No. 10

REVIEW OF THE MONTH

On September 25 an announcement of far-reaching importance was issued by the United States Treasury. Similar statements were simultaneously issued by the British and French Governments, and on September 26 the Belgian Government declared its adherence to the broad policies underlying the statement. The text of the announcement is given below.

"By authority of the President, the Secretary of the Treasury makes the following statement:

"1. The Government of the United States, after consultation with the British Government and the French Government, joins with them in affirming a common desire to foster those conditions which safeguard peace and will best contribute to the restoration of order in international economic relations and to pursue a policy which will tend to promote prosperity in the world and to improve the standard of living of peoples.

"2. The Government of the United States must, of course, in its policy towards international monetary relations take into full account the requirements of internal prosperity, as corresponding considerations will be taken into account by the Governments of France and Great Britain; it welcomes this opportunity to reaffirm its purpose to continue the policy which it has pursued in the course of recent years, one constant object of which is to maintain the greatest possible equilibrium in the system of international exchange and to avoid to the utmost extent the creation of any disturbance of that system by American monetary action. The Government of the United States shares with the Governments of France and Great Britain the conviction that the continuation of this two-fold policy will serve the general purpose which all the Governments should pursue.

"3. The French Government informs the United States Government that, judging that the desired stability of the principal currencies cannot be insured on a solid basis except after the reestablishment of a lasting equilibrium between the various economic systems, it has decided with this object to propose to its Parliament the readjustment of its currency. The Government of the United States, as also the British Government, has welcomed this decision in the hope that it will establish more solid foundations for the stability of international economic relations. The United States Government, as also the British and French Governments, declares its intention to continue to use appropriate available resources so as to avoid as far as possible any disturbance of the basis of international exchange resulting from the proposed readjustment. It will arrange for such consultation for this purpose as may prove necessary with the other two Governments and their authorized agencies.

"4. The Government of the United States is moreover convinced, as are also the Governments of France and Great Britain, that the success of the policy set forth above is linked with the development of international trade. In particular it attaches the greatest importance to action being taken without delay to relax progressively the present system of quotas and exchange controls with a view to their abolition.

"5. The Government of the United States, in common with the Governments of France and Great Britain, desires and invites the cooperation of the other nations to realize the policy laid down in the present declaration. It trusts that no country will attempt to obtain an unreasonable competitive exchange advantage and thereby hamper the effort to restore more stable economic relations which it is the aim of the three Governments to promote."

Prior to this statement the outflow of gold from France had been resumed on a large scale. From August 7 to September 25 the Bank of France lost $320,000,000 of gold, the bulk of it to the United States and to England. This brought the aggregate loss of gold reserves of the Bank of France since March 1935 to more than $2,100,000,000, reflecting almost entirely exports of capital from France. Effective September 25 the discount rate of the Bank of France was raised from 3 to 5 percent. On September 26, the day after the above statement was issued, the gold standard in France was virtually suspended and similar action was shortly taken by the Netherlands and Switzerland.

On September 27 the Netherlands imposed an embargo on gold exports except those authorized by the Netherlands Bank. In Switzerland a decree of the Federal Council effective September 28 made notes of the Swiss National Bank legal tender, relieved the bank of the obligation to redeem its notes in gold or gold exchange, and directed the bank to maintain the gold parity of the Swiss franc between 190 and 215 milligrams of fine gold—i.e. between about 66 percent and 75 percent of its former gold parity. In both Switzerland and the Netherlands steps were taken to establish exchange stabilization funds. The resources for these funds were to be derived in Switzerland from revaluation of the gold stock of the National Bank, and in Netherlands, from the issue of Government securities. In both countries powers were also granted to the Government to combat excessive price increases following readjustment of the currencies. Parliamentary approval of these measures was completed in the two countries on September 30.

Suspension of the gold standard in France on September 26 was effected by a decree closing the security and commercial exchanges and an agreement between the Minister of Finance and the Bank of France, raising from 215,000 francs to 5,000,000,000 francs ($330,000,000) the minimum amount in which the Bank of France would redeem its notes in gold. The export of gold except under authorization of the Bank of France was prohibited by Presidential decree dated September 28.

A special session of Parliament was summoned for September 28, and by law of October 1 articles 2 and 3 of the law of June 25, 1928, fixing the gold content of the franc at 65.5 milligrams of gold .900 fine and requiring the Bank of France to buy and sell gold on demand at fixed prices, were suspended. The French Government was authorized to fix the gold content of the franc at not less than 43 nor more than 49 milligrams .900 fine—i.e. between approximately 65.6 and 74.8 percent of the previous parity, and the gold holdings of the Bank of France were to be provisionally revalued on the basis of a reduction in the gold content of the franc to 74.8 percent of its former content. The gold increment, which on the basis of gold reserves reported by the Bank of France on September 25 would amount to about 17,000,000,000 francs, together with the increment resulting from the revaluation of foreign exchange holdings on a stipulated basis, was assigned to the Government. A portion of the increment, amounting to 10,000,000,000 francs, will be set aside for the establishment of an exchange stabilization fund. The Bank of France, which will administer this fund on behalf of the Government, is required to maintain the market value of the franc between the limits set for revaluation. Under this arrangement the franc may fluctuate between 4.35 cents and 4.96 cents. The remainder of the increment will be devoted to the reduction of the advances granted by the Bank of France to the Government without interest under the convention of June 18, 1936.

Readjustment of French franc

Action in gold-bloc countries

The law of October 1 also provides for declaration of gold holdings at home or abroad, as of September 26, by all persons of French domicile with severe penalties for non-declaration. Persons holding gold must sell it to the Bank of France at the former parity or pay a tax equal to the increased value of the gold declared. Transactions in foreign exchange between September 21 and 26 must also be declared under heavy penalty. An extraordinary tax of 50 percent is imposed on the net profits resulting from forward transactions entered into on French security markets during the week ending September 26, with the exception of transactions in French Government obligations and those arising out of legitimate commercial requirements. Power is also granted to the Government to combat all price increases not justified by a higher cost of imports and to settle, during a period of six months, labor disputes arising from an increased cost of living before December 31, 1936.

Following passage of this legislation business was resumed on the exchanges on October 2 and transactions were effected in French francs in New York at about 4.66 cents. The Bank of France on that day lowered its discount rate from 5 to 3 percent.

During the previous session of the French Parliament, which adjourned August 14, much important economic legislation was enacted.

Translations of the more important financial measures are available in the July, September, and current issues of the BULLETIN, and other economic measures are described in detail elsewhere in this issue. The principal provision of the law revising the statutes of the Bank of France is that the board of directors, formerly elected—with the exception of the Governor and the two Deputy Governors—by the 200 largest shareholders, shall henceforth consist of representatives of the Government and leading economic groups, including two directors elected by the shareholders at large and one elected by the personnel of the Bank of France. The Governor and Deputy Governors remain Government appointees. Every shareholder of French nationality shall have one vote in the General Meeting regardless of the number of shares held. The Bank is also specifically authorized to rediscount Treasury bills maturing in not over three months.

In addition three measures contain provisions bearing on extension of credit by the Bank of France. Notes drawn by concerns affected by the social reform laws have been made discountable at the banques populaires and the Bank of France under Government guarantee up to 3,500,000,000 francs, and the law creating a National Wheat Board included authorization for the Bank to discount or rediscount bills drawn against wheat in storage. The convention of June 18, approved by Parliament, provided for the conversion of Treasury and other public bills held by the Bank into a noninterest-bearing Government advance and for additional advances to the Government up to 10,000,000,000 francs. Up to September 25 net new advances to the Treasury amounted to more than 2,000,000,000 francs. In addition, under authority of a law passed June 23, the Treasury sold 4,000,000,000 francs of a special issue of bills put on sale July 10.

Among the first measures enacted during the summer session of the French Parliament

were social reform laws

providing for compulsory paid vacations, establishing a forty-hour week without reduction of wages, and giving workers and employers the mutual right to require that collective contracts be made covering specified points. A law was also passed providing for the extension of credit to enterprises that might become involved in financial difficulties as a result of the social reform laws. Advances to such concerns are limited in amount to the increase in expenses caused by the social legislation, and under no circumstances may exceed 12 percent of wages paid out between July 1, 1935, and June 30, 1936. Concerns manufacturing for export, however, are permitted to obtain additional advances at lower interest cost. A series of other measures extended the field of application of export insurance, and provided for financial aid to exporters. To combat unemployment, the Government is to work out a plan for public works expenditures of 20,000,000,000 francs over the next three years in addition to projects already under way. More recently, on September 7, the Cabinet announced proposed additional expenditures for armament totaling 14,000,000,000 francs over the next four years.

Besides the laws of general application, there were three measures which affected particular industries. Concerns engaged in the manufacture or sale of war materials may be wholly or partially purchased by the Government, and meanwhile must obtain permission to operate. The Government is given authority to fix the price of coal for a period of three months pending initiation of a study of the coal industry. A National Wheat Board, vested with power to fix the price of wheat and to regulate its production, sale, import, and export, was established. In addition to the foregoing specific price provisions, more general control was instituted through creation of a commission to restrain unjustified increases in the prices of a list of essential commodities to be prepared by the Minister of National Economy.

Industrial production in France increased during the 12 months ending last May from 66 percent to 73 percent of the average for the peak years 1929 and 1930. In June, however, there was a decline, to some extent as the result of widespread strikes, and the preliminary index of production for July indicates that there was little change in activity from the June level. More recent data on railway carloadings and receipts show increases over the corresponding weeks of 1935, the rise in receipts largely reflecting increased passenger traffic. Revenue from indirect taxes was somewhat higher in July than a year ago. Prices of agricultural products, which had risen steadily during the year ended July, have continued to advance, and other prices have also risen in recent months.

The last previous increase in industrial activity in France began in the summer of 1932 and lasted until the summer of 1933. During the ensuing year and a half output declined and most of the earlier gains were lost, but neither the index of production nor any of its major components, with the exception of building and leather, fell below the lowest levels of 1932. Building registered the largest decline of any industry over the depression period, with the textile, metallurgical, and mechanical trades following in this order, measured from their 1929-1930 highs to their 1934-1935 lows.

The bulk of the decline in the value of both exports and imports occurred during the early period of the depression when the volume of production and wholesale prices also fell most sharply. Since the middle of 1932 raw material imports, the most important single category, have in general moved with industrial production, but imports of manufactured goods and food products, largely under the influence of quotas and other restrictions, have contracted with little interruption. Exports, which consist principally of manufactured products, declined in value much more gradually than imports during 1933 and 1934. From 1929 through 1934 the largest decline, both in percent and in amount, occurred in exports of clothing and textile materials. Exports of hides, skins, and furs, of machinery and metal manufactures, and of chemical products also dropped heavily. In 1935 exports began to decline more rapidly.

Indexes of the Statistique Générale de la France, the price indexes being converted for the purposes of this chart from a 1913 base. Some components of the index of production are adjusted for seasonal variation.

Industrial prices in France declined sharply from 1929 to the middle of 1932. In the three succeeding years irregular recovery was followed by renewed decline, but on the whole industrial prices remained relatively stable during this period. Prices of agricultural products, which comprise an important part of total production of goods in France, showed a smaller net decline than industrial prices during the earlier years of the depression, but from 1932 to the middle of 1935 they fell much further.

At the end of 1934 and early in 1935 the volume of production began to expand in a number of industries, for the most part those associated with the production of consumers' goods. Owing principally to the continued sharp decline in building activity, output as a whole failed to increase, and in May 1935 the index of production again reached the low level touched in 1932. The index recovered in June 1935, when the decline in building was arrested, and later the expansion of production became more general. By May 1936 the index of industrial production had risen 11 percent from its level of a year previous. Building activity, after five years of virtually uninterrupted contraction, rose 8 percent. The largest increases over the 1934-1935 low points were in paper, rubber, leather, and textile manufactures. In the year ending May 1936 every line of production included in the index showed an increase.

In June, however, the index of production declined 4 percent and in July remained at the lower level. The change in the previous upward trend was due in large part to widespread strikes, which necessitated the closing down of many industrial plants. These strikes, which commenced late in May and spread rapidly during the early days of June, were due to demands for higher wages and for the social reforms subsequently enacted. On June 5 Premier Blum promised immediate introduction of the social reform laws. Settlement of the strikes began with the agreement of June 8 between representatives of the producers' association and the General Confederation of Labor providing, among other things, for a sliding scale of wage increases averaging 12 percent at the most for each establishment. Slow progress in concluding individual agreements between employers and workers followed. It was officially estimated that on the 18th of June 248,000 workers were still on strike, and on July 10 the figure was placed at 81,000.

During August and September there was a revival of strikes in France. To some extent these strikes were of short duration, being initiated as a protest against the French Government's policy of neutrality towards the rebellion in Spain. Other strikes, however, reflected workers' demands for higher wages and a new basis for negotiating with employers. On September 17, under Government auspices, a compromise was effected between strikers and employers in the Lille area.

Coincident with the recent recovery in industrial production in France, there was an increase in imports, which had declined sharply from 1933 to the middle of 1935. In July 1935 imports were larger than in the same month of the previous year. The rising trend of imports has since been maintained, at first reflecting larger raw material imports and later, in 1936, increased purchases of foreign food products as well. The decline in exports, which was greater in 1935 than in 1934, has continued, though at a somewhat slower rate in the current year and particularly in recent months. As a result of these developments the import balance declined less rapidly during the first half of 1935 than throughout 1934, and subsequently increased. From July 1935 to June 1936 imports exceeded exports by 7,500,000,000 francs as against 4,100,000,000 francs in the preceding 12 months. Import balances in July and August showed smaller increases over the same months of the previous year than were shown in 1935.

Agricultural prices have increased sharply over the past year, and there has also been a rise in industrial prices. Both groups of prices reached their low points for the depression in 1935. A virtually uninterrupted advance during succeeding months raised the level of agricultural prices by 43 percent from their low point, while industrial prices rose by 13 percent.

British industry as a whole is currently operating at a high level, with the greatest activity this summer in the metal and engineering trades. The general level of wholesale commodity prices, after several months of stability, has increased since June to the highest point in six years, cereals making the largest advance. Retail prices have also risen and retail sales have this year shown a further growth, reflecting increased consumer purchasing power resulting from a rise in employment to a new high level.

Indexes of the Board of Trade. Industrial production to first quarter of 1934 is represented by a previously compiled, less comprehensive index computed on a 1924 base and converted for purposes of this chart to a 1930 base. The current index is not available prior to 1934. Earlier price indexes are also used for the year 1929, converted to a 1930 base. Indexes are not adjusted for seasonal variation.

The current activity is a continuation of the recovery which has been in progress without serious interruption since 1932. The peak of British unemployment, seasonally adjusted, was reached in September 1932, and the low point of industrial production, 78 percent of the average for the peak year 1929, was reached in the third quarter of 1932.

From this point the index of industrial production advanced; it passed the 1929 average in the last quarter of 1934 and since that time has shown a further gain of 10 percent. There was an accompanying growth of employment which is now larger than at any previous time. Owing to the increase in population, however, unemployment in August 1936, at 1,678,000, was materially larger than in 1929. Wholesale commodity prices have risen 15 percent from the low point in the spring of 1933, while the cost of living has increased by 7 percent.

The British revival since 1932 has centered in the home market. Much the most rapid increase in production has been in the heavy industries, but industries making consumers' goods, which held up relatively well during the depression, also expanded. Employment in distribution and many service trades has continued a steady growth since 1929. The most important single element in the recovery has been the expansion of building activity, particularly in dwellings. Lower construction costs and lower long-term interest rates, together with the small volume of building in earlier years, have contributed to its revival. Residential building permits in 1936 have been slightly below 1935, but this decline has been more than offset in the total by increased industrial construction. Other elements in the British revival have been the growth of automobile sales and the spread of the electric power system. The steel and electrical equipment industries have profited as a result. The metal trades, already working at a high ratio to capacity, were somewhat further stimulated in 1936 by increased manufacture of armaments and supplies for the Government. Production of steel ingots and castings in the first seven months of 1936 was 20 percent larger than the year before and 115 percent larger than in 1932. Shortages of skilled workers have appeared and imports of steel and machinery have increased sharply, partly as a result of the inability of domestic mills to meet the combined private and public demand.

Leading industries dependent on the export trade, which were already depressed before 1929, accounting for the bulk of Great Britain's standing total of unemployment, and which had further severe losses after that date, lagged in the recovery movement. Coal mining, cotton textiles, and shipbuilding, in order of size, have been the industries most affected. In 1935 coal output, although 8 percent larger than in 1933, was still 14 percent below 1929, and, in July 1936, 25 percent of the miners were unemployed. Unemployment in cotton spinning and weaving and in shipbuilding amounted to 15 percent and 31 percent respectively in July 1936, although it had been reduced by half in each case since 1932. Shipbuilding especially, although still depressed, has made notable gains in the past year. In addition to these trades, railway traffic, as a consequence of motor competition, is still well below its 1929 level. The concentration of depressed trades in Scotland, the North of England, and South Wales has divided the country into areas differing widely in economic conditions, the percentage of unemployment in the regions mentioned running from two to three times as high as in the rest of Great Britain.

British foreign trade was severely affected by the depression, the value of exports being cut in half between 1929 and 1932. The decline in imports was less rapid, with the result that the excess of imports in 1931 was the largest in five years. Following imposition of new trade restrictions, imports were much reduced in 1932 and 1933. Exports in 1934 and 1935 showed a greater percentage recovery than imports, and the import balance increased only moderately from its low level in 1933. Less than a fifth of the loss in exports since 1929 was regained, however. In September 1935 imports began to increase, and in the year ending August 1936 the import balance increased to £326,000,000 as against £261,000,000 in the preceding 12 months.

German industry operated during the summer of 1936 at a level twice as high as in 1932, the low year of the depression, and higher than in 1927, the peak year of prosperity. Nearly all lines were active, but especially the heavy industries and construction, in which shortages of skilled labor have appeared in many districts. The number of registered unemployed, including workers who were either shifting from one job to another or were no longer able-bodied, was reduced from 2,515,000 at the end of February to 1,170,000 at the end of July, only in part as a result of seasonal influences. Wholesale and retail prices have risen slightly since the end of June.

In Germany the decline in industrial production during the depression was greater than that in any leading industrial country with the exception of the United States. As in other countries, signs of revival first appeared in the latter half of 1932. Durable goods, the production of which had been reduced more sharply than that of other lines since 1929, gained most rapidly after 1932, but production in all industries increased up to the middle of 1934. Since 1934 the output of textiles, shoes, and other consumers' goods has fluctuated, declining in the summer of 1935 to the 1933 level, but subsequently recovering its losses in response to larger retail sales. The output of durable goods has continued to expand, stimulated by the public works and re-armament programs. Total construction in 1935 was 10 percent less than in 1929; public building constituted two-thirds of the total in 1935 as compared with one-third in 1929. The 1935 output has been greatly surpassed this year.

From their low levels early in 1933 agricultural prices have increased considerably, while industrial prices have shown a much smaller increase. Wages have been practically constant, while the cost of living has been rising slowly. Prices have been largely under control by public authorities. Total agricultural income has risen year by year since the crop year 1932-1933, and with the decline of unemployment from slightly more than 6,000,000 at the beginning of 1933 to about 1,200,000 in July 1936, total labor income has also increased. Many who might otherwise be unemployed are in military or public labor service.

German foreign trade was sharply reduced in the depression years, and exports suffered a renewed loss in 1934, when imports showed some increase. The result was the first import surplus since 1928. In an effort to reverse this tendency, the Government increased its measures of control to the point where all unauthorized imports were forbidden and took steps to stimulate exports. Imports were reduced, exports of finished goods were increased, and, beginning with May 1935, the export surplus was restored.

NATIONAL SUMMARY OF BUSINESS CONDITIONS

[Compiled September 24 and released for publication September 26]

Industrial activity increased seasonally in August, and there was a substantial increase in factory employment and pay rolls. Commodity prices, which had advanced for three months, showed little change after the middle of August.

Production and employment.—The Board's index of industrial production, which makes allowance for usual seasonal movements, remained unchanged in August at 107 percent of the 1923-1925 average. Output of steel increased by more than the seasonal amount and the higher level was maintained in the first three weeks of September. Production of automobiles was sharply reduced as plants were closed for inventory taking and for mechanical changes in connection with the introduction of new models. Output of non-durable manufactures increased further in August, reflecting chiefly continued expansion in activity at textile plants and shoe factories. At bituminous coal mines output increased less than is usual at this season and at anthracite mines production declined. Output of petroleum showed an increase.

Factory employment rose further between the middle of July and the middle of August by an amount larger than is usual at this season. There were substantial increases in working forces at establishments producing textiles and wearing apparel and smaller increases in most other lines, partly offset in the total by a decline in employment in the automobile industry. Factory pay rolls increased.

Value of construction contracts, which had increased sharply in July, declined somewhat in August, according to the figures of the F. W. Dodge Corporation. The value of non-residential projects was smaller than in July but larger than in other recent months.

Monthly indexes of number employed and pay rolls at factories, unadjusted for seasonal variation, 1923-1925 average = 100.

Residential building increased considerably, reflecting a marked increase in contracts for apartments, several of which were publicly financed projects. Awards for single-family houses, which have accounted for most of the increase in residential building during the past year and a half, showed little change in August.

Agriculture.—Department of Agriculture crop estimates based on September 1 conditions were about the same as the estimates made a month earlier, except for a sharp decline in prospects for cotton. Prospective output of leading crops, with the exception of cotton and winter wheat, is considerably smaller than last year, but, in comparison with the drought year 1934, it is larger, except for corn and potatoes.

Distribution.—Freight-car loadings of most classes of commodities showed about the usual seasonal increase from July to August. Shipments of grain, however, declined sharply and the increase in total loadings was less than seasonal. Department store sales increased by less than the usual amount and the Board's seasonally adjusted index was 86 percent of the 1923-1925 average as compared with 91 percent in July and 87 percent in June.

Commodity prices.—Wholesale commodity prices showed little change between the and industrial purposes. These loans are now at the highest level since early in 1933.

Index compiled by the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics, 1926 = 100. By months, 1929 to 1931; by weeks, 1932 to date. Latest figure is for week ending September 19, 1936.

middle of August and the third week of September, following three months of advance. Prices of steel scrap and chemicals and drugs continued to advance and there were also increases in the prices of hides and nonferrous metals. There was a seasonal decline in hog prices. Cotton, which advanced in price early this month at the time of the official crop report, declined after the middle of the month.

Bank credit.—Demand deposits of reporting member banks in leading cities increased somewhat further in the four weeks ending September 16, reflecting gold imports, Treasury expenditures, and an increase in bank loans. Growth in loans was principally in so-called "other" loans, which include loans to customers for agricultural, commercial,

Wednesday figures for reporting member banks in 101 leading cities, September 5, 1934 to September 16, 1936. Loans on real estate, loans to banks, and acceptances and commercial paper bought included in total loans and investments but not shown separately.

Loans to security dealers showed an increase, as is usual, prior to flotation of the new issue of Treasury bonds on September 15. A part of the new Treasury issue was purchased by reporting banks, principally by drawing upon their balances with the Reserve banks.

Largely as a consequence of payments to the Treasury excess reserves of member banks showed a decrease of $280,000,000 in the week ending September 16. This decline followed an increase of nearly $200,000,000 in the preceding three weeks, when the Treasury was reducing its deposits with the Reserve banks. Since early in August there has been a renewed inflow of gold and the country's monetary gold stock has increased by about $100,000,000 in the past month.

National bank not permitted to invest trust funds in securities purchased from any affiliate of such bank

A national bank recently inquired whether the investment of trust funds by such bank in securities purchased from a certain affiliate of the bank would be considered a violation of subsection (a) of section 11 of the Board's Regulation F, Trust Powers of National Banks, revised effective June 1, 1936, which reads as follows:

(a) Obligations of trustee bank or its directors, officers, etc.—Funds received or held by a national bank as fiduciary shall not be invested in stock or obligations of, or property acquired from, the bank or its directors, officers, or employees, or their interests, or in stock or obligations of, or property acquired from, affiliates of the bank.

It appeared that the affiliate relationship existed solely by reason of the fact that the same persons owned or controlled a majority of the shares of the stock of the bank and of the affiliate.

The Board ruled that such an investment of trust funds is prohibited and expressed the opinion that the investment of trust funds by a national bank in securities purchased from an organization which is for any reason an affiliate of such bank, within the meaning of that term as defined by Congress in section 2(b) of the Banking Act of 1933, violates the above quoted provisions of Regulation F. The Board pointed out that the pertinent provisions of Regulation F are based upon long established principles of law and sound practices relating to the administration of trusts and stated that, while circumstances may reduce the danger of abuses in some instances, the Board has not felt that it could justify making exceptions.

Applicability of section 22(g) of Federal Reserve Act to endorsement by executive officer of note of partnership in which he has less than a majority interest

The Board recently considered the question regarding the applicability of section 22(g) of the Federal Reserve Act and the Board's Regulation O to the liability to a bank of an executive officer of a member bank arising as the result of his endorsement of a note of a partnership in which he has less than a majority interest.

If an executive officer is a member of a partnership under an agreement whereby his liability for partnership debts is limited, and is, therefore, liable under the law for the debts of the firm only to the extent of his contribution to its assets or to a limited extent on some other basis, his individual endorsement of a note of the partnership would clearly increase the extent of his liability.

Even in the case of an unlimited partnership, the act of a partner in adding his individual endorsement to a note of the partnership would appear to create a liability distinct from, and in addition to, his liability as a partner arising by operation of law. In the marshaling of assets of an insolvent partnership, it appears to be a general rule in equity that firm creditors shall be paid first from partnership property and that they may not resort to the individual property of a partner until the partner's individual creditors have been paid in full. However, a creditor holding the note of a partnership bearing the individual endorsement of one of the partners would be an individual as well as a firm creditor and would, therefore, be entitled to payment from the individual property of the partner in preference to other firm creditors. In this respect, the liability of the endorsing partner would appear to be greater, as to the holder of the partnership note endorsed by him, than it would have been had he not endorsed such note.

It is clear that the prohibitions of section 22(g) of the Federal Reserve Act are not applicable to a loan by a member bank to a partnership in which one or more executive officers of such bank have either individually or together less than a majority interest and it is believed that the evident policy of the law to exempt such partnerships would be defeated if the law were construed as including the liability of an executive officer who is a member of such a partnership arising solely by virtue of the operation of law which makes him individually liable as a partner for the debts of the partnership. The Board stated, however, that it would not be justified in extending the exemption permitted by the statute beyond the point clearly contemplated by its provisions and beyond the point necessary to give full effect to the purposes of the statute.

In the circumstances, it is the view of the Board that the liability to a bank of an executive officer of a member bank arising from his endorsement of a note of a partnership in which he has less than a majority interest would constitute a liability falling within the provisions of section 22(g) of the Federal Reserve Act and the Board's Regulation O.

Compilation of Federal laws affecting national banks

The office of the Comptroller of the Currency has published a compilation entitled "Federal Laws Affecting National Banks," which contains the Federal laws relating to national banks as of January 1, 1936. Copies of this compilation may be obtained at a cost of $1 each from the office of the Comptroller of the Currency.

EFFECT OF INCREASE IN RESERVE REQUIREMENTS ON RESERVE POSITION OF MEMBER BANKS

In order to show the effect on the reserve position of member banks of the 50 percent increase in reserve requirements which became effective after the close of business on August 15, 1936, the table at the foot of this page has been prepared. This table compares the average daily reserve position of member banks by reserve classifications and by districts for the first and second halves of August. It is similar in form to the table regularly published in the BULLETIN, page 800, except that the latter shows daily averages for the whole month. Central reserve city banks.....	13	19½

Required reserves of all member banks were $1,480,000,000 larger in the second half of August than in the first half. The difference reflected almost entirely the increase in requirements rather than a growth in the volume of net demand and time deposits, which showed little change in the period. Since there was a growth of $230,000,000 in total reserve balances held by member banks with the Federal Reserve banks, the amount of reserves in excess of requirements declined by $1,250,000,000.

The ratio of excess reserves to required reserves for all member banks declined from 105 percent to 42 percent. Country banks, after the increase in requirements, held reserves that were 69 percent in excess of the amount required, as compared with 43 percent at reserve city banks and 38 percent and 32 percent respectively at central reserve city banks in Chicago and New York.

Central reserve city banks did not share in the increase in reserves of member banks, largely because of withdrawals by correspondent banks of deposits held with them, as reflected in declines in gross demand deposits at central reserve city banks. As a consequence excess reserves showed larger decreases at central reserve city banks than at other banks. Declines in excess reserves averaged 51 percent at central reserve city banks in New York and 45 percent at those in Chicago, while reserve city banks showed an average decline of 38 percent and country banks a decrease of 21 percent. The average decrease for all member banks was 40 percent.

STATISTICS OF ALL BANKS IN THE UNITED STATES

On the following pages are published statistics of loans, investments, and deposits of all banks by kinds of banks and by States as of June 30, 1936, with comparable figures for March 4, 1936 and June 29, 1935, and also complete condition statements as of June 30, 1936 and December 31, 1935 of commercial banks whose deposits are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. Statistics for all banks are compiled regularly by the Board from call reports obtained by the Comptroller of the Currency for national banks and by State authorities for State banks. Summary figures for a number of years are regularly published in the BULLETIN; see tables on page 803 of this issue. The consolidated statements for insured banks are compiled by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Deposits at all banks in the United States, exclusive of interbank deposits, on June 30, 1936, totaled $51,335,000,000, an increase of 12 percent in the twelve months since June 1935. Deposits of member banks increased by 16 percent in the year; those of mutual savings banks showed only a slight increase; and those of other nonmember banks showed an increase of 13 percent. Deposits at member banks and at mutual savings banks are close to the largest volume on record, while those of other nonmember banks, excluding private banks for which reports have been received only in recent years, are about half of what they were at their maximum in 1929. The total for all banks on June 30, 1936, was the largest since June 1931.

During the past year the largest percentage increases in bank deposits occurred in the central industrial States and in most of the southern and far western States. Percentage increases were smallest in the New England States and in North Dakota.

All types of banks showed continued increases in their investments during the year ending June 30, 1936, and loans of member banks also increased. Loans of mutual savings banks continued to decline, while those of other nonmember banks declined in the last half of 1935 and increased in the first half of this year.

FRENCH ECONOMIC LEGISLATION

On April 26 and May 3 of this year Parliamentary elections were held in France. As a result of these elections, a majority in the present Chamber of Deputies consists of members representing the so-called Popular Front—a working coalition of the Radical Socialist, Socialist, and Communist parties. The new Parliament convened for the first time on June 1 and a Government was subsequently formed with Leon Blum, leader of the Socialist party, as Premier. The legislation enacted during the first session, which ended August 14, comprised important financial, social, and economic measures. A number of the financial measures have appeared in translation in previous issues of the FEDERAL RESERVE BULLETIN, and two others are published in the current issue.

In the BULLETIN for July 1936, page 536, there were published translations of a law of June 23, limiting the issue of Treasury bills to 20,000,000,000 francs for the year 1936, and of a convention of June 18 between the Bank of France and the Government, approved by the above law, providing for the conversion of Treasury and other governmental bills held by the Bank into an advance to the Government, and for additional Government advances up to 10,000,000,000 francs. The September issue of the BULLETIN, pages 705-707, carried translations of the law of July 24 modifying the statutes governing the Bank of France, particularly as regards its administrative organization, and of the law of July 30 increasing the penalties, provided in the Code of Direct Taxes, for incomplete or inaccurate declaration for tax purposes of income-bearing foreign assets, with the exception of foreign securities held in France. The fine for false declaration, formerly equal to half the value of the concealed assets, was made equal to full value by the law.

Two other measures are given in translation below. The first is a decree of August 13 issued in accordance with the law revising the Bank of France statutes, fixing August 17, 1936, as the date of application of the law, and setting forth the procedure governing the conduct of the General Meeting of shareholders and other administrative details. The second measure, passed August 13, further amends the Code of Direct Taxes by requiring financial and business interests to furnish the Minister of Finance with copies of documents relative to international transactions effected for the account of any natural or legal person. On August 31 the Minister of Finance addressed the following circular to banks and bankers:

In conformity with the law of August 13, 1936, completing article 124 of the Code of Direct Taxes, final paragraph, I shall be obliged if you will have drawn up, with a view to communicating them to my office, exact statistics of securities (shares or bonds) not acquired through purchase or sale on the Bourse, which have been sent abroad through your establishment from January 1, 1934, up to the receipt of the present circular.

At the same time the period of one month from July 31, provided for in the law of July 30, 1936, within which those holding previously unreported foreign assets could declare them without penalty, was extended to September 7.

Certain financial laws not published in the BULLETIN, together with the more important social and economic measures, some of which contain financial provisions, are summarized below. The law creating a National Wheat Board includes authorization for the Bank of France to discount or rediscount bills drawn against wheat in storage, and the law extending special credit facilities to concerns affected by the social reform laws makes notes drawn by these concerns discountable at the banques populaires and the Bank of France under Government guarantee.

The summaries of the laws are arranged in chronological order according to the date of signing by the President of the Republic. The titles given are translations of those appearing in the official text except where such titles are technical and give no indication of the scope and objective of the law. The date of signature and the date of publication in the Journal Officiel are given in parentheses following the title.

The decree on the Bank of France follows:

BANK OF FRANCE

The President of the French Republic,
On the report of the Minister of Finance,
By virtue of article 16, reading as follows, of the law of July 24, 1936, modifying and completing the laws and statutes which govern the Bank of France:
"The procedure for application of the present law, and especially that which shall govern the conduct of the General Meetings of shareholders, shall be fixed by decree";

By virtue of article 17 of the same law, reading as follows:

"A decree shall fix the date of application of the present law. The General Council shall be duly constituted upon the election or appointment of fifteen members",

Decrees:

ART. 1. The date of application of the law of July 24, 1936, is fixed as August 17, 1936.

ART. 2. The General Meeting of the Bank of France shall be held every year, the last Thursday in January, with the Governor presiding.

It shall receive the report of operations for the past year, which shall be presented to it by the Governor in the name of the General Council, and the report made by the censors on the supervision which they have maintained over the business of the Bank.

It shall elect the censors and the two councilors who represent the shareholders in the General Council.

ART. 3. The General Meeting shall be summoned in special session when, three months at least before the date of the annual meeting, the positions of two censors or of the two councilors representing the shareholders have become vacant by retirement or death.

ART. 4. Every session of the General Meeting must be announced by a notice published in the Journal Officiel at least a month and a half before the date of the meeting. This notice shall state the elections which are to be held. It constitutes convocation of the meeting.

ART. 5. The General Meeting shall be held in Paris, either at the head office of the Bank or at any other place designated by the Governor.

The designation of this place shall be made known to the shareholders by a notice published in the Journal Officiel at least eight days before the date of the meeting.

ART. 6. All natural or legal persons of French nationality who own shares which shall have been regularly transferred and registered in their names at least three months before the date of the meeting may take part in the General Meeting.

Each member of the meeting shall be entitled to only one vote, whatever number of shares he holds.

ART. 7. Deliberations of the meeting are valid regardless of the number voting.

ART. 8. A shareholder has the right to participate in the General Meeting only if he is present and votes in person, without the right to vote by proxy.

ART. 9. The voting right of legally incompetent persons is exercised by their legal representatives.

The voting right of a married woman, when the shares which she owns are included in the property of which the management is entrusted to her husband, shall be exercised by the husband.

In the case of joint ownership, the voting right is exercised by one of the joint owners holding a proxy for the others.

When the income from shares has been assigned to another the voting right is exercised by the actual owner of the shares.

ART. 10. The persons who exercise the voting right in the cases covered by article 9, or in the name of companies, associations, including associations of workers or employers (syndicats), or other legal persons, must be of French nationality.

ART. 11. In order to be admitted to the meeting, shareholders must make known their intention to be present by a letter addressed to the Governor at least three weeks before the date of the meeting, present their share certificates or the receipt for deposit of these certificates at a bank, and identify themselves.

Attendance at the General Meeting does not carry the right to a fee.

ART. 12. All disputes over the right to attend the meeting shall be decided by the Governor.

ART. 13. Every candidacy for the office of censor or elected councilor must be notified to the Governor by registered letter.

The candidate, who must not be a member of Parliament, must prove that he fulfills the requirements, in particular that he is of French nationality, a shareholder of the Bank, an industrialist, manufacturer or merchant, and, in the case of election to the position of councilor, must certify in writing that he does not render services or counsel to or act as director of a banking establishment.

Before declaring the candidacy admissible, the General Council shall assure itself, by all means in its power, that the candidate fulfills the said conditions.

The General Council is authorized to declare inadmissible any candidacy which shall not have been notified to it at least three weeks before the date of the meeting.

ART. 14. The list of admissible candidacies shall be posted in the place of meeting. Every ballot bearing a name not included in this list, as well as every blank ballot, shall be considered null and shall not be included in calculating the majority.

ART. 15. The censors and the councilors representing the shareholders shall be elected by absolute majority of members voting, each candidate being voted for separately.

If, after two ballots, there is no absolute majority, an additional vote shall be taken on the two candidates who have received the largest number of votes.

The one who has obtained a majority in the additional vote shall be declared elected.

When there is a tie, the older candidate shall be chosen.

The details of application of article 14 and of the present article shall be covered by a regulation deliberated by the General Council.

ART. 16. The censors shall be elected for three years. They shall be changed one-third each year, the first replacement taking place at the meeting in the month of January 1938.

The retiring censors may be reelected.

As a temporary measure the censors at present in office shall continue to exercise their functions, as defined by the laws and statutes, until the entry into office of the censors elected by the special meeting which shall be held for the new elections provided for by the law of July 24, 1936.

The order of retirement of the censors elected by the said special meeting shall be determined by the number of votes that they have received, the first to retire being the one who shall have obtained the fewest votes. In case of tie, the order of retirement shall be determined by drawing lots at the meeting at which the election is held.

ART. 17. The councilors other than the six ex officio members shall be elected, appointed or chosen for three years.

The term of the three representatives of the Ministers of Finance, of National Economy, and of the Colonies, may be ended at any time within this three-year period at the pleasure of the Minister who shall have appointed them.

The other councilors shall be replaced, for the first time, according to the following schedule:

The three members initially appointed by the General Council, in pursuance of article 11 of the law of July 24, 1936, to be members of the permanent committee shall retire in January 1940.

Of the two councilors representing the shareholders who shall have been elected at the first meeting following the publication of the present decree, the one receiving the fewest votes shall be replaced at the meeting in January 1938 and the other at the meeting in January 1939. If there is a tie, the order of retirement shall be determined by drawing lots at the meeting at which the election is held.

The councilor elected by the personnel of the Bank shall be replaced in January 1940.

The five other councilors shall retire: two in January 1938, three in January 1939. Their order of retirement shall be determined by drawing lots at the first session of the General Council.

Retiring councilors may not be reelected, reappointed or chosen for an interval of three years following the expiration of their term.

ART. 18. The term of office of censors and of councilors elected, appointed or chosen by reason of a death or a resignation, except in the case of the three representatives of the ministers, shall be limited to the unexpired term of their predecessors.

ART. 19. The three censors, before entering upon their duties, must prove ownership of at least thirty shares of the Bank, which shall be non-transferrable during their term of office.

The two councilors elected by the General Meeting must remain shareholders throughout their incumbency.

ART. 20. The ex officio members and the other members of the General Council who hold positions carrying a salary paid by the Bank, the State, or a public institution, shall not receive any fee for their attendance at the General Council or at the committees of the Bank.

ART. 21. The Minister of Finance is charged with the execution of the present decree.

Done at Paris, August 13, 1936.

Minister of Finance,
VINCENT AURIOL

SUMMARIES OF FRENCH LAWS

Tax exemption for veterans' pensions and workmen's compensation payments (signed June 17; published June 18).—The emergency decree of July 16, 1935, levying taxes on veterans' pensions and workmen's compensation for industrial accidents, has been abrogated. The law is retroactive to January 1, 1936.

Restoration of pay-cut to minor government employees (signed June 20; published June 24).—Salaries up to 12,000 francs are no longer subject to any reduction, salaries above that amount are subject to a graded cut.

Institution of annual paid vacation in industry, commerce, the liberal professions, domestic service, and agriculture (signed June 20; published June 26).—All workers in industry, commerce, trade, professions, and cooperative associations are to be given annual unbroken vacations of a fortnight, including at least 12 working days, with pay. The law does not affect customs or agreements which provide for longer paid vacations. Wages during vacation must correspond to amounts usually earned in the same period. By later administrative regulations, provision will be made for vacations for domestic servants and for agricultural workers.

Institution of a forty-hour week in industrial and commercial establishments and fixing the hours of work in subterranean mines (signed June 21; published June 26).—A 40-hour week schedule is established for all workers of both sexes in commercial, industrial, and cooperative enterprises, including benevolent and non-profit making institutions. For workers in subterranean mines, working time is limited to 38 hours 40 minutes a week. Organizations of employers and of workers are to be consulted in regard to the application of the law to their respective occupations. The law does not affect customs or agreements which fix shorter working hours. The standard of living of workers shall not be reduced as a result of this law, nor may it be a determining cause for a reduction in remuneration.

Collective bargaining (signed June 24; published June 26).—At the request of a trade organization—employers or workers—the Ministry of Labor is to form a committee for the adjustment of relationships between employers and workers in a particular branch of industry or commerce in a specified area. The committee shall be composed of representatives of employers and workers. If no agreement is reached, the Minister of Labor, on request of one of the parties, shall assist in composing the differences. The agreement must state the period of its effectiveness and provide for the following: Right of workers to organize (liberté syndicale); election of employees' representatives to handle complaints; minimum wages by class and locality; period of leave; apprenticeship; procedure for adjusting disputes regarding enforcement; and method of amending the agreement. Such agreements must not conflict with present laws but may stipulate more favorable conditions. Agreements may be made compulsory for others than the contracting parties, by ministerial decree. Such decrees shall cease to have effect whenever denounced, revised, or modified by joint action of the contracting parties; or they may be repealed by further ministerial decree when they no longer meet the needs of the industry.

Nationalization of the manufacture of war materials (signed August 11; published August 12).—From the date of promulgation of this law no enterprise manufacturing or selling war materials, as defined in the law, may function except by authority and under control of the Government. Later decrees will regulate the execution of this law. The council of ministers may pronounce total or partial expropriation of establishments manufacturing or dealing in war materials, by decree to be issued before March 31, 1937. Failing a satisfactory agreement within one month between the Government and the owners, the amount to be paid shall be decided by arbitrators. The compensation to be paid shall be based on the valuation of the establishment on the date of expropriation, account taken of the loss resulting from eviction. No profits whatever shall accrue to the dispossessed owner. The arbitral decision may be appealed before the Council of State.

Modification and organization of the system of credit for small and medium-size commerce and industry (signed August 13; published August 14).—Minister of Finance may authorize banques populaires to cease to carry on their balance sheets advances granted to them by the Government on previous occasions. New long-term non-interest-bearing loans, amounting in the aggregate to 200,000,000 francs, are to be made available to the banks, on certain conditions, in order to facilitate their financial reorganization. Special levies on the profits of the banks are provided for.

Creation of an Interprofessional National Wheat Board (signed August 15; published August 18).—A National Wheat Board is established as a financially autonomous public institution with civil personality. Its financial operations are under the control of the Minister of Finance and its technical administration under that of the Minister of Agriculture who appoints and may remove the manager. Administration of the Board is vested in a Central Committee of 51 members, composed of representatives of wheat growers, millers, bakers, merchants, consumers, and the Ministers of Agriculture, Finance, National Economy, and Interior. Provision is made for establishing in each county (département) a committee for the organization and control of wheat production and marketing similar in composition to the Central Committee. The local committees are given control over the formation of wheat cooperatives. Cooperatives may receive from the Board subsidies permitting them to meet their management expenses.

Wheat dealers, though excluded from the fiscal advantages and subsidies granted cooperatives, may, under the control of the local committees and subject to certain special provisions, buy, store, and deliver wheat on the same terms and at the same prices as cooperatives. Cooperatives and private dealers must report monthly all purchases and sales. Payments for all wheat purchased by wheat dealers must be made through the mutual agricultural credit banks. The National Board is given control over the local committees, cooperatives, wheat dealers and certain other institutions with a view to assuring strict application of the law, particularly with respect to the staggering of sales, the regularity of prices, and the quality of wheat. A sum of 15 centimes will be levied on each quintal¹ (3.67 bushels) of wheat sold by cooperatives and wheat dealers, half of the proceeds to go to the local committees and half to the National Board.

In the second half of June the Central Committee shall estimate the national harvest. In collaboration with the local committees it shall fix the quantity that each producer or holder of wheat, who sold more than 100 quintals in the preceding year, may sell pending determination of the schedule for staggering sales. This schedule shall be drawn up by the Central Committee before November 1, and shall not extend beyond June 30 of the following year. In the second half of August the Central Committee, after considering the recommendations of the local committees and the size of the harvest, shall fix the price of wheat to be paid to the producers by applying to the average price in 1911, 1912, and 1913 a coefficient which shall not be less than the average coefficient of increase, relative to 1914, in the weighted index of the cost of living, wages, goods used in farming operations, and production costs in general. Beginning September 1 in each year the price so fixed shall be increased by a monthly premium for storage, handling and other costs.² Prices for wheat of varying quality will be fixed in relation to the base price. Official fixed prices must be posted in various designated public places. The power to fix the price of flour and bread will continue to be exercised by the mayors and by the prefect of each county. Dealing in wheat futures on French commercial exchanges is prohibited.

In general, decisions made by the central and local committees will be taken by majority vote. However, in fixing wheat prices, the presence of four-fifths of the members of the Central Committee is required and no final decision can be taken except by three-fourths of the votes cast. In case these two conditions are not met, the price shall be fixed by the Council of Ministers.

Millers, grain merchants, and holders of wheat except farmers and cooperatives must declare, within a week after the date of fixing the official price, their holdings as of that date. On these declared holdings they must pay to the National Wheat Board a sum per quintal equal to the difference between the fixed price and the average price of wheat from August 1 to the date of fixing the official price. Official quotations of wheat on the Paris market shall be used for the Paris district, other official prices applying elsewhere. Application of these provisions to stocks of flour and wheat for blending will be determined by decree of the Minister of Agriculture.

Provision is made for the early declaration by producers of the amount of land sowed to wheat and of the amount of their crop. Before February 1, but subject to subsequent modification, the Central Committee shall determine, if necessary, the amount of wheat to be imported up to September 1. Similarly, in event of a surplus the Committee shall determine the amount of wheat for which it will assure storage or export, this wheat to be delivered to the Board, through the cooperatives, at a special price which, for the crop year 1937, may not be more than 20 percent below the fixed price. Beginning with the crop year 1938 production quotas will be established for producers selling more than 50 quintals, and excess production will be delivered according to a progressive schedule established by the Central Committee. The National Board is granted monopoly of import and export of wheat, other bread grains and products. The present system of wheat imports under the régime of temporary admission is abolished. The National Board is to fix the selling price on the domestic market of wheat imported for consumption. Part of the proceeds of duties levied on imported wheat shall go to the Board.

Cooperatives and certain other specified organizations are required to purchase, at the price and under the conditions fixed by the Board, including that relative to the staggering of sales, all wheat offered to them. For wheat actually delivered full payment must be made for amounts up to 50 quintals and an instalment of two-thirds value must be made on the remainder. Where actual delivery by the seller is postponed, the settlement price shall be that of the month of effective delivery, and the seller may require payment for two-thirds of the current value of the wheat sold. For any wheat withheld from immediate sale, whether voluntarily or by application of the schedule of sales, the producer may make out a warrant to the order of his cooperative which, after endorsement by the cooperative and the National Board, may be discounted by the Bank of France or the Bank of Algeria for an amount equal to two-thirds of the value of the wheat it represents. To cover their expenses in connection with the foregoing operations cooperatives may levy a proportional charge fixed by the local committee. Cooperatives and other specified organizations may draw bills against wheat held in storage by them or at their order. These bills, endorsed by the National Board, may be discounted at the mutual agricultural credit banks and rediscounted at the Bank of France or the Bank of Algeria.

A guaranty fund for cooperatives and certain other organizations is to be set up for the purpose of covering losses up to 70 percent, or up to 90 percent in case of losses resulting from fortuitous circumstances or force majeure. There is also to be established a special fund to assist cooperatives to meet service charges on capital invested in the acquisition or construction of warehouse facilities. The receipts of these funds will be derived from assessments, fixed by the Central Committee, on wheat sold by both wheat dealers and cooperative organizations. Producers shall be required to pay a progressive tax on their production, according to a schedule set forth in the law, the proceeds to go to the National Board. Certain modifications are made in the taxes on flour, and part of the proceeds thereof are allocated to the National Wheat Board. The National Board is granted an advance of 20,000,000 francs repayable in two years at the maximum. Decrees shall set forth the conditions of application of the law. Provisions of the present law are applicable to Algeria.

Modification of the law of July 10, 1928, authorizing the Government to guarantee payment for exports effected for the benefit of foreign public bodies (signed August 16; published August 20).—Subject to regulatory conditions and definitions the Government may guarantee up to 80 percent, final payment for French goods or services destined for the direct or indirect use of foreign governmental bodies. A commission will investigate applications. Guaranty may not become operative for 6 months after date on which full or partial remittance falls due. Exporters will pay a premium to be fixed by decree. The Finance Act shall determine each year the amount of new engagements which may be undertaken, the limit for 1936 having been fixed at 2,000,000,000 francs by a special law (signed August 17, published August 20). The sums necessary to make payments under this law may be obtained by Treasury borrowing from the Caisse des Dépôts et Consignations or organizations under its management, or from funds of the Finance Ministry. These advances shall be repaid by means of a special annual charge against the budget of the Finance Ministry.

² On August 28 the price of wheat was fixed at 140 francs per quintal beginning September 1 ($2.51 per bushel at rate of exchange on September 1), subject to a monthly increase of 1 franc per quintal to February 1, 1937, and 1.50 francs thereafter.

Facilities for realizing upon commercial credits guaranteed by the Government (signed August 18; published August 20).—The Ministers of Finance and Commerce are authorized, up to December 31, 1936, to grant interest allowances of not over 2 percent to exporters desirous of realizing a portion of the proceeds of foreign sales guaranteed by the Government. These allowances are granted only to concerns unable to meet the cost of realization without Government aid. They are to be granted for the term of the realization loans, but only in exceptional cases are they to exceed 6 years. A sum of 30,000,000 francs has been set aside to cover allowances granted in 1936.

Program of public works to combat and prevent unemployment (signed August 18; published August 20).—In order to absorb unemployed workers a plan is to be worked out before December 31, 1936, for expenditures over a three-year period totaling 20,000,000,000 francs, including those of local bodies, but in addition to existing programs. Funds are to be utilized for improvement of the agricultural, scientific, sanitary, artistic, educational, sporting, tourist, maritime, and colonial equipment and for other works of national interest. Administrative procedure is to be simplified and certain previous laws are abrogated or modified. Prior to December 31, 1936, the Government may authorize the expenditure of 1,000,000,000 francs, but arrangements for an outlay of 4,000,000,000 francs may be made during the same period. The above expenditures, up to 500,000,000 francs, may be provided for by Treasury advances; 4,000,000,000 francs may be borrowed at medium or long-term, out of which the Treasury advances must be repaid. Contracts for the execution of public works are to be let to French concerns employing only French workmen and using material of French origin.

Organization of the coal market and control of selling prices of combustible minerals (signed August 18; published August 19).—Within three months from promulgation of this law the Finance Minister and the Minister in charge of mining shall proceed to a study of conditions in the coal mining industry, including dealers and importers. For this purpose members of the industry are to make available to the 12 government agents entrusted with this task their books and other useful documents. During the three months following promulgation of the law the Minister in charge of mines may fix the selling prices of coal according to locality, classification, and mode of sale, in collaboration with a committee under the presidency of the Minister or his representative and including representatives of the department of mines, of Parliament, and of the industry. The Minister, also in collaboration with the committee, may grant subsidies to coal mines operating at a deficit and a sum of 30,000,000 francs is set aside for this purpose. At least 40 percent of coal imported from overseas, with certain exceptions, must be shipped on French vessels.

Restraint of unjustified price increases (signed August 19; published August 20).—Under the auspices of the Ministry of National Economy a national committee is to be set up for the supervision of prices. Its 20 members are to include government officials as well as representatives of producers, middlemen, and consumers. The Minister of National Economy, in collaboration with the committee, will prepare a list of food products and merchandise of prime necessity. The national committee is to make a study of the normal wholesale selling prices of these articles of necessity, taking account of the prices paid to producers, the costs of transportation, general expenses, and reasonable profits, in order to determine cost price. Local committees will work under the supervision of the national committee. Normal prices, periodically revised by the national committee, are to be transmitted to the local committees to aid them in determining, on the basis of local conditions, the proper relationship between cost and selling prices. Merchants and dealers who sell listed commodities at prices deemed unjustified will have to show cause for so doing. Any merchant who, after being warned by the local committee, cannot justify the maintenance of prices above those prevailing in similar conditions of trade or his own previous prices by showing increases in cost prices, in expenses, or by other satisfactory means, shall be liable to fine, imprisonment, or both. The regulations already in force for flour, bread, meat, and wine are not repealed.

Law relative to realization of commercial credits blocked abroad (signed August 19; published August 20).—Government may guarantee loans for realizing upon receipts delivered to exporters by various (exchange) Compensation Offices, provided the receipts are still held by original owners and represent credit entries made by those offices not later than July 31, 1936. Similar facility may be granted to exporters who hold blocked balances in countries which have undertaken a census of French commercial debts, provided a declaration relative to these balances has been made to the competent authorities of the country concerned before August 1, 1936. The guaranty shall be limited to 80 percent of the claim and is granted for a period of one year, renewable five times, at a charge of 0.1 percent per year. The guaranty shall become operative in case of default, at maturity, by the beneficiary of the realization loan. Funds required to make guaranteed payments may be charged against resources allocated for public works and armament, in case the State credit-insurance funds are insufficient.

Up to December 31, 1936, exporters desirous of realizing upon blocked balances through French banks, as above, may be granted interest allowances ranging from 1½ to 3 percent according to the level of the discount rate of the Bank of France and the length of the period for which the advances are granted. A sum of 12,000,000 francs is set aside for this purpose.

Temporary assistance to commercial, industrial, and agricultural enterprises (signed August 19; published August 20).—Provision is made for extending credit to concerns placed in a difficult financial position because of the social reform laws of June 20, 21, and 24, though previously sound financially. Committees located at each branch of the Bank of France are to investigate the written applications for assistance. There will be a central coordinating committee at the Bank of France. That part of a requested advance which does not exceed 6 per cent of wages and salaries paid out between July 1, 1935, and June 30, 1936, may be granted immediately, but additional amounts cannot be granted until the central committee has determined the amount to be allotted to the entire district. The central committee also approves any credit amounting to more than 100,000 francs. Advances shall not exceed the additional expenses resulting from the social reform laws during the second half of 1936 nor, in any case, shall they amount to more than 12 per cent of wages and salaries paid out between July 1, 1935, and June 30, 1936. Upon approval by the central or local committees the banques populaires are to grant the advances for a three-month term, twice renewable, bearing interest at the discount rate of the Bank of France. The advances shall be represented by notes drawn to the order of the banques populaires and discountable at the Bank of France. The banques populaires are to receive a commission of 0.2 per cent for handling.

Special additional credits may be given to concerns manufacturing for foreign markets. Such advances must not exceed 3 per cent of the value of certain semi-finished and 5 per cent of the value of certain finished goods exported between July 1, 1935, and June 30, 1936, except that the limits may be doubled for firms whose export business exceeded 35 per cent of their total business in 1935. The Minister of Finance may grant interest allowances equal to the difference between the discount rate of the Bank of France and 0.3 per cent. A sum of 6,000,000 francs is set aside for this purpose.

Loans granted by the Bank of France and the banques populaires under this law may be guaranteed up to an amount of 3,500,000,000 francs, and when such guaranteed loans have not been repaid or refunded within the period of 9 months provided above, they shall be charged against the general budget for the fiscal year in course.

Creation of a national bureau for contracts with the Government, local authorities, and public establishments (signed August 19; published August 20).

—A national bureau is established under the control of the Ministers of Finance and of National Economy to guarantee advances granted on contracts made with the Government or a public body, accept bills, or make loans. The bureau's funds shall amount to 50,000,000 francs, which may be increased to 250,000,000 francs, to be obtained by issue of government-guaranteed securities.

Moratorium for debts incurred in connection with agricultural production (signed August 20; published August 22).—Courts may permit farmers to postpone payment of debts for a year. For a year from promulgation of the law they may obtain short, medium, or long-term loans, for the purpose of paying the postponed debt, from the agricultural credit office with which they are affiliated.

Moratorium for merchants, industrialists, and artisans (signed August 21; published August 23).—A moratorium from date of promulgation of the law to December 1, 1936, at the latest is granted to merchants, industrialists, and artisans for debts incurred in connection with the conduct of their business before January 1, 1935, and not subject to income tax for the year 1935. This law does not apply to chain stores, credit institutions, or any company showing a profit for 1935. Under certain conditions creditors of those taking advantage of the moratorium are granted relief from their own creditors.

Extension of field of application of the Government credit-insurance system (signed August 22; published August 24).—On terms similar in most respects to those in the law of August 16 modifying that of July 10, 1928, French exporters may be guaranteed by the Government against specifically defined political and monetary risks resulting from the sale of French products to foreigners, other than those mentioned in the above law. However, the export credits must either have been realized upon through a French bank approved by the Minister of Finance or guaranteed against risk of insolvency of the foreign debtor by a French credit-insurance company approved by the Minister of Finance and the Minister of Labor, and must be payable within 18 months. The total risk to be assumed by the Government for 1936 is limited to 500,000,000 francs, limits for other years to be established by the Finance Act. Funds required to make payments may be levied against the resources allocated for public works or armament in case the State credit-insurance funds are insufficient.

(2) If any vacancy occurs in the office of auditor of the Bank, notice thereof shall forthwith be given by the Bank to the Minister who thereupon shall appoint some other auditor eligible to be appointed as an auditor of a chartered bank to serve until January thirty-first next following.

(3) No director or officer of the Bank and no member of a firm of auditors of which a director is a member shall be eligible for appointment as an auditor.

(4) The Minister may from time to time require the auditors to report to him upon the adequacy of the procedure adopted by the Bank for the protection of its creditors or shareholders and as to the sufficiency of their own procedure in auditing the affairs of the Bank; and the Minister may, at his discretion, enlarge or extend the scope of the audit or direct that any other procedure be established or that any other examination be made by the auditors as the public interest may seem to require.

(5) A copy of every report made by the auditors to the Bank under this section shall be transmitted to the Minister by the auditors at the same time as such report is transmitted to the Bank.”

21. Subsection five of section thirty-three of the said Act is repealed and the following substituted therefor:—

“(5) Every return required under the next preceding subsection shall be accompanied by declarations which shall be a part of the return, and the declarations shall be in the form set forth in Schedule C to this Act, and shall be signed by the Chief Accountant or by the Acting Chief Accountant, and by the Governor or the Deputy Governor or the Assistant Deputy Governor.”

² Figures are derived from preceding columns and indicate net result of such factors as domestic production, movements into and out of nonmonetary use, imports and exports that do not affect gold stock during the month or year, and increment resulting from reduction in weight of gold dollar.

The amounts in this column are thus included in the 3 columns under those headings. Such loans are not always discounted in the same month in which the original credit is extended.
