BIRMINGHAM, ALA., Dec. 27, 1913.

First National Bank,

Cincinnati, Ohio.

Gentlemen:-

We have your telegram of the 26th instant. We fully agree with you that Cincinnati is a desirable point for the location of a regional reserve bank, and the writer can see many advantages in this section being attached to your district. There is, however, a strong local sentiment that an effort should be made to secure a regional bank for Birmingham, and our Chamber of Commerce, of which the writer is President, is now actively at work to that end. Under the circumstances we feel that you will appreciate our reasons for refraining for the time being to take any active part in the fight for Cincinnati.

Yours very truly,

President.

TRANSMITS AND DELIVERS THE WITHIN NIGHT LETTERGRAM SUBJECT TO THE FOLLOWING TERMS AND CONDITIONS:

The Company will receive, not later than midnight, NIGHT LETTERGRAMS, written in plain English, to be transmitted only for delivery on the morning of the next ensuing business day, at rates still lower than its standard night message rate, as follows:

3. The Company is hereby made the agent of the sender, without liability, to forward this message over the lines of any other Company when necessary to reach its destination.

Dear Sir,

We are hoping that your city will be successful in securing one of the Regional Banks provided for in the recent Currency Bill. Cincinnati serves a large territory in several states. Our business with your city is quite considerable. It amounts in a year close to $ 1,000.000.00 including all of our items and transactions.

It would be very inconvenient for us to be compelled to do business with a bank remotly situated from us. Our business with our Cincinnati correspondents calls for a frequent personal trips, which in case of longer distance would be very inconvenient. We trust the Government will comply with your request for the bank.

Yours truly,

Dear Sir :-,

We are very anxious that a regional reserve bank be established in Cincinnati. The trend of business of this community is towards Cincinnati and always has been. The remittances of this bank alone has been considerably over one million dollars to Cincinnati the last twelve months and no other place wouls uit our purpose as well except Indianapolis and I suppose there is no prospect of a bank being established there.

Sir:

I have today forwarded a "Resolution of Acceptance" of the terms and provisions of the Federal Reserve Act.

We desire to express our preference for Cincinnati as the place for one of the Federal Reserve Banks to be established, presuming we will be in the territory including that city.

The geographical position of Cinncinnati serving the states South, south-east and south-west, the sub-treasury being located there, its accessibility by rail and its importance as the largest city on the Ohio below Pittsburg, the fact that the improvement of the Ohio by locks and dams will largely increase its commercial interests and importance, seems to us sufficient reasons for locating one of the Federal Reserve Banks in that City.

Respectfully

I regret very much that I will not be able to accompany him, but on account of important business matters for that day, I will not be able to go.

We feel deeply interested in Cincinnati's securing a Regional Bank, as a very large portion of the business of this community is toward Cincinnati. We would also very much prefer Cincinnati on account of the very pleasant and satisfactory business relations with the banks of your city, covering so

Dear Sir:-

The city of Cincinnati being well located geographically as a point at which one of the Regional Banks could advantageously be estabished, we write in support of her numerous claims and very much hope you may give favorable consideration to the strong appeal and urgent request of the hundreds of tributary banks interested in this vitally important subject.

Cincinnati has long been the seat of a Sub-Treasury and the people have become accostomed to regarding it as an important money center in the middle States. It would therefore receive the hearty approval of the general public composing this territory if, in your wisdom, you should decide to favor Cincinnati's claims for this honor.

Very respectfully yours,

Dear Sir:

Referring to the matter of the location of one of the regional reserve Banks in the city of Cincinnati, we wish to assist you in every way possible to bring about the selection of Cincinnati for the location of the regional bank, which will include the territory in which Richmond is situated, by reason of the fact that we have large interests in Atlanta and the State of Georgia which are more easily managed through Cincinnati than they would be through any other City of possible selection for this territory. It would be of great inconvenience to us to have our present Cincinnati connections disturbed.

We trust the Department will see its way clear to the selection of Cincinnati as the regional reserve center for the territory including Richmond, Indiana.

Dear Mr. Lewis:-

Referring to your communication relative to an expression from our club as to the location of a Federal Reserve Bank beg to say that our bankers have gone on record as favoring Cincinnati, in view of the fact that they feared Indianapolis was so near Chicago that it would be impossible to get a reserve bank there, hence if an effort was made for Indianapolis they might lose it and would get one no nearer than Chicago. It is estimated that a large per cent. of the business is done through Cincinnati.

We believe that you will understand our attitude in this matter as we would otherwise have been exceedingly glad to co-operate to secure the establishment of such an institution within our state.

Yours truly,

Chas. W. Jordan

Dear Sir :-

We would like very much to have a regional bank located in Cincinnati, for the reason that the trend of our business is towards your city. Approximately, the volume of business we do with Cincinnati banks is $27,000,000 a year.

It would be a great inconvenience to both our bank and the business men of our city, if we were obliged to turn this amount of business toward some other city or some other district.

Dear Sir:-

We have been interested in the passage of the New Currency Law, and believe that it will be very beneficial for the banking interests of every one.

We well remember our experience during the year 1907, and while our business was good and we had a successful year we are ever thankful to our Cincinnati Bank correspondent who so well looked after our interests.

If we may be allowed to express our views upon the local Regional Bank situation we would strongly recommend the City of Cincinnati, Ohio, to be one of the Cities to obtain one of the Regional Banks under the new Currency Law.

Very truly yours,

Vincennes, Ind.

Dear Will:-

Referring to our conversation over telephone concerning your trip to Cincinnati in regard to location of Federal Reserve Bank I will confirm what was said in our conversation that our Board of Directors had filled in slip whihh was sent us by the Reserve Bank Organization Committee and slips were returned to the Committee with the recommendation that we be taken into the Chicago district first and giving Cincinnati as Second choice.

Of course, I am unable to change the action of the Board but I feel sure that there is not any great preference in choosing Chicago over Cincinnati and think either place would serve us well.

With best wishes for a pleasant visit, I beg to remain,

Very truly,

Cincinnati, Ohio.

Dear Sir:-

Referring to the effort being put forth by your Committee to secure the location of a regional bank in your city, we beg to advise you that we are very deeply interested, as well as other bankers in this section, that Cincinnati should be fortunate enough to secure the location of such a bank. A large part of the volume of business here is directed to Cincinnati, and the location at any other point would be a matter of inconvenience to us, as well as the business men generally here. Our bank alone sends a volume of business to Cincinnati yearly to an approximate figure of $2,000,000,00.

Yours very truly,

Washington, D.C.

My dear Sir:

No doubt you have received thousands of letters relative to the location of the proposed Regional Banks but I am going to take the liberty of sending you one more relative to Cincinnati as a suitable location for one of these banks. You are familiar with the arguments - a population of over twenty million within a radius of three hundred miles; the largest machine tool building center in the country; a railroad center and altogether, a city of great activity and large promise of future growth.

Lexington, Kentucky, would be benefitted by having this bank so near at hand.

Yours respectfully,

F. Paul Anderson

MAYSVILLE, KENTUCKY, URGING A

REGIONAL BANK FOR CINCINNATI.

Exhibit No. 5
Hearing at Cincinnati

Maysville is Sixty-three (63) miles East of Cincinnati on the Ohio River and L. & N. and C. & O. R.R., and we can reach Cincinnati in one and three quarters (1¾) hours.

We have one large Cotton Mill shipping goods all over the United States and Canada; one large Plow Factory, with customers in Cuba and South America; one Wood Split Pulley Factory, whose goods go to all points of the Globe; we have the second largest Loose Leaf Tobacco Market in the whole Burkley Tobacco District, selling last year over the "breaks" 23,000,000. pounds, totaling over $3,000,000.00; we are surrounded by very fertile farming lands, in high state of cultivation; we have three large Distilleries, and numerous smaller interests; we have five (5) Banks

with aggregate Capital of-	$491,000.00
" " Surplus "	92,000.00
" Individual Deposits of-	2,500,000.00

and Ninety (90) per cent of all the business from these various industries, is done through Cincinnati, and we can offer no better reason why it is our interest to have a Regional Bank established in Cincinnati than the above, for any other point would be very inconvenient indeed.

Please allow me to add, that within a radius of thirty-five (35) miles of Maysville, there are twenty smaller towns, with thirty-four (34) banks, reporting:

Aggregate Capital	$1,096,600.00
Surplus & Profits	556,500.00
Deposits	5,068,000.00

and we may safely say, that 95 per cent of this banking business is done through Cincinnati, and this applies equally strong, if not stronger, to the whole of Eastern Kentucky, the coming section of our State and our Country, whose mineral resources are unsurpassed, though the development is in its infancy.

Speaking from a strictly business and Commercial standpoint, laying aside any personal feelings, we think Cincinnati, with her Sub Treasury, splendid banks and geographical situation, is the best located city in the United States to serve the largest number of banks in this section, and we earnestly request your Honorable Board to locate a bank there.

Respectfully submitted,

Chairman.

Clearing House Committee,

Cincinnati, O

Dear Sir:

We are very anxious to see a Regional Reserve Bank located in Cincinnati, and the splendid facilities you have in a first class Clearing House, Sub-Treasury and excellent banks renders it one of the most availabe cities in the United States for a large number of other banks.

For this territory, as well as a very large territory surrounding Cincinnati a Regional Bank elsewhere, would prove very inconvenient as the great trend of business in this district is largely toward Cincinnati; our little bank alone has sent in your city in the past 12 months over two million dollars, and to divert this business to some point more remote would work a severe hardship on a large number of banks.

Sincerely trusting you will be successful in securing a Regional Bank,

Very truly,

We feel that if a Regional Bank is established in Cincinnati, Ohio. that it will be far better forthe Banking interest of the the adjoining states as well as our own in stead of being placed in some remote territory.

Dear Sir :-

We desire to express our preference as to the location of a Regional Bank for this section.

It is our opinion that Regional Banks should be centrally located as regards Railroad systems and other facilities.

It is also our opinion that member Banks should be selected as regards Railroads and their connecting lines , regardless of State lines or geographical location.

We being located on the great Louisville & Nashville system and within twelve hours run of the City of Cincinnati we express our preference for CINCINNATI as the location of a Resreve Bank for this section.

While we would like to see a Bank located at Richmond Va. it would take us about 24 hours to reach it by Mail or travel.

Hoping it will be your pleasure to see that Cincinnati gets a Bank and that we will be a member thereof

I am very truly yours

Cashier.

Every Cincinnati National Bank has wired its intention of coming in under the new Currency Act. I note with keen pleasure, and I know it is extremely gratifying to you to observe, the favorable manner in which the great institutions of the country have, at last, come to accept and welcome this great measure. We want, by all means, to have Cincinnati designated as one of the reserve cities, that is, to have one of the regional banks established here. It is a sub-treasury city, and geographically most excellently situated for this purpose. By all means, let us have one located here.

Gentlemen:-

I want to bring to your particular attention the following advantageous points of Cincinnati as a regional reserve city:-

In the first place Cincinnati is a sub-treasury city.

It is the gateway to the south and but a night's ride from the great cities of Chattanooga, Birmingham and Atlanta.

Within a radius of 300 miles there is a population of 20,881,000.

It has most excellent railroad and mail facilities, its railroads radiating into the states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi. Thus, the current of trade has been through Cincinnati, and its clearings are the largest of any city in the State.

When the improvement of the Ohio River by locks and dams is completed Cincinnati will be one of the most advantageously located cities in the Ohio or Mississippi Valleys, for then raw materials, coal, iron and wood, can be brought to our doors at the lowest possible cost, there to be manufactured into various commodities, and by means of cheap water transportation, conveyed, not only as far east as Pittsburgh, but all over the south land.

Cincinnati is not only the nearest large city to the center of population in the country, but it is the center of an extensive manufacturing district, and likewise of a great agricultural district.

From their established banking customs and practices Cincinnati banking institutions have a splendid reputation for good and safe banking. No other great city in the country suffered less during the panic of 1907.

The volume of business which naturally flows through Cincinnati and the number of banks within this territory which have expressed their intention of joining the new system should assure the Committee that Cincinnati would afford the system one of the strongest regional banks in the country.

My dear Congressman:-

In reading over our papers lately I notice where there will be a committee from Washington visit Cincinnati about the middle of February in the interests of the regional bank.

I would like to have you use your good offices and see whether or not it would not be possible to have the gentlemen who come that evening visit the Cincinnati Association of Credit Men at a meeting that will be held that night at 6:30 at the Business Men's Club to which we will invite the bankers of this section and any one else who would be interested in this proposition and any persons whom they may want.

We do not even know the exact date they will be here but whatever date it is we will arrange a meeting for that time.

I certainly think that we could show them a very pleasant evening and if you are in the city we would certainly expect you also as our guest.

Wont you please take this up with the proper party and let me know at your very earliest convenience whether or not such a meeting could be arranged.

In behalf of our Association and its Executive Committee we will be greatly indebted to you for this service.

My dear Mr. Secretary:-

In the matter of locating the various regional banks I know you will give the fullest consideration to the claims of the various cities aspiring for the honor. I presume that it will be less difficult to satisfactorily serve any section of the country than that tributary to the vast section east of Chicago, south of the Lakes, west of Baltimore and Philadelphia and north of the Southern border. Within this area lie the wonderful cities of Pittsburg, Cleveland, Detroit, Indianapolis, Louisville and Cincinnati. I have looked over the claims of each city and am satisfied that each appeals strongly to the Board of Organization. Since the claims of all cannot be satisfied it would appear to me that Cincinnati would probably be the one center that would serve most easily and most effectively this vast area if one regional bank is to perform the task. Its banking resources are equal to any of the cities mentioned, its railroad facilities come nearer being a perfect radiating point for this section, its location geographically with reference to the cities mentioned together with the area to be served is central and it possesses the strategic position of being neither northern nor southern but lies upon the border line and is both. Speaking as a member of the House but not as a Representative of any particular section of the State of Ohio nor in the interest locally of any city butrather in the larger sense for the welfare of the great mass in this great area it would appear to me that Cincinnati would be the most desirable point for this regional bank if but one is destined to servethis people.

I know personally that the bankers who have sent these telegrams are good men and are in position to judge of the needs of the several communities in which they live. It seems to be their opinion expressed with great unanimity that the north-western section of the state would be most accommodated by having Cincinnati as one of the regional reserve cities. MAJESTIC in appearance, at once the most strikingly beautiful and distinctive building in the city—

CONSPICUOUS for its location, height and individuality of architecture—

PLANNED in construction, equipment and finish for the safety, convenience and health of its tenants—

THE UNION CENTRAL BUILDING will be in itself a standing advertisement for its occupants.

THE type of building, a fitting successor to the Corinthian Postoffice, and the Romanesque Chamber of Commerce, will be an adaptation of the Italian Renaissance to meet the needs of the American high office building.

The first four stories will be of white marble, with heavy rustications, and will form the base of the structure. The exterior above this will be in ivory white matt, glazed terra cotta, modeled in polychromatic work.

The building will cover the entire lot, with the exception of a light court, up to the eighteenth story. The main shaft will be thirty-four stories, including the roof and lantern. Just below the roof it will be surrounded by a free standing colonnade, crowned with a balustrade. The pyramidal roof will be divided into panels of colored terra cotta, and will be surmounted with a lantern. At this point there will be an observation gallery accessible to visitors.

The dimensions are one hundred feet on Fourth Avenue, one hundred and fifty feet on Vine Street, and one hundred feet on Baker Street. The height on Fourth Avenue will be 495 feet, the highest point of the lantern. It will contain 5,175,000 cubic feet.

The framework of the building will consist of structural steel columns, girders and beams. Special precautions have been taken to make it strong and stable, and the steel is designed to resist wind pressure. It will be especially protected against corrosion. Approximately 6500 tons of structural steel will be required.

The foundations will consist of a steel grillage and cantilevers, thoroughly imbedded in concrete, and resting upon a stratum of hard, compact gravel. Thorough test was made of the soil to insure a stable foundation.

Ample space in the sub-basement will be allotted to the mechanical equipment, consisting of boilers, tanks, pumps, fans, engines, and generators. It will be complete.

The main entrance will be from Fourth Avenue on a level with the sidewalk. The spacious entrance hall, leading to the elevator lobby, will be furnished with imported marble; it will traverse the entire length of the building, forming an arcade, convenient for small shops. Elevator fronts, doors and frames will be in bronze, harmonizing with the exterior design of the building. The elevators will be in batteries of six, facing each other—a convenient arrangement. There will also be entrances on Vine Street and Baker Street.

The first floor will be designed for stores, mercantile, banking or brokerage offices. The south half of the

Your telegram to Congressman Alfred G. Allen, in which you tender the use of the library and committee rooms of your association for the hearing to be held at Cincinnati on February 17, was referred to the Committee.

If not, I beg now to express the thanks of the Committee, and to advise that arrangements have been made to hold the hearing in the Federal Court room, it having been thought advisable to hold all hearings in Federal buildings where practicable.

Respectfully,

Our preferences, in order, for location of Regional Bank are:

1st Choice--Cincinnati

2nd " Richmond

3rd " Baltimore

Answering your inquiry as to the division of the State, we think That it would be better to divide the state, as the ones in the southern portion could be served better from a different point than that of the northern.

Mr. Howard Southerland, M. C.

Dear Sir:-

Replying to your favor of the 16th, our preference for the location of the Regional Bank is first, Cincinnati, second, Baltimore.

Answering your inquiry as to the division of the State, we think it likely that this would be natural as the business in both sections is already centralized around Pittsburg and Cincinnati. Pittsburg is of course the center for all the business originating in the Monongahelia Valley and in the Northern section of West Virginia. Their lines of communication are more direct with Pittsburg than any other City in the Country. We have no doubt that this section of the Country would be better served by Pittsburg than by Cincinnati.

In this section, particularly the Kanawha and the Ohio Valleys, Cincinnati is the more logical point. It is the most convenient for us, and the business of this section is thoroughly understood by the Cincinnati Banks.

We believe that if the new system is to prove a success, it should as far as possible conform in its regulations and rules to the established practices of the present banking system. We believe the policy of the Reserve Board should be not to interfere with banking usages and conditions more than is necessary, in which their work should be constructive instead of destructive. We hope and trust this will be their policy, and in case it is, we are positive that the measure will prove to be a great success to the interests of the States of the interior, of which we think West Virginia is not the least important.

The closer we can locate a Regional Bank to us the better it will be for our future development in West Virginia. New York could never understand our conditions like the Bankers at Pittsburg or Cincinnati, and with favorable administration, we bespeak a great future for West Virginia industries under the new currency system.

In relation to the establishment of the Regional reserve banks, I think this part of West Virginia is much interested in Cincinnati, Ohio being made a Regional reserve center. It is several hours nearer by mail than any other city that has been mentioned and in addition to that, it is the natural gateway for us to Central and North Western United States and practically all of our business is with that particular territory.

I am quite sure that your efforts looking towards this will be much appreciated by all Banks in Southern West Virginia.

There is an effort being made by Cincinnati for a Regional Bank. We would appreciate, in this part of the State, anything that you could do for Cincinnati. My dear Mr. Sutherland:-

Your favor of the second has been received. I agree entirely with you in the matter of the location of the Regional Reserve Bank and think these districts should be divided a good deal the way our fathers divided farms on the heads of our creeks - on the basis of the way the drainage runs.

We are naturally very much in favor of Cincinnati, Ohio and after Cincinnati, I am inclined to think we would favor Richmond, Virginia. This is due to the fact that the railroad running to those points are direct and the mail service better.

It seems unreasonable to me that Cleveland should be selected for the reason that it is not the center of any large district, nor is it what we may call the gateway to any particular district. On the other hand, Cincinnati is the center of a very large commercial district and is the gateway to the south-west and all the country south of it, and regardless of the intentions of

I am very glad, indeed, to receive yours of the 23rd and would be glad if you will get for me several copies of the new Currency Law and give me any further information that you have in regard to its operation. We are a State Bank and it is, therefore, a matter that we must consider with great care.

I wrote you a few days ago, asking that you assist us in any way possible in having a Regional Reserve Bank located at Cincinnati. I realize the fact that this may in some way conflict with the ideas of your constituents in the northern part of the state as they may be in favor of Pittsburg. On the other hand, Pittsburg will in no way satisfy us for the reason that by mail it is more than a day's time off.

If you can assist us in this, we will be obliged.

Answering your inquiry as to the division of the State, we think if there is a Reserve Bank in both Cincinnati & Pittsburg, the northern panhandle should probably be in the Pittsburg District, the eastern panhandle would probably go with Washington or Baltimore. We have no very decided preference as between Washington, Baltimore & Richmond, but of these three consider Washington the logical point. We are strongly in favor of Cincinnati as first choice to the absolute exclusion of all other points. It is very important for a large Central & Western territory that there should be a bank at Cincinnati.

Dear Sir:-

In connection with your hearings relative to the selection of the cities in which the Regional Reserve Banks are to be located, I take it that you will not be averse to having, by letter, the views of banks and bankers in the various sections to be affected. While this bank has not definitely decided to join the new system, the chances are that it will want to come in when the banks are finally organized.

The banks in the south-western part of our State are strongly favoring Cincinnati for one of the Regional Banks, and they would properly belong in a district with that city, if a bank is to be located in Cincinnati, but it would not be at all suitable for the banks in the northern or eastern parts of West Virginia to be in the Cincinnati district, or to be placed in a district with Cleveland.

As far as our immediate section, including Morgantown, Fairmont, Clarksburg, Parkersburg, Grafton, Mannington, Wheeling and intermediate towns, is concerned, Pittsburgh would be by far the most desirable location for the Regional Bank which is to serve us. We are much nearer to Pittsburgh than to any other city and the principal part of our reserves have been carried there, our relations with the banks there being very close. On this account, it is my opinion that Pittsburgh would be the unanimous first choice of the banks in this part of West Virginia.

If it is decided not to locate a Regional Bank in Pittsburgh, the northern and eastern parts of our State should be placed in a district with Baltimore or Washington, preferably Baltimore.

COPY OF RESOLUTION ADOPTED BY GROUP NO. 3, W.VA. BANKERS' ASSOCIATION, AT THEIR MEETING HELD IN THE CITY OF HUNTINGTON, W. Va.

February, 11th, 1914.

WHEREAS The Bank Organization Committee of the Federal Reserve Bank System is now considering the merits of various points at which to locate the several Federal Reserve Banks provided for in the Federal Reserve Act, and

WHEREAS it is the unanimous opinion of Group No. 3 of the W. Va. Bankers' Association that one of the said Federal Reserve Banks should be located at Cincinnati, Ohio, therefore

BE IT RESOLVED that Group No. 3 of the W. Va. Bankers' Association use all its influence toward locating one of said Reserve Banks at Cincinnati, believing that point to be the logical location for the following reasons:

1st. Because of the importance of that city by rea son of its geographical location, and the magnitude of its commercial and industrial life; its splendid lines of communication affording excellent mail facilities north, south, east and west; and the large and important extent of territory naturally tributary to it.

2nd. Because of the financial strength and conservative character of its clearing house and banking institutions.

3rd. Because it is now a Sub-Treasury city, and affords certain facilities not obtainable in other cities.

4th Because in our opinion, seventy-five percent or more of the banking exchanges of this section on out of town points are now cleared thro' Cincinnati. These exchanges follow the line of least resistance, thus indicating Cincinnati to be the natural financial center of this section.

RESOLVED FURTHER that copies of these resolutions be transmitted to the Chamber of Commerce of Cincinnati, O., and to the Clearing House Committee of Cincinnati, O., to be by them presented to the Bank Organization Committee on its visit to Cincinnati for the purpose of considering this matter.

At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of Huntington, West Virginia, held January 9th 1914, it was upon motion ordered that the officers of the Chamber be directed to urge upon the Bank Organization Committee of the Federal Reserve Bank system the desirability of locating one of the Federal Reserve Banks at Cincinnati, Ohio,

And it was further ordered that the Cashiers of all the Banks of this city be designated as a committee to prepare suitable resolutions to that effect, which resolutions adopted by a unanimous vote of this Chamber of Commerce are as follows:

WHEREAS the Bank Organization Committee of the Federal Reserve Bank system is now considering the merits of various points at which to locate the several Federal Reserve Banks provided for in the Federal Reserve Act, and

WHEREAS it is the unanimous opinion of this Chamber of Commerce that one of the said Federal Reserve Banks should be located at Cincinnati, Ohio, therefore

Hon. Howard Sutherland,

House of Representatives U. S.

Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

We are in receipt of yours of the 16th inst and in reply to same will say our first choice of a Federal Reserve Bank is Cincinnati and in fact it almost our only choice as this particular portion of West Virginia is only one hundred sixty miles from Cincinnati and only five hours by mail.

It is the only point in which we would want to become a member of the Federal Reserve Bank. Baltimore would be our next choice, but we cannot do business so well with Baltimore .

This bank has always had a reserve account in Cincinnati and the Cincinnati bankers and familiar with and know the class of paper we handle and we feel that we would be taken care of if a Federal Bank were established in Cincinnati, but we do not have the same confidence in any other point, so you can see our first, last and only choice is really Cincinnati.

Very respectfully,

Dear Sir:

We are just in receipt of yours of the 26th ultimo enclosing resolutions to be acted upon by our board.

On the 31st day of December, 1913 the two above banks were consolidated into one under the name of the American Bank & Trust Company. The American Bank & Trust Company taking over all of the assets of the American National Bank of Huntington, West Virginia and paying all of its liabilities. Therefore the American National Bank no longer being in existanee will not have any further meeting of its board of directors.

As we understand the law, the American Bank & Trust Company can become a member of the reserve bank, but unless a reginal bank is established in Cincinnati, Ohio, we would not want to become a member of it, as there is no other city that we know of that would have a reginal bank that would be convenient for us or this locality.

We keep our principal reserve in Cincinnati and we are only one hundred sixty miles from it. Pittaburg or Cleveland

THE POSTAL TELEGRAPH-CABLE COMPANY (INCORPORATED)

TRANSMITS AND DELIVERS THE WITHIN NIGHT LETTERGRAM SUBJECT TO THE FOLLOWING TERMS AND CONDITIONS:

The Company will receive, not later than midnight, NIGHT LETTERGRAMS, written in plain English, to be transmitted only for delivery on the morning of the next ensuing business day, at rates still lower than its standard night message rate, as follows:

The standard day rate for a ten-word day message shall be charged for the transmission of a NIGHT LETTERGRAM, containing fifty words or less, and one-fifth of the standard day rate for a ten-word day message shall be charged for each additional ten words or less in such NIGHT LETTERGRAM.

To guard against mistakes or delays, the sender of a message should order it REPEATED, that is, telegraphed back to the originating office for comparison. For this, one-half the unrepeated message rate is charged in addition. Unless otherwise indicated on its face, THIS IS AN UNREPEATED MESSAGE, AND PAID FOR AS SUCH, in consideration whereof it is agreed between the sender of the message and this Company as follows:

2. In any event the Company shall not be liable for damages for any mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for the non-delivery of this message, whether caused by the negligence of its servants or otherwise, beyond fifty times the REPEATED message rate, at which amount this message, if sent as a REPEATED message, is hereby valued, unless a greater value is stated in writing hereon at the time the message is delivered to the Company for transmission, and an additional sum paid or agreed to be paid based on such value equal to one-tenth of one per cent. thereof.

3. The Company is hereby made the agent of the sender, without liability, to forward this message over the lines of any other Company when necessary to reach its destination.

4. Messages will be delivered free within the established free delivery limits of the terminal office. For delivery at a greater distance a special charge will be made to cover the cost of such delivery.

5. No responsibility attaches to this Company concerning messages until the same are accepted at one of its transmitting offices; and if a message is sent to such office by one of this Company's messengers, he acts for that purpose as the agent of the sender.

6. This Company shall not be liable for damages or statutory penalties in any case where the claim is not presented in writing within thirty days after the message is filed with the Company for transmission.

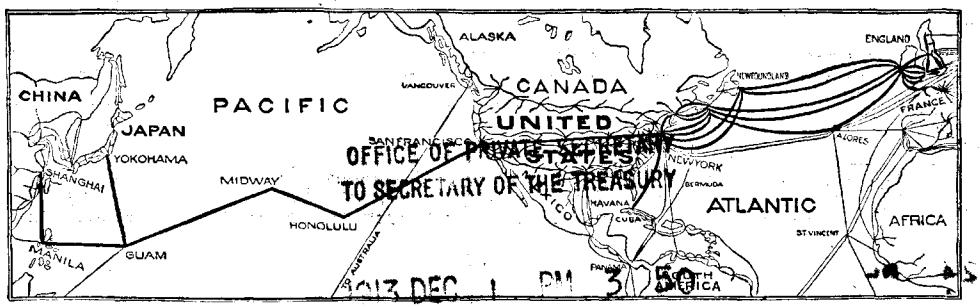
[3 AND 4]



OFFICE OF PRIVATE SECRETARY
TO SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY
1917 DEC 1 PM 3

THE GREATEST TELEGRAPH AND CABLE SYSTEM IN THE WORLD. EXTENDS OVER TWO-THIRDS OF THE WAY AROUND THE EARTH.

THE POSTAL TELEGRAPH-CABLE COMPANY (INCORPORATED)

TRANSMITS AND DELIVERS THE WITHIN NIGHT LETTERGRAM SUBJECT TO THE FOLLOWING TERMS AND CONDITIONS:

The Company will receive, not later than midnight, NIGHT LETTERGRAMS, written in plain English, to be transmitted only for delivery on the morning of the next ensuing business day, at rates still lower than its standard night message rate, as follows:

The standard day rate for a ten word day message shall be charged for the transmission of a NIGHT LETTERGRAM, containing fifty words or less, and one-fifth of the standard day rate for a ten word day message shall be charged for each additional ten words or less in such NIGHT LETTERGRAM.

To guard against mistakes or delays the sender of a message should order it REPEATED, that is, telegraphed back to the originating office for comparison. For this, one-half the unrepeated message rate is charged in addition. Unless otherwise indicated on its face, THIS IS AN UNREPEATED MESSAGE AND PAID FOR AS SUCH, in consideration whereof it is agreed between the sender of the message and this Company as follows:

1. The Company shall not be liable for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for non-delivery, of any UNREPEATED message, beyond the amount received for sending the same; nor for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for non-delivery, of any REPEATED message, beyond fifty times the sum received for sending the same, UNLESS SPECIALLY VALUED; nor in any case for delays arising from unavoidable interruption in the working of its lines; NOR FOR ERRORS IN CIPHER OR OBSCURE MESSAGES.

2. In any event the Company shall not be liable for damages for any mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for the non-delivery of this message, whether caused by the negligence of its servants or otherwise, beyond fifty times the REPEATED message rate, at which amount this message, if sent as a REPEATED message, is hereby valued, unless a greater value is stated in writing hereon at the time the message is offered to the Company for transmission, and an additional sum paid or agreed to be paid based on such value equal to one-tenth of one per cent thereof.

3. The Company is hereby made the agent of the sender, without liability, to forward this message over the lines of any other Company when necessary to reach its destination.

4. Messages will be delivered free within the established free delivery limits of the terminal office. For delivery at a greater distance a special charge will be made to cover the cost of such delivery.

5. No responsibility attaches to this Company concerning messages until the same are accepted at one of its transmitting offices; and if a message is sent to such office by one of this Company's messengers, he acts for that purpose as the agent of the sender.

6. This Company shall not be liable for damages or statutory penalties in any case where the claim is not presented in writing within thirty days after the message is filed with the Company for transmission.

In further consideration of the reduced rate for this special "NIGHT LETTERGRAM" service, the following special terms are hereby agreed to:

In accordance with your letter of Jan. 16, we have filled out the enclosed blank and same is herewith returned. We are strong for Cincinnati first, and Pittsburg second. As between Washington and Richmond, we would much prefer Richmond. We see no objection to division of the State, so Banks in the northern part of state would be in one region and southern in another.

Answering your inquiry as to the division of the State, we think that it would probably be well to make a division putting the territory north of main line B & O in one division, south the other.

So far as Cleveland is concerned, this section could be as well served from Baltimore and that would probably be the case for the whole state. What you want to impress on the minds of the location committee is the fact that we want to get within over night distance of our reserve cities so that the business of one day can be cleared the next, or shipments of funds do not lose interest in transit.

Howard Sutherland, Esq.,

My Dear Mr. Sutherland:

We would appreciate your assistance in helping to locate one of the regional banks in the city of Cincinnati, Ohio, as we believe that this city would be about as near the center of population and would be of the best assistance to this part of our state as in this section a great many of our local bankers have correspondent accounts in this city.

Your prompt assistance will be greatly appreciated.

Very truly,

Banking and Finance Committee, Business Mens Club.

Cincinnati.

Dear Sir;-

Enclosed find a petition signed up by the representa tive business men of this town, in favor-- and strongly so, of Cincinnati as the location for one of the Federal Reserve Banks.

The Combined capital of the signers of this petition-- I mean the business capital only, is over Two Million two Hundred thousand dollars and the banking capital represented hereon is over two hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

The entire capital of the combined signers represented and their businesses will run over three million dollars, and all are for Cincinna -ti first last and always for the Federal Reserve Bank.

yours truly,

E. A. Burnside

Member Business Mens Club.

Perhaps too you do not know, nor the members of your Committee, that the tow -n of Point Pleasant ranks fourth in point of river traffic-- tonnage carried to and from its port, of all the town or cities along the Mississ -ippi valley river system, it has more arrivals of steamboats and other craft than any cities on the valley system except Pittsburg and Cincinnati-- it outranks New Orleans in number of river craft of all kinds arriving and dep -arting, its tonnage by river is greater than St Louis, Memphis and all other cities excpet Pittsbugh, Cincinnati and possibly-- with the doubt in favor of Point Pleasant-- Louisville. Its water borne tonnage in Feby 1912 and arriva -ls and departures were far greater than that of New York City.

My dear Mr. Burnside:-

In looking over the returns at the Club on the endorsements for Cincinnati for a Federal Reserve Bank, I was more than pleased to receive your letter of the 3d, and note the results of the aggressive manner in which you went about procuring the endorsements of the business interests in Pt. Pleasant.

This is the kind of work that counts, and furthermore an endorsement which the Organization Committee when it reaches Cincinnati cannot ignore. We only hope that the opportunity will be afforded us to bring these endorsements forcibly before the Committee.

House of Representatives,

My Dear Sir:

We want tothank you for your promptness in sending us a copy of the new Banking law. We certainly appreciate it. The law is a good one and we believe will work out for the good of the whole country.

In this connection we want to say a word about the location of a Regional Bank. The officers of this bank and about all of the business men of this town would like to see one located in Cincinnati, Ohio. Its location on the center of a very large population and its transportation facilities make if, we believe, an ideal location for a Regional Bank. We would appreciate your efforts toward the location there, of one of these banks.

Again thanking you we beg to remain,

Yours truly,

Dear Sir:

We are necessarily very much interested in the location chosen for a Regional Reserve Bank for our district, and as Cincinnati is the most logical point, from a geographical and commercial standpoint, for a money center, we are very anxious to see your city chosen as a location. The bulk of our business is routed most conveniently through the Western Banks, and Cincinnati has always given us very efficient service along this line.

We would very much dislike to see any change necessitated on account of your not having a Regional Bank, as we are thoroughly convinced that for this part of the State Cincinnati is much more desirable.

We have also filled in the blank which you sent us and beg to enclose the same herewith.

Situated as we are in the extreme southern part of West Virginia, we have practically no difference in our mail service between Richmond and Cincinnati, but perhaps Cincinnati has a slight advantage. Soon after the new Currency Act was signed Cincinnati asked us to assist them in any way we could towards securing a Regional Bank in their city and up to this time we have given them such assistance as it was possible for us to give.

Dear Sir:

Situated as we are in the southern end of the State of West Virginia, the general trend of business is towards your city, and we feel that the business generally from the southern end of the State, if not from the whole State, would be more directly benefitted by having a federal reserve bank located in Cinoinnati than in any other city.

As to the matter of express and mail service, Cinoinnati is decidedly more accessible by at least twelve hours than any other city where a regional bank would likely be located, and it is our sincere hope that a regional reserve bank will be located in your city.

Answering your inquiry as to the division of the State, we think----------

The several failures of banks in the last five or six years, in Pittsburg and it's adjoining suburbs, together with the present action of the Pittsburg Clearing House in defeating the reopening of the First-Second National Bank, makes me feel that a Regional bank would have a healthier and more wholesome atmosphere in either of the cities above named, although Columbus is possibly not to be considered.

To my mind, the bankers of Cleveland, as a rule, are of exceptionally large caliber, as well as being the peers of any in integrity, and in former respect, superior to Cincinnati; but, viewed from a strictly commercial-geographical standpoint, Cincinnati could serve this State in my opinion, better than any other place, but let me urge that the value of large ideas and high standards of business are potent factors in the success of these new institutions.

It affords me pleasure to state that yesterday our Directors instructed us to become subscribers to the Regional bank whereever it is and that we are the first, that I know of, in the State to take this action.

In reply to your letter of recent date with reference to location of Regional Bank.

We prefer Cincinnati under all circumstances, and I cannot see how they can reasonably get around giving them one, for the reason of their location geographically, and the amount of business controlled through this center. It is more closely located to a center of a great population, and has better connections than either of the cities mentioned, taking into consideration that Pittsburgh is very close to New York and Boston, also Philadelphia.

I hope that you will be able to make them see that Cincinnati should be one of the points.

Gentlemen:

We acknowledge receipt of your telegram of this date asking our influence and cooperation in having one of the Regional Banks established in your city. We would like to see Cincinnati have one of the Regional Banks, but our understanding is that one is to be established in Washington City and if so, it occurs to us that the logical thing would be for us to become a member of the Washington Regional Bank. Hon.W.G.McAdoo,
Secretary of the Treasury,
Washington D.C.,
Dear Mr.Secretary:-

I fear you may be wearied by the number of messages you are receiving concerning the location of Regional Reserve Banks, but knowing your zeal and industry in matters of public duty I venture a few words.

We are not without hopes of having Chattanooga selected, a better place, tho a smaller city, than Atlanta, me judice. But if we are not ourselves favored (you understand Chattanooga so well that I do not consume your time in enumerating its claims), it would be better for us and for many others to have Cincinnati chosen.

I understand there is a question between Cincinnati and Cleveland, Cleveland has not even as much advantage in population as the census figures would imply, for the line of Kentucky cities opposite Cincinnati are part of her commercially, as Jersey City and Hoboken are of New York. And as to location it is only necessary to look at the map to see Cincinnati's superiority, situated at the border between North and South, almost touching not only Kentucky but Indiana, the nearest great city to the geografical center of population, a great manufacturing city in a region of great manufacturing and agricultural wealth, with its admirable system of railway communication, and its water facilities to be increast by the locking and damming of the Ohio, its solid financial standing, added to the presence of the National Sub-Treasury, it appears to me to offer exceptional advantages for a Regional Bank, apart from the fact that, I believe, some twenty million people are embraced within a radius of three hundred miles.

Knowing, as I do so well, how carefully you will weigh matters in an effort to arrive at the best decision for the public good I submit these considerations, not wishing any reply, but wishing you now, as always, a continuation of success in your administration of your great office, in which your patriotism and ability have been already so conspicuously shown.

Gentlemen:

Our good friends of your city, the Atlas National Bank and the First National Bank, have written us regarding the question of establishment of a Regional Bank in your city, and inasmuch as our local clearing house has made application for one of these banks here we, of course, could not give you the endorsement we would under other circumstances. We, however, would say this that, in case Chattanooga cannot get one of these banks, our next choice would be Cincinnati.

Dear Sir:-

We are very much interested in the location of a Regional bank in Cincinnati, Ohio, and we hope you are in position to use your influence to this end.

Cincinnati is the terminus of the L&N and the C. S. [redacted] which as you know, penetrate Tennessee and give the people of our state and especially of your district, quick service in communicating with that city. In addition to this, it is the location of a U.S. Sub-trasury and a metropolis of the Ohio Valley, a dividing line between the North and South.

Anything you can do for us in this way will be appreciated by your friends in this part of your district.

With best wishes for your success, we remain,

Yours sincerely,

The National Bank of Jellico,

The Sycamore Club

Johnson City, Tennessee

January 2d, 1914.

Hon. W. G. McAdoo,
Secretary of the Treasury,
Washington, D. C.,

Dear Sir:

The business men and bankers of Johnson City urge the establishment of a regional bank in Cincinnati, Ohio - because of the fact that in spite of its distance from this immediate section of Tennessee, it is still more convenient and accessible than any other City that has been prominently named in this connection.

Mail and passenger service will experience no change between upper East Tennessee and Cincinnati, and the running time will be less than to either Atlanta or Nashville - both of which cities can only be reached by change of cars from this place.

Another very decided advantage in favor of Cincinnati is the fact that the aggregate capital of a regional bank established there would naturally be much larger than one established in a smaller city, and to just that extent it would be more capable of serving its constituent members.

Speaking for the Sycamore Club, the business mens organization of Johnson City, I hope that you will carefully weigh all of the claims which will be set forth by the business organizations of Cincinnati in behalf of their city.

Respectfully,

J. E. Bruning
