the indebtedness due to the United States, but which gold during January was reacquired by Great Britain. The total loss in gold through foreign takings during January and February was hence no less than $281,000,000. In addition, however, there were the latter part of February actual takings of gold for export as fears increased abroad owing to the spread of bank moratoria from one State to another. The early part of February the United States received considerable amounts of gold by importations from England, Holland, India and South America, these importations at New York during the whole of February having reached $22,500,000, besides which $3,600,000 gold was received at San Francisco from China and $600,000 from Australia. The latter part of the month, however, there came an outflow of the metal in amount of $12,300,000, of which $6,100,000 went to Holland, $3,600,000 to France, $1,600,000 to Switzerland, and $1,000,000 to England.

That money rates should have stiffened as a result of these numerous heavy drafts is not difficult to comprehend. On the contrary, it must be deemed noteworthy that the advance in money rates should not have been sharper. The rise in the rate for money found fullest reflection in the bill market, or the rates for bankers' acceptances, and showed the least evidence of its presence in the call loan branch of the New York money market, where the official rate for day-to-day loans remained unchanged at 1% per annum throughout the whole month, though it must be borne in mind that the demand for call loans on Stock Exchange account is down to a minimum owing to the complete absence of any speculation for Stock Exchange account. The New York Federal Reserve Bank in its "Monthly Review" discusses the course of the money market in February in the following comprehensive manner:

"The function of the New York money market as a reservoir of funds for use when unusual demands develop has again been demonstrated during the past month. A huge volume of funds has been supplied by the principal New York banks to meet the needs of other sections of the country where limitations temporarily were placed upon banking facilities. In the three weeks ended February 21 the balances held by New York banks for other banks throughout the country were reduced by nearly $500,000,000—from $1,655,000,000 on February 1 to $1,176,000,000 on February 21. Withdrawals of bank funds were offset in part by a substantial flow of commercial funds to New York; nevertheless there was a net outflow to other districts of more than $200,000,000 in this period, and further withdrawals occurred in the remaining days of the month.

"The outflow of funds from New York started in the latter part of January, and in its early stages resulted chiefly from sales of securities in the New York market by holders in other districts. The balances of out-of-town banks during that period were not reduced, but in fact increased somewhat further, continuing the general movement of the past year. In February, however, heavy withdrawals of funds from New York were made by banks in other localities, largely as a result of the suspension of banking operations in the State of Michigan during the special banking holidays declared in that State from Feb. 14 to Feb. 21, inclusive. With banking operations generally suspended, business in the State necessarily was conducted very largely on a cash basis, and a large additional amount of currency was required for payrolls and other purposes. A considerable part of the funds was transferred from New York through the Federal Reserve wire transfer system, and the actual currency was supplied by the Detroit branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, but in some cases currency was withdrawn from the New York Reserve Bank and shipped direct to localities in Michigan. Banks in surrounding areas strengthened their cash holdings, and for this purpose they also withdrew funds from New York. In the latter part of the month, temporary limitations were placed on banking operations in other States, and caused additional demands on New York.

"A substantial loss of funds also was sustained by the New York money market through the conversion of dollar balances acquired by foreign central banks into gold through earmarking operations at the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. The loss of gold through these operations during the month of February exceeded $175,000,000. Small exports of gold also occurred during the last week of the month, partly offsetting imports in the first three weeks.

"With the aid of the Federal Reserve System, the heavy losses of funds caused by transfers to other districts and gold earmarkings for foreign account were sustained by New York banks without strain and with only a slight upward revision of rates in the New York money market. The substantial excess reserves which had accumulated in New York City banks during the past year, reaching a total of well over $300,000,000 in January, acted as a buffer and enabled the New York banks to meet a considerable part of the withdrawals of funds without the necessity of liquidating assets on a large scale, or borrowing heavily from the Reserve Bank. The events of the month demonstrated that although the excess reserves were largely concentrated in New York, the actual ownership of these funds had been widely distributed. The accumulation of balances held for banks in other localities had in fact considerably exceeded the growth in excess reserves in the New York banks.

"By the middle of February the excess reserves of New York banks had been largely exhausted. During this period the Federal Reserve banks purchased $45,000,000 of Government securities in the New York market. An additional purchase of $25,000,000 of Government securities was made by the Reserve banks after the 15th, and in order to assist its member banks in meeting the continued outflow of funds, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, with the participation of other Reserve banks, acquired over $300,000,000 of bills from banks and dealers. In order to facilitate these bill purchases, it was necessary for the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, with the approval of the Federal Reserve Board, to reduce its buying rate for indorsed bills from 1% to ½% for a short time.

"For a number of months there had been virtually no offerings of acceptances to the Reserve banks, and the buying rate of the New York bank had not followed market rates, which were successively reduced until a rate of ¼% for 90-day unindorsed bills was reached in January of this year. When the outflow of funds from New York gained substantial headway, the banks which had been holding in their own portfolios practically all of the bills that had been drawn in recent months began to sell part of their holdings to dealers, and as there were few buyers in the market, the dealers found it necessary to advance their rates moderately. The reduction in the buying rate of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York then made it possible for the dealers to sell to the Reserve banks the bills they had acquired from commercial banks, and in addition, member banks sold a substantial volume of bills directly to the Reserve banks. These sales of bills to the Reserve banks enabled the principal New York banks for some time to maintain their reserves somewhat above requirements without incurring indebtedness. Near the close of the month, market bill rates advanced further, and the Federal Reserve buying rate was established again at 1%."

We have said that there was the least evidence of the firmer money conditions in the case of the call loan rate on the Stock Exchange. This, however, has reference entirely to the Stock Exchange rate itself. Outside the Stock Exchange the presence of a rising tendency was decidedly in evidence. In the first half of the month easy money conditions still prevailed, and call loans could be obtained in the outside market at ½@¾% per annum, but with the precipitation of the Michigan series of holidays the situation changed, and on Thursday, Feb. 16, there were no street offerings of money on call at a concession from the official rate. The following Monday and Tuesday (Feb. 20 and Feb. 21) transactions were again reported at ¾%, but after the Washington Birthday holiday on Feb. 22 no concessions from the official rate of 1% were obtainable. On Monday, Feb. 27, the Street rate still remained at 1%, but on Feb. 28 it moved above the official rate and ruled at 1@1½%, the Stock Exchange rate being maintained at 1%. The next day, however (March 1), the Stock Exchange rate was marked up from 1% to 2%, and still higher on subsequent days. What are known as Federal Reserve funds rose very rapidly the latter part of the month as indications of tension appeared. Such funds loaned as low as ½ of 1% the earlier part of the month, but on Monday, Feb. 22, the rate jumped to 1¼%, and thereafter it kept steadily advancing, and on Feb. 28 was quoted at 2¼@2½%, the latter figure being as high as it was possible to go, since with the rediscount rate at the New York Federal Reserve Bank 2½% (it was raised to 3½% on March 3), it was possible to get accommodation at the Federal Reserve Bank at that rate. There was hence no advantage in acquiring Federal Reserve funds, unless the rate should again fall below 2½%. Rates for time loans also moved upward, though remaining nominal, since virtually no transactions in loans on time were recorded, the indisposition to negotiate time loans remaining unchanged. Up to about Feb. 20 rates for time loans remained nominally at ½% for 30 to 120 days, and at ¾@1% for loans running five and six months, but on the day mentioned there was an advance to

1@1¼% for loans running from 30 days to six months. This remained the range until Monday, Feb. 27, when 2½% was bid for all periods up to six months, but with no offerings and with the demand for time accommodation virtually nil.

Rates for commercial paper remained nominally at the old figures, namely, 1¼@1½% for choice names of four to six months' maturity, with names less well known demanding 1¾%. The New York Federal Reserve Bank notes that during the first part of February the bank investment demand for prime commercial paper continued rather active and was considerably in excess of the volume of new drawings that came into the market. Later in the month, however, dealers reported a somewhat less pronounced demand for paper, accompanying the banking disturbances of the period, and during the closing week of the month the market was reported to be exceedingly quiet, both with respect to the demand for paper and the supply. Open market commercial paper outstanding through dealers reporting to the New York Federal Reserve Bank was reported, in a statement issued Feb. 21, at $84,600,000 as against $81,100,000 Dec. 31 1932, but comparing with $107,902,000 on Jan. 31 1932.

It was in the case of bankers' acceptances, as already noted, that there was quickest response to the change in money market conditions. On Feb. 10 open market rates were advanced ⅛ of 1% on all maturities in both the bid and the asked columns. One or two dealers raised their rates ⅛ of 1% further on Feb. 17 on all maturities in both the bid and the asked columns. This last reduction, however, did not become general until the following Monday, Feb. 20, when all dealers raised their rates ⅛ of 1%, and in addition, still another ⅛%, making ¼ of 1% on all maturities in both the bid and the asked columns. This was followed by still another advance on Monday, Feb. 27, this time ½ of 1%, to the highest level in 10 months. This made an advance altogether for the month of ⅞% all around, or from ⅜% bid and ¼% asked for 30, 60 and 90 days to 1¼% bid and 1⅛% asked. The Federal Reserve Bank of New York had maintained its buying rate for acceptances of bills running from one to 90 days, or above open market rates, and had been unable to obtain any bills at that figure, but when the banking troubles developed out West, lowered its bill-buying rate Feb. 16 from 1% to ½%, leaving the buying rate for the longer maturities unchanged at 1⅛% for bills running from 91 to 120 days, and at 1½% for bills with a maturity of from 121 to 180 days. At this lower figure the Reserve bank was able to obtain a large volume of bills, but as open market rates now rapidly advanced, the Federal Reserve Bank on Monday, Feb. 27, again moved its buying rate for the shorter maturities back to 1%, and was now able to obtain considerable further supplies of bills at the 1% rate, as this remained below open market quotations. The Federal Reserve institutions increased their holdings of acceptances altogether from $30,784,000 Feb. 15 to $179,576,000 Feb. 21, and to $383,666,000 Feb. 28. Holdings of bills for account of foreign central banks fell from $41 831,000 Jan. 25 to $29,398,000 March 1. The American Acceptance Council, in a report released on Feb. 15, made the volume of bankers' acceptances outstanding on Jan. 31 as $707,404,300 as against $709,729,568 on Dec. 31 1932, and comparing with $961,066,402 Jan. 30 1932. The New York Federal Reserve Bank in its "Monthly Review" discussed conditions in the acceptance market as follows:

"The bill market continued very quiet during the first 10 days of February, as banks had ample funds and preferred to hold whatever new bills were created. The market became very active, however, after the Michigan banking holiday went into effect with its attendant drain on the excess reserves of the New York City banks. Shortly, some banks whose excess reserves had been depleted began to sell bills in the market, with the result that dealers' portfolios mounted rather quickly. With little investment demand existing for bills, dealers raised their rates, which in the case of the offering rate for 90-day bills became ⅝ of 1% by Feb. 20, as compared with the low of ¼% established Jan. 23.

"Dealers' portfolios of bills, however, soon declined again as the result of sales of bills to the Reserve bank. In the period up to the Feb. 21 reporting date, Federal Reserve holdings of acceptances rose approximately $143,000,000, including purchases from banks as well as from dealers. At the end of January the holdings of the accepting banks and bankers amounted to $626,000,000, or 89% of the $707,000 000 of bills then outstanding. In the period between Feb. 21 and the end of the month, further large amounts of bills were acquired by the Reserve banks, either directly from banks or through the dealers, so that the bill portfolio of the Reserve banks rose considerably further and the holdings of the accepting institutions declined correspondingly. The dealers, on Feb. 27, advanced their rates ½ of 1% further to an offering level of 1⅛% for 90-day unindorsed bills, and the buying rate of the Reserve bank for indorsed 90-day bills, which had been reduced to ½ of 1% for a short time, reverted to the 1% rate which had been in effect for most of the past year."

No changes were made during February in the rediscount rates of any of the 12 Federal Reserve institutions, these rates continuing to remain at 3½% at all the different Reserve banks, except at New York and Chicago, where the rate continued at 2½%, but early in March were also moved up to 3½%.

THE RETURNS OF THE FEDERAL RESERVE BANKS—BROKERS' LOANS IN NEW YORK CITY.

Owing to the banking troubles in the Middle West, the facilities of the Federal Reserve banks were in urgent demand and were extended with great freedom by the Reserve authorities. Moreover, the policy of reducing the holdings of United States Government securities was now to be reversed and the holdings of Government securities again enlarged. At the same time increased supplies of bankers' acceptances became available, and in order to obtain some of these, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York on Feb. 16, as noted in the foregoing, lowered its buying rate for acceptances with a maturity up to 90 days from 1% to only ½ of 1%. The change proved effective, and a large volume of bills was quickly tendered to the Federal Reserve institutions; previously the Reserve buying rate was above the open market rate; now it was below the market rate, which means that the Reserve banks were giving a higher price for the bills. The change proved the more effective as open market discounts for acceptances were advanced with great rapidity. When this change in the state of things developed the Federal Reserve authorities, on Monday, Feb. 27, put their buying rate back to 1%, and as this still left the rate above open market rates, large supplies of bills kept finding their way into the portfolios of the Federal Reserve banks.

All this was encompassed mainly during the latter half of the month. The month was, on the whole, a very trying one for the Reserve authorities, since in addition to the domestic demand for accommodation the New York Federal Reserve Bank was called upon to meet an extraordinary demand for gold for European account, owing to the fact that new apprehensions as to the maintenance of the gold standard in this country were aroused by talk of inflation at Washington and also by the banking troubles in this country. Owing mainly to these gold withdrawals the gold reserves of the 12 Reserve institutions fell from $3,258,701,000 Jan. 25 to $2,892,083,000 March 1, while the call for Federal Reserve notes to meet current demands for cash, owing to the closing of so many banking institutions, was very urgent, and the amount of these Reserve notes in circulation increased from $2,705,667,000 Jan. 25 to $3,579,522,000 March 1. The amount of Reserve credit outstanding, as measured by the bill and security holdings, increased from $2,064,031,000 Jan. 25 to $2,936,739,000 March 1. The bulk of the increase occurred in the three weeks after Feb. 8. To accomplish this increase in Reserve credit outstanding the Reserve bank holdings of United States Government securities, after having been steadily reduced up to Jan. 25, when the amount was $1,763,311,000, thereafter increased to $1,835,963,000. At the same time the Reserve institutions, by adjusting their buying rates for acceptances to the change in conditions were able the last two weeks of the month to add very substantial amounts to their holdings of acceptances. These bill holdings, as against $31,496,000 Jan. 25, were down to $30,784,000 Feb. 15, but from this there was an increase to $179,576,000 Feb. 21, and to $383,666,000 March 1. Discount holdings, reflecting direct borrowing by the member banks, also increased heavily the latter part of the month. These discount holdings were only $252,640,000 Feb. 8, but from this there was an increase to $286,373,000 Feb. 15, to $327,138,000 Feb. 21, and to $712,391,000 March 1.

As the result of the diminution in the gold reserves and the increase in the note liabilities, the ratio of total reserves to deposits and Federal Reserve note liabilities combined fell from 65.4% Jan. 25 to 53.5% March 1. This occurred notwithstanding a sharp reduction in deposit liabilities due to the shrinkage in member bank reserves, which March 1 were only $2,038,228,000 as against $2,513,199,000 Jan. 25. Total deposits fell from $2,587,244,000 Jan. 25 to $2,157,190,000 March 1. In this interval foreign bank deposits with the Reserve institutions increased from $33,640,000 Jan. 25 to $60,799,000 Feb. 21, but were back to $41,956,000 March 1. Their holdings of domestic acceptances were reduced from $41,831,000 Jan. 25 to $29,398,000 March 1.

The changes in brokers' loans here in New York were of little consequence, as the borrowing on Stock Exchange account is now down to small figures. As compiled by the New York Federal Reserve Bank, these brokers' loans of the reporting member banks of New York City stood at $418,000,000 March 1 as against $454,000,000 Feb. 1. As compiled monthly by the New York Stock Exchange, the returns showed that borrowing of Stock Exchange members on collateral, contracted for and carried in New York, aggregated $359,957,056 as of the close of business on Feb. 28 as against $359,341,058 on Jan. 31.

COURSE OF STERLING EXCHANGE DURING FEBRUARY.

The feature in sterling exchange was the further sharp upward spurt in the rate for the pound sterling here at New York in face, apparently, of active efforts on the part of the British authorities to prevent it. As was the case in January, dealers in all markets seemed to be bullish on sterling exchange. The comment was frequently heard, when February opened, that were it not for the operations of the Exchange Equalization Account, sterling would have no difficulty in ascending to much higher levels, and some were even inclined to believe that the pound might go back to its original par of $4.8665. And the view that the course of sterling was likely to continue upward found confirmation as the month moved along. Cable transfers were thought to be exceptionally firm on Feb. 4 when the rate reached $3.40. But on Monday, Feb. 6, the rate shot up to $3.44 1/16, the best figure since the previous Oct. 17, due, according to market opinion, to cessation of activity on the part of the Exchange Equalization Fund. The sharp advance, however, was far from pleasing to the London authorities, and before the close of the day the exchange control entered the market to arrest the upward flight, and on Feb. 7 the rate dropped back to $3.42½. Cable transfers had reached a record low of $3.14½ the previous Nov. 29.

It was generally thought that the object in originally leaving sterling to the bullish influences was to arrest the excessive speculation in gold mining shares, which had been gathering strength since the suspension of the gold standard in South Africa and the linking of the South African pound to sterling. The action of South Africa reduced the cost of labor and other operating expenses in connection with gold mining, since the gold mined would purchase more currency, while expenses payable in currency did not advance to a comparable extent. London strongly feared that the gold speculation, if left uncontrolled, might lead to trouble when the inevitable reaction set in. However, it proved impossible to hold sterling down, and on Thursday, Feb. 17, the rate touched $3.44⅜, a new high for the year, and on Feb. 20 it reached $3.44½. Then the Exchange Equalization Fund again stepped in, and, as a result of its operations, the rate by Feb. 25 was back to $3.40¾. Then recovery again ensued, and on Feb. 28 the range for the day was $3.41 7/16@$3.42¼, which compared with the range on Feb. 1 of $3.38⅞@$3.39¾.

Funds kept flowing into London from all sources, and in addition floating balances here in New York were withdrawn in large amounts as a consequence of renewed anxiety on the part of European interests over the banking situation in this country, together with the frequent bursts of inflation talk by individuals of considerable prominence in the United States. The belief that the course of sterling was likely to continue upward found reflection in the fact that sterling futures commanded a premium which on three months' bills the latter part of the month ran as high as 2½@3%. Prime Minister MacDonald on Feb. 9 again told the British House of Commons that for the present Great Britain was not prepared to return to the gold standard, and Neville Chamberlain, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, kept reiterating the same thing, and in reply to a questioner in the House of Commons on Feb. 23 made it plain that the influx of funds into Great Britain was not to the liking of the British authorities. Prefacing his explanation by noting that details of the Government's Exchange Equalization Account are not published, the Chancellor went on to say: "It is common knowledge that for various reasons large sums of foreign money have been coming here recently which are bad money in the sense that we cannot rely on retaining them. If no precautions are taken these capital movements would result in a sharp rise in sterling, followed later by sharp falls. No one doubts it is in the general interest that these fluctuations, which are very harmful to trade, should be limited as far as possible, but it is not desirable to state what methods are to be taken to check them."

The Bank of England was able greatly to enlarge its gold holdings during the month and the British authorities in addition had large amounts of gold set aside for earmarking here in New York and the latter part of the month also took considerable amounts of the metal here for actual export. For the week ending Feb. 8 the Bank of England showed a gain in its bullion holdings of £812,812; in the week ending Feb. 15 a further gain of £5,012,797; in the week ending Feb. 22 another gain of £10,035,721 and in the week ending March 1 still another gain of £7,983,877, bringing the total of its gold holdings up to £150,966,736, this being above the £150,000,000 recommended as a minimum by the Cunliffe Committee. In the early part of February gold was still coming here from Great Britain, but the latter part of the month the movement was reversed. The import from England the early part of the month was $4,000,000. The latter part of the month $1,000,000 was exported to England, besides which $6,100,000 was also exported to Holland, $3,600,000 to France, and $1,600,000 to Switzerland. Most important of all, no less than $190,000,000 was earmarked for foreign account during February at the New York Federal Reserve Bank, the greater part of which is believed to have been for British account. The New York Reserve institution furnishes the following summary of the gold movement to and from the United States during the month:

"During the month of February there was a net loss of $170,000,000 to the monetary gold stock of the United States. The loss followed an uninterrupted gain since last June, and the gold stock at the end of February remained about $470,000,000 larger than at the middle of 1932. The decrease for the month was more than accounted for by earmarkings of gold for foreign account, which showed a net increase of about $190,000,000, reflecting largely the operations of foreign central banks.

"Imports of gold at New York totaled $22,500,000, of which $8,200,000 was received from India, $4,400,000 from Holland, $4,000,000 from England, $4,000,000 from Canada, and $1,100,000 from Chile. In addition, receipts at San Francisco included $3,600,000 from China and $600,000 from Australia. The import movement, however, diminished as the month progressed, and toward the end of February a total of $12,300,000 was exported, of which $6,100,000 went to Holland, $3,600,000 to France, $1,600,000 to Switzerland, and $1,000,000 to England."

Exchange on Canada kept ruling strongly against the Dominion all through the month, ranging at a discount all the way from 15 1/16% on Feb. 2 to 18½% on Feb. 1, with the discount on the closing day (Feb. 28) 16⅜%.

THE CONTINENTAL AND OTHER FOREIGN EXCHANGES.

The Continental exchanges, with only one or two minor exceptions, further sharply advanced in February following the rise in January. The advance was partly seasonal, but in the main was due to growing nervousness regarding the American dollar in the European markets, this feeling of nervousness having been aggravated by the publicity given the inflation talk at Washington, besides which the Michigan bank holiday, or moratorium, proved further disturbing, as did the attempt on the life of President-elect Roosevelt, though this latter was without influence in foreign exchange circles in this country. The French franc on cable transfers rose from 3.90⅜c. Feb. 1 to 3.94 15/16c. Feb. 28, and, according to the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, $3,600,000 gold was taken at New York for export to France during the month, and a considerable amount of the gold earmarked at New York for foreign account is also believed to have been for the Bank of France. The gold holdings of the latter, however, continued to decrease in all except the last week of the month. In its return for the week ending Feb. 10 the Bank of France reported a decrease in its holdings of the metal of 313,185,008 francs; in the week ending Feb. 17 a decrease of 260,630,975 francs; in the week ending Feb. 24 a decrease of 303,406,467 francs, but in the week ending March 3 an increase of 95,000,000 francs.

The German mark also joined in the upward movement of rates for foreign exchange, though, of course, German exchange remains wholly under the strict control of the Reichsbank. The political disturbances in Germany, and especially the progress made by Adolf Hitler in his high-handed operations for control of the German Parliament at the election scheduled for March 5, were without effect on the foreign exchange or credit situation in Germany. The Bank of Germany showed a considerable contraction in its gold holdings the last half of the month; for the first quarter of February it reported an increase of 385,000 marks, and in the second quarter an increase of 95,000 marks, but in the third quarter a decrease of 35,667,000 marks, and in the fourth quarter a decrease of 17,790,000 marks. The note circulation of the German bank decreased 95,587,000 marks in the first quarter, 62,474,000 marks the second quarter, 68,520,000 marks the third quarter, but increased 244,645,000 marks in the fourth quarter. On cable transfers the mark was quoted at 23.76@23.77 on Feb. 1, and at 23.88@23.96 on Feb. 28. An agreement was reached for a year's extension of the foreign short-term ("standstill") credits in Germany. The new accord runs for one year from Feb. 28 and covers credits totaling about 3,700,000,000 marks (about $880,600,000), of which it is estimated that 40% is due to banks in the United States. The creditor countries represented in the extension were the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy, the Netherlands, Sweden and Switzerland. In its essential provisions the renewal follows the procedure laid down in the German credit agreement of 1932, except for the lowering of interest levels, in return for which the Germans have agreed to a 5% cut in the credit line. The new interest scales provide for a reduction of ¼ of 1% on cash advances from the old rate of 5%, a cut on acceptance credits of from 5% to 4½%, and a cut on commercial drafts of from 4½% to 3⅞%.

The Italian lire fluctuated within narrow limits, but also moved higher, though only very slightly so, cable transfers on Italy being 5.11¾@5.11⅞ Feb. 28 as against 5.11@5.11¼ Feb. 1. Rome (Italy) dispatches, under date of Feb. 7, stated that an issue of $50,000,000 worth of State guarantee bonds by the new Institute of Industrial Reconstruction had been oversubscribed on that day only a few hours after it was offered to the public. It was stated, however, that part of the enthusiasm for the bonds was undoubtedly on account of the lottery, with $1,300,000 in prizes, run in connection with it. Offered at 910, the bonds yielded an interest slightly below 5%. The ease with which the new issue was absorbed, cable advices stated, was taken as an indication that there were considerable savings throughout Italy seeking investment, and this was confirmed by constantly increasing deposits in banks. It was also taken to indicate that investors have a marked preference for State securities, after severe losses sustained by many of them in the stock market.

There were very few changes in the discount rates of foreign central banks during February. On Feb. 16 the Imperial Bank of India reduced its rate from 4% to 3½%, and on Feb. 21 the South American Reserve Bank lowered its rate from 5% to 4%.

Exchange on the countries neutral during the war moved up sharply in common with the advances in the rates on other foreign countries, and for the same reason, namely, the Mid-Western bank suspensions in the United States and a growing fear that the American dollar might become impaired by reason of the wide advocacy of schemes of inflation. Swiss francs on cable transfers, after declining from 19.34½ Feb. 2 to 19.29¼ Feb. 9, sold up to 19.56 Feb. 27, and were 19.53@19.53½ Feb. 28. Dutch guilders on cable transfers to Amsterdam, after declining from 40.21½ Feb. 2 to 40.07½ Feb. 14, rose to 40.47@40.49 Feb. 28. The Scandinavian exchanges, with the exception of the Swedish crown, likewise moved higher, though the upward course was not uninterrupted, there being more or less fluctuations from week to week, the most of them in accord with the fluctuations in the pound sterling, in which there were also occasional downward reactions, as noted further above, the Scandinavian exchanges usually moving in harmony with sterling. The Danish crown, after the breakdown in January, showed recovery, as all the other Continental exchanges moved towards higher levels. On cable transfers the Danish crown was 15.30@15.33 Feb. 28 against 15.17½@15.21 Feb. 1, though on Feb. 18 the range was as high as 15.33½@15.38. The Norwegian crown on cable transfers rose from 17.39@17.40 Feb. 2 to 17.63@17.66 Feb. 18, and was 17.58@17.60 Feb. 28. The Swedish crown for some unexplained reason was weak nearly the entire month. As against 18.41@18.45 Feb. 1 and 18.46@18.49 Feb. 6, the rate of cable transfers on Sweden declined to 18.10@18.11 Feb. 25, and was 18.18@18.20 Feb. 28. The Spanish peseta showed continued strength and seemed to follow the course of the French franc as a rule. The peseta on cable transfers sold at 8.33@8.34½ Feb. 28 against 8.19½@8.20 Feb. 1.

Exchange on the South American countries continued to rule at purely nominal quotations, all South American foreign exchange and foreign trade operations being under the control of Government boards. However, many of these countries appeared to be able to increase their export business, though at prices that were far from satisfactory. No changes of consequence occurred during the month in the purely nominal rates referred to.

In the rates of exchange on the Far East the Japanese yen was weak, while rates on the silver using countries fluctuated quite narrowly, and, of course, mainly in line with the prices of silver. During February the price of silver, after some weakness the early part of the month, showed an advancing tendency the latter part, owing to efforts in Washington to inflate the currency through the use of silver, which efforts, however, did not get very far. The price of silver in London, as against 17 pence per ounce on Feb. 1, sold down to 16 9/16 pence Feb. 11, but then moved up to 17 5/16 pence Feb. 23, with the quotation Feb. 28 17⅛ pence. The Hong Kong dollar for checks, as against 22.14@22 7/16 Feb. 1, sold down to 21.69@22 1/16 Feb. 11, and then advanced to 22.53@23 3/16 Feb. 21, and was 22.39@22 11/16 Feb. 28. Shanghai tael for checks followed a similar course, selling down from 28.47@28 13/16 Feb. 1 to 27.88@28¼ Feb. 11, and then rising to 29.14@29 9/16 Feb. 21, with the rate Feb. 28 28.66@29⅛. Rupees on Bombay moved upward with the advance in the pound sterling, and sold at 25.78@26.00 Feb. 28 against 25.56@25.70 Feb. 1. The Japanese yen for checks showed firmness the early part of the month, when the rate advanced from 21.05@21.25 Feb. 1 to 21.25@21.50 Feb. 7, but then developed weakness, with the rate on Feb. 25 down to 20.19@20.50, and with the range Feb. 28 at 20.46@20⅝. Of course, Japanese military operations in the Province of Jehol and Japanese defiance of the League of Nations as regards the setting up of Manchukuo as a separate State were elements of weakness.

New York Stock Exchange

MONTHLY AND YEARLY RECORD

RANGE OF BOND PRICES DURING FEBRUARY 1933.

Bond Sales.	1933.	1932.	Stock Sales.	1933.	1932.
February	$231,540,200	$221,232,250	February Shares	19,314,200	31,716,267
Jan. 1 to Feb. 28	494,570,300	513,620,250	Jan. 1 to Feb. 28	38,032,492	66,078,650

The tables on pages 18 to 40 furnish a complete record of the transactions on the New York Stock Exchange during February and range since Jan. 1. They need no extended introduction, as they are self-explanatory. The tables embrace every security dealt in on the Exchange. We give bonds first, using the classification adopted in the official list. The black-faced letters in the column headed "Interest Period" indicate in each case the month when the bonds mature.

In accordance with the rule adopted by the New York Stock Exchange in 1909, all quotations for interest-paying bonds are at a price to which accrued interest must be added. The exceptions to the rule are income bonds and bonds on which interest is in default. A few other bonds, like the Holland-America Line 6s, for special reasons, are also quoted "flat," but where this is the case the quotation "flat" will be found against the name of the issue. This method of quoting bonds became effective Jan. 2 1909.

For footnotes to tables see last page of bonds and last page of stocks.

NOTE.—State and City Securities.—Sales of State and City securities occur very rarely on the New York Stock Exchange and usually only at long intervals; dealings in such securities being almost entirely at private sale over the counter. The Stock Exchange record hence is imperfect and misleading. Bid and Asked quotations, however, by active dealers in these securities will be found on a subsequent page under the general head of "U. S. & Municipal Bonds."

OF BONDS AND STOCKS

In the earlier part of this publication complete records of the dealings on the leading stock exchanges of the country, for the latest month and for the calendar year to date, are furnished. In this department of General Quotations we combine in one comprehensive whole, securities of all classes and descriptions, not only those dealt in on the exchanges, but also leading unlisted and inactive securities. The following is an index to the different classes of securities quoted:

Quotations from all Stock Exchanges are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding the date of issue. As the New York Stock Exchange began with Jan. 2 1909 to quote all bond prices "and interest," we have adopted the same method and no longer employ a designating mark to indicate the fact except where there is a deviation from this rule. The reader will understand, therefore, that unless the letter "f" is prefixed to the price, he must pay accrued interest in addition to the price. This, however, does not apply to income bonds or bonds in default, in which cases the price includes the interest, should there be any.

The letter "f" prefixed to bond prices denotes that the quotation is a flat price—that is, that the accrued interest forms part of the price, and therefore the purchaser does not have to provide for it separately in making payment. As already stated in the case of income bonds and bonds in default, the price is always "flat," and no designating mark is employed to indicate the fact.

Quotations for equipment bonds are based on average maturities

Quotations for guaranteed stocks are "and dividend"; that is, the accrued dividend must be paid in addition to the price. Stock prices marked thus (d) are per share. All others are per cent except bank stock prices, which are quoted per share unless otherwise stated.

It should be borne in mind in the use of these tables that the quotations for many inactive and unlisted securities are merely nominal, but in all cases the figures are obtained from sources which are considered reliable.

The following abbreviations are often used, viz.: "M" for mortgage, "g" for gold, "gu" for guaranteed, "end" for endorsed, "cons" for consolidated conv" for convertible, "s f" for sinking fund, "l g" for land grant, "op" for optional.

The black-faced type in the letters showing the interest period indicates the month when the bonds mature.

NOTICE.—All bond prices are "and interest" except where marked "f" and income and defaulted bonds.

Industrial and Miscellaneous Securities

Under the heading "Industrial and Miscellaneous Securities" we include all issues which do not appear under the previous two headings, namely "Railroads (Steam)" and "Public Utilities." In the case of stocks, however, we put "Textile Manufacturing," "Insurance," "Mining," "Real Estate and Land," "Title Guarantee and Safe Deposit Companies" under separate heads, then follow with the rest of the "Industrial and Miscellaneous."

NOTICE.—All bond prices are "and interest" except where marked "f" and income and defaulted bonds.

United States and Municipal Bonds

In reporting below prices for State and municipal securities, we give bid and asked quotations wherever they can be obtained The custom, however, is to quote municipal securities on the basis of the return they yield per annum. Therefore in most cases it will be found that instead of actual prices we have inserted in the column headed "To Net" certain figures to indicate the interest rate at which business in the bonds is being done. Thus 4.35% means that the particular security can be bought or sold at a price that will yield the purchaser or seller 4.35% per annum to the maturity of the issue. Where two figures appear, as for instance "4.25% to 4.35%," the rate of return varies according to the maturity—the shorter maturities yielding the lowest rate, and the longer maturities yielding the highest return.

In State and municipal bonds the custom has always been to quote them "and interest." That is, the accrued interest must in all cases be added on.

Note.—Owing to the present demoralized condition of the municipal bond markets, brokers and dealers find it difficult, and in many cases, almost impossible to make quotations for municipal bonds. Bid prices, especially for the smaller municipalities are practically out of the question and sales or terms are simply a matter of bargaining between buyer and seller In fact the absolute lack of demand often causes good bonds to be offered at almost any price.

STATE AND NATIONAL BANK STATEMENTS

Quotations in this department are given per share, not per cent, except for stocks of Canadian Institutions, and are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding date of issue, though often are nominal. An asterisk (*) denotes sales.

Figures of deposits, capital and profits for the National banks are from the Comptroller's last call; for all other institutions they are the latest obtainable, direct returns being procured by us where no periodic statements are required. For the Clearing House banks of New York and Philadelphia, deposits are taken from the latest weekly statement.
