FARM INCOME

Net farm income, seasonally adjusted, rose sharply in the first half of 1965. The gain over a year earlier was $1 billion excluding inventory change and $1½ billion including the effects of changes in inventories. Surging farm prices, particularly for meat animals, was a major factor in the rise.

² Commercial and other includes trade, service, finance, communications, and construction.

³ Estimates based on anticipated capital expenditures as reported by business in late April and May 1965. Includes adjustments when necessary for systematic tendencies in anticipatory data.

NOTE.—Beginning 1959 all quarterly data are rounded to nearest $50 million.

Annual total is the sum of unadjusted expenditures; it does not necessarily coincide with the average of seasonally adjusted figures.

These figures do not agree with the totals included in the gross national product estimates of the Department of Commerce, principally because the latter cover agricultural investment and also certain equipment and construction outlays charged to current expense.

¹ Man-hours lost by the unemployed and those on part-time for economic reasons as a percent of total man-hours potentially available to the civilian labor force. Beginning 1963, series reflects whether unemployed persons sought full- or part-time jobs.

² Differs from total nonagricultural employment (p. 13), which includes persons with jobs but not at work for such reasons as vacation, illness, bad weather, and industrial disputes.

³ Includes persons who worked part-time because of slack work, material shortages or repairs, new job started, or job terminated.

⁴ Primarily includes persons who could find only part-time work.

MANUFACTURERS' SHIPMENTS, INVENTORIES, AND NEW ORDERS

Manufacturers' new orders (seasonally adjusted) recorded a small gain in June, following a sharp drop in May. A further decline in aircraft orders was more than offset by a sharp recovery in steel orders. Inventories rose $340 million, while shipments rose only $130 million. As a result, the inventory-shipments ratio inched up to 1.62.

U.S. BALANCE OF INTERNATIONAL PAYMENTS

The United States recorded a surplus on regular transactions of $528 million (seasonally adjusted annual rate) in the second quarter—the first surplus in nearly 8 years. A major factor in the improvement was a shift from large-scale increases in total bank lending abroad to a sizable net reduction. The second-quarter results were strongly influenced by the balance-of-payments program adopted in February, though special factors also played a role.

PRICES

CONSUMER PRICES

A sharp rise of 2 percent in food prices was largely responsible for a 0.5 percent increase in the over-all index of consumer prices in June. Prices of durable commodities fell 0.3—the fifth straight month of decline—but prices of non-durables excluding food rose 0.1 percent. Service prices continued their long term upward trend, rising 0.1 percent.
