THE TOTAL OUTPUT OF THE ECONOMY

THE NATION'S ECONOMIC ACCOUNTS

On the basis of national income and expenditure accounts, consumer saving almost offset the excess of business investment over retained earnings in the first quarter of 1952. Government (Federal, State, and local) expenditures for goods and services were approximately equal to receipts, when adjusted for transfer payments.

GROSS NATIONAL PRODUCT

In the first quarter of 1952, gross national product was at an annual rate of $5 billion higher than in the fourth quarter of last year. Both national security and personal consumption expenditures rose at an annual rate of about $3 billion, while gross private domestic investment dropped.

PRICES

CONSUMERS' PRICES

Price increases in retail food and miscellaneous items, along with advances in rents, combined to raise consumers' prices from mid-April to mid-May virtually to their December-January peak.

In May, wholesale prices were slightly lower than in April, as reductions in farm and industrial prices outweighed higher prices for processed foods. During June the weekly index of farm prices continued to decline.

NONAGRICULTURAL EMPLOYMENT - SELECTED INDUSTRIES

Employment in manufacturing industries declined 160,000 in May with the larger part of the decline centered in non-durable goods industries. Contract construction registered less than the usual seasonal gain over April because of strikes in the industry.

AVERAGE WEEKLY HOURS - SELECTED INDUSTRIES

The average factory workweek increased in May to 40 hours, following a sharp decline in April. The increase in May was due primarily to seasonal factors in the nondurable goods sector although there was evidence of some longer-term improvement in the apparel and leather goods industries.

PRODUCTION AND BUSINESS ACTIVITY

INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION

Total industrial production declined sharply in June, according to first estimates. The entire drop stemmed from the production loss in the basic iron and steel industries and a resultant restriction of iron ore mining. There was a rise in nondurable goods output as oil refineries reopened and the production of textiles showed further improvement. Among the minerals, crude petroleum output and bituminous coal production declined.

WEEKLY PRODUCTION - SELECTED INDICATORS

Electric power output rose seasonally in June. The strike drastically cut output in the steel industry, and contributed to a further cut in bituminous coal production. Motor vehicle output continued at the level prevailing since March.

PRODUCTION OF SELECTED MANUFACTURES

In May, iron and steel production remained at the curtailed level of April. Machinery output was below any other month this year, while production of nonferrous metals declined after a moderate 4-month rise. Among the non-durable goods, textiles improved, while petroleum output fell sharply due to a work stoppage.

CONSUMER CREDIT

During May, total consumer credit outstanding jumped nearly $500 million, with instalment credit accounting for most of the increase. The removal of controls over instalment loans early in May undoubtedly contributed to the expansion of the latter, which was the largest for any month since July 1950.

FEDERAL BUDGET RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES

Total budget expenditures increased in June, due to heavy interest payments which fall due at the end of the fiscal year, but national security expenditures were below the previous two months. The sharp rise in budget receipts in June reflected quarterly income tax payments. The budget deficit was $4.0 billion for fiscal year 1952.
