BUDGET MESSAGE OF THE PRESIDENT

To the Congress of the United States:

I transmit herewith the Budget of the United States Government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1941. Estimated expenditures at $8,424,000,000 are down $675,000,000 from the fiscal year 1940. Estimated normal receipts at $5,548,000,000 are up $382,000,000 from the fiscal year 1940. Recovery of excess capital funds from Government corporations is estimated at $700,000,000. The net deficit is estimated at $2,176,000,000 as compared with an estimated $3,933,000,000 in the fiscal year 1940. If the tax recommendations totaling $460,000,000 herein made are adopted, the deficit will be further decreased to $1,716,000,000. Appropriations, excluding those for debt retirement, as distinguished from actual expenditures, are estimated at $8,101,000,000, as contrasted with $8,889,000,000 in the fiscal year 1940.

Review of Fiscal Policy

The Budget of the United States Government is a statement that reflects in money terms what the Government does for the people and what the people contribute to the Government.

In these figures over a course of years are mirrored the changing attitudes of the people toward the growing needs which they expect their Government to meet. The relatively low and constant level of expenditures throughout the nineteen-twenties accurately reflected the relatively minor role played by the Government in those years. The substantial increase in the past decade is a reflection of the degree to which the country, in response to changing economic and international conditions and changing attitudes, has turned to the Government to meet social needs recognized by our citizenship. Nowhere are our democratic processes so faithfully depicted.

In the early thirties—prior to 1933—fiscal policy was exceedingly simple in theory and extraordinarily disastrous in practice. It consisted in trying to keep expenditures as low as possible in the face of shrinking national income. Persistence in this attempt came near to bankrupting both our people and our Government.

Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis

Following 1933 the fiscal policy of the Government was more realistically adapted to the needs of the people. All about were idle men, idle factories, and idle funds, and yet the people were in desperate need of more goods than they had the purchasing power to acquire. The Government deliberately set itself to correct these conditions by borrowing idle funds to put idle men and idle factories to work.

The deliberate use of Government funds and of Government credit to energize private enterprise—to put purchasing power in the hands of those who urgently needed it and to create a demand for the products of factory and farm—had a profound effect both on Government and on private incomes. The national income in four years rose 69 percent, from 42 billion dollars in 1933 to 72 billion dollars in 1937, the largest absolute rise for any four-year period in our history, not even excepting the rise during the World War. Tax revenues rose from 2 billion dollars in the fiscal year 1933 to over 5 billion dollars in the fiscal year 1937, primarily because the people had more income out of which to pay taxes. The people paid 3 billion dollars more in taxes but they had nearly 10 times more than that, or 30 billion dollars, to spend on other things. This statement deserves a headline.

Rapid progress was made toward a balanced budget. By the calendar year 1937 excess of Government cash outgo over Government cash income had dropped to 331 million dollars.

Unfortunately, just at the time when it seemed that the Federal Government would be able safely to balance its budget on the basis of a national income of approximately 75 billion dollars, maladjustments in the economic system began to appear and caused a recession in economic activity. The recession was due to a variety of causes stemming in the main from over-optimism which led the Government to curtail its net expenditures too abruptly, and business to expand production and raise prices too sharply for consumers' purchasing power to keep pace. A large volume of unsold goods piled up.

If the recession were not to feed on itself and become another depression, the buying power of the people, which constitutes the market for the products of industry and agriculture, had to be maintained. To this end, in the spring of 1938, I recommended a further use of Government credit and the Congress acted on my recommendation.

The soundness of this realistic approach to a fiscal policy related to economic need was again strikingly demonstrated. In place of the 42-billion-dollar decline in national income that occurred from 1929 to 1932, the decline from 1937 to 1938 scarcely exceeded 8 billion dollars. In place of a four-year period of liquidation and deflation, productive activity turned up within nine months. By 1939, in terms of dollars, the national income closely approached, and, in terms of real production and consumption, making allowance for the lower level of prices, was equal to that of 1937.

The experience of 1938–1939 should remove any doubt as to the effectiveness of a fiscal policy related to economic need. The wise exercise of such a fiscal policy imposes grave responsibility on the Government. Government must have the wisdom to use its credit to sustain economic activity in periods of economic recession and the courage to withhold it and retire debt in periods of economic prosperity. And let us not forget that the withholding of Government credits in time of need for political advantage is no less reprehensible than its profligate use at any time.

In approaching the Budget for the fiscal year 1941 I have sought, as in the past, to relate fiscal policy to probable economic necessities. As the Budget is being prepared we are achieving the highest levels of production and consumption in our history. The extent to which recovery has progressed, and the degree to which speculation and price increases have, on the whole, been kept in check, have made it possible for us to consider a substantial lessening of Government expenditures on activities not immediately essential for national defense.

On the other hand employment still lags considerably below the levels of 1929. Many of our younger workers have not found employment, and many others have been displaced by the machine. We must not only guard the gains we have made but we must press on to attain full employment for those who have been displaced by machines as well as for the 5,000,000 net addition to the labor force since 1929. We must, therefore, avoid the danger of too drastic or too sudden a curtailment of Government support.

Against this background of aims substantially but not fully attained, I propose in the field of fiscal policy that we adopt the following course: We should count upon a natural increase in receipts from current taxes and a decrease in emergency expenditures, and we should try to offset the unavoidable increase in expenditures for national defense by special tax receipts, and thus hope to secure, for the over-all picture, a gradual tapering off, rather than an abrupt cessation, of the deficit.

In the proposed Budget I have tried to interpret the wishes of our people. They want to strengthen our national defenses and are prepared to pay additional taxes for this purpose. They wish to attain, if possible, an over-all decrease in expenditures. They would like to see a reduction in the deficit but not of a magnitude that would imperil the progress of recovery.

Expenditures

To translate the consideration of the Budget from forensics to national needs, I submit a summary for the fiscal year 1941 of approximate expenditures required to meet these needs:

National defense	$1,800,000,000
Work relief programs	1,300,000,000
Agricultural programs	900,000,000
Public works and investments	1,100,000,000
Pensions, retirements, and assistance	1,200,000,000
Interest on the public debt	1,100,000,000
Regular operating	1,000,000,000
Total	8,400,000,000

This table presents in a simple form which any layman can understand, the principal divisions into which Government expenditures fall. I constantly marvel at the glib generalities to the effect that if one has but the will to do so anybody can reduce Government expenditures by vast sums sufficient immediately to "balance the Budget." It costs nothing to make such statements and they can be decorated to fit into the applause of many audiences.

But it is the old, old story of the man who loves to utter generalities and changes the subject abruptly when he is pinned down to hard facts.

In these headings, for example, I do not believe that the majority of the people in this country want to reduce the budgeted estimate of $1,800,000,000 for national defense. This is an increase, of course, over the current year, but it is far less than many experts on national defense think should be spent, though it is in my judgment a sufficient amount for the coming year.

I do not believe that the majority of people in this country want to see the work relief programs for the coming year reduced below $1,300,000,000. This sum, in itself, covering the activities of the Work Projects Administration, the National Youth Administration, the Civilian Conservation Corps, and grants of the Farm Security Administration represents a large—perhaps too large—reduction of current expenditures.

I do not believe that the majority of people feel that the agricultural programs should be reduced below the figure of $900,000,000 because this figure, in itself a large reduction below the current year, will be barely sufficient to carry out soil protection and surplus removal operations.

Digitized for FRASER
http://fraser.stlouisfed.org/
Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis

I do not believe that the majority of people think the item for public works and investments of $1,100,000,000 can be further reduced because this amount contains practically no money for new projects in any part of the country.

I do not believe that the majority of people feel that the Government can possibly reduce, by any substantial sum, the figure of $1,200,000,000 for pensions, retirements, and assistance of many kinds, including public-health work, aid for dependent children and the blind, and veterans' benefits.

The item of $1,100,000,000 for interest on the public debt cannot, of course, be reduced at all and we should remember that the rate of interest paid by the Government is today one-third lower than it was in 1929.

All of these items amount to estimated expenditures of $7,400,000,000 and there remains only one other item of $1,000,000,000—12 percent of the total—for the operating costs of the regular departments of the Government. These are down to the bedrock of the activities and functions ordered by the Congress. If further savings are to be made in these operating costs, the Congress will have to direct by statute the elimination of many functions. And even if they should do so, the amount saved in this Budget could only be a small percentage of the total.

Therefore, those who call for further cuts should have the courage and the honesty to specify where they should be made.

National defense.—These estimates represent expenditures needed to develop and maintain our normal defense preparations. They also include, in view of the current world situation, the emergency expenditures required for the War and Navy Departments, the Coast Guard, Department of Justice, and the Panama Canal.

In order that these emergency requirements may be clearly shown I have segregated them for both the fiscal years 1940 and 1941. They call for supplemental appropriations of $272,000,000 in the fiscal year 1940, and appropriations of $302,000,000 in the fiscal year 1941. Expenditures are estimated at $160,000,000 and $300,000,000 in these two years. This segregation will, I hope, help to focus attention on our emergency defense expenditures, and the problem of financing them. It will also facilitate the return to a normal defense program when the current emergency has passed.

Work-relief programs.—For the purpose of this summary I have included the activities of the Work Projects Administration, the National Youth Administration, the Civilian Conservation Corps, and the grants of the Farm Security Administration.

In submitting estimates for these agencies I have taken into consideration the current improvement in business conditions. The first effects of increased business activity have not resulted in a proportionate reduction in relief needs. This is because the increase in employment has affected principally those who have had casual or part-time work. But there is reason to hope that a continued expansion of business would diminish relief requirements substantially.

While the estimates are appreciably less than those for the current year, I am hopeful that they will prove adequate. The Work Projects Administration will be able to provide employment for an average of 1,350,000 persons. The National Youth Administration can employ an average of nearly 600,000 American youths, and the Civilian Conservation Corps will operate 1,227 camps and provide for a monthly average of 230,000 enrollees. The Farm Security Administration will operate on about 80 percent of its 1940 level. Relief expenditures should be closely geared to actual needs. If conditions fail to meet our hopes additional funds may be necessary. I may, therefore, submit revised estimates later in the session.

Agricultural programs.—Under the broad heading of agricultural programs I have included agricultural adjustment benefits, the surplus removal program and parity payments arising from 1940 appropriations.

Despite a gratifying general increase in farm income, agriculture is still not receiving its proper share of the national income. I am, therefore, proposing to continue substantially undiminished the various agricultural programs.

I have not, however, included estimates for new appropriations for parity payments in 1941. I am influenced by the hope that next year's crops can be sold by their producers for at least 75 percent of parity. I do not suggest in any way abandonment of the policy of parity payments heretofore adopted, and future events may call for some appropriation to this end. I note, however, in passing, that the Congress has failed to make any provision for the financing of these payments already made or obligated for 1938 and 1939 crops.

Public works and investments.—This broad class of expenditure represents the use of Federal capital for investment in useful public works, for ship construction, and for loans largely for aid to agriculture.

Digitized for FRASER
http://fraser.stlouisfed.org/
Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis

While the expenditures for these purposes in 1941 remain large, a substantial portion of them arises from existing appropriations or takes the form of reimbursable loans.

The estimated expenditure for the general public works program is $641,000,000, but the proposed new appropriation for this item to carry on already authorized projects is only $498,000,000. To obtain this relatively low figure the starting of important new projects has had to be postponed and the purchase of additional land has had rigidly to be limited. This action brings the public-works program down to the minimum goal of $500,000,000 a year suggested by me on several previous occasions, and conserves the reservoir of public projects for a time when private construction declines.

Last year, in the interests of more accurate and intelligible statements of the financial operations of the Government, I invited the attention of the Congress to the desirability of capitalizing certain capital expenditures of the Government that have proved to be self-liquidating. I renew that recommendation at this time. As before, I would confine this principle to projects that are definitely capable of yielding revenues sufficient to defray, with interest, their cost of construction. In accordance with this principle, I propose that the requirements for new self-liquidating loans of the Rural Electrification Administration be met though funds advanced by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation instead of by direct appropriation.

Pensions, retirements, and assistance.—This category includes grants to the States under the Social Security Act for old-age assistance, for maternal and child welfare, for public health work, and for aid to dependent children and the blind, as well as veterans' benefits, railroad retirement benefits, and contributions to Federal employee retirement funds. It does not include insurance benefits paid out of the old-age and unemployment trust funds. This general category affects the individual security and health of millions of citizens. Its growth reflects mainly the beginning of a comprehensive social-security program.

Interest on the public debt.—Obviously no reduction in this item can be made in the next year. The average interest rate paid on the public debt for the fiscal year 1929 was 3.9 percent. The present computed rate is 2.6 percent.

Regular operating expenses.—This item represents the basic financial requirements of the Government. Blue pencil inroads are not easy to make. In the face of large and appealing requests for increases I have held appropriations and estimates of expenditures generally to the 1940 level or below. Where legislation has added new activities I have offset the cost by reductions in old activities.

http://fraser.stlouisfed.org/
Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis

I have carefully checked the individual estimates under these broad categories and I am satisfied that no lower figures can be attained except at the expense of impairing the efficiency with which laws are administered or of working undue hardship on individuals and economic groups. I refuse to accept the responsibility of adopting either alternative.

The Other Side of the Budget

Revenue estimates.—Total tax revenues are estimated at $6,151,000,000. Tax revenues, after deducting appropriations to the old-age security fund, are estimated at $5,548,000,000. Although net revenue collections for the fiscal year 1941 are estimated to exceed by $382,000,000 the estimated collections for the fiscal year 1940, the increase is not as large as some might have expected. This is owing partly to the inevitable lag of tax collections behind increasing incomes, and also partly, it is feared, to an impairment of the productiveness of the tax base arising from the revisions in 1938 and 1939 of corporate and individual income and capital-gains taxes.

Return of surplus funds from Government corporations.—At various times in the past as emergencies have arisen, the Federal Government has established credit corporations and has invested substantial amounts in their capital structures. Although these expenditures were nonrecurring and extraordinary costs, they were reflected in the annual Budgets as charges against current receipts and increased the deficits of prior years. With the lessening need for loans in some cases and the growing surpluses in other cases, it appears that some of these corporations will have excess capital funds. Currently, in response to Senate Resolution 150, Seventy-sixth Congress, a comprehensive survey and appraisal of assets of Government corporations is being carried out. On the basis of preliminary studies, I estimate that it will prove feasible to reduce the capital funds of some of these corporations by an aggregate figure of $700,000,000, without in any way impeding their operations.

In the case of certain lending agencies, any funds received from the retirement of stock will be credited to revolving funds in the Treasury and will be available for new subscriptions to stock when, as, and if needed. In these cases payments to the Treasury will appear as credits under certain expenditure items. In other cases, payments will be reflected in miscellaneous receipts.

http://fraser.stlouisfed.org/
Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis

National defense taxes.—I am convinced that specific tax legislation should be enacted to finance the emergency national defense expenditures. Although these expenditures appear unavoidable, they will not increase the permanent wealth-producing capacity of our citizens. I believe that it is the general sense of the country that this type of emergency expenditure be met by a special tax or taxes. Moreover, this course will make for greater assurance that such expenditures will cease when the emergency has passed.

I strongly recommend to the Congress, therefore, that additional taxes be imposed to yield in the fiscal year 1941 at least enough to cover the emergency national defense expenditures in the fiscal years 1940 and 1941. In seeking additional sources of revenue, I hope that the Congress will follow the accepted principle of good taxation of taxing according to ability to pay and will avoid taxes which decrease consumer buying power.

The deficit.—The deficit for the fiscal year 1941 is estimated at $2,176,000,000, as contrasted with $3,933,000,000 for the fiscal year 1940. It is expected that these deficits will be met in normal course partly by additional tax collections, partly by carrying lower balances, and partly by borrowing. If the Congress adopts my recommendations with reference to taxes the deficit for 1941 will be reduced to $1,716,000,000.

Financing the maintenance cost of certain services.—I have always believed that many facilities made available to our citizens by the Government should be paid for, at least in part, by those who use them. For example, I believe that in the case of parks, national forests, historic monuments, and so forth, small fees, as low as 5 or 10 cents per person, should be charged to those who enjoy them. A start on this policy has been made. In such a way a substantial part of the annual cost of maintenance of roads, trails, and grounds in forests and parks will come back to the Treasury and reduce the annual cost of government. Another example is the $50,000,000 the Government spends annually in the maintenance of dredged channels, buoys, lighthouses, lifesaving stations, and so forth. It would seem reasonable that some portion of these annual expenditures should come back in the form of small fees from the users of our lakes, channels, harbors, and coasts. If the Congress would make a special study of the further possibilities along these lines I will be glad to make available for such a study material from various departments.

Federal Administration

Effective execution of the Federal program for the fiscal year 1941 and the prospect of economies to be reflected in the estimates for future years is directly related to the quality of Federal administration. The economies reflected in the 1941 estimates are the result of the cooperative effort of the entire administrative service.

Generally, we are prepared to move forward on reduced rations. In several management agencies I have recognized a condition of definite undernourishment. I have, for example, provided increases for the Bureau of the Budget and the Civil Service Commission. I believe in each we will be making a modest investment which will in future years pay large dividends. Furthermore, as I have suggested in my annual message, it is important for good administration that large numbers of positions now exempt should be placed under the requirements of the civil service.

Reorganization has proceeded in accordance with Plans I and II. As a result, $11,000,000 of savings already have been impounded this year and deducted from the estimate base for 1941. With further readjustment in the machinery and business practices of the Government, additional savings will be realized. Reorganization has also brought the Bureau of the Budget into the Executive Office. With the additional appropriation for this Bureau, our budgetary procedure can be greatly strengthened. We are beginning to get more effective review of estimates. With the help of Congress we can make further progress in improving our accounting and appropriation procedures. This is a necessary prelude to better budgetary control. The Bureau of the Budget is preparing itself to be increasingly helpful in the supplying of information to the appropriation committees of the Congress.

The Public Debt

There has been so much discussion about the public debt that I feel that some concluding observations thereon would be very appropriate at this time.

There is no subject on which there is more conscious or unconscious deception than the public debt. People who would never dream of assessing their own position solely in terms of their liabilities do so continually in discussing the Government's position.

Digitized for FRASER
Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis

Those who state baldly that the Government's debt is 42 billion dollars—and stop there—are stating a deceptive half-truth calculated to make our people apprehensive. For one thing, it would clarify the public mind if it were pointed out that of the 42-billion-dollar figure the amount incurred between June 30, 1933, and December 31, 1939, is just over 19 billion dollars. For another thing, it would be more honest and more honorable for them to say that while one line in the national budget shows a national debt of 42 billion dollars, other lines indicate that the Government has 7 billion dollars of cash, gold available for debt redemption, and proprietary interest in Government corporations, which reduces the net debt to 35 billion dollars.

In addition, of course, there are the billions of dollars' worth of durable, tangible assets constructed or purchased by the Government that are a real offset to the debt, though never listed as such.

During the period between June 30, 1933, and June 30, 1940, nearly 14 billion dollars of Federal funds will have gone into recoverable loans and investments and durable improvements.

Furthermore, during the same period, the burden of the combined total of public and private debts has decreased. The interest on the public debt alone in the calendar year 1939 constituted only 1.45 percent of the national income as contrasted with a corresponding percentage of 1.62 percent for the year 1933. The increase in the national income over 1932 for the year 1939 alone is far in excess of the total increase in the debt for the whole period since 1933. The credit of the Federal Government has never been higher.

The debt accumulated since 1933 represents a far more prudent and productive use of our people's savings than much of the enormous private debts piled up in the twenties. The billions that were borrowed for speculation, for foreign loans, for second and third mortgages on overproduced commercial construction, hardly represented the most prudent use of our people's savings.

It is true that isolated debts can be defaulted without great harm to the general economy. But this is not true when, as in 1933, a large part of our private debt was in danger of default, and the savings of the whole community, as well as the general credit of industry and agriculture, were imperiled.

A part of the existing public debt and of agency loans is in fact accounted for by the necessary assumption by the Government—through the familiar "bailing out" process—of private debts on the verge of default.

In considering the growth of the Federal debt, it must finally be borne in mind that in recent years the Federal Government has had to take over some of the burdens which had theretofore fallen upon our States and municipalities. By 1933 the strain of the depression upon the finances of local governments had become unbearable. From June 1929 to June 1933, States and municipalities had to increase their net debt by over 4 billion dollars and their credit in many cases had approached the breaking point. By 1933 there was an insistent demand that the National Government come to the financial aid of local governments.

http://fraser.stlouisfed.org/
Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis

Consequently, between June 1933 and June 1940, the Federal Government will have made available for local relief, work relief, and local public works the sum of 17 billion dollars. In addition, during this same period, the Federal Government increased its grants for public roads by 1 billion dollars over the preceding seven years.

By reason of these Federal expenditures it became possible for the States and municipalities during this period to rehabilitate their credit, and even to reduce slightly their aggregate indebtedness. If they had continued to discharge the responsibilities that were formerly theirs to a degree commensurate with the Federal Government's effort, the aggregate indebtedness of our States and municipalities would have been increased by not less than 18 billion dollars and their taxes would have been enormously increased.

Debt, whether individual, corporate, or governmental, cannot be judged in a vacuum; it must be considered in light of earnings, assets, and credit standing. When the increase in the national debt is viewed against the background of what was accomplished by the growth of useful physical assets, and of effective national earning power, and by the strengthening of the Nation's credit and morale, there is no economic ground for anxiety, so far as the national debt is concerned, as to the Nation's future. And if our citizens understand the capacity of the Nation to produce increased national income and act thereon with all possible faith and practical energy, they will be in a position to anticipate balanced budgets without curtailing essential social programs.

ANALYSIS OF REVENUE ESTIMATES

The estimates of the revenues of the Federal Government are prepared in the Treasury Department in December of each year for the current fiscal year and for the fiscal year next ensuing.

Inasmuch as the tax revenue from practically every major source is directly dependent, although in varying degree, upon business conditions during the period in respect of which the taxes are levied, it is necessary to forecast the general business situation for a period ending approximately 18 months later. This forecast is based upon the analysis of a wide variety of financial and other economic data and includes a forecast of the direction and the magnitude of the movements of industrial production, profits, security and commodity prices, employment, pay rolls, and other components of business activity. In view of the well-recognized uncertainty involved in forecasting the various phases of business activity, accentuated this year by the international situation, such forecasts, and the concomitant estimates of future revenues, may be revised from time to time to take account of changed economic conditions.

Upon these business forecasts depend the estimates of the aggregate amounts of corporation and individual incomes as well as the distribution of such incomes among various income classes, and the volume of consumption of commodities upon which taxes are levied. Consideration must be given to the fact that changes in the various indicators of business activity are not reflected immediately or in direct proportion in the various sources of revenue. Thus, in periods of rising business activity profits and taxable incomes rise more than proportionately to the increase in the volume of business because of the relative inflexibility of certain costs. In addition, consideration is given to the fact that the increase in the amount of income-tax collections which will result from a given increase in individual incomes is accentuated under a progressive rate schedule because not only is the individual taxpayer's income greater but also the taxpayer pays a larger percentage of the higher income as income tax.

Changes in business conditions, in the amounts of income, and in the volume of consumption and importation of commodities are reflected more immediately in the receipts from some taxes than from others because of the variation in the method of collection of the taxes. For example, many of the miscellaneous internal-revenue taxes are collected each month on the tax liabilities of the previous month. However, collections from taxes such as the estate and gift taxes and the tax under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act, formerly title IX of the Social Security Act, are made upon liabilities of a much earlier period and therefore do not respond as promptly to changes in general business conditions.

The lag between the time income is received by taxpayers and the time of receipt of income taxes based upon such incomes is particularly important in its effect upon total tax receipts in any given year. Thus, in general, the changes in incomes in the calendar year 1939 will not be reflected in income-tax receipts until the income-tax returns are filed on or before March 15, 1940. Because of the privilege of making quarterly installment payments of these tax liabilities the collections will be received throughout the calendar year 1940, thus falling into the receipts of fiscal years 1940 and 1941. Hence the estimated current income-tax receipts, both corporation and individual, for the fiscal year 1940 are made up partly from payments on calendar year 1938 incomes and partly from payments on calendar year 1939 incomes. Similarly, fiscal year 1941 estimates of income-tax receipts include some payments based upon the incomes of each of the calendar years 1939 and 1940.

In presenting the revenue estimates in the foregoing statement an adjustment has been made in the total to reflect the changes brought about by the recent amendments to the Social Security Act. There has been created on the books of the Treasury the "Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Trust Fund" to which is to be transferred on January 1, 1940, the amounts standing to the credit of the Old Age Reserve Account. For the fiscal year 1941 and each subsequent fiscal year there is appropriated to the fund an amount equivalent to 100 per centum of the taxes received under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act, with the proviso that the estimated administrative expenses of the Treasury and the Social Security Board with respect to the collection of taxes and the payments from the fund shall be repaid to the Treasury. In order to show the amount of revenue applicable to the general expenditures of the Government there has been deducted from the gross receipts a sum equivalent to the net appropriation to the Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Trust Fund. For comparable purposes there has been deducted from the gross receipts in 1940 and 1939 the amount transferred to trust funds under the Old Age Reserve Account. The analysis of revenue estimates set forth below is based on the total revenues and receipts and not on the net amount after adjustment.

Total Revenues and Receipts

Total revenues and receipts, general and special accounts, are estimated (on daily Treasury statement basis, unrevised) in the amounts of $5,704 millions for the fiscal year 1940 and $6,151 millions for the fiscal year 1941. The estimated amount of total receipts in the fiscal year 1940 represents an increase of $36 millions over total receipts of $5,668 millions in fiscal year 1939, while the estimated amount of total receipts in the fiscal year 1941 represents an increase of $447 millions over the estimated total receipts for the fiscal year 1940.

The following table shows the percentage distribution of the classified sources of revenue, of the actual receipts for the fiscal years 1938 and 1939, and of the estimated receipts for the fiscal years 1940 and 1941.

FISCAL YEAR 1940

It is estimated that fiscal year 1940 receipts will amount to $5,704 millions, which is $36 millions more than the actual receipts of $5,668 millions in fiscal year 1939. Although the two totals are of approximately equal magnitude, the relative importance of the major sources of revenue differs in each of the 2 years as is shown in the above tabulation.

The two principal items of decrease are the estimated revenues from income taxes and from customs. The decrease in the estimated income-tax receipts in fiscal year 1940 is explained not only by the virtual repeal of the undistributed-profits tax which decreased dividend distributions, but also by the generally lower income levels in calendar year 1939 as contrasted with calendar year 1937. The customs estimate is lowered because of the effect of the war on international trade. The increases in other taxes, the yield from which responds more quickly to improvement in business than do the income-tax receipts, are estimated to more than offset the estimated decrease in receipts of income taxes and customs.

The sources of the revenues estimated for fiscal year 1940 as compared with actual receipts for fiscal year 1939 may be broadly summarized as follows:

Total receipts by sources of revenue

[In millions of dollars]

General and special accounts	Actual, 1939	Estimated, 1940
Income taxes	2,182.3	1,953.0
Tax on unjust enrichment	6.5	6.0
Miscellaneous internal-revenue taxes	2,232.0	2,356.2
Employment taxes	740.5	827.1
Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act		5.0
Customs	318.8	283.0
Miscellaneous revenues and receipts	187.8	273.5
Total	5,667.8	5,703.8

Income taxes.—Whereas the $2,182 millions of income taxes collected in fiscal year 1939 represent in part collections of liabilities on incomes in calendar year 1937 and in part collections of liabilities on incomes in calendar year 1938, the estimate of $1,953 millions for fiscal year 1940 represents in part collections of liabilities on incomes in calendar year 1938 and in part collections of liabilities on incomes in calendar year 1939. Thus, a portion of the liabilities for calendar year 1938 appears in each fiscal year's collections.

The principal components of the decrease of $229 millions in the estimated income-tax collections for the fiscal year 1940, as compared with actual income-tax collections in fiscal year 1939, are the estimates of decrease of $98 millions in the current corporation income-tax collections and of $127 millions in the current individual income-tax collections. These decreases are attributable not only to the higher level of incomes in calendar year 1937 as contrasted with the estimated incomes in calendar year 1939 but also to legislative changes. Receipts in fiscal year 1939 partly reflect collections in respect of calendar year 1937 liabilities when the undistributed-profits tax of the Revenue Act of 1936 was in force and partly reflect the legislative changes made by the Revenue Act of 1938 wherein the undistributed-profits tax was practically eliminated and the more liberal treatment of capital gains and losses was enacted. The changes made by the Revenue Act of 1938 are fully reflected in the fiscal year 1940 estimates. The Public Salary Tax Act of 1939, effective beginning with calendar year 1939 incomes, which will tend to increase individual income-tax collections, will be only partially reflected in the fiscal year 1940 receipts. The income-tax provisions of the Revenue Act of 1939 will not affect the fiscal year 1940 receipts to any appreciable extent.

Minor changes are expected in the other two components of the estimate of income taxes for the fiscal year 1940. Back taxes for fiscal year 1940 are estimated at $260 millions, an increase of $9 millions over the actual back income-tax collections for the fiscal year 1939. Excess-profits taxes for fiscal year 1940 are now estimated at $18 millions, a decrease of $9 millions or 33⅓ percent from the actual receipts of $27 millions in fiscal year 1939. There are two main reasons for this estimated decline. The excess-profits tax estimate should be considered in conjunction with the estimate for capital-stock tax since one is the complement of the other. Corporations may declare any desired value of capital stock at periods designated in the law and must pay a capital-stock tax of $1 per $1,000 of the capital-stock valuation so declared. Earnings in excess of 10 percent of such capital-stock declaration are subject to the excess-profits tax and corporations therefore have a strong incentive to declare a sufficiently high value of their capital stock so that they will not be subject to the excess-profits tax.

The excess-profits tax is collected at the same time and in the same manner as is the income tax. The excess-profits tax collections based on calendar year 1938 incomes are common to the collections for fiscal years 1939 and 1940. The incomes of calendar year 1937 were higher than those estimated for calendar year 1939, so that the component of the fiscal year 1940 excess-profits tax estimate represented by calendar year 1939 earnings is less than the component of calendar year 1937 earnings represented in fiscal year 1939 collections. Furthermore, whereas the excess-profits tax collected in respect to calendar year 1937 liabilities was based on a capital-stock declaration made about 17 months prior to the close of the calendar year 1937, the collections in fiscal year 1940 based on calendar year 1939 incomes reflect a capital-stock declaration made in August 1939, about 4 months before the close of the calendar year. Because of the reduced time element, it is believed that corporations will be able to predict their 1939 net incomes more accurately than they did their 1937 net incomes, and thereby decrease the excess-profits tax on that year as compared with 1937 more than the relative decrease in net incomes in the respective years.

Miscellaneous internal revenue.—Miscellaneous internal-revenue receipts in fiscal year 1940 are estimated at $2,356 millions, an increase of $124 millions or 5.6 percent over the receipts of $2,232 millions in fiscal year 1939. Each of the major groups of taxes on commodities is estimated to yield more revenue in fiscal year 1940 than in fiscal year 1939. One of the minor taxes on commodities, namely the tax on toilet preparations, is expected to yield less revenue than was collected in fiscal year 1939, due to the modification of this tax by the Revenue Act of 1939.

The capital-stock tax for fiscal year 1940 is estimated at $132 millions, an increase of $5 millions over the actual collections of $127 millions for fiscal year 1939. This estimated increase is due to a declaration of higher aggregate capital-stock value in August 1939 as permitted by the Revenue Act of 1939, made in anticipation of increased corporate earnings for calendar year 1939. Since receipts from this tax, which was generally payable on August 31, 1939, are concentrated largely in the first quarter of the fiscal year, the fiscal year 1940 estimate of capital-stock-tax receipts involves a smaller element of prediction than most of the other estimates.

Estate-tax receipts in the fiscal year 1940 are estimated at $338 millions, a slight increase over receipts in fiscal year 1939. The estimated increase is principally attributable to the tax on a single exceptionally large estate already received. Under the present law estate-tax returns need not be filed until 15 months after the date of death, so that estate-tax receipts have a marked lag in relation to business changes. The property valuations of estates whose tax returns will be filed during the fiscal year 1940 are expected to be comparable in magnitude with those of estates whose tax returns were filed during the fiscal year 1939. Hence, there is no material change in the expectation of fiscal year 1940 estate-tax receipts as compared with the actual receipts for fiscal year 1939. Estimated collections from the gift tax in fiscal year 1940 are $33 millions, an increase of $5 millions over actual receipts in fiscal year 1939.

Changes in estimated collections from principal sources of miscellaneous internal revenue in the fiscal year 1940 as compared with actual collections in the fiscal year 1939 are summarized in the following table:

Collections of miscellaneous internal revenue by principal sources

[In millions of dollars]

Source	Collection basis

Total miscellaneous internal revenue	2,236.9	2,356.2	119.3

Employment taxes.—Total employment taxes for fiscal year 1940 are now estimated at $827 millions, an increase of $87 millions over the $740 millions receipts in fiscal year 1939.

Receipts under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act, formerly title VIII of the Social Security Act, are estimated at $599 millions as compared with $530 millions in the fiscal year 1939, an increase of $69 millions, or 13 percent. The estimate of $599 millions will be the highest figure attained since taxes were first received under this act in 1937. Since the rates of tax are the same in each year, the estimated increase in revenues is the result of an anticipated higher level of taxable pay rolls and a net increase in coverage brought about by the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939, approved August 10, 1939. The major changes in coverage under this act were the inclusion of service on American vessels, employees of member banks of the Federal Reserve System, individuals aged 65 and over, and the exclusion of certain groups of farm workers. Inasmuch as the inclusion of individuals aged 65 and over was made retroactive to January 1, 1939, taxes for five quarters' liabilities will be collected in the fiscal year 1940. The other major changes in coverage become effective January 1, 1940, so that the revenues from such coverage will be included in the fiscal year 1940 receipts to the extent of only one quarter's liability. It should be noted that the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939 prevented the 50-percent increase in rates on January 1, 1940, which would have applied to pay rolls in calendar years 1940, 1941, and 1942 in accordance with the original Social Security Act.

The Federal Unemployment Tax Act, formerly title IX of the Social Security Act, is expected to yield $105 millions as compared with $101 millions in the fiscal year 1939. Here again, as in the case of the Federal Insurance Contributions Act, the higher level of taxable pay rolls contributed toward the rise in estimated receipts. Another element making for higher receipts is the fact that this is the first time that all liabilities collected within a fiscal year are based upon the 3 percent rate of tax. On the other hand, the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act, placing employees of railroads under a separate unemployment compensation system, became effective July 1, 1939, and therefore such taxes upon railroads will not be included in Federal Unemployment Tax Act receipts as was the case heretofore. Generally speaking, the passage of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939 does not affect receipts under this tax in the fiscal year 1940 because the amendments become effective on January 1, 1940, and payment of the calendar year 1940 liabilities will be made partly in the fiscal year 1941 and partly in the fiscal year 1942.

The Carriers Taxing Act of 1937 is expected to return $124 millions, a gain of $15 millions over receipts of $109 millions in the fiscal year 1939. This estimated increase results primarily from the anticipated higher level of railroad pay rolls in April 1939–March 1940, the period for which liabilities are paid in the fiscal year 1940, as compared with pay rolls in the corresponding period of the previous year. A relatively small part of the gain is attributable to the rise in the rate of tax from 2¾ percent on both employees and employers on taxable compensation in calendar year 1939 to 3 percent on both employees and employers on taxable compensation in calendar year 1940. One quarter's tax liabilities will be collected at the 3 percent rate in the fiscal year 1940.

Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act.—Beginning July 1, 1939, carriers were required to pay contributions under the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act (approved June 25, 1938) rather than under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act, formerly title IX of the Social Security Act. Ten percent of the contributions so received are to be deposited to the credit of the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Administration Fund. Although the new act will be in effect throughout the fiscal year 1940, receipts, which are estimated at $5 millions, will include contributions covering only three quarters' liabilities because of the lag of one quarter in making payments of liabilities under this act.

Customs.—Customs receipts, including any import tax "levied, assessed, collected, and paid in the same manner as a duty imposed by the Tariff Act of 1930 and * * * treated as a duty," are expected to decline in the fiscal year 1940 to $283 millions. This represents a decrease of $36 millions from the actual receipts of $319 millions in the fiscal year 1939. Because of the uncertainties in international trade due to the war, the estimated customs receipts do not bear the same relationship to domestic business conditions as in previous years.

Miscellaneous revenues and receipts.—Miscellaneous revenues and receipts for fiscal year 1940 are estimated at $274 millions, an increase of $86 millions over actual receipts in fiscal year 1939.

FISCAL YEAR 1941

Fiscal year 1941 receipts are estimated at $6,151 millions, an increase of $483 millions over actual receipts in fiscal year 1939 and of $447 millions over the estimated receipts in fiscal year 1940. Each of the broad classifications of revenue with the exception of customs and miscellaneous revenues and receipts contributes to the estimated increase in the fiscal year 1941 over the fiscal year 1940. Estimated receipts for the fiscal year 1941 as compared with estimated receipts in fiscal year 1940 are broadly summarized as follows:

Total receipts by sources of revenue

[In millions of dollars]

General and special accounts	Estimated, 1940	Estimated, 1941
Income taxes	1,953.0	2,302.0
Tax on unjust enrichment	6.0	4.0
Miscellaneous internal-revenue taxes	2,356.2	2,482.2
Employment taxes	827.1	861.4
Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act	5.0	6.8
Customs	283.0	273.0
Miscellaneous revenues and receipts	273.5	221.4
Total	5,703.8	6,150.8

Income taxes.—Total income-tax receipts for fiscal year 1941 are estimated at $2,302 millions, an increase of $349 millions over estimated income-tax receipts for fiscal year 1940. The major income-tax changes effected by the Revenue Act of 1939 will apply to incomes received in the calendar year 1940 and will therefore be reflected in income-tax collections in the last half of fiscal year 1941. The most important provisions of the Revenue Act of 1939 are those relating to the corporation tax rates, the more liberal treatment of corporate capital losses and the allowance of an operating loss carry-over. The full effect of the Revenue Act of 1939 on incomes will not be reflected in tax receipts until fiscal year 1943 because business losses incurred prior to calendar year 1939 are not allowed as part of the 2-year operating loss carry-over.

The current corporation income taxes for fiscal year 1941 are estimated at $1,074 millions, an increase of $209 millions over the estimated receipts for fiscal year 1940. Since collections in respect of calendar year 1939 liabilities are common to fiscal years 1940 and 1941, the increase in the estimates for fiscal year 1941 as contrasted with fiscal year 1940 reflects the forecast of larger corporate net incomes in calendar year 1940 than obtained in calendar year 1938.

Individual income-tax receipts are estimated at $950 millions, an increase of $140 millions over the estimated receipts for fiscal year 1940. This increase is chiefly accounted for by the expectation of generally higher incomes in the calendar year 1940 as contrasted with those in the calendar year 1938.

The excess-profits tax for fiscal year 1941 is estimated at $23 millions, an increase of $5 millions over the estimate for fiscal year 1940. The estimated higher calendar year 1940 income levels account for the estimated increase in the excess-profits tax revenues.

Tax on unjust enrichment.—The tax on unjust enrichment for the fiscal year 1941 is estimated at $4 millions, a decrease of $2 millions or 33⅓ percent from the $6 millions estimated collections for fiscal year 1940. Since this tax is a back tax, it is estimated that the revenues will decrease as the outstanding cases are settled.

Miscellaneous internal revenue.—Miscellaneous internal-revenue receipts in fiscal year 1941 are estimated at $2,482 millions, an increase of $126 millions over the estimate for fiscal year 1940. Although in general it is estimated that the receipts from the principal sources of miscellaneous internal revenue will continue to increase, a few minor sources of revenue are estimated to show decreases because of special situations.

The receipts from capital-stock tax for the fiscal year 1941 are estimated at $137 millions, an increase of $5 millions over the estimated receipts of $132 millions for fiscal year 1940. The increase is attributable to the fact that corporations are expected to declare higher capital-stock values in 1940 when it is estimated corporate earnings will be higher than in calendar year 1939.

Estate-tax receipts in fiscal year 1941 are estimated at $329 millions, a decrease of $9 millions from the estimated receipts in fiscal year 1940. The decrease is caused by the exceptionally large tax from one estate which was received early in fiscal year 1940. Gift-tax receipts are estimated at $33 millions, unchanged from the estimate of receipts from this tax for fiscal year 1940.

The principal changes in the estimated miscellaneous internal-revenue receipts in the fiscal year 1941 as compared with the estimates for the fiscal year 1940 are summarized in the following table:

Collections of miscellaneous internal revenue by principal sources

Employment taxes.—Total employment taxes for fiscal year 1941 are estimated at $861 millions, an increase of $34 millions over estimated receipts in fiscal year 1940.

Receipts under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act, formerly title VIII of the Social Security Act, are estimated at $633 millions. This represents a gain of $34 millions over estimated receipts in the fiscal year 1940. The major part of the rise is attributable to the inclusion of a full year's receipts from groups brought under this act by the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939 as compared with receipts of only 3 months' liabilities for such groups in the fiscal year 1940. Such gains are somewhat offset by the receipts of four quarters' liabilities from individuals aged 65 and over in the fiscal year 1941 as compared with the receipts of five quarters' liabilities in the fiscal year 1940.

Receipts from the Federal Unemployment Tax Act, formerly title IX of the Social Security Act, are expected to decline to $94 millions from fiscal year 1940 estimated receipts of $105 millions. The drop will be the first since taxes under this act and its predecessor were first received in 1936. The passage of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939 is primarily responsible for the decline in revenues, because it effected a decrease in coverage of individuals' wages which more than offset a net increase in coverage of employees. Another reason for the decline is the fact that railroad employees were removed from coverage under this act by the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act which became effective July 1, 1939.

Receipts from the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937 are estimated to rise to $135 millions as compared with anticipated receipts of $124 millions in the fiscal year 1940. The increase of $11 millions over fiscal year 1940 estimated receipts is largely the result of the advance in the rate of tax from 2¾ percent on both employees and employers on taxable compensation prior to January 1, 1940, to 3 percent on both employees and employers on taxable compensation in the calendar years 1940 and 1941.

Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act.—Receipts under the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act are estimated at $7 millions, an increase of $2 millions over fiscal year 1940 estimated receipts of $5 millions. The major part of this gain results from the fact that estimated receipts in the fiscal year 1941 will include a full year's tax liabilities whereas estimated receipts in the fiscal year 1940 will include only 9 months' tax liabilities.

Customs.—The customs estimate for fiscal year 1941 is $273 millions. This represents a decrease of $10 millions from the estimated customs receipts of $283 millions in fiscal year 1940. Customs in fiscal year 1941 appear unlikely to be enlarged by the extraordinary receipts which marked a brief interval in fiscal year 1940, immediately following the outbreak of the European war.

Miscellaneous revenues and receipts.—Receipts from the many sources in this group are estimated at $221 millions in fiscal year 1941 as compared with estimated receipts of $274 millions in the fiscal year 1940.

EXPLANATORY INTRODUCTION TO STATEMENT NO. 2

The following statement presents in three parallel columns the appropriation estimates for the fiscal year 1941 and the actual appropriations for 1940 and 1939. Adjacent to these columns are three additional columns showing the estimated expenditures for 1941 and 1940 and the actual expenditures for 1939. To avoid confusion in comparing the figures in these six columns the basis upon which the figures are presented should be explained.

With respect to the first-mentioned three columns of figures, the 1939 and 1940 columns carry the appropriations which have already been made by Congress for the various departments, bureaus, establishments, and agencies of the Government for these fiscal years. The 1941 column presents the amounts for these organization units which the President has recommended to the Congress for appropriation for the fiscal year 1941.

The appropriations, it will be observed, are of two general types—annual and permanent. The annual appropriations, ordinarily found in the departmental supply bills, are voted each year by the Congress. They are usually definite and specific as to amounts. They may be obligated only during the year to which they relate, but remain available for payment of unliquidated obligations for 2 years thereafter before any unused balance is covered into the surplus fund of the Treasury. The permanent appropriations are automatically renewed each year over a period of time by virtue of permanent legislation, without annual action by the Congress. Such appropriations may be either specific or indefinite as to amounts. An example of the latter is the indefinite appropriation to cover the interest on the public debt. This type of appropriation, while sometimes difficult to ascertain as to amount, does not preclude an estimated figure for use in the Budget. The Congress makes some appropriations available until expended, or until the object for which they are made is accomplished. These appropriations are without a definite time limit and may, therefore, be called "no-year" appropriations. They are generally for the construction of public works projects.

Turning to the three columns under the caption "Expenditures," the column for 1939 shows the actual expenditure figures for that fiscal year. These figures, usually on a checks-issued basis, are adjusted at appropriate totals to the cash (checks-paid) basis, as shown on the daily Treasury statement. The totals, therefore, are on an actual cash basis. The columns for 1940 and 1941 show the estimated expenditures for these fiscal years on a cash basis. The figures in these three columns are those carried in totals to the General Budget Summary and supporting schedules. Hence, the Budget is, in effect, on a cash basis with respect to expenditures, as well as with respect to receipts.

The appropriations and expenditures shown in the 1940 and 1939 columns have been adjusted to reflect changes brought about by the recent amendments to the Social Security Act. There has been created on the books of the Treasury the "Federal old-age and survivors insurance trust fund" to which was transferred on January 1, 1940, the amounts standing to the credit of the Old-Age Reserve Account. For the fiscal year 1941 and each subsequent fiscal year there is appropriated to the fund an amount equivalent to 100 per centum of the taxes received under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act, with the proviso that the estimated administrative expenses of the Treasury and the Social Security Board with respect to the collection of taxes and the payments from the fund, shall be repaid to the Treasury. In order to show comparable totals of appropriations and expenditures for the 3 years, the appropriations to the Old-Age Reserve Account and the expenditures under that account have been eliminated from the totals for 1940 and 1939. These appropriations and expenditures as formerly reported under general and special accounts represented merely a transfer to trust account for actual expenditure. This item still appears in the trust account totals, along with the Federal old-age and survivors trust fund. The amount of this adjustment is shown in a footnote at the end of the recapitulation on page A87.

SYNOPSIS OF APPROPRIATION ESTIMATES

There is herewith presented brief explanatory data concerning the appropriation estimates included in the Budget for the fiscal year 1941. These synopses are designed to furnish a condensed comparison of the 1941 appropriation estimates with the corresponding appropriations for the fiscal year 1940. For additional information concerning each estimate reference should be made to the section of this Budget entitled "Estimates of Appropriation in Detail."

Legislative Establishment

The appropriation estimates of $25,178,708 for the Legislative Establishment show a net increase of $1,822,565 above the appropriations for the fiscal year 1940.

Senate

The estimates of $3,865,624 for the United States Senate show a net increase of $173,808. There is an increase of $179,400 for clerical assistants to Senators, and decreases of $300 for the Office of the Secretary of the Senate and $5,292 for the Sergeant at Arms and Doorkeeper.

House of Representatives

The estimates of $9,080,802 for the House of Representatives represent a net increase of $96,518 as compared with the fiscal year 1940. The item of increase for clerk hire for members and delegates in the amount of $328,500 is in part offset by decreases of $159,350 for contingent expenses, $30,000 in a nonrecurring item for the painting of the signing of the Constitution, $30,000 for payments to dependents of deceased Congressmen, and $12,632 for other miscellaneous expenses.

Legislative miscellaneous

The miscellaneous legislative group for which the estimates aggregate $203,440, includes the Capitol Police Force, the Joint Committee on Printing, the Office of Legislative Counsel, and the cost of preparing appropriation statements. For this group the estimates show an increase of $2,500 above the appropriation for the fiscal year 1940, the increase being reflected in the Office of Legislative Counsel.

Architect of the Capitol

The estimates of $3,270,770 for the Architect of the Capitol show a net increase of $1,345,259. The items of increase are $508,000 for reconstruction, repair, alteration, and improvement of the terraces of the Capitol Building; $394,916 for care and improvement of grounds surrounding the Capitol, Senate and House Office Buildings, and the Capitol power plant; $360 for maintenance of the Legislative garage; $13,317 for maintenance of the Senate Office Building; $173,200 for maintenance of the House Office Building; $179,080 for operation of the Capitol power plant; $95,520 for the Library buildings and grounds; $12,356 for Library building furniture. The above increases are partially offset by a decrease of $19,585 in Capitol Building repairs, $10,000 for the nonrecurring structural engineering study of the Capitol Building, and $1,905 for nonrecurring repairs and equipment to the Senate Office Building barber shop.

Botanic Garden

The estimates of $195,235 for the Botanic Garden show a net increase of $88,780. There are increases of $780 for salaries, Botanic Garden, and $90,000 for the cost of construction of additional greenhouses, structures, and other incidental work at Poplar Point Nursery, and the removal of old structures in the Botanic Garden area. The estimates for other minor items of maintenance of the Garden are decreased $2,000.

Library of Congress

The estimates of $3,116,807 for the Library of Congress, exclusive of trust funds, show a net increase of $9,100. Increases of $17,640 for salaries in the Library proper and of $4,200 for maintenance of the Library buildings are offset by a decrease of $6,040 in salaries for the Copyright Office and a decrease of $6,700 for indexing State legislation.

The trust account estimates of $67,000 are $5,500 less than for the fiscal year 1940. There is a decrease of $5,000 under the Library of Congress gift fund, and a $500 decrease under the income from investment account.

The permanent appropriation for the Library of Congress for interest on trust funds is estimated at $41,600 for the fiscal year 1941 or an increase of $100 over the amount appropriated for the fiscal year 1940.

Government Printing Office

The estimates of $4,837,430 for the Government Printing Office, which are exclusive of $500,000 of trust accounts, show a net increase of $180,000, of which $135,000 is for public printing and binding; $25,000 for salaries in the Office of the Superintendent of Documents, and $20,000 for the general expenses of the Office of the Superintendent of Documents.

The trust account estimate of $500,000 is $68,000 less than the fiscal year 1940. This is due to the anticipated decrease in refunds from the unearned proceeds of sales of publications.

Judicial Establishment

Heretofore the estimates for the Supreme Court and the other United States courts have been included in the Budget under the chapter for the Department of Justice. For the fiscal year 1941, the estimates for such courts are included in the Budget under a new chapter entitled "Judicial Establishment." The act of August 7, 1939 (53 Stat. 1223), provides that there shall be at the seat of government an establishment to be known as the Administrative Office of the United States Courts with a director at the head thereof; that the director, under the supervision of the conference of senior circuit judges, shall prepare and submit annually to the Bureau of the Budget estimates of the expenditures and appropriations necessary for the maintenance and operation of the courts and the administrative office, in accordance with the provisions of the Budget and Accounting Act; and that all estimates so submitted shall be included in the Budget without revision, in the same manner as is provided for the estimates of the Supreme Court by the latter Act.

Since with this new law, all estimates pertaining to the Judiciary are authorized to be included in the Budget without revision, it appears proper that such estimates be included under a separate chapter entitled "Judicial Establishment" coordinate with the other two branches, the "Legislative" and the "Executive" establishments.

For purposes of comparison, such appropriations for the fiscal years 1939 and 1940, as pertain to both the United States courts and the Department of Justice have been segregated so as to show the amounts applicable to each. Therefore, the estimates for 1941, as to appropriation items affected, are comparable with the amounts applicable to the activities of the United States courts for the fiscal years 1939 and 1940, rather than the full amount of the appropriations for those fiscal years.

The estimates for the fiscal year 1941, exclusive of trust accounts, amount to $11,097,954, of which the amount of $566,350 pertains to the Supreme Court of the United States and $10,531,604 to the other Federal courts.

For the Supreme Court there is a net increase of $850.

For the other Federal courts, exclusive of the Administrative Office of the United States Courts, there is a net increase of $171,722.

For the Administrative Office of the United States Courts there are increases of $297,522 for salaries and $149,700 for miscellaneous expenses.

The estimated expenditure of $2,480,000 from the trust account "Fees and other collections, clerks of United States courts," for the fiscal year 1941 is the same as estimated for the fiscal year 1940.

Executive Establishment

Executive Office and Independent Agencies

Executive Office of the President

Under Reorganization Plan No. I, pursuant to the Reorganization Act of 1939, the Bureau of the Budget was transferred, effective July 1, 1939, from the Treasury Department to the Executive Office of the President, and the functions of the Central Statistical Board and Central Statistical Committee were transferred to the Bureau of the Budget. Under the same authority, the functions of the Federal Employment Stabilization Office of the Department of Commerce were consolidated with those of the National Resources Committee and the consolidated unit, to be known as the National Resources Planning Board, transferred to the Executive Office. Under Reorganization Plan No. II, also effective July 1, 1939, the National Emergency Council was abolished, and all its functions except film and radio activities were transferred to the Executive Office under the title Office of Government Reports.

In 1940, $2,800,405 was appropriated for all of the units now included in the Executive Office of the President. For the fiscal year 1941, a total of $3,471,250 is included in the estimates. For the White House Office proper, there is a decrease in 1941 of $6,700 offset by an increase of $6,000 in the appropriation for the Executive Mansion and grounds, a net decrease of $700.

The increase for the Bureau of the Budget amounts to $162,720 for its regular activities. This is exclusive of the appropriation of $26,175 which was provided for the fiscal year 1940 in the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1939. The increase for this Bureau is principally to provide for—

(1) A more adequate examination of departmental estimates, including field work which is essential in order that Budget examiners may be better informed concerning the actual operations of the agencies which may be assigned to them.

(2) Major studies of organization, procedure and methods and to advise and assist the departments in the solution of administrative problems.

For the National Resources Planning Board, an increase of $310,000 over the amount appropriated in the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1939 is requested. This is to provide additional personnel and other expenses necessary to enable the Board to continue the functions of the Employment Stabilization Act imposed upon it by Reorganization Plan No. I; to more effectively meet the growing need for cooperation with State, regional, and local planning boards; to expedite the completion of major studies in process and to carry out additional studies now in prospect.

For the Office of Government Reports, an increase of $225,000 is requested over the amount appropriated in the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1939. This increase is needed for the purpose of reopening three State offices, providing additional personnel where needed in certain other State offices, to strengthen the press intelligence unit and to provide for three issues of the Government Manual in lieu of the two issues printed in the present fiscal year.

Independent Agencies

Under the two plans on Government reorganization, pursuant to the Reorganization Act of 1939, and effective July 1, 1939, numerous formerly independent agencies were either abolished or transferred to the Executive Office of the President, or to one of the executive departments, or grouped in one of the three new major agencies.

Under Plan I the Central Statistical Board and the functions of the Central Statistical Committee, which was abolished, were transferred to the Bureau of the Budget in the Executive Office of the President. The National Resources Committee was also transferred to the Executive Office under the title "National Resources Planning Board." The Social Security Board, the National Youth Administration, and the Civilian Conservation Corps were brought into the new Federal Security Agency. The Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works and the Works Progress Administration (except the National Youth Administration) were placed in the Federal Works Agency. The Farm Credit Administration, Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation, and Commodity Credit Corporation were assigned to the Department of Agriculture. The new Federal Loan Agency was established to supervise and coordinate the activities of the formerly independent Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Electric Home and Farm Authority, RFC Mortgage Co., Disaster Loan Corporation, Federal National Mortgage Association, Federal Home Loan Bank Board, Home Owners' Loan Corporation, Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, Federal Housing Administration, and Export-Import Bank of Washington.

Under Plan II the Foreign Service Building Commission was transferred to the Department of State. The Board of Trustees of the National Training School for Boys was abolished, and its functions as well as the school itself, transferred to the Department of Justice. Federal Prison Industries, Inc., was also placed in the Department of Justice. The Office of Consumers' Counsel and the National Bituminous Coal Commission were abolished and their functions transferred to the Department of the Interior. The Mount Rushmore National Memorial Commission was transferred to the Department of the Interior. Rural Electrification Administration was assigned to the Department of Agriculture. The Codification Board, established by the act of June 19, 1937, was abolished and its functions transferred to the National Archives. The National Emergency Council was also abolished, and its functions transferred to the Executive Office of the President, except its Radio Division and Film Service, which were placed in the new Federal Security Agency.

American Battle Monuments Commission

The estimate of $135,000 for the American Battle Monuments Commission is $5,000 less than the appropriation for the fiscal year 1940. The reduction is due to nonrecurring items.

Board of Tax Appeals

The estimates of $557,000 for the Board of Tax Appeals for the fiscal year 1941 are in the same total amount as the appropriations for the fiscal year 1940, a reduction of $6,000 in the appropriation for salaries and expenses being offset by an increase of the same amount in the appropriation for printing and binding.

Civil Aeronautics Authority

The estimates of $28,921,623 for the regular activities of Civil Aeronautics Authority for the fiscal year 1941 provide a net increase of $3,403,623 over the amounts appropriated for the fiscal year 1940.

The appropriation for "Salaries and expenses, Civil Aeronautics Authority," fiscal year 1940, has been divided into five appropriations for the fiscal year 1941, in order to effect more efficient control by the Authority. The appropriations for 1941 are: General administration, economic regulation, maintenance and operation of air-navigation facilities, technical development, and safety regulation. The increases are $169,138 for salaries and expenses; $50,000 for economic regulation; $2,489,513 for maintenance and operation of air-navigation facilities; $429,692 for safety regulation, and $2,000,000 for civilian pilot training. These increases are offset in part by a decrease of $1,734,720 in the appropriation for the establishment of air-navigation facilities.

In addition to the above, the Authority received an appropriation of $250,000 in the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1939 for the supervision of W. P. A. airport projects.

Civil Service Commission

The estimates of $97,571,896 for the Commission are $6,167,896 more than the appropriations made for the fiscal year 1940. The increase in the appropriation for administrative expenses is $1,045,896, and for printing and binding $20,000. However, the actual increases in available funds for these two items are $1,495,896 and $38,358, respectively, due to a proviso in the 1940 appropriations for the Commission making $550,000 of the allowance for salaries and expenses and $20,000 of the allowance for printing and binding immediately available.

The increases will permit the Commission to increase its staff in order to bring its work up to date and to undertake the tasks assigned to it by Executive Orders Nos. 7915 and 7916.

The remainder of the increase, $5,102,000, provides $4,425,000 for the Civil Service retirement fund, and $677,000 for the Canal Zone retirement and disability fund. These additional allowances are based upon recommendations contained in the Eighteenth Annual Report of the Board of Actuaries, which report was transmitted to Congress on February 24, 1939.

Council of Personnel Administration

The estimate of $50,000 for the Council for the fiscal year 1941 shows an increase of $27,300 over the appropriation for 1940. The Council was established by section 7 of Executive Order No. 7916. In the Third Deficiency Appropriation Act, fiscal year 1939, $22,700 was provided to start the work of the Council. The increase provided in 1941 will enable the Council to undertake a series of studies on personnel management.

District of Columbia Alley Dwelling Authority

The Authority contemplates continuing its slum-clearance program under the United States Housing Act of 1937 as amended, for which purpose the United States Housing Authority has earmarked $15,000,000 for loans to the Alley Dwelling Authority and has already approved loan contracts totaling $10,858,000. These loan contracts cover 7 projects, 5 for Negroes and 2 for white occupancy, and will provide in all almost 2,200 new homes.

The Authority will continue its management of completed projects, receipts from which in 1941 are expected to total some $126,000.

Employees' Compensation Commission

The estimates for the Commission for the fiscal year 1941, exclusive of trust accounts, aggregate $11,516,750, of which $5,218,000 relates to regular appropriations and $6,298,750 is for appropriations of special funds. There is a decrease of $2,838,160 as compared with the fiscal year 1940.

The estimate of $510,000 submitted for salaries and expenses is the same as the amount appropriated for the fiscal year 1940. The estimate of $8,000 for printing and binding is $400 less than the amount appropriated for 1940, due to nonrecurring printing requirements.

The estimate of $4,700,000 for the employees' compensation fund is an increase of $200,000 above that provided in 1940. The additional amount is needed because of the increase in disability and compensation cases resulting from expanded Government personnel.

The estimate of $194,750 for the employees' compensation fund, Civil Works, is decreased by $14,120 due to an anticipated decrease in disability compensation, medical treatment, and administrative expenses.

The estimate of $679,000 for the employees' compensation fund, Emergency Conservation Work, is increased $1,360 for administration because of the increase in number of beneficiaries.

The estimate of $5,425,000 for the employees' compensation fund, Emergency Relief, is increased by $2,225,000 over the fiscal year 1940. The increase is due to the expansion of the relief rolls during the fiscal year 1939.

In the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1939, the Commission received an appropriation of $5,250,000 for carrying out the provisions of the Act of February 15, 1934, as amended.

There is an increase of $250 shown in the permanent appropriation (trust account) for relief and rehabilitation, Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act, due to an increase in the 1941 estimate of the amount which it is anticipated will be received and invested during the fiscal year 1941.

Federal Communications Commission

The estimate of $2,125,000 for the Federal Communications Commission for the fiscal year 1941 represents an increase of $286,825 over the appropriation for the fiscal year 1940. The increase of $300,000 for salaries and expenses will provide for modernizing existing monitoring stations, more adequate preparation of cases relating to issuance of licenses, checking interferences, including amateur operations, expansion of the administrative division, and for a small section to maintain the records and perform the necessary clerical work for the Interdepartment Radio Advisory Committee. The increase is offset by a reduction of $13,175 in the amount allowed in 1940 for the special study of radio requirements necessary for ships navigating the Great Lakes and inland waters of the United States, which study will be completed by December 31, 1939.

Federal Power Commission

The estimates of appropriations for the Federal Power Commission for 1941 amount to $2,506,375, which is $232,700 less than the appropriations for 1940. The decrease consists of a reduction in the appropriation for the regular work of the Commission under the Federal Power Act and Natural Gas Act in the amount of $95,000; of $100,000 for flood control surveys, under the provisions of the Flood Control Act; and $39,500 in printing and binding, which decreases are offset by an increase of $1,800 representing mandatory payments to States from the proceeds of special license fees collected in accordance with the Federal Power Act.

Federal Trade Commission

The estimates for the Commission for 1941 total $2,300,000, which is $24,000 less than the amount appropriated for 1940. The estimates provide increases of $8,000 for administration and $21,720 for trade practice agreements, which increases are offset by reductions of $14,120 for unlawful practice work, and $39,600 for special investigations. For special investigations, $150,000 is provided in the estimate.

Foreign Service Pay Adjustment

The estimate for the fiscal year 1941 of $1,280,000 is a decrease of $120,000 below the appropriation for the fiscal year 1940. This decrease is predicated on Executive Order No. 8261, dated September 21, 1939, which materially reduces the exchange appreciation costs allowable to Navy personnel on vessels stationed in foreign waters. Also, Executive Order No. 8269, dated October 11, 1939, establishes new basic rates of exchange, which, when compared with current exchange rates, substantially reduces the number of countries in which exchange relief is paid, as well as the amount paid in these countries.

General Accounting Office

The estimate of $5,306,540 for the General Accounting Office is the same as the amount appropriated for the fiscal year 1940, exclusive of trust accounts. The General Accounting Office will also require additional emergency funds for the disposition during the fiscal year 1941 of its work on account of the emergency relief programs. In addition, the expenditures from the trust account "Wages of employees of contractors, act of August 30, 1935" are estimated at $2,000, an increase of $1,000 over the fiscal year 1940.

General Anthony Wayne Memorial Commission

Under authority of a joint resolution, approved August 19, 1937 (50 Stat. 695–696), there was established a Commission to formulate plans for the construction of a permanent memorial to the memory of Gen. Anthony Wayne in the city of Fort Wayne, Ind. The act authorized an appropriation of $2,500 to defray the expenses of the Commission, of which $1,500 was appropriated.

Interstate Commerce Commission

The estimates for the Interstate Commerce Commission, which amount to $9,098,710, provide for an increase of $150,710 over the appropriations for 1940. The increases consist of $50,500 for general administrative expenses to provide for carrying Executive Order No. 7916 into effect and for full-time employment of additional employees provided for on a part-time basis in 1940 for the Bureau of Statistics; $24,810 for signal safety systems to provide for the salary and travel expenses of four additional inspectors; $2,000 for additional travel of inspectors in the Bureau of Locomotive Inspection; $8,400 for the Bureau of Valuation, and $40,000 for the Bureau of Motor Carriers in order to provide for small increases in the field staff, for increased travel and other costs. For printing and binding an additional $25,000 is provided for three additional volumes of Motor Carrier Decisions, two volumes pertaining to rates and finance, and for accounting regulations, safety regulations, and other printing.

Maritime Labor Board

The estimates for the Maritime Labor Board for 1941, amounting to $175,000, represent a decrease of $15,000 under the appropriations for 1940. The Board was established by the act of June 23, 1938, for a period of 3 years, and will, therefore, expire on June 22, 1941. In accordance with the act cited, the Board will submit to the President and to the Congress on or before March 1, 1940, a comprehensive plan for the establishment of a permanent Federal policy for the amicable adjustment of disputes between maritime employers and employees and for stabilization of maritime labor relations. With the final printing of their report, the requirements of the Board for the fiscal year 1941 should not exceed the $175,000 provided in the estimates.

National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics

For salaries and expenses $2,775,000 is provided for the fiscal year 1941, an increase of $948,980 over the amount appropriated for the fiscal year 1940. The increase will provide additional personnel and equipment incident to the operation of new facilities, and for training employees for the new laboratory at Sunnyvale, Calif., and also enable the Committee to accelerate its research program in connection with civil and military aeronautics. An additional amount of $2,000 is allowed for printing technical papers on fundamental research. Estimates totaling $5,200,000 are included under "General Public Works Program" to provide for additional facilities at Langley Field, Va., and for construction at the new research center at Moffett Field (Sunnyvale), Calif., as authorized in the Third Deficiency Appropriation Act, fiscal year 1939.

National Archives

The estimates of $925,000 for The National Archives show an increase of $61,000 over the amount appropriated for the fiscal year 1940. $15,700 of the increase will provide for personnel and supplies for the Franklin D. Roosevelt Library as authorized by the Act of July 18, 1939, and $45,300 for additional personnel and other expenses to handle the increased accessions of the Archives.

National Capital Park and Planning Commission

The estimate of $850,000 for 1941 will provide for the continuance of the program of land acquisition for the park, parkway, and playground system in the District of Columbia, as authorized by the Capper-Crampton Act of May 29, 1930. This act provided a total authorization of $16,000,000 for these purposes. Including the 1941 estimate there will have been provided $8,328,700 under the Capper-Crampton Act. The 1941 estimate is contemplated to complete 11 park and playground projects and to continue 4 projects not yet brought to the completion stage. It represents a decrease of $300,000 below the 1940 appropriation.

National Labor Relations Board

The estimates for the National Labor Relations Board for the fiscal year 1941 amount to $3,180,000, of which $3,030,000 is for salaries and general administrative expenses of the Board and $150,000 for printing and binding. The estimates are $9,600 less than the amounts appropriated for the fiscal year 1940.

National Mediation Board

The estimate of $371,610 for the National Mediation Board for the fiscal year 1941 shows a decrease of $8,320 under the total appropriation of $379,930 for the fiscal year 1940. This is represented by an increase of $1,680 for salaries and expenses of the National Railroad Adjustment Board, and a decrease of $10,000 in the printing fund for that Board.

One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Anniversary of the Writing of the Star-Spangled Banner

Under authority of a joint resolution, approved August 5, 1939 (53 Stat. 1214–1215), there was established a Commission to provide for the participation by the United States in the celebration of the one hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary of the writing of the Star-Spangled Banner to be held at Fort McHenry on September 14, 1939. The act authorized $5,000, the full amount of which was appropriated.

Protection of Interests of the United States in Matters Affecting Oil Lands in Former Naval Reserves

The estimate of $25,850 is $650 less than the amount appropriated for the fiscal year 1940, due to a reduction in miscellaneous expenses.

Railroad Retirement Board

The estimate of $2,543,777 for the general expenses of the Board for administration of the Railroad Retirement Act is $656,223 less than the amount appropriated in 1940. $450,000 included in the 1940 appropriation for supervision of a project for obtaining prior service records of covered employees is nonrecurring in 1941, due to the abandonment of this project. The additional decrease in general expenses of $206,223 represents reduction to correspond with the reduced volume of claims expected in 1941.

For printing and binding, the estimate of $50,000 is $4,000 less than appropriated in 1940, due to elimination of forms for the prior service project.

For the railroad retirement appropriated account, the amount appropriated represents the amount required for benefit payments and investments under the act of June 29, 1937.

For the railroad unemployment insurance administration fund, the estimate of $10,250,000 represents (1) estimate of 10 percent of contributions under the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act and (2) estimate of balances of amounts collected during 1936, 1937, 1938, and 1939, under title IX of the Social Security Act.

Securities and Exchange Commission

The estimate of $5,400,000, exclusive of the trust account, for the Commission for the fiscal year 1941 is $70,000 less than the amount appropriated for the fiscal year 1940.

Smithsonian Institution

The estimates aggregating $1,540,000 for the Smithsonian Institution are $7,420 less than the total appropriated for the fiscal year 1940. Increases of $31,740 for general expenses, $5,880 for preservation of collections, and $224,960 for the National Gallery of Art, are offset by a nonrecurring item of $270,000 for installation of an alternating electric current system in the buildings of the Institution. The increase for general administrative expenses will provide for sewer replacements, repairs to roof of the Freer Art Gallery, and a compensating transfer, in the amount of $3,830, of personnel from the appropriation for preservation of collections, the latter being an adjustment to facilitate administrative operations. The increase for preservation of collections, inclusive of the compensating transfer above mentioned, will provide for an increase in the char force. The increase of $224,960 for the National Gallery of Art will provide funds for personnel and other expenses necessary because of the opening of the Gallery to the public.

Temporary National Economic Committee

No estimate is submitted for 1941, as it is expected that the Committee will complete its work and make its report to Congress in April 1940. To date, appropriations totaling $1,010,000 have been made to the committee.

Thomas Jefferson Memorial Commission

The act of June 3, 1936, authorized an appropriation of $3,000,000 for construction of a permanent memorial to the memory of Thomas Jefferson. $2,520,000 has already been appropriated. The estimate of $480,000 is the balance of the amount authorized for the construction of the memorial.

United States Constitution Sesquicentennial Commission

Under authority of a joint resolution approved August 23, 1935 (49 Stat. 735), there was authorized to be created a commission to plan for the celebration of the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the drafting of the Constitution of the United States, and for the fiscal year 1940, $15,000 was appropriated for its expenses.

United States Coronado Exposition Commission

Under authority of Public, No. 186, approved July 17, 1939 (53 Stat. 1047–1048), there was established a Commission to provide for the participation of the United States in the commemoration and observance of the four-hundredth anniversary of the explorations in the States of New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado, Texas, Oklahoma, and Kansas by Francisco Vasquez de Coronado. The act authorized $250,000 for the expenses of the Commission of which $200,000 was appropriated.

United States Tariff Commission

In the estimates for 1941, $905,000 for general administrative expenses and $15,000 for printing and binding, there is a decrease of $7,000 below the amounts appropriated for 1940.

United States Maritime Commission

The estimate of $200,000,000 is an increase of $100,000,000 over the amount appropriated for the fiscal year 1940. The increase is largely due to the expansion in the Commission's construction program, the payment of additional operating subsidies and the increased number of trainees to be carried in the maritime training program. An additional contract authorization of $150,000,000 is also provided in the estimates in order to permit the Commission to continue an orderly construction program.

VETERANS' ADMINISTRATION

The estimates for the Veterans' Administration for the fiscal year 1941, exclusive of trust funds and funds for public works, amount to $578,475,544, compared with appropriations of $557,078,000 for the fiscal year 1940, an increase of $21,397,544.

Under the estimate for salaries and expenses, which provides for all administrative and operating activities of the Veterans' Administration in Washington and in the field, $101,863,240 is requested for the fiscal year 1941, an increase of $4,863,240 over the amount of $97,000,000 appropriated in 1940. This increase is made up of $3,458,606 for compensation for personal services, $1,007,552 for other obligations, including supplies and materials, and $397,082 in the amount to be transferred to other agencies of the Government as reimbursements for services rendered to the Veterans' Administration.

The increase in the estimated expenditures for personal services from $61,076,812 to $64,535,418 and for supplies and materials from $16,851,390 to $17,990,640 is caused chiefly by the anticipated increase in the number of beds and facilities under the Veterans' Administration to be utilized in 1941 as compared with 1940. It is estimated that an average number of 82,527 beds will be in operation during 1941, an increase of 5,366 beds over the 77,161 during 1940.

The estimate for monthly compensation and pension payments is $456,492,304, which is $24,429,304 in excess of the amount appropriated for the fiscal year 1940. The appropriation for 1940 will fall short of meeting the obligations accruing during that year by $13,659,304 and it is necessary to provide this amount in the estimate for 1941 to meet payments to be made during 1940. The remainder of the increase, or $10,770,000 is required for 1941 payments.

The amount for military and naval insurance provided for 1941 is $20,000,000, or a reduction of $6,791,000 below the appropriation for 1940. This reduction is based upon the continued reduction in the payments to be made under the old war-risk term-insurance contracts.

No estimate is submitted for adjusted-service and dependent pay, as the appropriation of $1,104,000 made for 1940 will continue available for expenditure during 1941 and will be sufficient to meet the anticipated requirements.

Under trust funds there is a decrease of $1,635,000 in the United States Government life-insurance fund, and of $168,000 in the adjusted-service certificate fund.

FEDERAL LOAN AGENCY

This Agency was created under the authority of the Reorganization Act of 1939 to supervise and coordinate the functions of the lending agencies which had been established from time to time for the purpose of stimulating and stabilizing the financial, commercial, and industrial enterprises of the Nation. Effective July 1, 1939, the Electric Home and Farm Authority, Export-Import Bank of Washington, Federal Home Loan Bank Board, Federal Housing Administration, Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, Home Owners' Loan Corporation, and Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with their associated agencies and boards were placed under the direction of the new Federal Loan Agency.

The funds of the Federal Loan Agency for 1940 were allocated to it from the funds made available for administrative expenses of the agencies under its supervision, and funds for the administrative expenses of the Agency in 1941 will be allocated in like manner.

The administrative expenses of these subordinate agencies, except in the case of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, are made available from funds of the individual corporations and not appropriated out of the Treasury. In the case of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board administrative expenses are appropriated from a special fund on the books of the Treasury made up of assessments against member and nonmember institutions, Federal home loan banks, Home Owners' Loan Corporation, and the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

The estimate of $200,000 for salaries and expenses for the Federal Loan Agency for 1941 is $100,000 more than the amount made available for 1940. The amount recommended is to provide for the increased supervision which it is expected the Agency will exercise during 1941.

Electric Home and Farm Authority

The estimate of $600,000 is $100,000 in excess of the amount made available for the fiscal year 1940. The Authority has recently adopted a plan for the financing of gas appliances. The recommended allowance will permit operation in this field as well as a normal increase in the financing of electrical appliances.

Export-Import Bank of Washington

The estimate of $125,000 is an increase of $50,000 over the amount made available for 1940. The activity of the Bank has increased rapidly in the last few years. It is expected that by the end of 1941 loans and commitments will approach $100,000,000. The amount recommended is in line with the increased responsibility and activity of the Bank.

Federal Home Loan Bank Board

The Board has under its general supervision the 12 Federal home loan banks, the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, and the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, and performs a service in the field of home mortgage credit similar to that of the Federal Reserve System in the field of commercial banking. The amount included for administrative expenses for 1941 is $1,350,000 or $50,000 less than that made available in 1940. The assets and membership of the home loan bank system are steadily increasing. The actual expenditures in 1939 amounted to $1,320,000 and it is believed the amount allowed will be sufficient to permit the Board to perform its increasing functions of supervision and guidance during the fiscal year 1941.

Federal Housing Administration

The estimate for salaries and expenses for 1941 is $13,300,000, all of which will be paid from the funds of the Administration. This compares with $13,800,000 made available in 1940, of which $10,300,000 was from the funds of the Administration and $3,500,000 from funds allotted from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. The amount recommended for 1941 reflects the decreased volume of rental housing being performed under section 207 of the Housing Act, as amended. Other activities of the Administration are continuing at about their present level.

The amount included for 1941 for renovation and modernization loans and insurance fund which is available for the payment of losses under title I insurance, is $5,000,000, of which $3,000,000 will be paid from the funds of the Federal Housing Administration and $2,000,000 from funds allotted from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. This compares with $7,000,000 in 1940, all of which was allotted from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation

The 1941 estimate of $300,000 is the same amount provided for 1940. The number of insured institutions and the amount of their assets in 1941 will exceed comparable figures for 1940. It is believed the Corporation can expand its administrative forces within the amount allowed to properly care for this increased responsibility.

Home Owners' Loan Corporation

The Home Owners' Loan Corporation was created in 1933 to provide home mortgage relief to distressed home owners. The Corporation ceased lending on June 13, 1936, and since that time its principal functions have been the collection of outstanding loans and the management and disposal of the real estate it has acquired by foreclosure.

The estimate of $22,000,000 for the fiscal year 1941 is $2,500,000 less than the amount provided for the fiscal year 1940. The decrease is due to a reduction in the number of foreclosed properties held by the Corporation and an improvement in the condition of the accounts outstanding.

Reconstruction Finance Corporation

The 1941 estimate of $9,250,000 for administrative expenses is the same as the amount appropriated for 1940. Indications are that the work load of the Corporation will continue at approximately its present level through the year 1941.

FEDERAL SECURITY AGENCY

The Federal Security Agency was established July 1, 1939, by authority of the Reorganization Act of 1939, and pursuant to the first plan on Government reorganization thereunder, to bring together in one group those agencies of the Government, the major purposes of which are to promote social and economic security, educational opportunity, and the health of the citizens of the Nation.

The agencies thus grouped were the Social Security Board, formerly an independent establishment, the United States Employment Service, transferred from the Department of Labor, the Office of Education, transferred from the Department of the Interior, the Public Health Service, transferred from the Treasury Department, the National Youth Administration, formerly a unit of the Works Progress Administration, and the Civilian Conservation Corps, theretofore an independent agency.

Under the second plan on Government reorganization, also effective July 1, 1939, the Radio Division and the United States Film Service, formerly units of the National Emergency Council, were transferred to the Federal Security Agency for administration in the Office of Education, and Government participation in the work of the American Printing House for the Blind, except fiscal functions relating to trust funds, was also transferred to this new agency from the Treasury Department.

The estimates for the Federal Security Agency for the fiscal year 1941 amount to $808,264,688, exclusive of trust accounts. This represents a decrease of $14,211,612 from the amounts shown as appropriated for the various constituent agencies for 1940. (Amounts shown as appropriated for 1940 are the actual appropriations adjusted on account of transfers made pursuant to the Reorganization Act of 1939 and Reorganization Plans No. I and No. II.) This decrease includes $320,000 of emergency relief funds appropriated for administrative expenses in 1940 and not estimated for 1941.

The estimate of $1,500,000 for the Office of the Administrator represents an increase of $1,344,040 over the amount currently available to this office through transfers from the constituent agencies. The increase consists entirely of transfer of the functions of general counsel, personnel, and printing and duplicating from the constituent agencies to the Administrator's office. It is expected that these transfers will take place prior to the close of the fiscal year 1940.

The estimate of $1,161,805 for printing and binding represents an increase of $117,455 over the amount shown as appropriated for 1940. The 1940 amount, however, is exclusive of transfers of $101,305 from the Treasury Department for the printing requirements of the Public Health Service, and $53,000 from the Department of the Interior for the Office of Education. Actually, the estimate for 1941 is $36,850 less than the amount available to the constituent agencies for printing and binding in the fiscal year 1940.

The estimate of $230,000,000 for the Civilian Conservation Corps represents a decrease of $64,955,000 from the amount shown as appropriated in 1940 and provides for the operation of 1,227 continental camps with a maximum strength of 245,400 in 1941 as against 1,500 continental camps with maximum strength of approximately 300,000 for 1940. Average daily continental enrollees are estimated at 221,000 for 1941 as against an average of 270,000 for 1940.

For the National Youth Administration an estimate of $85,000,000 is included. For the past several years funds for this agency have been provided in the relief appropriations. The amount included in the estimate for the fiscal year 1941 is $14,979,240 less than the amount shown as appropriated for the fiscal year 1940. The amount included in the estimate will provide assistance for an average of approximately 600,000 youths per month.

The estimates of the Office of Education for 1941 amount to $28,545,380, of which $9,550,000 is in permanent appropriations and $18,995,380 is in annual appropriations. This represents a decrease of $162,000 from the amounts shown as appropriated in 1940, in addition to a decrease of $20,000 on account of emergency-relief funds appropriated for administrative expenses in 1940 and not estimated in 1941. The principal decrease is in the appropriation for further development of vocational education. This estimate, consisting of grants to States contingent upon State matching, amounts to $12,750,000, a decrease of $1,000,000 from the amount appropriated in 1940. A decrease of $15,000 results from the elimination of the appropriation for cooperative vocational rehabilitation of persons disabled in industry in Puerto Rico by inclusion in cooperative vocational rehabilitation of persons disabled in industry, following the amendment to the Social Security Act of August 10, 1939. Nonrecurring items and other miscellaneous decreases, including $53,000 transferred to printing and binding, Federal Security Agency, aggregate $74,900. These decreases are in part offset by the following increases: A new appropriation of $40,000 for educational radio service to provide a central service agency for all Government agencies using the radio, replacing an appropriation of $20,000 made from emergency funds in 1940 to the Office of Government Reports and transferred to the Office of Education; a new appropriation of $106,400 for salaries and expenses, Film Service, to provide for a central film service sufficient for coordinating the film work of departments and agencies, including examination of contracts, maintenance of a film library and supervision of distribution, and on a reimbursement basis for actual production, if undertaken for departments and agencies; a new appropriation of $72,000 for public-service training to enable the Office of Education to participate in the general training program, as provided for in section 8 of Executive Order No. 7916; $700,000 increase over the appropriation in 1940 for cooperative vocational rehabilitation of persons disabled in industry, following the increase in authorization from $1,938,000 to $3,500,000 provided in the amendment to title V, part 4, section 531 (a) of the Social Security Act of August 10, 1939; $1,500 increase in salaries and expenses, vocational rehabilitation; miscellaneous increases, $8,000.

The estimates of $30,087,791 for the Public Health Service represent an increase of $883,861 over the amounts shown as appropriated for 1940. A decrease of $300,000 is shown on account of emergency relief funds appropriated for administrative expenses in 1940 and not estimated in 1941. The increase is made up of the following: $102,946 for pay, etc., commissioned officers, including $64,975 required for automatic promotions and retirements, $11,264 for full-year basis for 5 assistant surgeons added for domestic quarantine in 1940 and 6 assistant surgeons added for the new Boston Marine Hospital in 1940, $31,608 for 7 additional surgeons for the extension to the new marine hospital at Staten Island, N. Y., and 6 additional assistant surgeons for the new extension to the Lexington, Ky., Narcotic Hospital, and $31,580 for 10 additional assistant surgeons to be provided on a reimbursement basis for penal institutions in the Department of Justice, all less $36,481 for increased reimbursements; $43,240 for personnel required for maintenance of 5 newly completed buildings of the National Institute of Health at Bethesda, Md.; $1,050,722 for pay of personnel and maintenance of hospitals, of which $398,025 is to establish a 44-hour week for certain personnel in Public Health Service hospitals and $652,697 to provide principally for personal services and other obligations in connection with establishing the new marine hospital at Boston on a full-year basis, for the 305-bed extension to the Staten Island Marine Hospital, and for operation of the new bed extension for the Cancer Treatment Center at the Baltimore Marine Hospital, all decreased by nonrecurring items of $162,894; $401,465 for the Division of Mental Hygiene for full-year operation of the new narcotic hospital at Fort Worth, Tex., and for partial-year operation in 1941 of the new extensions to provide for 450 added patients in the narcotic hospital at Lexington, Ky., all less $26,230 of nonrecurring items; $1,500,000 for grants to States for Public Health work; $79,346 for preventing the spread of epidemic diseases; for disease and sanitation investigations $18,526; other miscellaneous increases $34,030. There are decreases of $2,000,000 in expenses, Division of Venereal Diseases; $49,700 in Office of Surgeon General due to transfer of personnel to office of the Administrator; $101,305 due to transfer of printing and binding and stationery to printing and binding, Federal Security Agency; and other miscellaneous decreases $6,285.

The estimates of the Social Security Board for 1941 amount to $431,854,712, an increase of $63,859,272 over the amounts shown as appropriated in 1940. The increase in salaries and expenses of $2,539,272 is due largely to the added requirements for handling the increased load under the old-age and survivors insurance program as provided in the amendment to the Social Security Act of August 10, 1939. Other increases are in grants to States as follows: For old-age assistance, $30,000,000; for aid to dependent children, $30,000,000; for aid to the blind, $2,000,000. Offsetting decreases are $480,000 in grants to States for operation of public employment offices, and $200,000 in grants to States for unemployment compensation administration.

Trust accounts.—The total estimate for trust accounts of $5,090,573 represents a decrease of $186,800 from the appropriations in 1940. This item of decrease consists of a transfer of the trust fund for the District of Columbia Employment Center to salaries and expenses, Social Security Board.

FEDERAL WORKS AGENCY

Under the first plan on Government reorganization, pursuant to the Reorganization Act of 1939, those agencies of the Federal Government dealing with public works not incidental to the normal work of other departments, and which administer Federal grants or loans to State and local governments or other agencies for the purpose of construction, were grouped and consolidated, effective July 1, 1939, under a Federal Works Agency and in some cases were renamed.

The agencies so grouped were: The Bureau of Public Roads, in the Department of Agriculture; the Public Buildings Branch of the Procurement Division, in the Treasury Department; and the Branch of Building Management of the National Park Service (so far as it was concerned with public buildings which it operated for other departments or agencies), in the Department of the Interior; the United States Housing Authority, in the Department of the Interior; the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works (familiarly known as P. W. A.); and the Works Progress Administration (familiarly known as W. P. A.) except the functions of the National Youth Administration.

The Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works was given a shorter name "Public Works Administration," the name of the Works Progress Administration was changed to "Work Projects Administration," the Bureau of Public Roads was renamed "Public Roads Administration," a new name "Public Buildings Administration" was given to the agency which operates and constructs public buildings, and the name of the United States Housing Authority remained unchanged.

Exclusive of items included in the General Public Works Program, the 1941 Budget estimates for the new Federal Works Agency provide the following:

For the Office of the Administrator, $250,000, to enable the Administrator to operate for a full year with the staff which is being recruited during the current fiscal year. This is an increase of $24,000 over the amount which was made available to this office in 1940 from funds transferred or allocated from the subordinate units of the Federal Works Agency.

For the Public Buildings Administration, $16,040,560, an increase over 1940 of $1,443,000. The chief items of increase are: $244,000 for repair and preservation of new structures which have come into occupancy during the last 4 years; $190,000 for furniture and furnishings for the New York Customhouse; $790,000 for maintenance of newly acquired space, including maintenance for 6 months of the Social Security Board and Railroad Retirement Board Buildings, and for a full year's maintenance of the general office building to be occupied by the Bureau of the Census early in the calendar year 1940; $219,000 for rent of additional space to provide for the expansion of activities of certain agencies, and other miscellaneous items.

For the Public Works Administration, $3,610,000 for administrative expenses from funds available to the Administration. Its needs in 1941 are less than 20 percent of the amount which was available for administrative expenses in 1940. Unless a new program is authorized and additional funds are appropriated, this agency will be in process of liquidation in 1941.

For the United States Housing Authority, $4,550,000 for administrative expenses is made available from the funds of the Authority. This amount, which is an increase of $50,000 over 1940, is in effect an increase in availability of $275,000 considering that of the $4,500,000 for the current year, $225,000 was placed in reserve. During 1941 the construction phase of the Authority's program will reach its peak and the number of completed projects being placed under management will increase rapidly.

For the United States Housing Authority $15,000,000 will be required out of the general fund of the Treasury, for the payment of annual contributions to public housing agencies in accordance with section 10 of the United States Housing Authority Act of 1937, as amended. This amount, an increase of $10,000,000 over 1940, is predicated upon the number of projects which it is estimated will have been completed and be eligible for annual contributions on or before June 30, 1941. The maximum amount authorized by Congress for such contributions is $28,000,000 per annum.

GENERAL PUBLIC WORKS PROGRAM

The estimates of appropriations for the General Public Works Program for 1941 amount to $498,583,938 as compared with appropriations of $756,715,508 for 1940, a decrease of $258,131,570. This program includes the items of public construction, such as Federal highways, river and harbor improvements, flood-control and reclamation projects, buildings at Army posts and naval shore stations, and other structures of various kinds, but does not include funds provided elsewhere in this Budget for construction of battleships and other vessels, and the purchase or construction of airplanes and other military and naval armament.

National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, Public Works

There is submitted for the Committee an estimate of $5,200,000, of which $1,000,000 is to provide for the construction of facilities at Langley Field, Va., and $4,200,000 to provide for continued construction at the new research center at Moffett Field (Sunnyvale), Calif., as authorized in the Third Deficiency Act, fiscal year 1939.

Tennessee Valley Authority, Public Works

There is included in the 1941 Budget $40,000,000, or $997,000 more than the amount appropriated for the fiscal year 1940. This will enable the Authority to retain its skilled construction crews and to carry on operations in a manner which will permit the most economical use of its construction equipment.

The financing of the Authority's programs is not limited to annual appropriations. Other funds are derived from power revenues, the sale of fertilizer, proceeds of bond sales, reappropriated balances of earlier appropriations, and miscellaneous receipts. The means of financing the various programs of the Authority appear in the Annexed Budget.

Veterans' Administration, Public Works

The amount provided in 1941 for hospital and domiciliary facilities and services, is $2,165,000 and includes additions to 3 hospitals and major improvements at 16 other facilities.

Federal Works Agency, Public Works

The estimates for 1941 for public works under the Federal Works Agency total $171,220,000. Of this amount, $146,000,000 is for the Public Roads Administration and $25,220,000 is for the Public Buildings Administration. For similar purposes in 1940 there were appropriated $191,000,000 for public roads in items appearing in the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, and $45,800,000 for public buildings in items appearing in the Treasury-Post Office Appropriation Act. Included in the Public Roads Administration estimates for 1941 are $100,000,000 authorized to be appropriated for the fiscal year 1940 for the Federal-aid highway system; $15,000,000 authorized to be appropriated for the fiscal year 1940 for Federal-aid secondary or feeder roads; $30,000,000, of which $10,000,000 was authorized to be appropriated for the fiscal year 1939, and $20,000,000 for the fiscal year 1940, for elimination of grade crossings, and $1,000,000, part of the amount authorized for the fiscal year 1941, for highways across nontaxed Indian lands, public domain, and other areas under the control of the United States. Included in the Public Buildings Administration estimates for 1941 are $15,000,000 for the continuation of construction of public buildings outside the District of Columbia; $3,250,000 for the completion of the Social Security Board and Railroad Retirement Board Buildings; $2,000,000 for continuation of the construction of the first unit of the War Department Building, and $4,970,000 for the acquisition of sites and beginning the construction of public buildings in the District of Columbia as follows:

	Limit of cost	Amount included in 1941 Budget
1. General Accounting Office Building	[1] $9,850,000
2. Federal office building	8,550,000	$1,750,000
3. Extension and remodeling, Bureau of Economics Building	1,600,000	800,000
4. West central heating plant	3,900,000	500,000
5. Land for State Department annex building	920,000	920,000
6. Land within the areas prescribed by the act of May 25, 1926, as amended	1,000,000	1,000,000
Total		4,970,000

[1] The General Accounting Office Building is in lieu of the previous authorization, at a limit of cost of $4,700,000, for the remodeling and addition of two wings to the old Pension Office, at present occupied by the General Accounting Office. An appropriation of $2,000,000 was made partially to finance this project.

Department of Agriculture, Public Works

For the Department of Agriculture the appropriation estimates for public works present two items: National forest roads and trails, $10,000,000, and the Weather Bureau Building, $250,000; total $10,250,000. The item for national forest roads entirely exhausts the 1940 authorization provided in the Act of June 8, 1938, and $3,000,000 of the 1941 authorization. The Weather Bureau item contemplates the construction of the second unit of a three-unit building to house, at a total cost of $815,000, the entire Weather Bureau establishment in the District of Columbia. For the first unit of this building $250,000 was provided in the 1940 Budget and appropriation act.

Department of the Interior, Public Works

The estimates for 1941 for public works under the Department of the Interior amount to $59,394,750 as compared with appropriations for 1940 of $89,852,000, or a decrease of $30,457,250 under the amount provided for the current fiscal year.

For the continuation of the construction of the power distribution system, Bonneville project, Oregon, $6,000,000 will be required. This amount, together with balances of previous appropriations, should permit the orderly construction of distribution facilities to areas where power purchase contracts have been or may be negotiated.

For the Bureau of Indian Affairs, $750,000 is provided toward the completion of construction of the Headgate Rock Dam, Colorado River Reservation, Ariz.; $500,000 is provided to meet obligations resulting from the contractual authority contained in the 1940 Interior Department Appropriation Act for the construction of the Willow Creek Dam on the Crow Reservation, Mont.; $275,000 is included for the continuation of construction on the Flathead Reservation in Montana; and $640,000 is provided to permit the continuation of construction on miscellaneous units of irrigation systems on Indian reservations. The estimates also include $2,000,000 for the construction, repair, and maintenance of roads on Indian reservations under the authority contained in section 9 of the act of June 8, 1938 ($250,000 less than the current appropriation), and $967,000 for the construction of miscellaneous buildings and utilities. The latter amount includes $500,000 for beginning the reconstruction, at an estimated cost of $1,366,000, of the Indian Sanatorium located at Tacoma, Wash. Approximately $228,000 of the total cost is to acquire from the Puyallup Tribe of Indians title to the land and improvements now constituting this institution.

The estimates for the Bureau of Reclamation total $44,097,000 or $12,126,000 less than the appropriations for the current fiscal year. These estimates do not provide for the beginning of any new projects but contemplate the continuation of construction, including administrative expenses, of projects already under way. From the reclamation fund $6,897,000 will be required for the following projects in the following amounts:

Colorado-Big Thompson project, Colorado	$2,000,000
Pine River project, Colorado	200,000
Uncompahgre project, Colorado	75,000
Boise project, Payette division, Idaho	700,000
Sun River project, Montana	50,000
Carlsbad project, New Mexico	$50,000
Rio Grande project, New Mexico-Texas	72,000
Deschutes project, Oregon	400,000
Provo River project, Utah	750,000
Yakima project, Washington, Roza division	500,000
Kendrick project, Wyoming	500,000
Riverton project, Wyoming	200,000
Shoshone project, Wyoming, Heart Mountain division	350,000
General investigations	300,000
Administrative expenses	750,000

For continuation of construction of projects to be financed from the general fund of the Treasury there is included $37,200,000 as follows:

Boulder Canyon project, Nevada-Arizona	$4,000,000
All-American Canal project, California, including the Coachella Main Canal	1,000,000
Parker Dam power project, Arizona-California	3,500,000
Central Valley project, California	16,000,000
Grand Coulee project, Washington	12,000,000
Administrative expenses	700,000

The estimates for the National Park Service for 1941 include $2,000,000 for the construction of roads and trails under the authority of section 7 of the act of June 8, 1938; $2,000,000 for the continuation of work on the Blue Ridge and Natchez Trace Parkways under authority of section 8 of the same act, and $165,750 for the construction of physical improvements in areas under the direction of the National Park Service. These projects consist principally of improvements to sanitary facilities and utility services. The total estimate for the National Park Service is $4,165,750, a decrease of $3,834,250 under the appropriations for the current year.

Department of Justice, Public Works

The appropriations for public works under the Department of Justice for the fiscal year 1940 amounted to $1,107,300, and the estimates of appropriations for the fiscal year 1941 total $452,000, representing a decrease of $655,300. There are, however, nonrecurring items in 1940 in the amount of $1,058,700 consisting of $850,000 for completing the construction of the women's reformatory at Dallas, Tex., and $208,700 for buildings and equipment at the National Training School for Boys, Washington, D. C., thus providing a gross increase for 1941 of $403,400.

The 1941 estimates include $100,000 for construction and repair at the United States Penitentiary, McNeil Island, Wash., of which $51,400 is for extension of existing facilities and $48,600 for continuing the development of the island area; and $352,000 for extension of existing facilities at the other penal and correctional institutions.

Navy Department, Public Works

The appropriation under the heading of "Public Works, Bureau of Yards and Docks," for 1940, amounted to $57,398,550. The estimates for such purposes for 1941 amount to $50,000,000, a decrease of $7,398,550. Of the 1941 amount of $50,000,000, the sum of $36,015,500 will be required to continue or complete during that year work on projects which will be uncompleted on June 30, 1940, and $13,984,500 will be required for work on other projects specifically authorized in the estimates to be commenced during 1941. Major projects to be undertaken during 1941 are as follows: Continuing the development of the naval air station at Alameda, Calif.; improvement of harbors and channels, fourteenth naval district; development of aviation facilities, Pacific bases; provide facilities for commissioning reserve submarines at the submarine base, New London, Conn.; drydock facilities, San Francisco Bay; submarine barracks and mess hall, Navy Yard, Portsmouth, N. H.; construction of buildings, roads, walks, and seawall, fleet air base and submarine base, Coco Solo, Canal Zone; industrial shops, Navy Yard, Pearl Harbor; pier and accessories, naval Ammunition Depot, Puget Sound; improvements of piers and quay walls, Navy Yard, Philadelphia; construction of buildings, Marine barracks, Parris Island, S. C.; improvement of the electric distributing system, naval operating base, Norfolk, Va.

Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis

Department of State, Public Works

The estimates of appropriations under the Department of State for the fiscal year 1941 amount to $2,000,000, compared with $2,075,000 appropriated for the fiscal year 1940, representing a decrease of $75,000. Nonrecurring projects in 1940 amount to $373,927, thus providing a gross increase for 1941 of $298,927.

The 1941 estimate provides $500,000 for public buildings for diplomatic and consular establishments abroad, a decrease of $250,000; $1,000,000 for continuing the work on the lower Rio Grande flood-control project, an increase of $200,000; and $500,000 to continue the control and canalization of the Rio Grande, the same amount that was provided in 1940.

War Department, Public Works

For the War Department there is included a total of $157,902,188, of which $29,502,188 pertains to military activities and $128,400,000 to nonmilitary activities of the Department.

The amount for military activities, $29,502,188, consists of $600,000 for the acquisition of a site and the procurement of a design for a new Army Medical Library and Museum building in the District of Columbia, $24,000,000 for the payment of obligations accruing under contracts authorized in the Military Appropriation Act, fiscal year 1940, for the construction of buildings, utilities, and appurtenances at military posts, and $4,902,188 to be applied toward additional construction of this character.

The amount for nonmilitary activities, $128,400,000, consists of $25,000,000 for the prosecution of such projects of improvement of rivers and harbors heretofore authorized by Congress as may be most desirable in the interests of commerce and navigation; $70,000,000 for prosecuting work of flood control on various rivers and waterways under the Omnibus Flood Control Act of June 22, 1936, as amended and supplemented by the Flood Control Acts of August 28, 1937, and June 28, 1938, including $1,500,000 for transfer to and expenditure by the Department of Agriculture for continuing the making of preliminary examinations and surveys for run-off and waterflow retardation and soil-erosion prevention on the watersheds of flood control projects; $30,000,000 for continuing flood control work on the Mississippi River and tributaries under the Mississippi River Flood Control Act of May 15, 1928, as amended and supplemented by the acts of June 15, 1936, and June 28, 1938; $600,000 for continuing flood-control work on the Sacramento River, Calif., in accordance with the provisions of the act of August 26, 1937; $2,000,000 for continuing the construction and installation of a hydroelectric power plant at Fort Peck Dam, Mont.; and $800,000 for completing the construction of a powerhouse and installation of six hydroelectric generating units at Bonneville Dam on the Columbia River, Oreg.

The amount of the 1941 estimates for public works under the War Department is $155,986,490 less than the amount appropriated for this purpose in 1940, and consists of decreases of $52,986,490 for construction of buildings, utilities, and appurtenances at military posts; $26,000,000 for river and harbor improvements; $63,000,000 for general flood control; $9,000,000 for Mississippi River flood control; and $6,200,000 for hydroelectric power plant at Bonneville Dam, Columbia River, Oreg.; and increases of $600,000 for flood control work on the Sacramento River, Calif., and $600,000 for acquisition of a site and procurement of a design for a new Army medical library and museum building in the District of Columbia.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Under Reorganization Plan No. I, approved by the President pursuant to the Reorganization Act of 1939, the Bureau of Public Roads was transferred, effective July 1, 1939, from the Department of Agriculture to the newly established Federal Works Agency, and the Farm Credit Administration, Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation, and Commodity Credit Corporation, formerly independent agencies, were placed within this Department. Under Reorganization Plan No. II, also effective July 1, 1939, the Foreign Agricultural Service was transferred from the Department of Agriculture to the Department of State, and the Bureau of Biological Survey to the Department of the Interior, while the formerly independent Rural Electrification Administration was transferred to the Department of Agriculture.

Exclusive of items in the General Public Works Program and of trust accounts, the Budget estimates for the Department of Agriculture as now constituted provide for direct appropriations in 1941 totaling $877,230,704, as against direct appropriations in 1940 for the same organization units of $1,274,095,967.11, a decrease for 1941 of $396,865,263.11. Reappropriations of unobligated balances and of collections of principal and interest on loans are contemplated for 1941 to the extent of $31,025,003 as against similar reappropriations for 1940 of $126,995,003, a decrease for 1941 of $95,970,000.

The total availability for 1941, direct appropriations plus reappropriations, is, therefore, $492,835,263.11 less than in 1940, the principal items of increase and decrease being accounted for as follows:

In the Office of the Secretary there is a decrease of $28,325. Completion of new buildings at the Beltsville Research Center is expected to result in release of rented space in the District of Columbia valued at $25,575, the remainder of the reduction, $2,750, being made in the item for miscellaneous expenses.

The increase of $37,720 for the Office of the Solicitor is wholly accounted for by transfers from other units of the Department, reductions in the same aggregate amount being made in the appropriations of those units.

In the Office of Information the item for salaries and expenses is reduced $25,960, involving retrenchment to that extent in general informational activities. Salaries and expenses of the library of the Department are similarly reduced in the sum of $2,970.

A total increase of $17,704 for the Office of Experiment Stations includes $1,454 for administration, and increases of $10,000 for Hawaii, $5,000 for Puerto Rico, and $1,250 for Alaska in the Federal grants for agricultural research authorized by the acts of May 16, 1928, March 4, 1931, and June 20, 1936, respectively.

For the activities of the Extension Service, which administers the Smith-Lever, Capper-Ketcham, Bankhead-Jones, and other acts providing grants to States, Hawaii, Alaska, and Puerto Rico for cooperative agricultural extension work, a net increase of $22,290 is provided. Grants to Alaska and Puerto Rico are increased $2,500 and $63,000, respectively, these increases being offset in major part by reductions in the estimates for administration, coordination of extension work, and extension information.

A total increase of $455,750 for the Weather Bureau is included to enable that Bureau to furnish map and forecast service on the four per day standard from additional key stations; expand and improve climatological service; establish a station on Swan Island in the West Indies; intensify river, flood, and forest-fire weather service; strengthen the meteorological service to aviation; and establish additional radiosonde stations for upper-air observations.

The estimates contemplate a reduction of $3,110,212 in the direct appropriations to the Bureau of Animal Industry. Unobligated balances to be reappropriated for 1941 are estimated at $4,005,000, the same sum as reappropriated for 1940. The estimate of direct appropriation for eradicating tuberculosis and Bang's disease is reduced in the sum of $2,979,820; that for eradicating cattle ticks, $134,330; for inspection and quarantine, $70,590; and for hog cholera control, $8,852. These decreases in estimates of direct appropriations are partially offset by increases of $74,160 in the item for meat inspection, $4,100 for diseases of animals, $1,980 for the Virus-Serum-Toxin Act, $1,800 for general administrative expenses, and $1,340 for animal husbandry.

The increase of $40,940 for the Bureau of Dairy Industry provides for further development and application of the dairy-herd-improvement association program; for study of artificial insemination; and for necessary additional personal services at the Beltsville, Md., station.

To provide for initial steps toward removal of the Arlington Experimental Farm from its present location between Arlington National Cemetery and the Potomac to the vicinity of Beltsville, Md., an increase of $500,000 is included in the estimates of the Bureau of Plant Industry. Minor increases in 10 other appropriation items of this Bureau aggregate $34,925, including an increase of $7,500 resulting from a transfer of this amount from the Bureau of Agricultural Chemistry and Engineering. These increases are partially offset by decreases in 13 other items totaling $393,092, making the net increase for the Bureau $141,833.

In the estimate for general administrative expenses of the Forest Service there is a decrease of $5,500. For national forest protection and management the net increase of $116,485 is accounted for by increases of $100,000 for fire hazard reduction work on the White Mountain National Forest, and $200,000 for intensifying effort toward control of white-pine blister rust, these increases being offset to the extent of $181,915 by reductions in the estimates for other national forest activities and transfer of $1,600 to the Office of the Solicitor. Forest Service research appropriation estimates are decreased $58,666. An item of $300,000 is included for allotment to the New England States to aid in their control of the extreme forest-fire danger resulting from the hurricane of September 1938. The item for acquisition of national forest lands is decreased $1,999,100.

For the Bureau of Agricultural Chemistry and Engineering the estimates show a net decrease in 1941 of $102,394. Increases of $7,600, of which $7,000 is for building renovation at the Olustee, Fla., station of the Bureau, are offset by decreases of $31,594 in agricultural chemical investigations, and $70,900 in industrial utilization of farm products and byproducts, and $7,500 resulting from the transfer of this amount to the Bureau of Plant Industry.

There is a facial net increase of $318,191 in the estimates of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine. The white-fringed beetle entered the United States from South America in 1936 and work to combat this pest was begun in 1937. Funds for this work have been provided from the annual supplemental appropriation for incipient and emergency outbreaks of insect pests and plant diseases. The beetle is now active in portions of Alabama, Florida, Mississippi, and Lousiana. Methods for its control have been developed, and the control work is pointed toward complete eradication, although this may require several years. Since the infestation is no longer in the emergency stage, funds for the control work in the sum of $603,600 are included in these estimates. There is included also an increase of $103,570 in the item for blister rust control. These with other minor increases are partially offset by a decrease of $378,880 in the item for pink bollworm control, and minor decreases in several of the other investigative and control appropriations of the Bureau.

For the Agricultural Marketing Service there is a net increase of $70,367. The major items increased are those providing for regulatory functions under market inspection acts, $21,000; Grain Standards Act, $5,570; Warehouse Act, $33,500; Packers and Stockyards Act, $3,710; and the new Federal Seed Act, $41,779. Partially offsetting decreases are found in six subappropriations.

There is no facial difference between the 1941 estimate for the Bureau of Home Economics and the appropriation to that Bureau for 1940. The Bureau is expected to move to new quarters at the Beltsville Research Center by July 1, 1940, and will there incur new quarters maintenance obligations of approximately $18,000 per annum. Since no specific provision is made for this expense in the estimates, the regular work program of the Bureau will be necessarily decreased in like amount.

The Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act of June 25, 1938, as amended June 23, 1939, will be in full force and effect by the beginning of the fiscal year 1941. To provide for the expanding application of this act an increase of $249,400 is included in the estimates for the Food and Drug Administration, this item, with minor increases in four other appropriations and a reduction of $33,800 due to the transfer of this amount to the Office of the Solicitor, making a total increase for this agency of $218,520.

In the estimates for the Soil Conservation Service there is a decrease of $124,225 in the item for investigations, and a decrease of $3,402,627 in the provision for the action program. This latter reduction anticipates lower costs per unit with respect to demonstration projects and to the conservation districts organized under State laws.

Under the appropriation "Conservation and use of agricultural land resources, Department of Agriculture," for carrying out the provisions of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act of February 29, 1936, and the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, there is available for the fiscal year 1940 a total of $499,560,000, of which $429,560,000 was a direct appropriation, the remainder, or $70,000,000 being a reappropriation of unobligated balances of earlier appropriations. For 1941 a direct appropriation of $498,560,000 is included in these estimates, a decrease of $1,000,000 under the 1940 total. The Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, section 202d, authorized the use of not to exceed $4,000,000 of the annual appropriations under this head for the establishment, equipment, and maintenance of four regional research laboratories. In the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, 1940, Congress reduced this authorization to a maximum of $3,200,000. The 1941 estimate contemplates continuation of the $3,200,000 limitation and there is a resultant decrease of $800,000 in the amount to be appropriated. The remaining $200,000 of the estimated decrease is in the general conservation and use program.

The Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, 1940, provided $225,000,000 to enable the Secretary of Agriculture to make parity payments to producers of wheat, cotton, corn (in the commercial corn-producing area), rice, and tobacco pursuant to the provisions of section 303 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938. There is no provision in these estimates for a 1941 appropriation for this purpose.

Supplementing the permanent appropriation under section 32, as amended, of the act entitled "An Act to amend the Agricultural Adjustment Act, and for other purposes," approved August 24, 1935, Congress provided in the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, 1940, the sum of $113,000,000 for disposal of surplus agricultural commodities. The 1941 estimates include an item for the same purpose in the sum of $72,678,812, a decrease of $40,321,188 as against 1940. The permanent appropriation, above mentioned, which makes 30 percent of customs revenues annually available for disposal of surplus agricultural commodities, amounts to $92,678,812 in 1940, and is estimated at $100,000,000 for 1941. The total available for this purpose in 1941 would thus be $172,678,812 as against $205,678,812 in 1940, a net decrease of $33,000,000.

For carrying out the provisions of the Sugar Act of 1937, in which item a facial increase of $16,000,000 is shown, the contemplated total availability for 1941 is the same as for 1940, the Budget estimate for 1941 providing for direct appropriation of $47,975,000 while in 1940 the direct appropriation of $31,975,000 was augmented by reappropriation of $16,000,000 of unobligated balance.

For the administration of the Federal Crop Insurance Act, the total availability in 1940 is $5,923,200, comprised of a direct appropriation of $5,423,200 and a reappropriation of 1939 unobligated balances in the sum of $500,000. The estimate for 1941 provides for a direct appropriation of $5,428,928 with a reappropriation of $100,000 of unobligated balance of the 1940 appropriation. The decrease in total availability for 1941 as against 1940 is $394,272.

For the farm-tenancy-loan program authorized by title I of the Bankhead-Jones Act, there was appropriated for 1940 $40,000,000, together with a reappropriation of $775,000 of unobligated balance of the 1939 appropriation. The 1941 Budget provides for a direct appropriation of $25,000,000, or an apparent decrease of $15,775,000, with provision, however, for reappropriation of the unobligated balance, indefinite as to amount, of the 1940 appropriation.

For liquidation and management of resettlement projects, Farm Security Administration, the estimates provide $1,500,000, a decrease of $487,400 from the 1940 appropriation.

The total 1940 availability for land utilization and retirement of submarginal land under title III of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act is $7,423,330, consisting of a direct appropriation of $4,978,330 and a reappropriation of $2,445,000 remaining unobligated from the 1939 appropriation for this program. The 1941 estimates provide for a direct appropriation of $1,102,500 plus reappropriation of any balance remaining unobligated at the close of 1940. There is thus a facial decrease of $6,320,830 in this item. The estimates contemplate no further land purchases, providing only for land-use planning activities and for protection and management of lands already acquired or in process of acquisition.

Section 3 (a) of the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1939 made available in 1940 for rural rehabilitation the sum of $143,000,000, together with the balance of the appropriation under subsection (3) of section 1 of the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1938 remaining unobligated on June 30, 1939, which amounted to $18,450,000 and raised the total sum available under this head for 1940 to $161,450,000. Complete omission of this item from the 1941 Budget contemplates its consideration as a feature of any emergency relief measure as may be proposed for 1941.

The act of August 28, 1937, declared it to be the policy of Congress to assist in providing facilities for water storage and utilization in the arid and semiarid areas of the United States, and authorized the appropriation for this purpose of such sums as Congress might, from time to time, determine to be necessary. The Department of Agriculture Appropriation Acts, 1939 and 1940, each provided $500,000 for this purpose, and the 1941 estimates include a like amount. The regular annual appropriations to date have been used largely for formulation and maintenance of a program of projects, as required by the basic act, and have been supplemented to the extent of $1,200,000 in 1939 and $1,500,000 in 1940 from funds made available for rural rehabilitation under the emergency relief acts.

For the Beltsville Research Center the estimates include an increase of $24,450 for property improvement and additional operating personnel.

The estimate of $3,100,000 for salaries and expenses for the Rural Electrification Administration for the fiscal year 1941 is an increase of $400,000 over the appropriation for the fiscal year 1940. The amount included gives consideration to the accumulating work load of the Administration in auditing and supervising the operation of completed projects. The estimate for printing and binding has been increased by $10,000 over the 1940 estimate to provide for the printing of additional pamphlets intended to stimulate the use of electricity on the farm and thereby assist completed projects to obtain an earlier basis of profitable operation.

The estimate of $40,000,000 for loans is the annual amount authorized by Congress under the Rural Electrification Act. In 1941 this amount is to be made available as a loan by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, while in 1940 it was appropriated out of funds in the Treasury.

The estimate of $3,801,161 for the Farm Credit Administration for salaries and expenses for the fiscal year 1941 is $172,761 more than the 1940 appropriation of $3,628,400. The gross amount, including reimbursements and reappropriations that will be available for 1941, is $9,431,256 in comparison with an availability of $9,624,041 for 1940, or an availability decrease of $192,785. There has been a decrease in the volume of loans being made under the supervision of the Farm Credit Administration by the Federal land banks and the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation, while there has been an increase in the cost of supervising Federal credit unions and an increase in the amount of cooperative marketing studies.

No appropriation estimate has been included in the 1941 Budget for crop loans. The amount of $15,000,000 was included in 1940 for this purpose. Loans for 1941 are estimated by the Farm Credit Administration at $23,000,000 and collections of interest and principal of outstanding loans, which are made available for this purpose, will be sufficient to furnish this amount in 1941.

The estimate of $7,000,000 for the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation for the fiscal year 1941 represents a decrease of $2,500,000 under the 1940 appropriation. The amount recommended gives consideration to the increasing delinquency of loans of the Corporation, the necessity of extending many of its loans, the increased amount of property being held by the Corporation, and also to the fact that after February 1, 1940, the Corporation can make no more Commissioner's loans. The amount recommended is $236,351 less than actual expenditures during the fiscal year 1939.

Under the classification "Trust accounts" there appears an increase of $200,000 in the item of payments in lieu of taxes and for operation and maintenance of resettlement projects, Farm Security Administration. Pursuant to section 3 of the act of June 29, 1936 (40 U. S. C. 431–434), receipts derived from resettlement projects are covered into this trust account and are available to the Farm Security Administration for the purposes indicated above. It is estimated that the receipts to be covered into this fund in 1941 will exceed those of the current year by $200,000. In the item of State rural rehabilitation corporation funds there is a decrease of $625,000. This fund derives from agreements with individual rural rehabilitation corporation directorates transferring to the Farm Security Administration all corporate assets and delegating to the Administrator complete and exclusive powers of management of corporation properties. All collections plus unencumbered balances are available for all of the purposes of the corporations, and the $2,250,000 included in the 1941 Budget is based upon the best available estimate of 1941 collections.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

Under the first plan on Government reorganization, pursuant to the Reorganization Act of 1939, the Federal Employment Stabilization Office in the Department of Commerce was abolished, and its functions transferred, effective July 1, 1939, to the National Resources Planning Board in the Executive Office of the President. Under the second plan on Government reorganization also effective July 1, 1939, the Foreign Commerce Service of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce in this Department was transferred to the Department of State, the Bureau of Lighthouses was transferred to the Treasury Department and consolidated with the Coast Guard, and the Bureau of Fisheries with the functions of the Secretary of Commerce relative to the protection of fur seals and other fur-bearing animals, supervision of the Pribilof Islands and the care of natives thereof, and to the Whaling Treaty Act, were transferred to the Department of the Interior. Under the same authority the Inland Waterways Corporation was transferred from the War Department to the Department of Commerce.

The Budget estimates for the Department of Commerce, excluding trust funds, total $34,524,430, a net decrease of $3,603,069 below the total appropriated for 1940 after deducting $15,027,501 transferred from the Department's 1940 appropriations pursuant to provisions of the Reorganization Act of 1939 and Reorganization Plan No. II. Eliminating, however, the $3,896,550 decrease for expenses of continuing sixteenth decennial census work, the amount of the 1941 estimates for all other activities of the Department is $293,418 in excess of current appropriations for such purposes.

There is an increase of $63,890 for the Office of the Secretary, including $46,050 for personal services, $1,840 for contingent expenses, $10,000 for traveling expenses to enable field representatives of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce to maintain closer contact with industry, and $6,000 for additional printing for the National Bureau of Standards and the Coast and Geodetic Survey.

Estimates for the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce propose consolidation of the present three major departmental appropriations into one. The work of carrying on the various functions covered by these appropriations is so intermingled as to make difficult the application of the separate appropriations in proper proportion to the duties performed and there is no substantial reason for continuing three funds for the departmental activities of the Bureau. The consolidation contemplated will simplify accounting and facilitate Bureau operation. The estimates for this Bureau total $3,924 less than the availability of 1940 appropriations after deducting amounts of current Bureau appropriations transferred to the State Department pursuant to the Reorganization Act of 1939. The net decrease of $3,924 results from an increase of $75,300 for the field office service to enable the Bureau to maintain closer and more frequent contact with industry, and decreases of $61,544 in the departmental appropriation, which is related to the increase for field office service, and $17,680 for compilation of customs statistics, involving a transfer of employees to the departmental appropriation roll.

For the Bureau of the Census the estimates contemplate a net reduction of $3,856,550 below the total appropriated for 1940 after deducting $3,450 transferred to the Department of the Interior pursuant to the Reorganization Act of 1939. The act of August 11, 1939, authorizes appropriation of not to exceed $8,000,000 for a national census of housing to be taken at the same time and as a part of the sixteenth decennial census of population. No amount for the housing census is included in the 1940 appropriation, and submission of a supplemental estimate for the 1940 field work of this census is contemplated. The sum of $2,166,000 is included in these estimates for tabulating and compiling housing census data in 1941, and a change of text is proposed to increase by $8,150,000 the limit of cost of Census Bureau work for the period July 1, 1939, to December 31, 1942, to provide for the housing census and statistical work transferred to the Bureau from the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce.

The net reduction of $3,856,550 involves decreases of $14,235,223 for field personnel and $1,004,349 for other expenses incidental to the completion of field work of the decennial census in 1940 and increases of $11,343,022 for departmental personnel for tabulating and compiling decennial census data, including the census of housing, and $40,000 for verifications of age of Social Security Act beneficiaries.

The total of the estimates for the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation exceeds by $25,180 the total appropriated for the Bureau for 1940. This net increase involves $31,480 additional for departmental salaries and a net decrease of $6,300 for field salaries and general expenses.

For the National Bureau of Standards the net total of the estimates is $193,780 below the amount appropriated for the current year. Increases are provided of $50,000 for replacement of worn-out machine tool equipment, $41,500 additional for testing, and $23,000 additional for the establishment of pH (acidity) standards. Decreases are made amounting to $353,000 for nonrecurring items in 1940 appropriations, namely: $198,000 for completing a 3-year investigation of building materials, $100,000 for purchase of land, $44,000 for modernizing and increasing the capacity of the Bureau's electrical substation, and $11,000 for the purchase of equipment.

The estimates for the Coast and Geodetic Survey contemplate a net increase of $429,615 over the amount appropriated for 1940. This increase involves decreases for nonrecurring items in the 1940 appropriation amounting to $109,485, principally $60,000 for moving the magnetic observatory at Sitka, Alaska, $16,000 for major vessel repairs, and $14,000 for purchase of launches. The increases include $413,140 for control surveys for national mapping, $50,000 for pay and subsistence of officers and crew for a new survey vessel now under construction and for two additional surgeons for vessels, $25,000 for mandatory promotions and increased longevity pay of commissioned officers, $19,000 for an additional printing press, and $9,500 additional for magnetic observations, field surveys, and processing data.

The total of the estimates for the Patent Office is $67,500 less than the amount appropriated for the current year. The output of patent examiners in the earlier years of their service is naturally limited, and supervision of their work requires considerable time of the older personnel. The efficiency and output of examiners normally increases with experience acquired in the examination of applications for patents, and, concurrently, less time of other examining personnel is needed for supervision. The Civil Service Commission has, accordingly, during and since the last half of the fiscal year 1935, reallocated upward some 650 patent examiners in grades 1, 2, and 3, at a total annual salary increase of $311,800, and the salary appropriation of the Patent Office in previous years has been increased correspondingly. In addition, 218 examiners have filed reallocation applications upon which action is now in process. The increased efficiency of the reallocated examiners should reflect a saving in the number of examiners required, and on this basis the total of the estimate for Patent Office salaries is $50,000 less than the appropriation for the current year. The estimate for photolithographing is $10,000 less than the appropriation for 1940, expenditures for the past few years and the outlook for 1941 indicating that the amount of the estimate will be sufficient. A net increase of $7,500 in the estimate for miscellaneous expenses will permit expenditure of $10,000 for the purchase of microfilm equipment needed primarily for the preservation of valuable records of foreign patents which cannot be replaced. Savings effected in part of the year 1939 and being extended in the current year through joint cooperation of the Commissioner of Patents and the Public Printer, make possible a decrease of $15,000 in the estimate for printing and binding below the amount appropriated for the current year.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

Under the first plan on Government reorganization, pursuant to the Reorganization Act of 1939, effective July 1, 1939, the Office of Education was transferred to the Federal Security Agency; the branch of buildings management of the National Park Service, so far as it was concerned with the operation of public buildings for other departments or agencies, was transferred to the Public Buildings Administration of the Federal Works Agency; and the United States Housing Authority was transferred to the Federal Works Agency.

Under the second plan on Government reorganization, also effective July 1, 1939, the functions of the National Bituminous Coal Commission, including the functions of the members of the Commission, were transferred to the Secretary of the Interior to be administered under his direction and supervision by such division, bureau, or office in the Department of the Interior as the Secretary should determine. The Bituminous Coal Division has been established in the Office of the Secretary. The National Bituminous Coal Commission and the offices of the members thereof were abolished. The outstanding affairs of the Commission are to be closed by the Secretary of the Interior. The Office of Consumers' Counsel of the National Bituminous Coal Commission was abolished and its functions transferred to the Office of the Solicitor, Department of the Interior. The Consumers' Counsel Division, Office of the Solicitor, has been established in the Department of the Interior. The Bureau of Insular Affairs of the War Department and its functions were transferred to the Department of the Interior and consolidated with the Division of Territories and Island Possessions. The Office of the Chief of the Bureau and offices subordinate thereto were abolished and all of the functions of such offices were transferred to the Division of Territories and Island Possessions. The Bureau of Fisheries in the Department of Commerce and its functions, including the protection of fur seals and other fur-bearing animals, the supervision of the Pribilof Islands and the care of the natives thereof, and the Whaling Treaty Act, were transferred to the Department of the Interior. The Bureau of Biological Survey in the Department of Agriculture and its functions were transferred to the Department of the Interior. The Secretary of the Interior was designated chairman of the Migratory Bird Conservation Commission and the Secretary of Agriculture was designated a member thereof. The Mount Rushmore National Memorial Commission and its functions were transferred to the National Park Service in the Department of the Interior. The functions vested in the Commission by sections 3 and 4 (a) of the act of June 15, 1938, will continue to be exercised by the Commission, but all other functions thereof are to be administered by the National Park Service under the direction and supervision of the Secretary of the Interior.

The Budget estimates for the Department of the Interior, general and special accounts, for the fiscal year 1941, exclusive of items of public works, aggregate $66,672,614.05, as compared with appropriations of $74,070,530.65 for 1940, a decrease of $7,397,916.60. In the figure of $66,672,614.05 is $60,660,714.05 for annual appropriations which amount is $7,572,916.60 below the annual appropriations for the current year. The amount for permanent appropriations is $6,011,900, as compared with $5,836,900 for 1940. In addition, the estimates for 1941 under various trust accounts aggregate $6,494,040, as compared with $6,415,048 for the current year.

Annual appropriations.—For the immediate Office of the Secretary there is an apparent increase of $304,260. This amount is reduced, however, to $87,700 through adding to the base $216,560 transferred by the Urgent Deficiency Act, 1939, from the administrative expense appropriation of the Public Works Administration to the salary appropriation for the Office of the Secretary. The actual increase of $87,700 includes $45,340 for the Division of Personnel Supervision and Management, and $21,660 for the continuation of the Radio Section, Information Division, heretofore financed with emergency funds. An increase of $23,440 for the Office of the Solicitor will permit the employment of professional personnel to handle matters relating to the Division of Territories and Island Possessions and the Grazing Service, and the establishment of a business office to be responsible for administrative details in the Office of the Solicitor. There is included an estimate of $68,000 to finance operations of the National Power Policy Committee. Salaries and expenses of the employees of the Committee have been met from emergency or other funds in the past. An increase of $23,305 is recommended for printing and binding. This increase is apportioned principally to the Bureau of Biological Survey for the publication of bulletins formerly issued as a part of the Farmers' Bulletin Series, Department of Agriculture, and to the National Park Service for the printing of circulars and pamphlets for distribution to visitors to areas under the direction of that Service. Decreases are recommended for the Consumers' Counsel Division and the Bituminous Coal Division. These decreases represent economies resulting from reorganization, and the contemplated completion of the work of these divisions by April 25, 1941, the date of expiration of the present law. A reduction of $68,400 is recommended in the appropriation for the Division of Investigations, of which $47,400 represents a transfer to an appropriation under the Bureau of Indian Affairs. The net reduction in the several appropriations under the Office of the Secretary is $897,065.

An increase of $250,000 is recommended for operation and maintenance of the Bonneville power and distribution system, the marketing of power and for general administrative expenses. An estimate for continuing the construction of transmission facilities and the development of power is contained in the General Public Works Program.

For the General Land Office there is a net decrease of $290,000, of which $250,000 is accounted for in the appropriation for surveying public lands. Other decreases are $25,000 in the salary appropriation for temporary employees in the District of Columbia and $10,500 for the prevention and suppression of fires on public lands in Alaska. An increase of $10,000 is recommended for printing maps of the United States. The appropriation for this purpose is made biennially.

Exclusive of public works $25,821,861.05 is provided for the Bureau of Indian Affairs. Increases under general expenses include $35,350 for salaries in the District of Columbia, of which $18,160 is transferred from another appropriation; $50,000 additional is provided for the payment of transportation costs on goods and supplies purchased for school, hospital, and other activities, and $10,000 is provided for the maintenance and preservation of new buildings and other facilities constructed during the last 2 years with emergency and direct appropriations. For the acquisition of lands, there is a reduction of $350,173.95. The amount of $300,000 for the acquisition of Indian lands under the provisions of the Indian Reorganization Act is required to meet the contractual authorization contained in the 1940 Appropriation Act. An item of $9,826.05 is also included to compensate certain non-Indian claimants for lands within Pueblo Indian land grants in New Mexico, pursuant to the provisions of the act of March 28, 1939. For industrial advancement and assistance an increase of $98,500 is provided for continuing soil-conservation work on the Navajo and Hopi Reservations in Arizona and New Mexico, and on Pueblo Indian lands (work formerly financed by the Soil Conservation Service, Department of Agriculture), and for the employment of additional lookouts and fireguards to provide more adequate protection for Indian-owned timber; $54,700 is provided for expansion in the agricultural extension program on Indian reservations, which amount includes $32,750 for the employment of extension agents who will devote their time to credit activities, and $14,750 for personnel to be assigned to reservations having large areas of agricultural land but inadequately staffed with extension personnel. A reduction of $100,000 is made in the capital fund for making loans to Indian chartered corporations, and a reduction of $25,000 is made in the reimbursable fund for loans to Indians unable to participate in the credit fund established pursuant to the terms of the Indian Reorganization Act. There is a net increase of $27,970 on account of industrial assistance and advancement. There is a net reduction of $172,000 in the amount provided for the operation and maintenance of Indian irrigation projects. The principal item of decrease is the amount of $125,000 on account of the San Carlos project, Gila River Reservation, Ariz. An increase of $19,500 is included under this head for payment to the Tongue River Water Users Association, Montana, on account of water to be delivered to the Tongue River Reservation, as authorized by the act of August 11, 1939. There is a reduction of $282,470 on account of Indian educational activities. This decrease is accounted for by reduced enrollments in some schools, a reduction of $25,000 in the amount for loans to Indian youths for pursuing courses in higher education, a reduction of $39,130 because of low attendance in the day schools in Alaska, and approximately $200,000 on account of nonrecurring items for land acquisition and other special funds for particular schools. There is an increase of $236,940 for health activities among the Indians in the United States and the natives of Alaska. Of this amount $106,180 is for the establishment of a 44-hour week in Indian Service hospitals where the average daily patient load is 45 or above; $54,950 is for expanded activities in Alaska, including the operation of new hospitals now under construction or to be completed and occupied at some time during the fiscal year 1941; and the remainder of the increase is for miscellaneous purposes including the purchase of X-ray equipment, and the operation of new beds made available by the expansion of existing facilities.

For general support of Indians and administration of Indian property, there is a net reduction of $1,971,700 which includes $795,000 for the reindeer industry in Alaska and $1,350,000 for relief and rural rehabilitation of Indians, which latter amount was appropriated in the last Relief Act. There is an increase of $173,000 under this heading for general agency administrative expenses which amount includes $47,400 transferred from the appropriation for the Division of Investigations, Office of the Secretary; $55,320 transferred from the appropriation for acquisition of lands for Indian tribes; and approximately $24,300 covering transfers from Indian tribal funds. Of the latter amount, $14,680 is transferred from funds of the Osage Indians in Oklahoma. There is a further increase of $14,400 under this head for the employment of additional clerical help at some of the larger agencies. There is a reduction of $25,000 in the amount to be paid Sioux Indians pursuant to the act of March 2, 1889, as amended. There is a reduction of $175,000 in the amount required to pay interest on Indian trust funds deposited in the United States Treasury. This reduction is made possible by the partial distribution of the judgment funds received by the Klamath Indians in Oregon and the Shoshone Indians in Wyoming.

For the Bureau of Reclamation there is a net increase of $28,000 on account of the operation and maintenance of existing irrigation distribution systems paid from the reclamation fund. Increases on this account aggregate $50,000, of which $35,000 is for the operation and maintenance costs for an additional unit under the Boise project, Idaho, and $15,000 for an additional unit under the Owyhee project, Oregon. These increases are offset by reductions in the amount allowed for other projects. Other items for the Bureau of Reclamation will be found under the General Public Works Program.

For the Geological Survey increases aggregating $1,366,060 are included. Of this amount $1,268,500 is on account of the expansion in the mapping program. Of the total amount for this purpose $500,000 is available for cooperative mapping with State, county, or municipal authorities, and approximately $985,000 is for the mapping of strategic areas to be selected by the Secretary of War. There is an increase also of $81,500 for stream gaging in the United States. Practically the entire amount of this increase is for expansion of cooperative activities. The estimates for the Geological Survey include $150,000 for continuing studies relating to strategic and critical minerals.

For the Bureau of Mines reductions of $58,500 are offset by increases aggregating $22,700, resulting in a net reduction of $35,800. The items of decrease include $35,000 for the purchase of additional land at Bruceton, Pa., and nonrecurring items of expense in connection with the testing of fuel, particularly the studies authorized by a special act of Congress with reference to the utilization of subbituminous coal and lignite, which studies were to be completed within a 3-year period. The items of increase are principally for the expenses of mining experiment stations, the maintenance and preservation of additional buildings at Pittsburgh, Pa., and travel funds for the Bureau's foreign minerals specialist now detailed to work in South America. The estimates for this Bureau contain an item of $350,000 for continuing studies relating to strategic and critical minerals.

The 1941 estimates for the National Park Service, exclusive of items in the General Public Works Program, show a net increase of $290,768, resulting from increases amounting to $680,548 and decreases aggregating $389,780. The principal items of decrease are $55,000 for land for the Kennesaw National Memorial Military Park, $56,000 for buildings in the Manassas National Battlefield Park, $15,610 for special items in the Boulder Dam National Recreational Area, and $175,000 for the Mount Rushmore National Memorial Commission. The latter amount represents the balance that may be appropriated under existing authorizations. Items of increase include $15,000 for additional personnel in the office of the Director, $42,280 for additional expenses in connection with the collection of fees in parks and other areas where fees have recently been instituted, $84,485 for national historical parks and monuments, including $50,000 for the purchase of land for the proposed Saratoga National Historical Park, $40,590 for maintenance of national monuments, $29,230 for the purchase of lands in Glacier and Mount Rainier Parks; also $375,000 for the development of grounds, including reconstruction of the sea wall at the Thomas Jefferson Memorial, $40,000 for a comfort station at the watergate, $15,000 for repairs in the Washington Monument, and $28,000 for the extension of a steam line to the Lincoln Memorial, all in the District of Columbia. The estimates also include amounts for the purchase of road equipment in the several areas under the jurisdiction of the National Park Service, as well as funds for road repair and maintenance, and for the improvement of services rendered visitors to these areas.

There is a net increase of $932,079 in the estimates for the Bureau of Biological Survey, formerly in the Department of Agriculture. This increase is accounted for almost entirely in the amount to be paid to States under the Wildlife Restoration Act of September 2, 1937. This fund is derived from taxes on firearms, shells and cartridges, and under the law not less than 92 percent thereof is to be apportioned to the several States. Minor increases have been included for the maintenance of mammal and bird refuges and for administrative promotions. Decreases are found in the estimates for the control of predatory animals and injurious rodents, the protection of migratory birds and the development of the Upper Mississippi Wildlife Refuge.

The estimates for the Bureau of Fisheries, formerly in the Department of Commerce, show a net reduction of $88,040. Items of decrease consist of $9,260 in the appropriation for salaries in the District of Columbia, $94,840 for the propagation of food fishes, and $7,500 for the construction of a fishery laboratory at Little Port Walter, Alaska. The appropriation of $114,700 for traveling expenses, Bureau of Fisheries, has been distributed to the several appropriations for this Bureau. Items of increase include $21,920 for the maintenance of vessels, $27,660 for inquiries respecting food fishes, $71,120 for expenses incidental to studies relating to fishery industries, and $13,460 for the Alaska Fishery Service.

The estimates under the head of Government in the Territories show an increase of $65,920 for Alaska, of which $50,000 is to cover expenses of the Territorial legislature and $10,000 is for the maintenance of additional miles of roads constructed in the Territory of Alaska in the last 2 years. There is an increase of $47,000 for the Territory of Hawaii to cover the expenses of the Territorial legislature. There is an increase of $34,900 for the Government of the Virgin Islands, which amount includes $25,000 as an additional contribution to assist the municipalities of St. Croix and St. John and St. Thomas in meeting their operating expenses. The estimates also include an item of $250,000 for the continuation of the Antarctic Expedition now under way. The estimate contemplates the party staying on the ice a second year, and makes provision for replacement of men and the purchase of necessary provisions and supplies for this activity. There is a net reduction in the total estimate for Government in the Territories of $6,606,780. The principal item of decrease is on account of the special appropriation of $7,000,000 made in the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1939 for continuing work in Puerto Rico by the Puerto Rico Reconstruction Administration.

The estimates include an increase of $13,005 to provide for 25 additional patients at Saint Elizabeths Hospital, and $94,785 for Freedmen's Hospital, which latter amount includes $71,220 for 6 months' operation of the tuberculosis unit now under construction with a grant from public works funds, and $20,000 for equipment for that unit.

The 1941 estimates of permanent appropriations aggregate $6,011,900, as compared with $5,836,900 for the fiscal year 1940. The increase of $175,000 includes $25,000 for payments to counties from the Coos Bay Wagon Road grant fund, which amount is offset by a reduction in the general-fund appropriations, and $150,000 in the Alaska Railroad special fund.

There is a net increase of $78,992 in trust accounts which is occasioned by an increase of $68,400 in Indian trust-fund accounts, a decrease of $21,400 in the accounts under the control of the Bureau of Reclamation, and an increase of $31,992 for government in the Territories.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

Under the second plan on Government reorganization, pursuant to the Reorganization Act of 1939, Federal Prison Industries, Inc., and the National Training School for Boys, both formerly independent agencies, were transferred, effective July 1, 1939, to the Department of Justice. At the same time the board of trustees of the National Training School for Boys was abolished.

There have been omitted from the chapter for the Department of Justice for the fiscal year 1941 the estimates for the Supreme Court and other United States courts, which are included under a new chapter entitled "Judicial Establishment." This action is taken because of the act of August 7, 1939, entitled "An Act to provide for the administration of the United States courts, and for other purposes."

For purposes of comparison, such appropriations for the fiscal years 1939 and 1940 as pertain to both the Department of Justice and the United States courts have been segregated so as to show the amounts applicable to each. Therefore, the estimates for 1941 in cases thus affected are comparable with the amounts applicable to the activities of the Department of Justice, rather than the full amount of the appropriation for the items concerned for the fiscal years 1939 and 1940.

The estimates for the Department of Justice for the fiscal year 1941, exclusive of the United States courts, construction projects, and trust accounts, amount to $40,260,620, which, compared with the applicable appropriations of $39,322,060 for the fiscal year 1940, involves a net increase of $938,560. This net increase is composed of a decrease of $50,140 for the Office of the Attorney General and an increase of $988,700 for the penal and correctional institutions.

The decreases in the Office of the Attorney General include $100,000 for the Federal Bureau of Investigation for emergencies arising in connection with kidnaping, extortion, bank robbery, and espionage cases, $100,000 for the enforcement of antitrust and kindred laws, $60,000 for the Bureau of War Risk Litigation, $300,000 for the Lands Division, $122,000 for fees of witnesses, and $5,380 for other items, a total decrease of $687,380; and increases of $186,660 for salaries, $137,500 for traveling expenses, $14,100 for printing and binding, $244,000 for the regular work of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, $32,120 for salaries, Bureau of Prisons, $8,975 for salaries and expenses of district attorneys, and $13,885 for salaries and expenses of marshals, a total increase of $637,240. The result is a net decrease of $50,140 under this head.

The Federal penal and correctional institutions now in operation consist of 6 penitentiaries, 4 reformatories, 7 jails, 5 camps, a hospital, and a boys' training school, a total of 24; and there are now in course of construction 6 new institutions, comprising a penitentiary, a reformatory, and 4 jails, which it is expected will be completed during the latter half of the current fiscal year. It is estimated that there will be an increase of approximately 12.5 percent in prison population during the fiscal year 1941 over the fiscal year 1940. To provide for the necessary personnel and for maintenance and operation at both the old and new institutions, and for certain special repairs and replacements at the old institutions, the following increases are recommended for the ensuing fiscal year: Penitentiaries and reformatories, $267,700; medical center for Federal prisoners at Springfield, Mo., $20,000; Federal jails and correctional institutions, $320,000; and prison camps, $42,000. For medical and hospital service, penal institutions, an increase of $90,000 is requested, mainly to provide such service at the new institutions now nearing completion. While the new institutions will be able to accommodate some of the United States prisoners confined in non-Federal institutions, an increase of $200,000 is requested for the support of prisoners in the latter institutions to meet an anticipated advance in the cost of maintaining such prisoners. An increase of $49,000 is recommended for the probation system to provide for additional probation officers in districts where this service is inadequate. These items of increases relating to penal and correctional activities aggregate $988,700.

Under trust accounts, the estimated increases in expenditures of funds of Federal prisoners from $625,000 to $650,000 and of commissary funds, Federal prisons, from $325,000 to $350,000 are due to the anticipated expansion in prison population.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

Under the first plan on Government reorganization, pursuant to the Reorganization Act of 1939, the United States Employment Service was transferred, effective July 1, 1939, from the Department of Labor to the newly established Federal Security Agency where its functions were consolidated with the unemployment compensation functions of the Social Security Board.

The estimates for the Department of Labor for the fiscal year 1941 amount to $33,310,567, exclusive of trust accounts, and represent a net increase of $4,641,687 over the comparable appropriations for the fiscal year 1940.

The estimates provide a total of $3,861,560 under the heading "Office of the Secretary" where provision is made for salaries in the Secretary's Office proper; for salaries and expenses, Division of Labor Standards, the Concilation Service, the Division of Public Contracts, liaison with the International Labor Organization, Geneva, Switzerland, and for other expenses pertaining to the Labor Department as a whole, including contingencies, travel, and printing and binding.

The total increase for the Office of the Secretary, including all the items above mentioned, is $600,290. This consists of $42,320 for salaries in the Office of the Secretary proper, an apparent increase of $114,380 for contingent expenses, which is offset, however, by a transfer of $94,341 for rent in the District of Columbia from the appropriation under the Wage and Hour Division, $31,250 for printing and binding and $369,100 for additional traveling expenses, largely for the newly established Wage and Hour Division, $16,500 for the Division of Labor Standards for apprenticeship cooperative work and $28,780 for the Office of the Commissioner of Conciliation. There is a decrease of $2,040 in other offices under the Secretary.

The estimates provide $975,720 for the Bureau of Labor Statistics, a net decrease of $36,780 under the appropriation for 1940, brought about by a deduction of a nonrecurring item of $50,000 provided in 1940 for the purpose of studying the effects of the Walsh-Healy and Fair Labor Standards Acts, and a partially offsetting increase for personal services.

The estimates for the Immigration and Naturalization Service indicate a net decrease under the 1940 appropriation of $281,310, including a reduction of $154,310 for salaries of immigration inspectors and other personnel in the field, a decrease of $140,000 in the appropriation for general field expenses other than salaries, and an increase of $13,000 for general upkeep and repairs at the several immigration stations.

For the Children's Bureau, a total of $12,297,047 is recommended, an increase over 1940 of $1,633,267. Of this sum, $1,545,000 is to provide for additional grants-in-aid to States for maternal and child-health service, service to crippled children and child-welfare services, in accordance with increased authorizations contained in the amendments to the Social Security Act approved August 10, 1939. The increase also includes $44,527 for expansion of the work of the Children's Bureau in carrying out the child-labor provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act, and $38,620 for additional activities in the maternal and child welfare work of the Bureau occasioned by the increased grants-in-aid to States.

The estimates of the Wage and Hour Division for carrying out the provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act amount to $6,185,000, which is an increase of $2,723,800 over the appropriation for 1940. The Wage and Hour Division was established in October 1938, and funds have been appropriated sufficient to permit a reasonable expansion of the enforcement staff in accordance with the availability and training of qualified personnel. The estimates provide for payment throughout the entire fiscal year 1941 of those employees appointed late in the fiscal year 1940, with increase to cover the additional inspectors, legal and clerical staff for proper enforcement of the act in 1941.

The amount included in the estimates for trust funds under the Immigration and Naturalization Service is the same as for the fiscal year 1940.

NAVY DEPARTMENT

The estimates for the Navy Department for the fiscal year 1941, exclusive of trust funds and public works under the Bureau of Yards and Docks, amount to $904,540,037 compared with appropriations of $720,789,461 for the fiscal year 1940, an increase of $183,750,576.

The estimates for public works appearing in the Budget under the heading "General Public Works Program" amount to $50,000,000 and compare with $57,398,550 appropriated for 1940. Including the item for public works for the purpose of comparing the total availability for the 2 years (excluding trust accounts) the total Navy estimates for 1941 amount to $954,540,037, and the total availability for 1940 aggregates $778,188,011, indicating an increase in the availability of $176,352,026. Explanation regarding public works will be found under "General Public Works Program" in this synopsis, while the increase of $183,750,576 stated in the first paragraph above is discussed herein.

The increase of $183,750,576 is made up of $62,303,288, necessary for increased personnel, aviation, and general maintenance and operation, and of $121,447,288 for construction of new vessels and modernization of several of the older vessels. The increase of $62,303,288 for increased personnel, aviation, and general maintenance and operation is divided among bureaus and offices as follows: Office of the Secretary (for field services), from $1,864,990 for 1940 to $2,096,815 for 1941, an increase of $231,825; Bureau of Navigation, from $13,126,681 for 1940 to $13,679,428 for 1941, an increase of $552,747; Bureau of Engineering, from $26,317,500 for 1940 to $37,081,200 for 1941, an increase of $10,763,700; Bureau of Construction and Repair, from $24,422,500 for 1940 to $28,177,000 for 1941, an increase of $3,754,500; Bureau of Ordnance, from $32,548,000 for 1940 to $32,456,000 for 1941, a decrease of $92,000; Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, from $233,169,409 for 1940 to $248,509,229 for 1941, an increase of $15,339,820; Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, from $2,670,000 for 1940 to $3,099,460 for 1941, an increase of $429,460; Bureau of Yards and Docks (excluding public works), from $8,670,000 for 1940 to $9,953,400 for 1941, an increase of $1,283,400; Bureau of Aeronautics, from $82,798,000 for 1940 to $111,117,500 for 1941, an increase of $28,319,500; Marine Corps, from $30,027,935 for 1940 to $31,414,686 for 1941, an increase of $1,386,751; and departmental salaries and expenses, from $5,069,734 for 1940 to $5,403,319 for 1941, an increase of $333,585.

The increase of $62,303,288 detailed above is due principally to increases in the number of officers and enlisted men in the Navy and in the Marine Corps, and increases in aeronautical activities. The estimates provide for an increase in the officer strength of the Navy of 142 (from 10,509 to 10,651) and of the Marine Corps of 67 (from 1,424 to 1,491), in the fiscal year 1941 over the number provided for in 1940 and for an increase in the enlisted force of the Navy of 7,450 (from an average of 113,050 to an average of 120,500) and of the Marine Corps of 1,000 (from an average of 18,500 to an average of 19,500). On account of aeronautical activities, the estimates for 1941 provide for the maintenance and operation of the planes in the 1940 program, including procurement of planes for replacement and for the procurement of 224 expansion planes toward the attainment of the number of planes called for by section 3 of the Naval Expansion Act approved May 17, 1938.

The estimate of funds required for construction of naval vessels in the fiscal year 1940 amounts to $369,000,000, an increase of $115,395,288 over the amount of $253,604,712 appropriated for 1940. This estimate provides for continuing construction of vessels already under way, and for beginning the construction during 1941 of two battleships, one aircraft carrier, two cruisers, eight destroyers, six submarines, one submarine tender, one seaplane tender, two small seaplane tenders, and one minesweeper. The construction of the vessels commenced and under way prior to the 1941 program will have reached a point during the fiscal year 1941 where larger expenditures will be required than has been the case in previous years.

During the fiscal year 1941, it is proposed to continue the modernization of the aircraft carriers Lexington and Saratoga, and to undertake in addition alterations and repairs for the purpose of modernizing the submarines Argonaut, Narwhal, and Nautilus, as authorized by the act approved April 20, 1939, and major overhauls of the battleships Tennessee, California, Colorado, Maryland, and West Virginia, as authorized by the act approved July 25, 1939.

The estimated receipts to be appropriated under the various trust accounts amount to $2,430,000 for the fiscal year 1941, compared with $2,405,000 for 1940, involving an increase of $25,000 over 1940. Similarly, the estimated expenditures of $2,360,000 for the fiscal year 1941 represent an increase of $35,276 over the estimated expenditures of $2,324,724 during the fiscal year 1940.

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT

The estimates for the Post Office Department are included as an Annexed Budget, as the excess of expenditures over the postal revenues is paid from the general fund of the Treasury and only such excess is carried to Statement No. 2 of the Budget for 1941 and to the General Budget Summary and supporting schedules.

For the fiscal year 1941, it is estimated that the postal revenues will amount to $760,000,000, and that the expenditures under the estimates of appropriations included in the Annexed Budget will aggregate $816,897,832. Under these estimates the excess of postal expenditures over postal revenues will amount to $56,897,832, which sum will become a charge against the general fund of the Treasury.

The details concerning the estimates for the Post Office Department will be found in the summary tables and explanatory statement under the Annexed Budget.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

Under the second plan on Government reorganization, pursuant to the Reorganization Act of 1939, the Foreign Commerce Service of the Department of Commerce, the Foreign Agricultural Service of the Department of Agriculture, and the Foreign Service Building Commission, formerly an independent agency, were transferred, effective July 1, 1939, to the Department of State.

The estimates of this Department for the fiscal year 1941, exclusive of construction projects and trust accounts, amount to $18,841,006, a net decrease of $870,834 below the comparable appropriations for the fiscal year 1940. This decrease is made up as follows: $1,799,959 for international obligations, commissions, congresses, bureaus, etc., less increases of $142,800 for the office of the Secretary of State, and $786,325 for the Foreign Service.

The net increase of $142,800 in the estimates for the office of the Secretary of State consists of $134,900 for personal services, $26,200 for contingent expenses, $19,500 for printing and binding, and $5,200 for collecting and editing official papers of Territories of the United States, a total increase of $185,800, from which is deducted $43,000 for promotion of foreign trade.

There is an increase of $15,000 in the estimate for salaries of ambassadors and ministers, to provide for their salaries while receiving instructions and in transit, this amount heretofore having been carried under the appropriation for salaries of Foreign Service officers. The estimate for salaries of Foreign Service officers shows a net increase of $3,800, composed of $56,300 for automatic promotions as authorized by law, and $12,500 for adjustment of salaries to conform to new duties of personnel transferred from Commerce and Agriculture, a total increase of $68,800, from which is deducted $50,000 in savings under Reorganization Plan No. II and $15,000 transferred to the appropriation for salaries of ambassadors and ministers. The estimate for salaries of Foreign Service clerks is increased $150,130, while that for temporary employees is decreased $28,802. For the salaries and allowances of miscellaneous employees in the Foreign Service there is a net decrease of $6,554.

The estimate for transportation of Foreign Service officers and employees provides a net increase of $58,345, including $38,800 for transfers of ambassadors and ministers, $11,000 for temporary details of employees due to unsettled conditions abroad, $25,000 for home leaves of absence; less $5,380 in savings under Reorganization Plan No. II, and $11,075 transferred to the appropriation for contingent expenses of the Foreign Service.

There is an increase of $74,000 in contingent expenses of the Foreign Service, composed principally of $13,985 for additional stationery and supplies, $5,000 for additional telephone service, $11,075 transferred from the appropriation for transportation in the Foreign Service, $16,000 for transportation of things due to sharp increase in ocean freight rates, $2,150 for purchase of 2 automobiles and 1 truck for the Embassy at Moscow to replace worn-out equipment, $16,675 for 9 automobiles for use at diplomatic missions, $863 for 12 radios at posts not having naval radio service, $7,000 for replacing worn-out and obsolete office machines, and $1,200 for rental and repair of motion picture films and equipment used in connection with the film service program for American republics.

In the estimate for the Foreign Service retirement and disability appropriated fund, there is an increase of $409,600 to provide for the current annual cost, interest on the deficit, and an annual amount for amortization which will place the fund in a position to meet all obligations within the next 45 years.

The estimate for office and living quarters in the Foreign Service shows a net decrease of $23,194, composed principally of $11,900 in savings resulting from the appointment of 10 less Foreign Service officers than originally contemplated, $9,000 for discontinuance of living quarters allowances to ministers at 4 posts where Government-owned quarters will be provided, $8,458 for discontinuance of office quarters at posts where Government-owned quarters will be available, $4,346 for rental savings due to reorganization; less an increase of $10,260 for 18 additional American clerks. The estimate for cost-of-living allowances contains an increase of $39,000, composed principally of $32,160 for allowances to 97 former Commerce and Agriculture officers transferred to the Department of State, $5,220 for 27 former Commerce and Agriculture clerks, $1,980 for 12 additional Foreign Service clerks. The estimate for representation allowances has been increased from $140,000 to $160,000, to more nearly meet the requirements of the Service. There is recommended for United States contributions to international commissions, congresses, and bureaus for the fiscal year 1941, $1,112,966, as against $2,883,655 for the fiscal year 1940, a decrease of $1,770,689.

The estimate for emergencies arising in the diplomatic and consular service contains an increase of $75,000, due to the unsettled international situation. Should this amount be insufficient to provide for unforeseen emergencies, there is a provision in this appropriation that whenever the President finds a state of emergency exists, endangering the lives of American citizens in any foreign country, he may make available for expenditure for the protection of such citizens not to exceed $500,000 by transfer to this appropriation from the various appropriations under the head "Foreign Intercourse," and that reimbursements by American citizens to whom relief has been extended shall be credited to any appropriation from which funds have been transferred for such purposes.

The estimate for the convention for promotion of inter-American cultural relations contains an increase of $19,540, of which $14,545 is to provide for the exchange of students and professors between the United States and two additional American republics which it is anticipated will ratify the convention within the next few months, and $4,995 to place the program on a full year basis.

An increase of $5,000 is recommended for the International Boundary Commission, United States and Mexico, of which $4,000 is for an additional superintendent to supervise the operation and maintenance of the American dam and canal, and the Rio Grande rectification project; and $1,000 for supplies, materials, alterations, and repairs. There is an increase of $1,000 in the estimate for the International Boundary Commission, United States and Canada and Alaska and Canada, to provide for the United States' share of the cost of installing lights in boundary range mark towers in Boundary Bay, Wash. There is a decrease of $17,900 in the estimate for salaries and expenses of the International Joint Commission, United States and Great Britain, due to the resignation of commissioners who will be replaced by Government officials without increased compensation. The estimate for special and technical investigations of the International Joint Commission, United States and Great Britain contains an increase of $3,000 for additional stream gaging work in Canada on the tributaries of the Milk River.

The estimate for the International Fisheries Commission contains an increase of $6,500 to match the amount it is understood will be appropriated by Canada for this work, and which will provide for the operation of a vessel for a period of 150 days instead of 75 days, as at present.

A new item appearing in the Budget for the fiscal year 1941 is an estimate of $291,940 for Cooperation with the American Republics. This estimate is to enable the Secretary of State to carry out the purposes of the act entitled "An Act to authorize the President to render closer and more effective the relationship between the American republics," approved August 9, 1939. Among the more important projects contemplated are the survey of rubber and certain other plant resources of the American republics; specialized training and details of medical personnel in public-health services; Handbook of South American Indians; and printing and distribution of translated Government publications to the other American republics.

Appropriations for the fiscal year 1940 for various international commissions and conferences, and miscellaneous items, which will not be required the for fiscal year 1941, amount to $338,350.

The expenditures from trust accounts for the fiscal year 1941 are estimated at $2,620,180, an increase of $430,600 above the fiscal year 1940.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT

Under Reorganization Plan No. I, approved by the President pursuant to the Reorganization Act of 1939, the Public Health Service was transferred from the Treasury Department to the newly established Federal Security Agency; the Public Buildings Branch of the Procurement Division, Treasury Department, was transferred to the newly established Federal Works Agency, and the Bureau of the Budget was transferred from the Treasury Department to the Executive Office of the President. All of these transfers were effective July 1, 1939. Under Reorganization Plan No. II, also effective July 1, 1939, the Bureau of Lighthouses was transferred from the Department of Commerce to the Treasury Department and consolidated with the Coast Guard; the annual appropriation for the American Printing House for the Blind, to promote the education of the blind, was transferred from the Treasury Department to the Federal Security Agency; the Office of the Director General of Railroads was abolished and its functions transferred to the Treasury Department, and the War Finance Corporation was also abolished the Secretary of the Treasury being charged to wind up its affairs and dispose of its assets not later than December 31, 1939.

Exclusive of trust funds, the Budget estimates of the Treasury Department as now constituted provide for direct appropriations in 1941 totaling $1,911,548,715 as compared with direct appropriations in 1940 for the same organization units of $2,628,881,633, a decrease for 1941 of $717,332,918. Reappropriations of unobligated balances are contemplated for 1941 to the extent of $31,120,064 as against similar reappropriations for 1940 of $58,188,364, a decrease of $27,068,300. The total availability for 1941, direct appropriations plus reappropriations, is, therefore, $744,401,218 less than in 1940, the principal items of increase and decrease being accounted for as follows:

Annual appropriations.—The estimates of the Office of the Secretary of the Treasury for 1941, including $185,000 for the newly created Personnel Division, total $454,240, which is a decrease of $180,296,638 below the appropriations for 1940. This decrease is due chiefly to nonrecurring appropriations for advances to the railroad unemployment fund, $23,750,000; restoration of capital impairment, Commodity Credit Corporation, $119,599,918; and a reduction in the interest rate on mortgages of the Federal land banks and the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation of $29,700,000 and $7,425,000, respectively. These decreases are offset in part by increases of $47,980 for regular personnel for the Office of the Secretary, and $185,000 for the Personnel Division. Of the latter amount, $25,240 is for entirely new personnel and the remainder is to be transferred from the Division of Appointments and other divisions and bureaus of the Department.

The estimates for the Office of the Chief Clerk amount to $427,600, which is an increase of $72,865 over the appropriations for 1940. There is an increase in the salary appropriation of $43,780 to provide for the transfer of eight employees from the Custody of Treasury Buildings, and for additional regular personnel. The remainder of the increase, $29,085, is in the appropriation for contingent expenses, where additional funds are required for the purchase of office machines and for certain contractual services.

The estimates for the office of Commissioner of Accounts and Deposits amount to $2,503,740, which is a decrease of $8,432,265 below the appropriations for 1940. This net decrease results principally from nonrecurring appropriations of $5,973,825 and $2,500,000 for administrative expenses, Office of the Commissioner of Accounts and Deposits and Division of Disbursements, respectively, made in the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1939, and an increase of $43,280 for additional personnel required to care for increased work in the Office of the Commissioner of Accounts and Deposits, including the Division of Bookkeeping and Warrants.

The total annual estimates of appropriations for the Public Debt Service amount to $3,250,000, which is an increase of $50,350. While an increase of $102,000 has been provided for additional personnel required in connection with the redemption of United States savings bonds and for the work of the Register of the Treasury, there has been a reduction of $51,470 in the amount included for purchase of distinctive paper for United States securities.

The annual estimates of the Bureau of Customs for the fiscal year 1941 aggregate $35,300,000, which is a reduction of $2,904,600 below the appropriations for 1940. The major decrease is an item of $2,800,000 in the appropriation for payment of refunds and drawbacks, but there is also a decrease of $104,600 in the appropriation for collecting the revenue from customs.

The annual estimates of the Office of the Treasurer of the United States for 1941 total $1,360,760, which is a decrease of $592,240 below the appropriation for 1940. This net decrease results from the omission of nonrecurring items of $683,240 and the allowance of an increase of $91,000 for additional personnel. Included in the total of nonrecurring items is $675,000 appropriated for administrative expenses in the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1939.

The total of the annual estimates of the Bureau of Internal Revenue for the fiscal year 1941 is $105,829,660, which is $3,682,960 more than was appropriated for the same purposes for the fiscal year 1940. This net increase is the result of increases of $4,000,000 in the appropriation for refunding internal revenue collections and $940,260 for additional personnel and incidental expenses, which increases are offset in part by reductions of $1,250,000 in the salaries and expenses appropriation for refunding processing taxes, and $7,300 under the appropriation for additional income tax on railroads in Alaska.

The total estimates for 1941 for the Coast Guard amount to $37,250,100, which is $74,987 less than the appropriation for 1940. This net decrease is the result of a nonrecurring item of $477,000 for the construction of additional airplanes for the Coast Guard, and of savings totaling approximately $580,000 to be accomplished by reason of the consolidation of the Coast Guard and Lighthouse Service and consolidation of a number of the appropriations of the two Services into two appropriations. These decreases are offset in part by increases of $57,100 for salaries in the Office of the Commandant, $884,563 for pay and allowances, and $160,000 for retired pay of former Lighthouse Service employees.

The estimates of the Secret Service Division for the fiscal year 1941 amount to $1,103,080, which is a decrease of $168,530 below the appropriation for 1940. A nonrecurring item of $250,000 for administrative expenses under the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1939 is offset in part by increases totaling $81,470 for additional personnel and incidental expenses to care for the increased work of this Division.

The estimates of the Bureau of the Mint for the fiscal year 1941 total $3,000,915, which is an increase of $650,215 over the appropriation for the fiscal year 1940. The items of increase comprising this total are $18,340 for the Washington office, $285,000 for the transportation of gold to the Fort Knox Depository, $7,875 for contingent expenses, and $339,000 for salaries and expenses, mints and assay offices.

The estimates of the Procurement Division for the fiscal year 1941 total $15,842,250, which is a reduction below the 1940 appropriations of $1,816,723. This net decrease results from nonrecurring items of $5,200,000 and $2,000,000 for administrative expenses under the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1939, and to augment the general supply revolving fund, respectively. These decreases are offset by increases of $383,277 for salaries and expenses, Procurement Division, and $5,000,000 for the purchase of strategic and critical materials.

Permanent appropriations.—The estimates of permanent appropriations for 1941 total $1,692,624,690, an increase of $52,462,120 over 1940. The increase includes $50,000,000 for interest payments on the public debt, $2,025,000 for debt retirement payments, and $437,420 for expenses of loans under the Public Debt Service to provide additional personnel to handle the work on new public debt issues, for additional funds to reimburse the Post Office Department for expenses connected with the handling of United States savings bonds and for reimbursement to Federal Reserve banks for expenses incurred in their capacity as fiscal agents of the United States in connection with security issues.

Trust accounts.—The estimates of appropriations under this head total $1,705,387,525, which is an increase of $165,191,000 over the requirements for 1940 and the increase occurs almost entirely in the estimates covering the investment of and payments from the unemployment trust fund, and payments from the Federal old-age and survivor's insurance trust fund which, under the amendments to the social security law, were advanced to January 1, 1940.

WAR DEPARTMENT

Under Reorganization Plan No. II, pursuant to the Reorganization Act of 1939, there were transferred from the War Department, effective July 1, 1939, the Bureau of Insular Affairs to the Department of the Interior, and the Inland Waterways Corporation to the Department of Commerce.

Exclusive of items in the General Public Works Program, and of trust accounts, the Budget estimates for the War Department, including the Panama Canal, for the fiscal year 1941 amount to $746,652,137. This is an apparent net increase of $14,024,990 over the comparable total appropriated for 1940. However, there was appropriated in the Second Deficiency Appropriation Act, fiscal year 1939, approved May 2, 1939, comparable items of appropriation aggregating $71,600,743. While this latter amount is technically chargeable to the fiscal year 1939, and consequently does not appear in the total amount shown in the Budget as appropriated for 1940, nevertheless, because it was appropriated late in the fiscal year 1939, all of it will actually be obligated in 1940. Taking this into consideration, the 1941 estimates, on a cash availability basis, reflect a decrease of $57,575,753.

Departmental activities.—The net increase is $101,432, consisting of an increase of $332,718 for personal services and equipment, including $44,800 to provide for the establishment of a Division of Personnel Management and Supervision to carry into effect the provisions of Executive Order No. 7916 of June 24, 1938, partially offset by decreases of $30,238 for lapses in various departmental salary estimates, $10,350 in the amount required for supplies and equipment for the Department, a net decrease in printing and binding of $6,029 due largely to nonrecurring items, a reduction of $109,709 effected by the transfer to allotment rolls of positions in various offices, and a decrease of $74,960 for military personnel records of the World War, due to completion of the work under this appropriation.

Military activities.—The estimates for activities directly under the Office of the Secretary of War show an increase of $2,000,000. This is a facial increase in the appropriation for the placing of "educational orders" with industry to enable it to prepare for quantity production in an emergency of those military items which are noncommercial in character. It is not an actual increase, since the 1940 appropriation act made available a similar amount from other appropriations for military activities.

The estimates for the General Staff Corps show a total net increase of $391,410, consisting of increases of $289,669 for a somewhat enlarged program for 1941 for maneuvers and field exercises of the Regular Army, and $106,741 transferred from the appropriation for travel of the Army, less a reduction of $5,000 in the amount required for military intelligence activities.

For the Army War College, the net increase is $5,286, consisting of increases totaling $8,816 for personnel and equipment, less $3,530 covering nonrecurring items.

In the Adjutant General's Department there is a net decrease of $19,830, the result of increases of $10,750 for continuing the program of replacing obsolete and unserviceable equipment at the Command and General Staff School, and $520 for personal services, less decreases of $31,100 covering nonrecurring items.

The estimates for the Finance Department show a net increase of $25,927,368 over the total appropriated for 1940. The increases consist principally of $1,515,657 in the pay of officers, due to automatic increases in pay provided for by law, and the projecting into 1941, on an annual basis, the pay of additional officers commissioned on various dates during 1940; $298,205 for flying pay for officers of the Army Air Corps, due to an increase in the number of flying officers and projecting into 1941, on an annual basis, flight pay of officers provided for on a staggered basis in 1940; $332,594 for automatic increases in pay of officers for longevity; $19,562,358 for pay of enlisted men because of an increase in enlisted strength of the Regular Army and the provision of additional grades and ratings required by this increased strength and the progress made in the mechanization and motorization of the Army and expansion of the Army Air Corps; $591,170 for flying pay for enlisted men, due to increase in the number of such men required for crews of airplanes; $1,923,798 for longevity pay of enlisted men, occasioned by increase in number of grades and ratings carrying higher pay rates; $593,953 for pay of officers on the retired list, due to an increase in the number of such officers; $719,816 for pay of the Regular Army enlisted Reserve, due to increase in numbers; $1,737,709 for rental allowances to officers and enlisted men, due to increases in the numbers of officers and men who will be in a commutation-of-quarters status; $159,604 for subsistence allowance for officers, due to increase in commissioned strength; and $90,565 for projecting into 1941, on an annual basis, field employees taken on by the Finance Department at various times during 1940. The principal decrease consists of $1,780,598 in travel expenses of the Army, due to the nonrecurrence of travel in 1941 required to be performed in 1940 in connection with Army expansion programs.

The estimates for 1941 provide average active strengths of not to exceed 13,796 commissioned officers and 204,000 enlisted men of the Regular Army, and 6,415 enlisted men of the Philippine Scouts. In addition, provision is made for 185 officers of the Corps of Engineers to be employed on river and harbor and flood control work and paid from the appropriations for such works.

For the Quartermaster Corps there is a net decrease below 1940 of $6,739,603. The principal increases consist of $2,768,388 for subsistence of the Army because of increased strength; $145,699 for miscellaneous supplies; $192,632 for clothing and equipage; $436,967 for pay of employees at camps, posts, and stations, mainly for projecting into 1941, on an annual basis, the pay of employees taken on in 1940 on a staggered basis under Army expansion programs; $70,150 for replacement of animal-drawn equipment; $1,703,885 for water transportation, due principally to provision for the construction of a new Army transport, as a replacement, for which there is allowed a cash appropriation of $1,000,000 and a contract authorization of $5,000,000, to the purchase of a new tug to replace one which is no longer serviceable, to procure additional boats for the Air Corps for rescue work, and to the necessity for making major repairs to Army transports and other boats of the Quartermaster Corps; $525,000 for motor transportation, because of an increased number of motor vehicles to be serviced, maintained, and operated; $643,331 for rail transportation, due to an increase in the quantities of supplies, equipment, and munitions to be transported in 1941; $124,280 for the purchase of an additional number of horses and mules to replace losses; $249,000 for the purchase of land for use as a firing range for antiaircraft artillery; and $1,709,864 for the maintenance and repair of barracks and quarters, utilities, roads, walks, wharves, and distribution systems, the furnishing of heat, light, and water, procurement of furniture and equipment for barracks and quarters, and procurement and maintenance of fire apparatus—all occasioned by Army expansion programs. These increases, totaling $8,639,346, are offset by nonrecurring items totaling $15,378,949, producing a net decrease of $6,739,603, as stated above.

For the Signal Corps there is a net decrease below 1940 of $5,061,491. This results from total increases of $1,875,177, offset by $6,936,668 of nonrecurring items. The principal item of increase is $1,160,000, required for payment of obligations accruing under contracts authorized by the Supplemental Military Appropriation Act, 1940. The balance of the increase, $715,177, consists of 20 relatively small items of increase made necessary as a result of the initiation of Army expansion programs in 1940.

The estimates for the Army Air Corps for 1941 show a net decrease below 1940 of $2,464,936, resulting from increases in operating costs in 1941 by reason of the aviation expansion program initiated in 1940, offset by decreased requirements for the procurement of new airplanes.

For the Medical Department the estimates for 1941 show a net decrease below 1940 of $837,791, consisting of increases of $122,150, offset by $959,941 of nonrecurring items. The increases cover eight items of relatively small amounts to meet additional requirements because of Army expansion programs initiated in 1940.

The estimates for the military activities of the Corps of Engineers show a net decrease of $276,385, which merely reflects reduced requirements in 1941.

For the Ordnance Department the 1941 estimates are greater by $13,782,558 than the amount appropriated for 1940. This increase is all due to carrying forward the program for supplying the Regular Army with needed munitions of all kinds and the making of necessary repairs to ordnance arsenals.

The estimates for the Chemical Warfare Service show a net increase for 1941 of $581,042, the principal item of increase being $740,000 for payment of obligations incurred under contracts authorized in the 1940 Appropriation Act, which is offset in part by nonrecurring items.

For seacoast defenses the estimates for 1941 call for an increase of $6,179,983, for carrying forward the War Department programs for the construction, maintenance, and repair of fixed fortifications, and their accessories.

The 1941 estimates for the United States Military Academy show a net increase of $20,810, covering increased needs for the maintenance and operation of the physical plant of the academy and additional personnel requirements.

The 1941 estimates for the National Guard show a decrease of $5,362,764, consisting wholly of nonrecurring items. The strength of the Guard during 1941 under these estimates will be approximately 207,500 officers and enlisted men.

The increase in 1941 for the Organized Reserves, amounting to $1,521,951, is principally due to an increased number of Air Corps Reserve officers required for extended active duty with the Regular Army Air Corps under the Aviation Expansion Program of the War Department.

Civil activities.—The net decrease of $1,243,230 for the civil activities of the War Department (exclusive of the Panama Canal, items under the General Public Works Program, and trust accounts) consists of an increase of $85,728 for cemeterial activities and decreases of $2,008 for Alaska Communications System and $1,326,950 for maintenance of river and harbor improvements due to reduced requirements in a number of items.

For the Panama Canal, the 1941 estimates show a decrease of $14,497,917, due to the transfer from these estimates of an item for the installation of protective means and devices to the Emergency National Defense Chapter of the Budget.

Trust accounts.—Under this head there is a net decrease for 1941 of $886,711, due principally to a reduction in funds contributed for river and harbor improvements and flood control.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

The estimates of appropriations for the District of Columbia for the fiscal year 1941, together with prior year appropriations, are to be found in an Annexed Budget. The net expenditures to the extent that they affect the general fund of the Treasury are carried to the General Budget Summary and supporting schedules. The appropriation requirements for 1941, insofar as they constitute a charge upon the United States Treasury, are estimated at $6,000,000, the amount appropriated for 1940. The details of the requirements of the District of Columbia are to be found in the summary and supporting schedules of the Annexed Budget.

EMERGENCY NATIONAL DEFENSE

The President, by proclamation of September 5, 1939, recognized the existence of war in Europe, and proclaimed the neutrality of the United States. Under date of September 8, 1939, he issued a proclamation proclaiming "that a national emergency exists in connection with and to the extent necessary for the proper observance, safeguarding, and enforcing of the neutrality of the United States and the strengthening of our national defense within the limits of peacetime authorizations." In this last-cited proclamation, the President stated that specific directions and authorizations would be given from time to time for carrying out its two purposes.

By Executive Order No. 8244, dated September 8, 1939, it was directed (1) that the enlisted strength of the Regular Army be increased as rapidly as possible by voluntary enlistments to 227,000 men; (2) the commissioned strength of the Regular Army may be supplemented by the use of such Reserve officers as may be necessary within the limitations prescribed in the act of April 3, 1939; and (3) the enlisted strength of existing active units of the National Guard be increased as quickly as possible to 235,000 men, with such increase in commissioned strength as is essential for command.

By Executive Order No. 8245, dated September 8, 1939, it was directed (1) that the enlisted strength of the active list of the Regular Navy be increased as rapidly as possible by voluntary enlistments of not to exceed 145,000 men; (2) the enlisted strength of the active list of the Marine Corps be increased as rapidly as possible by voluntary enlistments to 25,000 men; (3) authorized calling to active duty such retired commissioned and warrant officers of the Navy and Marine Corps, and such transferred members of the Fleet Reserve and Marine Corps Reserve as may be necessary; and (4) authorized the ordering to active duty of such officers and men of the Naval Reserve and Marine Corps Reserve (other than transferred members), including aviation cadets, as might be deemed necessary and as agree voluntarily to serve.

By Executive Order No. 8247, dated September 8, 1939, it was directed that the personnel of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Department of Justice, be increased in such number, not exceeding 150, as the Attorney General shall find necessary for the proper performance of the additional duties imposed upon the Department of Justice in connection with the national emergency.

By Executive Order No. 8254, dated September 18, 1939, it was ordered that the enlisted strength of the active list of the Regular Coast Guard be increased as rapidly as possible through voluntary enlistments by not to exceed 2,000 men, exclusive of former Lighthouse Service personnel, and that, within the limits of available appropriations, the present facilities of the Coast Guard be increased, repaired, modernized, enlarged, and equipped to the extent determined by the Secretary of the Treasury to be necessary to perform such additional duties and to accommodate such increased enlisted strength.

The carrying out of the above Executive orders required waiving or modifying the monthly or other apportionments of the appropriations for the fiscal year 1940 of the agencies concerned.

To meet obligations incurred during the fiscal year 1940 under the provisions of the above-cited Executive orders, there were submitted to the Congress supplemental estimates totaling $271,999,523 and calling for appropriations of $119,999,842 for the War Department, $146,049,256 for the Navy Department, $1,475,000 for the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and $4,475,425 for the Coast Guard.

The estimates for the fiscal year 1941 for "Emergency National Defense" total $302,151,361 and call for appropriations of $133,921,166 for the War Department; $123,932,540 for the Navy Department; $7,809,655 for the Coast Guard, Treasury Department; $2,488,000 for the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Department of Justice; and $34,000,000 for the Panama Canal. These estimates, except as to the Panama Canal, project into the fiscal year 1941, on an annual basis, commitments made during the fiscal year 1940; provide for continuing during 1941 the necessary activities for the proper observance, safeguarding, and enforcing of the neutrality of the United States; and provide for the strengthening of national defense. Under these emergency estimates and the regular estimates for 1941 the average enlisted strengths to be maintained during that year will be 227,000 for the Regular Army (including the Philippine Scouts); 235,000 for the National Guard; 150,250 for the Regular Navy; 25,000 for the Marine Corps; and 8,866 for the Coast Guard. In addition, the Federal Bureau of Investigation will maintain throughout the year an emergency force of 250 additional special agents.

For the Panama Canal, the estimates provide $19,000,000 for necessary protection and $15,000,000 for initiating the improvement and enlargement of the capacity of the Canal, including the construction of a third set of locks, under the provisions of the act of August 11, 1939. Initiation of this project in 1941 is proposed, primarily, in the interest of national defense.

Statement of proposed expenditures for purchase, maintenance, repair, and operation of motor-propelled and horse-drawn passenger-carrying vehicles, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1941, as required by 5 U. S. C. 78

GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE

Appropriation	For purchase				Net cost of new cars	Old vehicles still to be used	Total maintenance, repair, and operation, all cars	Public purpose and users
	New vehicles (motors unless otherwise indicated)		Old vehicles to be exchanged
	Number	Gross cost	Number	Allowance (estimated)
Public printing and binding	2	$1,750	2	$600	$1,150		$1,350	New cars to be used for official business by the officials of the Government Printing Office when in writing ordered by the Public Printer.

Printing and binding for Congress chargeable to the foregoing appropriation, when recommended to be done by the Committee on Printing of either House, shall be so recommended in a report containing an approximate estimate of the cost thereof, together with a statement from the Public Printer of estimated approximate cost of work previously ordered by Congress within the fiscal year for which this appropriation is made.

During the fiscal year [1940] 1941 any executive department or independent establishment of the Government ordering printing and binding from the Government Printing Office shall pay promptly by check to the Public Printer upon his written request, either in advance or upon completion of the work, all or part of the estimated or actual cost thereof, as the case may be, and bills rendered by the Public Printer in accordance herewith shall not be subject to audit or certification in advance of payment: Provided, That proper adjustments on the basis of the actual cost of delivered work paid for in advance shall be made monthly or quarterly and as may be agreed upon by the Public Printer and the department or establishment concerned. All sums paid to the Public Printer for work that he is authorized by law to do shall be deposited to the credit, on the books of the Treasury Department, of the appropriation made for the working capital of the Government Printing Office for the year in which the work is done, and be subject to requisition by the Public Printer.

All amounts in the Budget for the fiscal year [1941] 1942 for printing and binding for any department or establishment, so far as the Bureau of the Budget may deem practicable, shall be incorporated in a single item for printing and binding for such department or establishment and be eliminated as a part of any estimate for any other purpose. And if any amounts for printing and binding, including the total cost of work produced on the multilith, multigraph, and other similar equipment are included as a part of any estimates for any other purposes, such amounts shall be set forth in detail in a note immediately following the general estimate for printing and binding: Provided, That the foregoing requirements shall not apply to work to be executed at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

No part of any money appropriated in this Act shall be paid to any person employed in the Government Printing Office while detailed for or performing service in the executive branch of the public service of the United States unless such detail be authorized by law (53 Stat. 837–838).

OFFICE OF GOVERNMENT REPORTS

NOTE.—The Reorganization Act of 1939 and Reorganization Plan No. II abolished the National Emergency Council and transferred its functions (except the functions of the Radio Division and the United States Film Service) to the Executive Office of the President.

[Emergency Relief, Executive Office, Administrative Expenses—]

[SEC. 8. There is hereby appropriated to the Executive Office of the President, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1940, $850,000. Such sum shall be available for administrative expenses in carrying out the functions heretofore vested in the National Emergency Council and transferred to the Executive Office of the President and the functions of the Radio Division of the Federal Security Agency. Such functions are authorized to be carried out until June 30, 1940. Of the sum appropriated in this section not to exceed $20,000 may be transferred to such Radio Division] (53 Stat. 931).

Salaries and Expenses, Office of Government Reports—

Salaries and expenses: For salary of director, $10,000, and all other necessary administrative expenses to enable the Office of Government Reports to perform the functions of the National Emergency Council transferred to and consolidated in the Executive Office of the President on July 1, 1939, including personal services, in accordance with civil service and classification laws (except as hereinafter specified) and rent in the District of Columbia and elsewhere; contract stenographic reporting service; purchase of law books, books of reference, directories, periodicals, newspapers and press clippings; purchase, operation and maintenance of passenger-carrying automobiles (not to exceed $2,100); purchase of office equipment and supplies without regard to section 3709 of the Revised Statutes when the amount involved in any case does not exceed $100; employment of the director, an assistant director, executive officer and State directors, without regard to the civil service law; and intermittent and temporary employment of persons or organizations by contract or otherwise, without regard to section 3709 of the Revised Statutes or the civil service law, or the Classification Act of 1923, as amended, $1,004,900.

Estimate 1941, $1,004,900 Appropriated 1940, [a] $799,100

[a] Excludes $30,900 transferred to "Printing and binding, Office of Government Reports" and $20,000 transferred to "Emergency Relief, Office of Education (Radio Division) administrative expenses," pursuant to the provisions of the Reorganization Act of 1939 and Reorganization Plan No. I.

UNITED STATES EMPLOYEES' COMPENSATION COMMISSION

Emergency Relief, United States Employees' Compensation Commission—

[SEC. 7. (a) In order to carry out the provisions of section 24 hereof, there is hereby appropriated to the United States Employees' Compensation Commission, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1940, $5,250,000: Provided, That so much of the appropriation in this section, as the Commission, with the approval of the Director of the Bureau of the Budget, estimates and certifies to the Secretary of the Treasury will be necessary for the payment of such compensation and administrative expenses, shall be set aside in a special fund to be available and to be administered by the Commission during the fiscal year 1940 for such purposes; and after June 30, 1940, such special fund shall be added to and become part of the "Employees' Compensation Fund, Emergency Relief", set up in accordance with the provisions of the Independent Offices Appropriation Act, 1939: Provided further, That the special fund herein authorized shall not be limited in its use to the United States, its Territories, and possessions.]

[(b) The funds appropriated in this section, together with the balance of funds heretofore appropriated or allocated to such Commission under the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1938 or prior emergency relief appropriation acts, shall be available for payments to Federal agencies for medical and hospital services supplied by such departments and establishments in accordance with regulations of the Commission for injured persons entitled to benefits under section 24 hereof.]

[(c) Not to exceed $75,000 of the amount appropriated in this section shall be available during the fiscal year 1940 for the purposes specified in the appropriation for salaries and expenses of such Commission in the Independent Offices Appropriation Act, 1940] (53 Stat. 931).

ESTIMATES OF ADMINISTRATIVE EXPENSES TRANSMITTED PURSUANT TO SECTION 7 OF THE FIRST DEFICIENCY APPROPRIATION ACT, 1936

FEDERAL LOAN AGENCY

Administrative Expenses, Federal Loan Agency—

Of the funds available for administrative expenses to the agencies placed under the supervision of the Federal Loan Administrator by section 402 of Reorganization Plan No. I, under authority of the Reorganization Act of 1939, $200,000 is hereby made available to the Federal Loan Agency for all the general administrative expenses thereof, including personal services in the District of Columbia and elsewhere; printing and binding ($1,500); law books, other books of reference and periodicals; newspapers (not exceeding $500); expenses of attendance at meetings or conventions of societies or associations concerned with the furtherance of the work of the Agency, when specifically authorized by the Administrator; purchase (including exchange in part payment) of office equipment; purchase of one passenger-carrying automobile at $1,800 for the use of the Administrator and the rental of garage therefor, and the maintenance, operation or repair thereof; not to exceed $15,000 for the temporary employment of persons or organizations for special services by contract or otherwise without regard to section 3709 of the Revised Statutes or civil service law and regulations; payment, when specifically authorized by the Administrator, of actual transportation expenses and not to exceed $10 per diem in lieu of subsistence and other expenses to persons serving, while away from their home, without other compensation from the United States, in an advisory capacity to the Agency: Provided, That, with the approval of the Director of the Bureau of the Budget, the Administrator may transfer to this allotment from funds available for administrative expenses of the subordinate agencies of the Federal Loan Agency such sums as represent a consolidation in said Agency of any of the administrative functions of such subordinate agencies: Provided further, That section 3709 of the Revised Statutes shall not be construed as applying to any purchase by or service rendered to the Agency when the aggregate amount involved in any such case does not exceed $100: And provided further, That none of the funds made available by this Act for administrative expenses of the Federal Loan Agency and the agencies under its supervision named herein shall be obligated or expended unless and until an appropriate appropriation account shall have been established therefor pursuant to an appropriation warrant or a covering warrant, and all such expenditures shall be accounted for and audited in accordance with the Budget and Accounting Act, as amended.

RECONSTRUCTION FINANCE CORPORATION

Administrative Expenses, Reconstruction Finance Corporation and The RFC Mortgage Company—

Not to exceed $9,250,000 of the funds of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, established by the Act of January 22, 1932 (47 Stat. 5), shall be available during the fiscal year [1940] 1941 for administrative expenses of the Corporation and of The RFC Mortgage Company, including personal services in the District of Columbia and elsewhere; travel expenses, in accordance with the Standardized Government Travel Regulations and the Act of June 3, 1926, as amended (5 U. S. C. 821–833); printing and binding; law books, books of reference, and not to exceed [$1,000] $1,500 for periodicals and newspapers; procurement of supplies, equipment, and services; typewriters, adding machines, and other labor-saving devices, including their repair and exchange, rent in the District of Columbia and elsewhere; use of the services and facilities of the Federal Reserve banks; and all other necessary administrative expenses: Provided, That all necessary expenses in connection with the acquisition, operation, maintenance, improvement, or disposition of any real or personal property belonging to the Corporation or The RFC Mortgage Company or in which they have an interest, including expenses of collections of pledged collateral, shall be considered as nonadministrative expenses for the purposes hereof: Provided further, That notwithstanding [the provisions of section 4 hereof] any other provisions of this Act, except for the limitations in amounts hereinbefore specified, and the restrictions in respect to travel expenses, the administrative expenses and other obligations of the Corporation shall be incurred, allowed, and paid in accordance with the provisions of said Act of January 22, 1932, as amended (15 U. S. C. 601–617) (53 Stat. 549).

NATIONAL YOUTH ADMINISTRATION

Emergency Relief, National Youth Administration—

[SEC. 2. (a) In order to provide assistance to needy young persons, there is hereby appropriated to the National Youth Administration, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1940, $100,000,000, together with all balances of appropriations for such Administration which remain unobligated on June 30, 1939, and such amounts shall be available for (1) administration; (2) the prosecution of projects approved by the President for the National Youth Administration under the provisions of the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1938; and (3) to provide, subject to the approval of the President, on projects, Federal and non-Federal, of the types specified under section 1 hereof for the Work Projects Administration, part-time work and training to needy young persons who are no longer in regular attendance at school and who have been unable to obtain employment, and to enable needy young persons to continue their education at schools, colleges, and universities] (53 Stat. 929).

National Youth Administration—

To enable the National Youth Administrator, under the supervision and direction of the Federal Security Administrator, to continue during the fiscal year 1941 the types of programs (subject to the approval of the President) of assistance to needy young persons authorized by section 2 (a) of Public Resolution Numbered 24, Seventy-sixth Congress, approved June 30, 1939, $85,000,000, of which not to exceed $75,000 shall be available for printing and binding, and $5,290,000 for general administrative expenses, including the objects of expenditure set forth in section 21 of said Resolution: Provided, That the accomplishment of such program shall be in accordance with and subject to the provisions of sections 2 (b), 10, 13, 14, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28 and 34 of said Resolution, which provisions shall be considered as incorporated herein and continued in effect for the purposes hereof: Provided further, That the Federal Security Administrator shall make or delegate the making of all appointments authorized by said section 22: Provided further, That there may be transferred from the above $5,290,000 to appropriations of the Treasury Department such amounts as the Director of the Bureau of the Budget may determine to be proper, to reimburse such appropriations on account of expenditures therefrom in connection with the accomplishment of the purposes of this appropriation.

Estimate 1941, $85,000,000 Appropriated 1940, [a] $99,979,240

[a] Excludes $20,760 transferred to "Salaries and expenses, Office of the Administrator," Federal Security Agency, pursuant to the provisions of the Reorganization Act of 1939 and Reorganization Plan No. I.

[PROCUREMENT DIVISION—PUBLIC BUILDINGS BRANCH]
PUBLIC BUILDINGS ADMINISTRATION

For carrying into effect the provisions of the Public Buildings Acts, as provided in section 6 of the Act of May 30, 1908 (31 U. S. C. 683), and for the repair, preservation, and upkeep of all completed public buildings under the control of the [Treasury Department (other than life saving stations of the United States Coast Guard)] Federal Works Agency, the mechanical equipment and the grounds thereof, and sites acquired for buildings, and for the operation of certain completed and occupied [Treasury buildings] buildings under the control of the Federal Works Agency, including furniture and repairs thereof, but exclusive, with respect to operation, of buildings of the United States Coast Guard, of hospitals, quarantine stations, and other Public Health Service buildings, mints, bullion depositories, and assay offices, the Treasury, Treasury Annex, Liberty Loan, and Auditors' Buildings:

General Administrative Expenses, Public Buildings Administration—

General administrative expenses: For architectural, engineering, mechanical, administrative, clerical, and other personal services; traveling expenses, including expenses of employees directed by the [Secretary of the Treasury] Federal Works Administrator to attend meetings of technical and professional societies and educational exhibits in connection with subjects related to the work of the [Division of Procurement, Public Buildings Branch] Public Buildings Administration, and transportation of household goods, incident to change of headquarters of all employees engaged in field activities not to exceed five thousand pounds at any one time, together with the necessary expenses incident to packing and draying same; printing and binding (not to exceed $13,000), advertising, not exceeding $1,000 for expenses of educational exhibits, specifically approved by the [Secretary of the Treasury] Federal Works Administrator, testing instruments, law books, books of reference, [technical] periodicals, [and journals, drafting materials, especially prepared paper, typewriting machines, adding machines, and other mechanical labor-saving devices, and exchange of same, carpets, electric-light fixtures, furniture, equipment, and repairs thereto, telegraph and telephone service, freight, expressage, and postage incident to the transportation of drawings to and from the office] and such other contingencies, articles, services, equipment, or supplies as the [Secretary of the Treasury] Commissioner of Public Buildings may deem necessary [and specially order or approve] in connection with any of the work of the [Procurement Division, Public Buildings Branch] Public Buildings Administration; rent in the District of Columbia and elsewhere, including ground rent of the Federal buildings at Salamanca, New York, and Columbus, Mississippi, for which payment may be made in advance, and including such expenses necessary to wind up the affairs of the United States Housing Corporation and effect its dissolution; [$930,000] $885,930, of which amount not to exceed [$509,000] $525,000 may be expended for personal services in the District of Columbia and not to exceed [$286,000] $200,000 for personal services in the field: Provided, That the foregoing appropriations shall not be available for the cost of surveys, plaster models, progress photographs, test pits and borings, or mill and shop inspections, but the cost thereof shall be construed to be chargeable against the construction appropriations of the respective projects to which they relate [: Provided further, That no expenditures shall be made hereunder for transportation of operating supplies for public buildings: And provided further, That in no case shall the rates of compensation for the mechanical labor force in the field under this appropriation be in excess of the rates current at the time and in the place where such services are employed] (31 U. S. C. 683; 40 U. S. C. 251; 53 Stat. 670).

Estimate 1941, $885,930 Appropriated 1940, [a] $930,127

[a] Includes $2,100 transferred from "Salaries, Division of Printing, Treasury Department" and $1,027 transferred from "Salaries and expenses, Branch of Supply, Procurement Division," and excludes $3,000 allocated to "Salaries and expenses, office of the Administrator" Federal Works Agency, pursuant to the provisions of the Reorganization Act of 1939 and Reorganization Plan No. I.

Public Works Administration, Act of 1938—

NOTE.—This act provides that in order to increase employment by providing for useful public works projects of the kind and character approved under the preceding acts for public works, there is appropriated $965,000,000 to be expended by the Administrator, subject to the approval of the President. The act also provides that not over $750,000,000 of the above amount shall be expended for grants and that not to exceed $200,000,000 shall be allotted to Federal projects. An additional $3,000,000 for a War Department Building and $3,000,000 for a Social Security Board and Railroad Retirement Board Building was authorized to be allotted from the $965,000,000 by act of Congress (52 Stat. 1114).

ESTIMATES OF APPROPRIATIONS

Salaries and Expenses, Veterans' Administration—

Administration, medical, hospital, and domiciliary services: For all salaries and expenses of the Veterans' Administration, including the expenses of maintenance and operation of medical, hospital, and domiciliary services of the Veterans' Administration, in carrying out the duties, powers, and functions devolving upon it pursuant to the authority contained in the Act entitled "An Act to authorize the President to consolidate and coordinate governmental activities affecting war veterans", approved July 3, 1930 (38 U. S. C. 11–11f), and any and all laws for which the Veterans' Administration is now or may hereafter be charged with administering, [$97,000,000] $101,863,240: Provided, That not to exceed $3,500 of this amount shall be available for expenses, except membership fees, of employees, detailed by the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs to attend meetings of associations for the promotion of medical science or for the betterment of insurance practices and conventions of organized war veterans: Provided further, That this appropriation shall be available also for personal services and rentals in the District of Columbia and elsewhere, including traveling expenses; examination of estimates of appropriations in the field, including actual expenses of subsistence or per diem allowance in lieu thereof; for expenses incurred in packing, crating, drayage, and transportation of household effects and other property, not exceeding in any one case five thousand pounds, of employees when transferred from one official station to another for permanent duty and when specifically authorized by the Administrator; furnishing and laundering of such wearing apparel as may be prescribed for employees in the performance of their official duties; purchase and exchange of law books, books of reference, periodicals, and newspapers; for passenger-carrying and other motor vehicles, including purchase, maintenance, repair, and operation of same, including not more than two passenger automobiles for general administrative use of the central office in the District of Columbia[, one of which may be replaced during the fiscal year 1940 at a cost, including exchange, of not to exceed $1,500]; and notwithstanding any provisions of law to the contrary, the Administrator is authorized to utilize Government-owned automotive equipment in transporting children of Veterans' Administration employees located at isolated stations to and from school under such limitations as he may by regulation prescribe; and notwithstanding any provisions of law to the contrary, the Administrator is authorized to expend not to exceed $2,000 of this appropriation for actuarial services pertaining to the Government life-insurance fund, to be obtained by contract, without obtaining competition, at such rates of compensation as he may determine to be reasonable; for allotment and transfer to the Public Health Service, the War, Navy, and Interior Departments, for disbursement by them under the various headings of their applicable appropriations, of such amounts as are necessary for the care and treatment of beneficiaries of the Veterans' Administration, including minor repairs and improvements of existing facilities under their jurisdiction necessary to such care and treatment; for expenses incidental to the maintenance and operation of farms; for recreational articles and facilities at institutions maintained by the Veterans' Administration; for administrative expenses incidental to securing employment for war veterans; for funeral, burial, and other expenses incidental thereto for beneficiaries of the Veterans' Administration accruing during the year for which this appropriation is made or prior fiscal years: Provided further, That the appropriations herein made for the care and maintenance of veterans in hospitals or homes under the jurisdiction of the Veterans' Administration shall be available for the purchase of tobacco to be furnished, subject to such regulations as the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs shall prescribe, to veterans receiving hospital treatment or domiciliary care in Veterans' Administration hospitals or homes: Provided further, That this appropriation shall be available for continuing aid to State or Territorial homes for the support of disabled volunteer soldiers and sailors, in conformity with the Act approved August 27, 1888 (24 U. S. C. 134), as amended, for those veterans eligible for admission to Veterans' Administration facilities for domiciliary care: Provided further, That the Administrator is hereby authorized to employ medical consultants for temporary duty on such terms as he may deem advisable and without regard to the Classification Act of 1923, as amended.

No part of this appropriation shall be expended for the purchase of any site for or toward the construction of any new hospital or home, or for the purchase of any hospital or home; and not more than $2,500,000 of this appropriation may be used to repair, alter, improve, or provide facilities in the several hospitals and homes under the jurisdiction of the Veterans' Administration either by contract or by the hire of temporary employees and the purchase

SEC. 2. In expending appropriations or portions of appropriations contained in this Act, for the payment of personal services in the District of Columbia in accordance with the Classification Act of 1923, as amended, the average of the salaries of the total number of persons under any grade in any bureau, office, or other appropriation unit shall not at any time exceed the average of the compensation rates specified for the grade by such Act, as amended, and in grades in which only one position is allocated the salary of such position shall not exceed the average of the compensation rates for the grade except that in unusually meritorious cases of one position in a grade, advances may be made to rates higher than the average of the compensation rates of the grade but not more often than once in any fiscal year and then only to the next higher rate: Provided, That this restriction shall not apply (1) to grades 1, 2, 3, and 4 of the clerical-mechanical service; or (2) to require the reduction in salary of any person whose compensation was fixed, as of July 1, 1924, in accordance with the rules of section 6 of such Act; (3) to require the reduction in salary of any person who is transferred from one position to another position in the same or different grade, in the same or different bureau, office, or other appropriation unit; (4) to prevent the payment of a salary under any grade at a rate higher than the maximum rate of the grade when such higher rate is permitted by the Classification Act of 1923, as amended, and is specifically authorized by other law; or (5) to reduce the compensation of any person in a grade in which only one position is allocated.

SEC. 3. During the fiscal year ending June 30, [1940] 1941, the salaries of the members of the Authority and the Administrator, Civil Aeronautics Authority, of the Commissioners of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Commissioners of the United States Maritime Commission, and the Commissioners of the United States Tariff Commission shall be at the rate of $10,000 each per annum.

SEC. 4. None of the funds made available by this Act for administrative expenses of the agencies under the caption "Emergency agencies" shall be obligated or expended unless and until an appropriate appropriation account shall have been established therefor pursuant to an appropriation warrant or a covering warrant, and all such expenditures shall be accounted for and audited in accordance with the terms and provisions of the Budget and Accounting Act of 1921, as amended.

SEC. 5. No part of any appropriation contained in this Act or authorized hereby to be expended shall be used to pay the compensation of any officer or employee of the Government of the United States, or of any agency the majority of the stock of which is owned by the Government of the United States, whose post of duty is in continental United States unless such person is a citizen of the United States, or a person in the service of the United States on the date of the approval of this Act who being eligible for citizenship has filed a declaration of intention to become a citizen or who owes allegiance to the United States (53 Stat. 549–550).
