Gentlemen:

May I have ten copies of the recent address of Mr. Eccles before the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, No. Z-544, to be used as a reference in my course in Business Taxation? If you cannot spare so many copies, I shall be grateful for a smaller number.

Yours very truly,

Dear Mr. Eccles:

We would appreciate receiving a copy of your recent address at the annual meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

I feel sure this would be of interest to bankers thruout the country, and we would like to bring at least a portion of it to our readers' attention.

Thank you for your courtesy in this and past instances, and with best of regards,

Cordially,

R. E. Doan,

Mr. F. P. Hankerson, Editor,
The Wooden Barrel,
411 Olive Street,
St. Louis, Missouri.

Dear Mr. Hankerson:

This is to acknowledge receipt of your letter of May 13 with reference to my recent address before the Chamber of Commerce. I am glad you feel that this speech is sufficiently worthwhile to be reprinted in your trade magazine.

I regret to say that I do not have available photographs suitable for the use you have in mind, and I do not know where you could obtain one except through the various news agencies that supply such prints.

In case you do decide to reprint the address, I would greatly appreciate it if you would send me a copy of the issue containing it.

Sincerely yours,

M. S. Eccles,
Chairman.
