

FEDERAL RESERVE statistical release

H.6(508)

For release at
4:30 PM EDT
October 17, 1991

Revisions to Special Supplementary Table

Beginning this month, the Special Supplementary Table, included monthly in the H.6(508), has been changed. Recent changes to the Board's Report of Transaction Accounts, Other Deposits, and Vault Cash eliminated the breakdown of total savings deposits into three different components--savings deposits and personal and nonpersonal money market deposit accounts. This change no longer permits estimates as accurate as previously of the amount outstanding and average rate paid on these three components of total savings deposits. Accordingly, the supplementary table no longer will provide separate rate and deposit data for these three components of total savings but rather will present the amount outstanding and average rate paid for total savings deposits.