REVIEW OF JUNE.

Developments during June were rather mixed—some favorable, others the reverse. The overshadowing event, of course, was the Republican National Convention and the nominations of candidates for President and Vice-President. Mr. Taft's nomination had been accepted as a foregone conclusion, and, accordingly, financial interests were prepared for it. The disposition had grown up, too, to think that he would make an acceptable President, if elected, this estimate being based upon his character and record. On the other hand, President Roosevelt's domination over the Convention was complete. He not only dictated the Presidential nominee, but the platform adopted embodies nearly all the ideas and policies for which he had been contending, including a demand for measures which Congress had failed to pass, such as an amendment of the Anti-Trust Law, so as to give the Federal authorities arbitrary control over all business corporations engaged in inter-State trade.

Determined opposition developed to the insertion of an anti-injunction plank, and some change in the wording of this plank was made. As adopted, it embodies a concession to the labor leaders, but at the same time declares in favor of upholding the authority and integrity of the courts. This and the expression of adhesion to the Roosevelt doctrines by the Convention created an unfavorable impression, as also did the fact that Mr. Taft seemed anxious to identify himself completely with the Roosevelt policies. After the holding of the Convention, an article appeared in one of the weekly magazines, written by Mr. Taft, in which he argued that the policies which Mr. Roosevelt had inaugurated must be continued and developed. "They are right and they are the policies of the people," he declared.

There were some encouraging happenings, however, indicative of the development of a public sentiment opposed to further radical Government action. At the Georgia primaries at the beginning of the month, Governor Hoke Smith was defeated for renomination for a second term. Governor Smith had taken his office only the year before (June 1907) and had then been elected by a very large majority. His opponent at the primaries was the very man whom he had removed from the Board of Railroad Commissioners when he took office, namely Joseph M. Brown. Ex-Commissioner Brown, it appears, did not make a single speech, but wielded a trenchant pen, and overwhelmed Governor Smith because he was committed to a more conservative policy and had declared himself in favor of abrogating the jurisdiction which had been given the Board of Railroad Commissioners over local public service corporations. The death of former President Grover Cleveland occurred towards the close of the month (June 24) and served as a reminder of the days when it was not the fashion on the part of high Government officials to yield to the dictates of unreasoning public clamor.

In the course of trade and business there was more or less irregularity during June. Favorable incidents were the resumption of full time by many cotton-goods manufacturers who had previously been working part time or been idle altogether, and also the starting up of business concerns in some other lines in various parts of the country in response to the suggestion of the National Prosperity Association. Then, also, it appeared that the number of idle cars on the railroads was diminishing, being reported 349,567 June 10, against 381,779 May 27 and 404,375 May 13, though this was qualified by the statement that in no small degree the decrease followed from the taking out of the idle list of cars which were in poor condition and sending them to the "hospitals," or repair shops, there to be kept until a demand should arise making it an object to repair them and restore them to the active list. On the other hand, returns of railroad gross earnings continued very poor and the dry goods market, after its activity early in the month, began to halt again, the demand falling off and prices of certain classes of goods weakening—showing that the recovery had been too rapid to prove enduring.

Perhaps the most important incident of the month, in an industrial way, was the action of the steel manufacturers in reducing prices after a downward movement had been resisted for many months. On June 1 it was announced that a cut of $4 a ton in bar steel had been authorized on that day by a committee of manufacturers (from $32 to $28), the basing price at Pittsburgh being reduced from $1 60 per 100 lbs. to $1 40. At the same time the price of bar iron was reduced from $30 to $27 per ton. This action was taken to meet the competition of the outside concerns. It was explained that the course in this instance would not affect iron and steel prices generally. Nevertheless, on June 9 reductions were announced likewise in the prices of steel billets and certain classes of finished material; billets being marked down from $28 a ton to $25, Pittsburgh sheet bars from $29 to $27 and plates from $1 70 to $1 60. This and other evidences of business depression offset in a measure the more cheerful feeling induced by the favorable outlook for the growing crops.

In the stock market business dwindled to small proportions. At the very beginning of the month a sharp rally carried prices of practically all the active issues up from 3 to 7 points. This upward movement, however, culminated on the second day of the month. A sharp decline then ensued, influenced by the cut in steel prices, and thereafter the market became very sluggish, with transactions on many days the smallest in months. After the holding of the Republican Convention, some increase in activity was observable, but this was at the expense of values. The market seemed to take an unfavorable view of the action of the Convention, as far, at least, as far as the platform was concerned. Dividend reductions or suspensions by a number of important companies, like the Louisville & Nashville, the Cleveland Cincinnati Chicago & St. Louis and the Lake Erie & Western, served to add to the weakness. But the market soon became inert again, with the movement of prices sluggish, except in special stocks, and the course more or less irregular. The tone at the close was, nevertheless, fairly good.

Irregularity was the distinctive feature in the foreign exchange market, too. At first the market was lower because of speculative selling, then it became generally strong, influenced by a demand to cover short contracts and to remit for stocks sold for European account and to meet maturing obligations or provide for half-yearly settlements. The latter part of the month the course of prices was lower again, one feature being a good supply of bills against the placing abroad of a large block of the new Union Pacific first lien and refunding mortgage 4% loan for $50,000,000. Gold exports were in progress during the whole of the first three weeks of the month, but thereafter no further shipments were made until the last day, June 30, when $300,000 was taken. The gold all went to Germany. The Bank of France reported the largest gold holdings on record, but nevertheless kept bidding for the gold arrivals in London; as open market discounts ruled higher at Paris than at London, it succeeded in getting most of these gold offerings. The Bank of Germany reported the largest gold holdings in recent years, and on June 18 reduced its rate from 4½ to 4%.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

MONTHLY AND YEARLY RECORD.

The following tables furnish a complete record of the New York Stock Exchange transactions for the past month and the year 1908. They need no extended introduction, as they are self-explanatory. The tables embrace every security (excepting only State bonds) dealt in on the Exchange. We give bonds first, using the classification adopted in the official ist. As to prices the form is our own, and we think it will be found to contain just the facts desired by our readers and to present them in the most convenient way for study and reference. All quotations in the column headed "Price about January 2 1908" were made on that date, except those in italics, which are the nearest in January 1908. The black-faced letters in the column headed "Interest Period" indicate in each case the month when the bonds mature.

BONDS AND STOCKS.

1. In the following thirty pages of tables, quotations are given for all the more important securities listed on any Stock Exchange in the United States; also for leading unlisted and inactive securities.

2. Quotations from all Stock Exchanges are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding the date of issue Of course the coupon, if there be one, maturing between the date of quotation and the date of this publication, is not deducted from the price.

3. Bond prices marked (a) indicate that the purchaser must pay accrued interest in addition to the price given. The method of quoting on the New York Stock Exchange is to quote the price flat (that is, to include the accrued interest in the price), and hence in the tables below no mark is now affixed where this method of quoting is followed.

4. Stock prices marked thus (d) are per share. All others are per cent except bank stock prices, which are quoted per share unless otherwise stated.

5. It should be borne in mind in the use of these tables that the quotations for many inactive and unlisted securities are merely nominal, but in all cases the figures are obtained from sources which are considered reliable.

6. The following abbreviations are often used, viz.: "M" for mortgage, "g" for gold, "g'd" for guaranteed, "end" for endorsed, "cons" for consolidated, "conv" for convertible, "s f" for sinking fund, "l g" for land grant, "op" for optional.

7. The black-faced type in the letters showing the interest period indicates the month when the bonds mature.

STREET AND ELECTRIC RAILWAYS

In response to the request of many subscribers, we have changed the order of arrangement of the Street and Electric Railway Securities contained in the following lists. The previous practice was to group them by cities. This was a satisfactory and logical arrangement so long as the railways remained distinctly local enterprises and confined to the limits of a single city. But with the introduction of electricity as motive power most of the local systems have by degrees been transformed into interurban roads, some of them covering wide stretches of territory and connecting numerous cities and towns. In such cases the reader might look under several places before finding the one under which the road was given. To obviate this difficulty, we have recast the entire list and arranged the roads all in alphabetical order according to the names. Where the title is that of a street (like Third Avenue RR.), the securities will still be found grouped together in most cases, it being possible to do this because the controlling company usually bears the name of the city where it is located. Thus the New York City lines will be found under the New York City Railway, the Philadelphia lines under the Philadelphia Rapid Transit, &c. Cross references will assist the reader in finding any particular security.

Prices marked thus (a) indicate that the purchaser has to pay accrued interest in addition to the price given. Prices not marked are flat prices—that is, the purchaser does not pay accrued interest in addition.

STATE AND MUNICIPAL BONDS.

It is not the custom in quoting municipal bonds to include accrued interest in the price given. Hence this accrued interest must in all cases be added on. There are a very few instances which form exceptions to the rule—that is, where the prices given are flat prices, the accrued interest having been taken into account in making them. These are indicated by a special mark thus (*).

The figures in the column "to net" indicate the basis on which the securities sell or the interest rate which the securities, if held to maturity, will net to the purchaser at the present market price.

BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES.

Quotations in this department are given per share, not per cent, except for stocks of New York City, Brooklyn and Canadian institutions, and are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding the date of issue, though often are nominal. An asterisk (*) denotes sales. The letter (h) prefixed to a price indicates that the figures show the book value.

Figures of deposits, capital and profits for the national banks are from the Comptroller's last call; for all other institutions they are the latest obtainable, direct returns being procured by us where no periodic statements are required. For the Clearing-House banks of New York, Philadelphia and Boston, deposits are taken from the latest weekly statement.
