COMMITTEE ON APPROPRIATIONS

December 10, 1937

Hon. Marriner S. Eccles
Board of Governors
Federal Reserve Board
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Eccles:

The notation on the attached picture is incorrect. It should read "The Chairman of the Federal Reserve Board demonstrates his ability as a slight-of-hand artist to the absolute bewilderment and confusion of the Senator from South Carolina."

I do not know exactly what kind of trick you were putting on with your hands, but have no doubt it was a good one.

Please mail the photograph in the enclosed envelope to the International News Photo.

Sincerely yours,

James F. Byrnes
JAMES F. BYRNES.

My dear Senator:

Thank you for letting me see the photograph which, as requested, I have forwarded to the International News in the envelope you enclosed.

I cannot account for the slight-of-hand gestures except on the ground that I was about to sneeze. The photograph is equally unjust to you because a look of "absolute bewilderment and confusion" is utterly foreign to you from my observation.

Again, with thanks,

Sincerely yours,

Honorable James F. Byrnes,
United States Senate,
Washington, D. C.
