

THE ARMY INDUSTRIAL COLLEGE
WASHINGTON, D. C.

19 March 1946

Dear Mr. Eccles:

It was a pleasure to see you at The Pentagon today; I have been looking forward to this visit since last July.

Your interesting and instructive address made a profound impression on our students and research analysts. We were all delighted to hear you and hope we may have that pleasure again in the near future.

A number of the students expressed regret that their questions had to remain unasked. Certain of the points you emphasized might well have started a thoroughly informative discussion.

The conference reporter's transcript of your remarks will be sent to you upon completion for such editorial revision, if any, as you may deem desirable.

Assuring you of our appreciation, and with best personal regards, I remain

Faithfully yours,

Walter H. E. Jaeger
