[a] These statistics are for raw sugar up to 1896 and refined sugar since 1896. The consumption tax upon sugar was reduced from 70 to 40 francs per 100 kilograms in (law of July 19, 1880), was raised to 50 francs in 1884 (law of July 29, 1884), to 60 francs in 1887 (law of May 27, 1887), to 64 francs in 1897 (law of April 7, 1897). Since Sept ber 1, 1903 (law of January 27, 1903), the tax has been 27 francs per 100 kilograms for refined sugar.

[b] In 1903 the excessive amount of imports of coffee was due to the threat of an increase in the import duties which was foreseen in the drift of the budget for 1904.

[a] Banks which have published regular balance sheets since 1888.
[b] The items which are considered as money at call and short notice are the balance on hand and at the bank, bills discounted, loans upon collateral, reports, coupons, and retired bonds.
[c] The figures in this column express the aggregate of acceptances and bills payable, the indications in the reports not permitting a separation of these two items.
[d] Including the bureaux auxiliaires, places réunies, and villes rattachées.
[e] Including foreign branches.
[f] The others not being registered, it is impossible to know the number of shareholders.
[g] Including time certificates.
[h] The Société Générale had also at the end of 1907 about 180 temporary offices, opening one or two times a week.
[i] About.
[j] Including the balance in other banks.
[k] In the reports published by the Société Générale the financial participations are not separated from the securities.
[l] This number expresses the total of cash accounts and notes payable to bearer.
[m] The reports published by the société contain no figures for financial participations, securities, or reports.
[n] This number expresses the amount of certificates in circulation.

[a] The number of institutions registered in the first column represents the total number of offices, strictly so called, and all other branches and receiving bureaus according to the decree of August 3, 1875, and during the years 1876 to 1881 the postal bureaus authorized by the decree of August 3, 1875, to conduct operations for the savings banks of their department. Beginning with 1880 with the creation of the Caisse Nationale d'Épargne, the post-offices have ceased to assist the Caisse d'Épargne Ordinaires.

[b] The rate of interest to depositors is fixed each year for each office by the administrative council of that office within the limits established by law. It varies thus from one office to another. The limits have been the following: From 1853 to 1890, maximum 3¾ per cent, minimum 3½ per cent; 1891 to 1892, maximum 3½ per cent, minimum 3¼ per cent; 1893 to 1895, maximum 3¼ per cent, minimum 3 per cent; since 1895, maximum 3 per cent, minimum 2¾ per cent.
