

November 13, 1944.

Dear Senator:

May I take this occasion to express my gratification that you have been reelected for a second term in the Senate of the United States. I watched with particular interest the progress of the campaign in California, hoping and believing that you would be victorious, as has happily turned out to be the case.

Your far-seeing and liberal approach to national problems, including in particular the difficult economic problems, that confront us is more urgently needed than ever now and in the postwar years.

Sincerely yours,

Honorable Sheridan Downey,
United States Senate,
Washington 25, D. C.
