REVIEW OF OCTOBER.

Disturbing incidents in the European political situation played an unusually prominent part in the markets during October. The news from Paris regarding internal affairs in France was at times very disquieting. More important still, the differences between France and England arising out of the discovery of a French force under Major Marchand at Fashoda, south of Khartoum, in territory claimed by the British, appeared rapidly to be reaching an acute stage, and threatened an outbreak of hostilities between the two countries.

In the early part of the month a strike of the laborers in the building trades in Paris assumed alarming proportions. The strike spread rapidly and all work on the Exposition buildings ceased. The Government found it incumbent to strengthen the garrisons, and the concentration of troops was on such a scale that the whole of Paris was said to resemble an armed camp. The situation was considered especially serious because public sentiment in the Dreyfus matter was still running high and a large part of the French population was evidently opposed to a revision of the trial in that case and indulged in demonstrations intended to show its displeasure over the action of the Government in giving assent to the proposition. It was feared that the situation might be turned to political ends—possibly threatening the stability of the Republic. The strike, fortunately, was terminated by the 17th, but the circumstance did not tend to restore quiet, and the feeling of unrest continued.

In the meantime the English Government and British public opinion were taking a very decided stand on the Fashoda question. Egypt's right to the territory in dispute was asserted in no uncertain way, and pains taken to declare that the French force must be withdrawn from Fashoda—that Great Britain would assent to nothing else, even if the alternative were war. In a speech Oct. 12 at an agricultural dinner at Epsom, Lord Rosebery, the Liberal leader and ex-Premier, not only announced his support of the Government's policy, but stated that he was personally and ministerially responsible for the declaration of Sir Edward Grey on which this policy is founded. He pointed out that what made the situation especially grave was that France had deliberately encroached on the disputed territory in face of the warning of the English Government long since conveyed that such a step would be regarded as an "unfriendly act." On the 19th, at North Shields, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, Chancellor of the Exchequer, followed in an equally emphatic speech.

Thus the situation grew steadily more threatening. Reports of extensive naval preparation by both countries added to the excitement as well as to the danger. On Monday the 24th the conditions appeared so gloomy that an outbreak of hostilities seemed imminent any moment. A simultaneous sharp decline in English consols and Paris rentes (the former falling a full point) emphasized the prevailing uneasiness. On Tuesday the 25th the French Chamber of Deputies met and furnished so many startling developments that the Fashoda dispute was for the moment almost lost sight of. Gen. Chanoine, the Minister of War, while making a speech, indulged in the statement that he was of the same opinion regarding the Dreyfus case as his predecessors in office, and then in a passion tendered his resignation to the Chamber without notice to his colleagues in the Ministry. Later in the day, when the Chamber reassembled, M. Brisson, the Premier, failed to secure a vote of confidence, and the whole Cabinet fell. These various circumstances, together with extensive street disturbances, created a very unfavorable impression and much anxiety, which was reflected in a further decline in both consols and French rentes. There were also reports of a flight of capital from Paris, because of the critical condition of things. But the next day (the Chamber having meanwhile adjourned to November 4) the situation improved. A feeling then grew up that because of these very developments the prospect of war between England and France had measurably diminished. Accordingly there was a sharp recovery in the financial markets. English consols closing at 109 1-16 that day against 107¾ the day before, and there was somewhat of a recovery in French rentes too. The improvement was well maintained thereafter, and the indications all seemed to be that France would eventually retire from Fashoda, though England continued pushing her naval preparations to the point of completeness. Sir Herbert Kitchener, the Sirdar who had won the victory at Khartoum over the dervishes, passed through France on his way to England, and spoke in very flattering terms of Major Marchand. A rumor that England had decided to proclaim a protectorate over Egypt proved unfounded. On the 29th the Court of Cassation in Paris decided to grant a supplementary inquiry in the Dreyfus case. On the 31st a new ministry under M. Dupuy with M. de Freycinet as Minister of War was constituted.

It should be said that there were some unfavorable developments at the European financial centres apart from those referable to the causes narrated above. The German money markets have been disturbed for some time, rates ruling high, and this condition became accentuated early in October. On the 10th the Bank of Germany raised its rate of discount from 4 to 5 per cent, while the official rate of the Austro-Hungarian Bank was put up from 4 to 4½ per cent. On the 13th the Bank of England followed suit, and advanced its minimum from 3 to 4 per cent. On the 20th the Bank of France, for the first time in over three and a-half years (or since March 14 1895), made a change in its rate, increasing it from 2 per cent to 3 per cent. At the close the open market rates were high everywhere—3⅞ per cent in London, 4⅜ per cent in Berlin, 4½ per cent in Frankfort and 2¾ per cent in Paris.

The unsettled conditions abroad naturally had a quieting effect on trade here. The near approach of the November elections, on which so much depends, had the same effect, as also did the fact that some large industries like the cotton goods trade, the woolen goods trade, the leather trade and the anthracite coal trade, are in a rather unsatisfactory state. Raw cotton continued to rule exceedingly low. The yellow fever situation in the South was very serious early in the month but the latter part frosts worked a decided change. The price of wheat advanced on the urgency of the foreign demand, and later the European war talk acted as a further stimulus; the more settled feeling abroad at the close naturally caused a reaction again. Cash wheat in New York opened at 73⅜ on the 1st, sold at 80¼ on the 24th and closed at 76⅛ on the 31st. The only development of moment in the peace negotiations at Paris between Spain and the United States was the formal announcement on the 31st of the purpose of this country to take the entire group of the Philippine Islands.

The money market here relapsed into a condition of ease. Some further gold was received from Europe, the Government added about 14 million dollars more to its deposits in the national banks, besides which its disbursements ran in excess of its receipts, and the latter part of the month also the interior flow of currency was strongly this way. A large expansion in the loans of the Clearing House banks the last of the month was ascribed to borrowing on sterling exchange.

The foreign exchange market pursued a pretty even course the first half of the month. About the 20th the market began to manifest considerable strength, influenced by the high money rates in Europe and in part also by a demand to remit for stocks sold here on foreign account. On the 24th the panicky conditions abroad caused a sharp advance, cable transfers rising as much as 1¼ cents per pound sterling; in the morning of the 25th there was a further rise, but in the afternoon there was a quick reaction, induced by more assuring advices regarding the European situation. The rest of the month the tone remained very sensitive, with the tendency downward.

The stock market manifested considerable strength in face of a number of adverse occurrences. Speculation however was limited, outside of the industrial stocks. The true test came on the 24th when the foreign situation was so much disturbed and when there were large sales on European account, and when at the same time the news was received that the U. S. Supreme Court had declared the Joint Traffic Association illegal. Everybody looked for a severe break, but instead prices receded only slightly and the rest of the month showed much firmness.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

MONTHLY AND YEARLY RECORD.

The following tables furnish a complete record of the New York Stock Exchange transactions for the past month and for the year 1898. They need no extended introduction, as they are self-explanatory. The tables embrace every security (excepting only State bonds) dealt in on the Exchange. We give bonds first, using the classification adopted in the official list. As to prices the form is our own, and we think it will be found to contain just the facts desired by our readers and to present them in the most convenient way for study and reference. All quotations in the column headed "Price about January 3, 1898," were made on that date except those in italics, which are the nearest in January, 1898.

BOSTON STOCK EXCHANGE.

MONTHLY AND YEARLY RECORD.

The following tables furnish a record of Boston Stock Exchange transactions in railroad securities for the past month and for the year 1898. Also a record of transactions in mining stocks for the past month and for the year 1898. The railroad securities which are active on the New York Stock Exchange are omitted from this list. We give the securities in alphabetical order under the three general headings, Railroad Bonds, Railroad Stocks and Mining Stocks.

☞ In comparing New York and Boston prices, it should be noted that bond prices in New York are flat prices—that is, the price includes the accrued interest, while in Boston accrued interest must be paid in addition to price. It should also be remembered that New York stock prices are per cent while those in Boston are dollars per share.

GENERAL QUOTATIONS

—OF—

BONDS AND STOCKS.

1. In the following twenty-seven pages of tables quotations are given for all securities listed on any Stock Exchange in the United States; also for all leading unlisted and inactive securities for which we have been able to obtain reliable prices.

2. Quotations from all Stock Exchanges are as near as possible for the last day of October. Of course the coupon, if there be one, maturing between the date of quotation and the date of this publication, is not deducted from the price.

3. Bond prices marked thus (§) indicate that the purchaser must pay accrued interest in addition to the price given The method of quoting on the New York Stock Exchange is to quote the prices flat (that is to include the accrued interest in the price), and hence in the tables below no mark is now affixed where this method of quoting is followed.

4. Stock prices marked thus (†) are per share. All others are per cent except bank stock prices.

5. It should be borne in mind in the use of these tables that the quotations for many inactive and unlisted securities are merely nominal, but in all cases the figures are obtained from sources which are considered reliable.

6. The following abbreviations are often used, viz.; "M.," for mortgage; "g.," for gold; "g'd.," for guaranteed; "end.," for endorsed; "cons.," for consolidated; "conv.," for convertible; "s. f.," for sinking fund; "l. g.," for land grant.

☞Notice Change.—We no longer affix a mark to prices quoted flat, but only to those which require payment of accrued interest in addition to the price. Designating mark in this instance is (§).

MUNICIPAL BONDS.

Prices marked (*) are flat prices—that is, the purchaser does not pay accrued interest in addition. In all other cases accrued interest must be added to the price.

The figures in the column "to net" indicate the basis on which the securities sell or the interest rate which the securities if held to maturity, will net to the purchaser at the present market price.

It should be borne in mind that municipal bonds are not subject to such decided fluctuations in value as are securities which form a basis for speculation.

QUOTATIONS OF BANK AND TRUST COMPANY STOCKS.

Prices are per share, not per cent, with the exception of New York City and Brooklyn bank stocks. Prices marked thus (*) are last sales.

The dagger (†) prefixed to a price indicates that the figures show the book value.

The double dagger (‡) prefixed to the capital stock indicates that only part is paid in.

The section mark (§) prefixed to surplus indicates that undivided profits are included.
