BUDGET MESSAGE OF THE PRESIDENT

To the Congress of the United States:

Pursuant to provisions of law, I transmit herewith the Budget of the United States Government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1940, together with this message, which is an integral part thereof. The estimates in this Budget are based upon a continuation of all taxes now in force and upon a careful analysis of the existing obligations and future needs of the Government. I, therefore, recommend appropriations for the purposes specifically detailed in the tables which follow.

The Budget and the National Income

Taxation yields almost all of the income of the Government, leaving less than 5 percent to come from miscellaneous sources. Revenue from taxes depends mainly on two factors: The rate of taxation and the total of the national income. This holds true not only of direct taxes on personal and corporate income but also of what are known as ad valorem taxes or other forms of indirect taxes, for the very good reason that the volume and value of goods produced or articles imported vary with the rise or fall of the Nation's total income.

We can and do fix the rate of taxation definitely by law. We cannot by a simple legislative act raise the level of national income, but our experience in the last few years has amply demonstrated that through wise fiscal policies and other acts of government we can do much to stimulate it.

Today the Nation's income is in the neighborhood of 60 billion dollars a year. A few years ago it was much lower. It is our belief that it ought to be much higher.

In order that you may know the amount of revenue which the Government may expect under the existing tax structure as the national income rises, the following table is submitted. It shows the estimated revenues which may be derived when national income reaches certain levels between 70 billion and 90 billion dollars.

Estimated Federal receipts [1] by principal sources, at certain assumed levels of national income based on December 1938 tax rates

[In billions of dollars]

National income	70	80	90
Income taxes	2.5	3.9	5.7
Miscellaneous internal revenue	2.2	2.6	3.1
Customs	.4	.5	.7
Miscellaneous receipts	.2	.2	.2
Pay-roll taxes	.7	.8	.9
Total	6.0	8.0	10.6

The table is not intended to indicate the national income for any particular year and, of necessity, the estimates are rough and may vary somewhat either way. Since taxes are paid from one month to fifteen months after income is realized, the achievement of a 90 billion dollar national income in one year will not, for instance, mean tax collections of 10 billion dollars in that same year. This table is an indicator and not a gauge.

During the past nine fiscal years—a period which has seen the national income drop from a high of 81 billion dollars in the calendar year 1929 to around 40 billion dollars in 1932 and rise again to about 70 billion dollars in 1937—Federal revenues, even though on a higher tax base, ha ve never completely covered expenditures.

We require continual study of the revenues necessary to carry on the normal functions of the Federal Government and of the role which Federal policy should play in the stabilization of the national economy.

This study includes a consideration of: (a) The practicability of reclassifying expenditures on a functional basis and the most appropriate methods of financing the different classifications; (b) the problem of human security including relief and its costs; and (c) the correlation between national income on the one hand and Government receipts and expenditures on the other.

An analysis of receipts and expenditures by major classes over a ten-year period, as set forth in the following table, indicates the nature of the problems to be studied.

Ordinary Expenditures

The expenditure side of a budget may be divided into two major classes, namely—ordinary, which includes the operating expenditures for the normal and continuing functions of government, and extraordinary, which includes those expenditures required to meet the non-operating or the unusual costs of government.

General public works of an annual recurring nature may fall in either class, but in view of their flexibility they have been classed as extraordinary for the purpose of this statement.

The foregoing table shows that the excess of expenditures over revenues in the ordinary classification is attributable to various causes: New functions undertaken; more carrying charges on the national debt, though at lower interest rates; and the inauguration of the social security and agricultural programs. Under all of these classifications, new expenditures have been added without corresponding increases in taxes.

Fixed costs have also increased because of numerous new appropriations for grants and subsidies.

Another type of expenditure has been forced upon us in increasing volume by the real necessity for expanding our national defense. We are all aware of the grave and unsettling developments in the field of international relations during the past few years. Because of the conditions of modern warfare, we must now perform in advance tasks that formerly could be postponed until war had become imminent. A large part of additional national defense expenditures should, I think, be put in a special category on a temporary basis.

The operating expenses of the Government have also increased because of reductions in the hours of work of certain classes of Federal employees, and because of expansion of the normal functions of the Government with the growth of the country.

Among the new governmental functions which have added to the costs of the ordinary budget, the farm program is outstanding. Soil conservation expenditures and other outlays for the crop adjustment program which are of a continuing nature and produce no direct return to the Federal Government have been only partially covered by new revenues.

A new, and partly self-financing, addition was made to the ordinary expenditures when the Social Security Act was passed to safeguard the economic security of a large portion of our population. However, no provision was made for revenues which would pay for grants to States for old-age assistance, for maternal and child welfare, for public health work, and for aid to dependent children and the blind, which expenditures in 1940 will approximate $286,000,000. Furthermore, consideration is now being given to plans for spreading the coverage of, and for revising the benefits under, the Social Security Act, and for improving public health facilities. These plans present major questions of future national policy and directly affect the Budget.

Extraordinary Expenditures

Beyond these questions of ordinary expenditures are those which relate to the nonoperating or unusual costs of Government and involve extraordinary expenditures that deal more particularly with the relationship between fiscal policy and the economic welfare of the country. These questions concern Government loans, capital outlays, and relief of need. Expenditures made under these heads are of such a flexible character as to provide, through their contraction or expansion, a partial offset for the rise or fall in the national income.

The public has been showing an increased interest in the adoption by the Government of a form of budget which would conform more nearly to the practice followed in commercial business. There has been some criticism of the Government's practice of including in its budgetary expenditures, amounts disbursed for loans, or for self-liquidating projects, or for other extraordinary capital outlays which increase the wealth of the Nation.

I recognized the merit of constructive suggestions of this nature by recommending in my last Budget Message a change in the method of financing the requirements of the Commodity Credit Corporation. This recommendation provided for an annual appraisal of the assets and liabilities of the Corporation, and contemplated that any surplus from operations or any impairment of capital resulting from losses be reflected as receipts or expenditures in the annual Budget. Under this method the Budget would be affected, not when the investment or loan is made, but in the fiscal year when the surplus or loss occurs. Congress approved this recommendation in the act of March 8, 1938, and it might well give consideration to an extension of this principle to other governmental corporations and credit agencies, such as:

Agencies under the Farm Credit Administration
Electric Home and Farm Authority
Export-Import Bank of Washington
Farm Security Administration
Federal Crop Insurance Corporation
Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation
Home Owners' Loan Corporation
Inland Waterways Corporation
Panama Railroad
Reconstruction Finance Corporation
Rural Electrification Administration
U. S. Maritime Commission

Public projects of a self-liquidating character represent another class of expenditures appearing in the annual Budget as current outlays, to which this principle might also be applied. For example, outlays for the Boulder Canyon project amounting to more than 120 million dollars have been included in annual budgetary expenditures of the Government, notwithstanding that the total cost of the project, including capitalized interest during the period of construction, will be returned to the Government within 50 years, with interest.

While I do not advocate that the Government capitalize all of its expenditures for physical improvements, it seems to me that such portions of the cost of public projects as are clearly self-liquidating should occupy a separate category in budgetary reporting. Our financial statements, of course, should clearly reflect, in appropriate classifications, the amount of Government outlays for physical improvements that are not self-liquidating in character. We must take into account the necessity for making such of these and other changes as will permit the presentation to the Congress and to the public of more accurate and intelligible statements of the financial operations of the Government.

I should like to call your attention to the following table comparing for the 10-year period the amount of the Federal deficit and the increase in the public debt, with the amount included therein for capital outlays. It should be understood that this table is not intended to represent values on an earning basis. Nevertheless, under our policy of expanding capital outlays to compensate for variation in private capital expenditures and of making loans to meet emergency needs of our people, the table clearly shows that the greater part of the deficits and the larger part of the increase in the public debt have gone for permanent additions to our national wealth.

Let us all fix that fact in our minds so that there shall be no doubt about it and so that we may have a clear and intelligent idea of what we have been doing. We have not been throwing the taxpayers' money out of the window or into the sea. We have been buying real values with it. Let me repeat: The greater part of the budgetary deficits that have been incurred have gone for permanent, tangible additions to our national wealth. The balance has been an investment in the conservation of our human resources, and I do not regard a penny of it as wasted.

Stabilization fund [4]											2,000
											18,431

[2] This amount excludes $170,000,000 of repayments covered into miscellaneous receipts of the Treasury.

[3] The Works Progress Administration has estimated that between 30 percent and 40 percent of the expenditures of that Administration represent outlays for new construction. This does not represent the entire amount of durable improvements made with Works Progress Administration funds, since additions to existing structures are not classed as new construction. However, for the purposes of this statement a figure has been used representing only new construction, namely, 34 percent of the Works Progress Administration expenditures, after excluding administrative expenses, expenses of the National Youth Administration, and expenditures for rural rehabilitation.

[4] This fund was established from the increment resulting from reduction in weight of the gold dollar. This increment was not included in the general receipts of the Government, nor was the expenditure for the establishment of the stabilization fund classed as general. Thus the transactions which resulted in this fund did not, in any way, affect the deficit. Nevertheless, the balance remaining in this fund could, when no longer needed for the purpose of stabilization, be utilized as an offset against the increase in the debt.

A year ago I recommended an increase in work relief, public works, and other related expenditures to check the downward spiral of business. The program undertaken at that time has contributed materially, I believe, to the existing upward movement of business and employment; and I feel that the business men and farmers and workers of the country, no less than the unemployed, are entitled to an assurance that this program will not be curtailed arbitrarily or violently.

The actual cost of work relief and similar expenditures goes down after jobs are found by the workers on these rolls. A violent contraction, before the natural expansion of private industry is ready to take up the slack, would mean, not only human misery, but a disruptive withdrawal from American industry of a volume of purchasing power which business needs at this time. The necessity of increasing Federal expenditures a year ago to check a recession is a well-known fact. Any decision to decrease those expenditures now that recovery has just started would constitute a new policy which ought not to be adopted without full understanding of what may be the result.

May I say emphatically that I am not suggesting an ordinary budget which is always balanced and an extraordinary budget which is always unbalanced. The ordinary expenses of government should continue to be met out of current revenues. But I also hope that those revenues in times of prosperity will provide a surplus which can be applied against the public debt that the Government must incur in lean years because of extraordinary demands upon it.

I believe I am expressing the thought of the most far-sighted students of our economic system in saying that it would be unwise either to curtail expenditures sharply or to impose drastic new taxes at this stage of recovery. But in view of the addition to our public expenditures involved in the proposed enlarged national defense program and the program for agricultural parity payments, for which no revenue provision has yet been made, I think we might safely consider moderate tax increases which would approximately meet the increased expenditures on these accounts. It should be added, however, that it is my firm conviction that such new taxes as may be imposed should be most carefully selected from the standpoint of avoiding repressive effects upon purchasing power.

Sound progress toward a budget that is formally balanced is not to be made by heavily slashing expenditures or drastically increasing taxes. On the contrary, it is to be sought by employing every effective device we may have at our command for promoting a steady recovery, which means steady progress toward the goal of full utilization of our resources. We can contribute very materially toward that end by a wise tax program.

I am recommending the reenactment of the excise taxes which will expire in June and July of this year, not because I regard them as ideal components of our tax structure, but because their collection has been perfected, our economy is adjusted to them, and we cannot afford at this time to sacrifice the revenue they represent. If the Congress should at this session adopt new taxes more scientifically planned to care for the defense and agricultural programs, it is quite possible that the existence of these new taxes will enable us in a later year to give consideration to abolishing some of the present excise levies.

The revised estimate of receipts for the fiscal year 1939 as contained in this Budget is $5,520,070,000, and of expenditures, $9,492,329,000, leaving a deficit of $3,972,259,000.

The estimated receipts for the fiscal year 1940 amount to $5,669,320,000, and the expenditures for that year are estimated at $8,995,663,000, resulting in a deficit of $3,326,343,000.

Recommendations

Temporary miscellaneous internal-revenue taxes.—I recommend that the Congress take steps by suitable legislation to extend the miscellaneous internal-revenue taxes which under existing law will expire next June and July, and also to maintain the current rates of those taxes which would otherwise be reduced next June. I consider that the revenue from such taxes or its equivalent is necessary for the financing of the Budget for 1940.

Postal receipts.—The estimates of appropriations for the Postal Service included in the 1940 Budget are predicated upon the enactment of legislation to provide for the continuance during that fiscal year of the 3-cent postage rate for first-class mail other than for local delivery. While the Government collects more than it spends on first-class mail, the Postal Service is not self-supporting because it carries other classes of mail at less than cost, as shown in the tabular footnote on page xxv.

Civilian Conservation Corps.—The Civilian Conservation Corps has demonstrated its usefulness and has met with general public approval. It should be continued beyond June 30, 1940, and I recommend that Congress enact during its present session the necessary legislation to establish the Corps as a permanent agency of the Government.

Review of the Fiscal Years 1938 and 1939, and the Fiscal Program for 1940

This review concerns the cash actually received and paid out by the Treasury in the fiscal year 1938, the estimates of receipts and expenditures for the fiscal year 1939, and the fiscal program for 1940.

FISCAL YEAR 1938

Receipts.—Total general fund receipts for the fiscal year 1938 amounted to $6,241,661,227 which was a gain over 1937 of $947,821,000. The receipts from income taxes were $477,091,000 in excess of the amount collected from that source in 1937 while miscellaneous internal-revenue taxes were $98,235,000 more. The amounts collected from pay-roll taxes under the Social Security and Carriers' Taxing Acts were $502,075,000 in excess of the amounts collected from the same sources during 1937. Approximately the same amounts were received in each of the two years from the tax on unjust enrichment and from miscellaneous receipts. On the other hand, the revenue from customs during 1938 declined $127,169,000 from the 1937 collections.

Expenditures.—The total expenditures for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1938 (exclusive of expenditures for debt retirement and those payable from postal revenue) amounted to $7,625,822,158, as compared with expenditures on the same basis in 1937 of $8,442,408,756. Of the reduction of $816,586,000 in the 1938 expenditures below those of 1937, the bonus payment, which was a nonrecurring item in 1937, accounts for $556,665,000. Recovery and relief was $772,539,000 less in 1938 than in 1937, and transactions in revolving funds were $82,583,000 less. Transfers to trust accounts increased $290,937,000, while expenditures for other purposes were $304,264,000 greater.

Deficit and public debt.—The gross deficit for the fiscal year 1938 amounted to $1,449,625,881. Excluding $65,464,950 for statutory debt retirement, the net deficit was $1,384,160,931. The estimated net deficit submitted a year ago, as revised and adjusted, was $1,204,330,000. The increase in the gross public debt during the year amounted to $740,126,583, bringing the gross debt on June 30, 1938, to $37,164,740,315.

FISCAL YEAR 1939

Receipts.—The total anticipated general fund receipts for the fiscal year 1939 will be $5,520,070,000, or $399,367,000 less than was anticipated in the Budget estimates of last January and $721,591,000 less than for 1938.

This latter decrease reflects the adverse business conditions of the late months of the 1937 and the early months of the 1938 calendar years, and is particularly true of income taxes which it is estimated will decline $548,618,000 below the actual collections in 1938. Miscellaneous internal revenue is expected to be $106,483,000 less, and pay-roll taxes will be $34,781,000 less than in 1938. Customs revenues are expected to show a decrease of $24,187,000 and miscellaneous receipts a decrease of $8,356,000.

Expenditures.—The total expenditures (exclusive of expenditures for debt retirement and those payable from postal revenue) for the fiscal year 1939 are now estimated at $9,492,329,000.

Expenditures for recovery and relief, including expenditures under an anticipated supplemental appropriation for the last five months of the present fiscal year, will amount in 1939 to $3,187,695,000, an increase of $951,528,000 over expenditures for this purpose in 1938. There are also increases of $170,937,000 for the regular departments and agencies; $115,106,000 for the General Public Works Program; $53,079,000 for national defense; $346,318,000 for the agricultural adjustment program, largely for cotton price adjustments and parity payments; $38,785,000 for grants and administrative expenses under the Social Security Act; $49,719,000 for interest on the public debt; $17,992,000 under revolving funds; $78,449,000 for transfers to trust accounts; and $150,000,000 for supplemental items other than for relief. There are decreases of $2,945,000 for the Legislative Establishment, the Judiciary, and the Executive Office; $32,343,000 for veterans' pensions and benefits; $36,383,000 for the Civilian Conservation Corps; and $33,734,000 for refunds of taxes.

Deficit and public debt.—Excluding public debt retirements, the net deficit for 1939 is now estimated at $3,972,259,000, as compared with an actual net deficit in 1938 of $1,384,160,931. The gross public debt on June 30, 1939, is estimated at $41,131,502,010.

FISCAL YEAR 1940

Receipts.—Revenue estimates for the fiscal year 1940 are based on the assumption that certain taxes which would otherwise expire in June and July 1939, will be continued. The total anticipated receipts for the fiscal year 1940 on this basis are $5,669,320,000, an increase of $149,250,000 over the estimated revenues for the fiscal year 1939. The effect of the business recession which began late in 1937 will continue to be felt in income-tax collections during the fiscal year 1940 and such collections are expected to be $183,000,000 below those for 1939. Miscellaneous internal revenue on the other hand will increase $160,400,000 over 1939, and pay-roll taxes are expected to be $90,250,000 higher. The tax on unjust enrichment is expected to remain at the same figure as in 1939. The amount of contributions under the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act, which appears as a new item in 1940, will be $4,950,000. Customs receipts are expected to show an increase of $68,900,000 over collections from this source during the present fiscal year, and miscellaneous receipts are expected to be greater than in 1939 by $7,750,000.

Expenditures.—The expenditures contemplated for the fiscal year 1940 (exclusive of expenditures for debt retirement and those payable from postal revenues) total $8,995,663,200 which is $496,666,000 less than the amount estimated for 1939. There are increases of $1,046,000 under the legislative and judicial establishments; $83,735,000 for the civil departments and agencies; $8,665,000 under the General Public Works Program; $28,121,000 under the Social Security Act; $74,000,000 for interest on the public debt; $4,510,000 for refunds of taxes; and $87,097,000 under transfers to trust accounts.

For recovery and relief it is estimated that $2,266,165,000 will be needed, or $921,530,000 less than the amount required for this purpose in 1939. Supplemental estimates of appropriations will be submitted to meet the requirements of the Works Progress Administration, the National Youth Administration, and the Farm Security Administration for the fiscal year 1940. Of the estimated expenditure of $2,266,165,000 for recovery and relief purposes, $1,750,000,000 is the amount estimated for expenditure by these three agencies; $469,165,000 by the Public Works Administration and various departments from old balances of emergency funds, $10,000,000 by the Federal Housing Administration, and $37,000,000 for reduction in interest rates on farm mortgages.

National defense expenditures for 1940 will amount to $1,319,558,000. This is an increase of $309,351,000 over the contemplated expenditures for national defense purposes in 1939 and represents an increase of $99,351,000 for continuing the current program and $210,000,000 on account of the new $500,000,000 program to be submitted at a later date.

There are decreases in estimated expenditures under the agricultural adjustment program of $13,667,000; under the Civilian Conservation Corps of $5,000,000; under revolving funds of $101,949,000; under veterans' pensions and benefits of $1,044,000; and under regular supplemental items of $50,000,000.

Deficit and public debt.—The estimated net deficit for the fiscal year 1940 is $3,326,343,200, or $645,916,000 less than the net deficit for the current fiscal year. The gross public debt on June 30, 1940, is estimated at $44,457,845,210.

It should be pointed out, however, that the increase in the debt by reason of the deficit does not mean that the Treasury will borrow that additional sum on the market. There will be available during the fiscal year for investment in special issues of Government obligations the net sum of approximately $950,000,000, which represents investments of $579,000,000 from the old-age reserve account, $271,000,000 from the unemployment trust fund, and $100,000,000 from the railroad and Government employees' retirement funds and from veterans' funds.

ANALYSIS OF REVENUE ESTIMATES

The estimates of the revenues of the Federal Government are made by the Treasury Department in December of each year for the current fiscal year and for the fiscal year next ensuing.

Inasmuch as the tax revenue from practically every major source is directly dependent, although in varying degree, upon business conditions during the period in respect of which the taxes are levied, it is necessary to forecast the general business situation for a period ending approximately 18 months later. This forecast is based upon the analysis of a wide variety of financial and other economic data and includes a forecast of the direction and the magnitude of the movements of industrial production, profits, security and commodity prices, employment, pay rolls, and other indicators of business activity. In view of the well-recognized uncertainty involved in forecasting the various phases of business activity, such forecasts, and the concomitant estimates of future revenues, may be revised from time to time to take account of changed economic conditions.

Upon these business forecasts depend the estimates of the aggregate amounts of corporation and individual incomes as well as the distribution of such incomes among various income classes, and the volume of consumption and importation of commodities upon which taxes are levied. Consideration has to be given to the fact that changes in the various indicators of business activity are not reflected immediately or in direct proportion in the various sources of revenue. Thus in periods of rising business activity profits and taxable incomes rise more than proportionately to the increase in the volume of business because of the relative inflexibility of certain costs. In addition, consideration is given to the fact that the increase in the amount of income-tax collections which will result from a given increase in individual incomes is accentuated under a progressive rate schedule not only because the individual taxpayer's income is more but also because the taxpayer pays a larger percentage of the higher income as income tax.

Changes in business conditions, in the amounts of income, and in the volume of consumption and importation of commodities are reflected more immediately in the receipts from some taxes than from others because of the variation in the method of collection of the taxes. For example, many of the miscellaneous internal-revenue taxes are collected each month on the tax liabilities of the previous month. However, collections from taxes such as the estate and gift taxes and the tax under title IX of the Social Security Act are made upon liabilities of a much earlier period and therefore do not rapidly respond to changes in general business conditions.

The lag between the time income is received by taxpayers and the time of receipt of income taxes based upon such incomes is particularly important in its effect upon total tax receipts. Thus, in general, the changes in incomes in the calendar year 1938 will not be reflected in income-tax receipts until the income-tax returns are filed on or before March 15, 1939. Because of the privilege of making quarterly installment payments of these tax liabilities the collections will be received throughout the calendar year 1939, thus falling into the receipts of fiscal years 1939 and 1940. Hence the estimated current income-tax receipts, both corporation and individual, for the fiscal year 1939 are made up partly from payments on calendar year 1937 incomes and partly from payments on calendar year 1938 incomes. Similarly, fiscal year 1940 estimates of income-tax receipts include some payments based upon the incomes of each of the calendar years 1938 and 1939.

Legislative Enactments Affecting Revenue Estimates

A number of statutory changes enacted during the fiscal year 1938 exert an influence on the revenue estimates for the fiscal years 1939 and 1940.

Income-tax receipts in both the fiscal years will be affected by the changes in law enacted by the Revenue Acts of 1937 and 1938. The former act, effective generally beginning with calendar year 1937 incomes, contained a number of important income-tax provisions designed to prevent tax evasion and avoidance, which changes exert an upward effect upon the revenues by preventing revenue losses which might otherwise occur. These changes were only partially reflected in the fiscal year 1938 income-tax receipts, but, so far as reenacted by the Revenue Act of 1938, will be fully reflected in the receipts of the fiscal years 1939 and 1940.

The Revenue Act of 1938, beginning with calendar year 1938 incomes, imposed major changes with respect to corporation tax rates, including the treatment of undistributed profits, and capital gains and losses of individuals. The effect of these statutory changes on income-tax liabilities for relatively low-income years such as calendar years 1938 and 1939 is decidedly less important in determining the income-tax receipts than are the changes in the business situation.

Miscellaneous internal-revenue receipts in the fiscal years 1939 and 1940 will be affected by a number of legislative enactments of the past year. The revenues will be reduced as a result of the provisions of the Revenue Act of 1938 effecting the outright or partial termination, with respect to sales after June 30, 1938, of the excise taxes on sporting goods, cameras, furs, chewing gum, phonograph records, brewer's wort and malt, crude petroleum, sales of produce for future delivery, matches, and toilet preparations, and by the provision allowing a redeclaration of corporation capital-stock values. On the other hand, the revenues will be increased by the higher tax rate on distilled spirits other than brandy and the accompanying floor tax, changes imposed by the Revenue Act of 1938 and by Public Resolution No. 114. A new source of revenue was provided by the Sugar Act of 1937, imposing a tax on the manufacture of sugar, effective September 1, 1937.

The Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act, effective July 1, 1939, will have a negligible influence on the revenues, since the effect of the act is to remove carriers from the coverage of title IX of the Social Security Act and to require them to pay contributions under the comparable provisions of the new act. Other changes made by the Revenue Act of 1938, such as the according of certain additional exemptions from the stamp taxes and from the taxes on electrical energy, communication facilities, and admissions, and the lowering of the annual gift tax exclusion from $5,000 to $4,000, as well as changes effected by the amendments to the Bankruptcy Act and the National Firearms Act, will have a relatively small effect on the revenues.

Total Revenues and Receipts

Total revenues and receipts, general and special accounts, are estimated (on daily Treasury statement basis, unrevised) in the amounts of $5,520 millions for the fiscal year 1939 and $5,669 millions for the fiscal year 1940, assuming that the taxes now scheduled to terminate or to be reduced in rate after June 30 or July 31, 1939, will be extended in their present form. The estimated amount of total receipts in the fiscal year 1939 represents a decrease of $722 millions from total receipts of $6,242 millions in the fiscal year 1938, while the estimated amount of total receipts in the fiscal year 1940 represents an increase of $149 millions over the estimated total receipts for the fiscal year 1939. If the temporary taxes are not extended in their present form, estimated receipts for the fiscal year 1940 are reduced by $490 millions to $5,179 millions.

The following table depicts the percentage distribution of the classified sources of revenue both for the estimated receipts for the fiscal years 1939 and 1940 and for the actual receipts for the fiscal years 1937 and 1938.

An explanation of the estimates of receipts from each important source of revenue is presented below. The detail of estimated receipts in the fiscal years 1939 and 1940 and actual receipts in the fiscal year 1938 is shown in Statement No. 1, page A3.

FISCAL YEAR 1939

Total receipts to general and special accounts in the fiscal year 1939 are estimated at $5,520 millions, a decrease of $722 millions from receipts of $6,242 millions in the fiscal year 1938. Practically every major source of revenue contributes to this decrease. The decrease in income taxes of $549 millions represents 76 percent of the total decrease while miscellaneous internal revenue shows a decrease of $106 millions, or 15 percent of the total decrease. Smaller decreases appear in the pay-roll taxes, customs receipts, and miscellaneous revenues and receipts. The widespread character of the decline reflects mainly the reduced incomes and the lower levels of business activity during the periods in respect of which the taxes are levied. The sources of these revenues may be broadly summarized as follows:

Total receipts by sources of revenue

[In millions of dollars]

General and special accounts	Actual, 1938	Estimated, 1939
Income taxes	2,634.6	2,086.0
Tax on unjust enrichment	5.7	6.5
Miscellaneous internal revenue taxes	2,279.5	2,173.0
Pay-roll taxes	754.6	719.8
Customs	359.2	335.0
Miscellaneous revenues and receipts	208.2	199.8
Total	6,241.7	5,520.1

Income taxes.—The combined yield of the individual and corporation income taxes, including the excess-profits tax and back taxes, is estimated at $2,086 millions, as compared with the fiscal year 1938 figure of $2,635 millions. It is anticipated that this reduction of $549 millions in income-tax receipts will be divided nearly equally between the corporate and the individual sources.

The decrease in income-tax receipts is principally a reflection of a decline in taxable incomes. While the fiscal year 1938 receipts were based upon incomes received during the calendar years 1936 and 1937, the fiscal year 1939 receipts will be based upon incomes received during the calendar years 1937 and 1938, and will show a reduction primarily because taxable incomes in the calendar year 1938 are estimated at a lower level than taxable incomes in the calendar year 1936.

Miscellaneous internal revenue.—Receipts from the capital stock tax are estimated at $127 millions as compared with receipts of $139 millions in the fiscal year 1938. Since receipts from this tax, which is generally payable on July 31, are concentrated largely in the first quarter of the fiscal year, the fiscal year 1939 estimate involves a smaller element of prediction than do most of the other estimates. The Revenue Act of 1938 allowed a new capital stock value declaration as of June 30, 1938. As receipts from the capital stock tax of the past 2 fiscal years have been dependent on the valuation declared as of June 30, 1936, the indicated decrease of $12 millions is consistent with the decline of corporate income from the calendar year 1936 to the calendar year 1938.

Estate-tax receipts in the fiscal year 1939 are expected to decline to $321 millions, a figure between the record total of $382 millions received in the fiscal year 1938 and the previous high of $282 millions received in the fiscal year 1937. The expected lower property valuations of estates whose tax returns will be filed during the fiscal year 1939 as compared with those filed in the fiscal year 1938, the lower tax rates applicable thereto as a result of the graduated rate scale, and a probable drop in back tax collections from last year's exceptionally high figure account for the indicated substantial shrinkage in the estate tax total.

The estimate of receipts from the gift tax in the fiscal year 1939 is $27 millions as compared with $35 millions received in the fiscal year 1938. Practically the entire payment of this tax is received in March on the gifts of the preceding calendar year. The lower business and income levels in the calendar year 1938 appear to have been less favorable to the making of taxable gifts than were those of the calendar year 1937.

Receipts from taxes upon liquor in the fiscal year 1939 are estimated at $563 millions, or somewhat less than the receipts of $568 millions in the fiscal year 1938. Two counter influences, a decrease in consumption incidental to the decline in business activity and an increase in certain of the tax rates, cause contrary movements in anticipated receipts from the individual items in this group. Thus because of restricted consumption with a constant tax rate, the excise tax on beer is expected to yield $9 millions less in the fiscal year 1939 than it yielded in the fiscal year 1938. Domestic distilled spirits, however, despite a probable falling off in tax-paid quantity, are expected to provide larger receipts than in the fiscal year 1938 as a result of the advance in the tax rate, effective July 1, 1938, on distilled spirits other than brandy, from $2.00 to $2.25 per proof gallon. This increased rate, though equally applicable to imported distilled spirits, will probably not suffice to offset the estimated reduction of imports.

After 6 years of uninterrupted advance in receipts from tobacco taxes, to the record high of $568 millions in the fiscal year 1938, a small decrease to $566 millions in the fiscal year 1939 is forecast. Receipts from the tax on small cigarettes, the largest source of revenue in this group, are expected to decline slightly to $492 millions.

As a group, stamp-tax receipts in the fiscal year 1939 appear likely to form an exception to the prevailing downward tendency. It is estimated that they will aggregate $52 millions, as against $46 millions received in the fiscal year 1938. An anticipated decline of $3 millions due to the repeal of the tax on sales of produce for future delivery is expected to be more than offset by a larger volume of receipts from the tax on stock transfers.

Changes in the law as well as economic factors account for the anticipated decline in receipts from the manufacturers' excise taxes, which in the aggregate are estimated to yield $379 millions in the fiscal year 1939, as against $417 millions in the fiscal year 1938, a decrease of $38 millions. Approximately one-half of the decrease may be ascribed to the termination of certain manufacturers' excise taxes with respect to sales after June 30, 1938, as provided for in the Revenue Act of 1938. The balance of the decrease reflects anticipated lower levels of business activity.

Receipts from miscellaneous taxes are estimated at $138 millions, an increase of $20 millions over the fiscal year 1938 receipts. Expected decreases from most of the taxes in this group are more than offset by the large increase in estimated receipts from the sugar tax. The sugar tax shows an increase of $31 millions over receipts in the fiscal year 1938, since receipts in that year were for less than a 12-month period, the tax not becoming effective until September 1, 1937, and not applying to stocks of direct-consumption sugar then on hand. Apart from a small gain in receipts from the bituminous-coal tax, all of the other taxes in this group are expected to produce less revenue in fiscal year 1939 than in fiscal year 1938. Though traceable partly to statutory changes, such as termination of the regulatory taxes on petroleum and the liberalization of certain exemptions for communication facilities, admissions, and palm oil, the decreases mainly reflect the influence of a lower level of business activity.

Changes in estimated collections from principal sources of miscellaneous internal revenue in the fiscal year 1939 as compared with actual collections in the fiscal year 1938 are summarized in the following table.

Collections from principal sources of miscellaneous internal revenue

[In millions of dollars]

Miscellaneous taxes	117.5	137.8	20.3
Total miscellaneous internal revenue	2,272.2	2,173.0	−99.2

Pay-roll taxes.—As the net result of a large decline in receipts from the carriers tax and only a small rise in receipts from the taxes under the Social Security Act, pay-roll tax receipts in the aggregate are expected to decrease by some $35 millions. Collection arrangements and rate changes continue to affect the year-to-year comparisons of receipts from these taxes. Thus an important cause of the large decrease in receipts from the carriers tax is that whereas there was paid in the fiscal year 1938 (under the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937, approved June 29, 1937), the tax liabilities of the five quarters extending from January 1937 through March 1938, there will become due and payable in the fiscal year 1939 only the liabilities of the four quarters ending March 1939.

Conversely, contributing to the estimated increase in receipts under title VIII of the Social Security Act, from $514 millions in the fiscal year 1938 to $520 millions in the fiscal year 1939, is the fact that receipts in the latter year will represent a full year's liability while receipts in the former year represented less than a full year's liability, since the shift from a monthly to a quarterly basis of payment, effective beginning January 1938, postponed to the fiscal year 1939 the receipts of April and May 1938 liabilities, part of which would otherwise have been received in the fiscal year 1938.

Receipts under title IX of the Social Security Act, estimated at $91 millions in the fiscal year 1939, as compared with actual receipts of $90 millions in the fiscal year 1938, reflect two offsetting influences. The title IX tax rate on pay rolls advanced successively from 1 percent for the calendar year 1936 to 2 percent for the calendar year 1937 and to 3 percent for the calendar year 1938, with a tax credit not exceeding 90 percent for employers who have paid their State unemployment taxes prior to January 31 of the year following the accrual of the Federal tax liability, in States certified to the Secretary of the Treasury by the Social Security Board on preceding December 31 as having operated during the year in accordance with approved standards. Hence, the fiscal year 1939 receipts, being based in part on the 2 percent rate and in part on the 3 percent rate, are expected to exceed the fiscal year 1938 receipts, based in part on the 1 percent rate and in part on the 2 percent rate. But although the higher tax rate tends to increase receipts, this tendency is nearly offset by an expected decrease in the estimated liabilities of employers who do not qualify for the 90 percent tax credit.

Customs.—Customs receipts, including any import tax "levied, assessed, collected, and paid in the same manner as a duty imposed by the Tariff Act of 1930 and . . . treated as a duty," are expected to decline in the fiscal year 1939 to $335 millions from the total of $359 millions received in the fiscal year 1938. It is estimated that changes in receipts by individual tariff schedules will be for the most part relatively small. Duties and import taxes from sugar are expected to be above the fiscal year 1938 level because of relatively heavy imports in the first half of the current fiscal year. Imports of wool and woolen products are also expected to increase. Receipts from agricultural imports, however, are expected to drop because of the large supplies of agricultural products. A decrease is anticipated likewise in duties received from spirits.

Miscellaneous revenues and receipts.—Receipts from the many diverse sources of this group are estimated to yield $200 millions in the fiscal year 1939, a decrease of $8 millions from the total of $208 millions received in the fiscal year 1938.

FISCAL YEAR 1940

Total receipts to general and special accounts for the fiscal year 1940 are estimated at $5,669 millions, assuming that the temporary taxes expiring June 30 and July 31, 1939, are extended in their present form. This amount represents an increase of $149 millions over estimated receipts for the fiscal year 1939. The increase is ascribed to an expected rise in receipts from all major sources of revenue except income taxes. If the temporary taxes are not extended, estimated receipts for the fiscal year 1940 are reduced by $490 millions to $5,179 millions. Estimated receipts for the fiscal year 1940, assuming the extension of the temporary taxes in their present form, as compared with estimated receipts in fiscal year 1939, are broadly summarized as follows:

Total receipts by sources of revenue

[In millions of dollars]

General and special accounts	Estimated, 1939	Estimated, 1940
Income taxes	2,086.0	1,903.0
Tax on unjust enrichment	6.5	6.5
Miscellaneous internal revenue taxes	2,173.0	2,333.4
Pay-roll taxes	719.8	810.0
Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act		4.9
Customs	335.0	403.9
Miscellaneous revenues and receipts	199.8	207.6
Total	5,520.1	5,669.3

Income taxes.—Receipts from income taxes in the fiscal year 1940 are estimated at $1,903 millions as compared with an estimate of $2,086 millions for the fiscal year 1939. The fiscal year 1940 income-tax receipts represent a portion of the tax liabilities of each of the two relatively low income years, calendar years 1938 and 1939. Although higher incomes are expected in the calendar year 1939 than in the calendar year 1938, it is anticipated that they will not reach the calendar year 1937 level. The result is that income-tax receipts in the last half of the fiscal year 1940, based upon calendar year 1939 incomes, will be somewhat higher than those of the corresponding period of the previous fiscal year, but that receipts in the first half of the fiscal year 1940, based upon calendar year 1938 incomes, will be much lower than those of the first half of the preceding fiscal year. A similar situation accounts for the expected decline in the excess-profits tax in the fiscal year 1940. Unlike other items in the income-tax group, back tax collections are expected to increase.

Miscellaneous internal revenue.—Capital-stock-tax receipts in the fiscal year 1940 will depend on the valuation declared as of June 30, 1938, as adjusted on June 30, 1939. The net effect of the various adjustments in the original declared valuation due to the calendar year 1938 business activity is expected to decrease the fiscal year 1940 receipts to $123 millions from the $127 millions estimated for the fiscal year 1939.

Estate-tax receipts are estimated at $329 millions in the fiscal year 1940. This represents only a slight increase over the estimate for the fiscal year 1939 as the length of time intervening between the valuation of estates and the payment of the tax prevents estate-tax receipts from being immediately responsive to improving business conditions. Receipts from the gift tax are estimated at $33 millions, an increase of $6 millions over estimated receipts in the fiscal year 1939.

The estimated revenues from liquor taxes of $607 millions compare with an estimated aggregate of $563 millions in the fiscal year 1939. Receipts from the taxes on domestic distilled spirits and fermented malt liquors, the leading sources of revenue in this group, are expected to increase substantially, the former by $25 millions and the latter by $19 millions. The floor tax, enacted in June 1938 in connection with an increase in the tax rate on distilled spirits, will be unimportant as a source of revenue in the fiscal year 1940. Receipts from all other taxes in this group are expected to show moderate increases.

Tobacco taxes are expected to yield aggregate revenues of $610 millions in the fiscal year 1940, as compared with an estimated total of $566 millions in the fiscal year 1939. Increased revenues from the tax on cigarettes account for practically all of this gain as receipts from all other taxes in this group are expected to show only minor changes.

Stamp-tax receipts are expected to total $59 millions in the fiscal year 1940, assuming a continuation of present taxes and rates. This compares with estimated revenues of $52 millions in the fiscal year 1939.

Under the present law, the manufacturers' excise taxes expire with respect to sales made after June 30 or in some cases after July 31, 1939. Assuming that these taxes, which form an important part of the present tax structure, will be extended by new legislation, aggregate receipts from the group are estimated at $427 millions in the fiscal year 1940. This amount compares with an estimated total of $379 millions in the fiscal year 1939. The tax on gasoline, the leading source of revenue in this group, is expected to yield $211 millions, representing an increase of $19 millions over the previous fiscal year.

Certain of the taxes in the miscellaneous group will expire or will be automatically modified at the beginning of the fiscal year 1940. Assuming a continuation of these taxes through new legislation, aggregate revenues from the group in the fiscal year 1940 are estimated at $145 millions, as compared with estimated revenues of $138 millions in the fiscal year 1939.

The principal changes in the estimated miscellaneous internal-revenue receipts in the fiscal year 1940, assuming the extension of the temporary taxes in their present form, as compared with the estimates for the fiscal year 1939 are summarized in the following table.

Collections from principal sources of miscellaneous internal revenue

[In millions of dollars]

Source	Collection basis		Increase or decrease (−) 1940 over 1939
	Estimated, 1939	Estimated, 1940
Capital-stock tax	127.0	123.4	−3.6
Estate tax	321.2	329.2	8.0
Gift tax	26.8	33.0	6.2
Alcoholic beverage taxes	563.0	607.3	44.3
Tobacco taxes	565.6	610.1	44.5
Stamp taxes	52.3	58.6	6.3
Manufacturers' excise taxes	379.3	427.2	47.9
Miscellaneous taxes	137.8	144.6	6.8
Total miscellaneous internal revenue	2,173.0	2,333.4	160.4

Pay-roll taxes.—Receipts under title VIII of the Social Security Act are expected to increase to $598 millions in the fiscal year 1940 from $520 millions in the fiscal year 1939. This gain is due in large part to the 50-percent increase in the tax rates effective during the calendar year 1940.

Revenues under title IX of the Social Security Act are expected to decline slightly to $89 millions from $91 millions anticipated for the fiscal year 1939. Two offsetting factors materially affect receipts from this tax in the fiscal year 1940. On one hand, this will be the first year when all current tax liabilities are collected under the 3-percent tax rate. On the other hand, receipts will be lowered because of the passage of the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act which removes carriers from the coverage of title IX effective July 1, 1939. The full effect of this change in the law, however, is not reflected in the fiscal year 1940 receipts since the tax liabilities of the period January to June 1939 will enter title IX receipts in calendar year 1940.

Digitized for FRASER

Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis

Revenues under the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937 are expected to rise to $124 millions from the $109 millions anticipated in the fiscal year 1939. This increase may be ascribed in part to the increase in the aggregate of tax rates from 5½ to 6 percent beginning with calendar year 1940.

Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act.—Beginning July 1, 1939, carriers will be required to pay contributions under the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act (approved June 25, 1938) rather than to pay taxes under title IX of the Social Security Act, and 10 percent of the contributions received will be deposited to the credit of the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Administration Fund. It has been assumed that contributions will be paid on a quarterly basis in the month following the close of the quarter in which the liabilities accrue. Thus the fiscal year 1940 receipts, which will include contributions covering only three-quarters, are estimated at $5 millions.

Customs.—Receipts from customs duties and import taxes are expected to increase to $404 millions from the $335 millions anticipated for the fiscal year 1939. It is expected that increases will be general in the several tariff schedules, although a decline is expected in imports of sugar from the unusually high level of the fiscal year 1939.

Miscellaneous revenues and receipts.—Receipts from the many sources in this group are estimated at $208 millions in the fiscal year 1940 as compared with estimated receipts of $200 millions in the fiscal year 1939.

EXPLANATORY INTRODUCTION TO STATEMENT NO. 2

The following statement presents in three parallel columns the appropriation estimates for the fiscal year 1940 and the actual appropriations for 1939 and 1938. Adjacent to these columns are three additional columns showing the estimated expenditures for 1940 and 1939 and the actual expenditures for 1938. To avoid confusion in comparing the figures in these six columns the basis upon which the figures are presented should be explained.

With respect to the first-mentioned three columns of figures, the 1938 and 1939 columns carry the appropriations which have already been made by Congress for the various departments, bureaus, establishments, and agencies of the Government for these fiscal years. The 1940 column presents the amounts for these organization units which the President has recommended to the Congress for appropriation for the fiscal year 1940.

The appropriations, it will be observed, are of two general types—annual and permanent. The annual appropriations, ordinarily found in the departmental supply bills, are voted each year by the Congress. They are usually definite and specific as to amounts. They may be obligated only during the year to which they relate, but remain available for payment of unliquidated obligations for 2 years thereafter before any unused balance is covered into the surplus fund of the Treasury. The permanent appropriations are automatically renewed each year over a period of time by virtue of permanent legislation, without annual action by the Congress. Such appropriations may be either specific or indefinite as to amounts. An example of the latter is the indefinite appropriation to cover the interest on the national debt. This type of appropriation, while sometimes difficult to ascertain as to amount, does not preclude an estimated figure for use in the Budget. The Congress makes some appropriations available until expended, or until the object for which they are made is accomplished. These appropriations are without a definite time limit and may, therefore, be called "no-year" appropriations. They are generally for the construction of public works projects.

Turning to the three columns under the caption "Expenditures," the column for 1938 shows the actual expenditure figures for that fiscal year. These figures, usually on a checks-issued basis, are adjusted at appropriate totals to the cash (checks-paid) basis, as shown on the daily Treasury statement. The totals, therefore, are on an actual cash basis. The columns for 1939 and 1940 show the estimated expenditures for these fiscal years on a cash basis. The figures in these three columns are those carried in totals to the General Budget Summary and supporting schedules. Hence, the Budget is, in effect, on a cash basis with respect to expenditures, as well as with respect to receipts.

The expenditures shown in this statement are on the basis of the daily Treasury statement as revised on July 1, 1938, to clarify the effect on the Budget of the financial transactions of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Commodity Credit Corporation, Rural Electrification Administration, and Export-Import Bank of Washington. To the extent that the transactions of these agencies are financed from the proceeds of issues of corporate obligations, they have no effect upon the Budget. Under authority of the act of February 24, 1938, the Secretary of the Treasury canceled, prior to July 1, 1938, approximately $2,691,000,000 of the obligations purchased from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation pursuant to the act of January 22, 1932, as amended, with respect to which the Reconstruction Finance Corporation had no means of making repayment to the Treasury. It will continue to be the practice of the Treasury to include as budget expenditures moneys expended from funds allocated by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation on account of purposes or activities for which no provision has been made for repayment to the Treasury and which will be subject to the act of February 24, 1938.

The italicized items appearing in the statement represent emergency appropriations and expenditures. The totals of these various items are summarized and presented in the General Budget Summary under the expenditure group called "Recovery and relief."

SYNOPSIS OF APPROPRIATION ESTIMATES

There is herewith presented brief explanatory data concerning the appropriation estimates included in the Budget for the fiscal year 1940. These synopses are designed to furnish a condensed comparison of the 1940 appropriation estimates with the corresponding appropriations for the fiscal year 1939. For additional information concerning each estimate reference should be made to the section of this Budget entitled "Estimates of Appropriation in Detail."

LEGISLATIVE ESTABLISHMENT

The appropriation estimates of $24,207,246 for the Legislative Establishment show a net increase of $1,339,062.50 above the appropriation for the fiscal year 1939.

Senate

The estimates of $3,703,454 for the United States Senate show a net increase of $282,117.50, representing increases of $200,000 for miscellaneous items (exclusive of labor) in the contingent expenses of the Senate and $150,000 for expenses of inquiries and investigations, with decreases of $51,000 for mileage and approximately $16,000 in other miscellaneous items.

House of Representatives

The estimates of $8,323,730 for the House of Representatives represents a net decrease of $283,058 as compared with the fiscal year 1939. The principal items of decrease are $171,000 for mileage of Members and Delegates, $70,000 for expenses of special and select committees authorized by the House, and $54,750 for stationery for Representatives, which decreases are offset to the extent of approximately $10,000 in several items of small increases.

Legislative miscellaneous

The estimates for the miscellaneous legislative group aggregating $203,440 includes the Capitol Police Force, the Joint Committee on Printing, the Office of Legislative Counsel and the cost of preparing appropriation statements and are the same amount as was appropriated for the fiscal year 1939.

Architect of the Capitol

The estimates of $2,808,721 submitted for the Architect of the Capitol show a net increase of $1,004,882. The principal items of increase are $47,566 for Capitol Building and repairs; $345,350 for reconstruction, repair, alteration, and improvement of the terraces of the Capitol Building; $429,246 for care and improvement of grounds around the Capitol, Senate, and House Office Buildings, and the Capitol power plant; $22,959 for the maintenance of the Senate Office Building; $43,270 for the maintenance of the House Office Building; $20,910 for operation of the Capitol power plant, and $99,221 for the Library buildings and grounds, which increases are offset to some extent by a few items of small decreases.

Botanic Garden

The estimates of $105,287 for the Botanic Garden show a decrease of $9,063 as compared with the fiscal year 1939, due to a decrease in the cost of maintenance, operations, repairs, and improvements.

Library of Congress

The estimates of $3,676,184 for the Library of Congress, exclusive of trust funds, show a net increase of $703,184, of which $354,405 relates to salaries in the Library proper; $42,140 to salaries for the Copyright Office; $20,010 to the distribution of card indexes; $7,700 to index for State legislation; $3,382 to expenses of Sunday opening; $7,800 for union catalogs; $18,000 for general increase in the purchase of books, miscellaneous periodicals, and newspapers; $30,000 for an increase in the purchase of books for the Law Library; $183,300 for printing and binding; and $32,957 for salaries, Library buildings. The balance of the net increase is accounted for by several small minus and plus items.

The trust account estimates of $64,000 are $20,500 less than for the fiscal year 1939. There is a $15,000 decrease under the Library of Congress, gift fund; a $2,000 decrease under the income from investment account; and a $3,500 decrease under the chamber music auditorium account due to the elimination of this item for the fiscal year 1940.

Government Printing Office

The estimates of $4,722,430 for the Government Printing Office, which are exclusive of $600,000 of trust accounts, show a net decrease of $405,000, due to a nonrecurring item of $450,000 in the fiscal year 1939 for printing the Code of Federal Regulations and to an increase of $45,000 for salaries and general expenses in the Office of the Superintendent of Documents.

INDEPENDENT OFFICES AND ESTABLISHMENTS

Executive Office

The estimates of $450,950 for the Executive Office provide an increase of $1,040, as compared with the fiscal year 1939, for a number of salary adjustments.

American Battle Monuments Commission

The estimate of $140,000 for the American Battle Monuments Commission is $10,000 less than was appropriated for the fiscal year 1939. The reduced amount for 1940 is due to the fact that the construction and dedication of chapels and memorials have been completed, and the work of the Commission is approaching a normal maintenance and operating basis.

Board of Tax Appeals

The estimate for the Board for 1940 is $557,000, which is an increase of $31,000 over the appropriation for 1939. Of this increase $25,000 is for additional personnel and incidental expenses, and $6,000 is for additional printing.

Central Statistical Board

The estimates of $126,000 for the Central Statistical Board for the fiscal year 1940 are the same as the appropriations for the fiscal year 1939.

Civil Aeronautics Authority

The Civil Aeronautics Authority was created by the act of June 23, 1938, which act provided for the transfer to the Authority of certain duties and functions formerly performed by the Bureau of Air Commerce of the Department of Commerce, the Bureau of Air Mail of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and the Post Office Department; and imposed such added responsibilities as expanded economic regulation, including the negotiation of reciprocal agreements, increased activities in the field of development and planning, and the certification of mechanics employed in the construction, maintenance, and repair of airplanes. Following the establishment of the Authority on August 22, 1938, there were transferred to it appropriations for the fiscal year 1939 amounting to $15,044,935 which had been made to other agencies. For the fiscal year 1940 there is provided a total of $21,230,000, as follows: $13,750,000 for operating salaries and expenses and for the maintenance of air-navigation facilities; $7,000,000 for construction, modernization, and replacement of air-navigation facilities; $380,000 for the expenses of the Air Safety Board; and $100,000 for printing and binding. The increase in the appropriations to be made available to the Authority in the fiscal year 1940 over the funds provided for 1939 amounts to $6,185,065 and provides for the supervision of substantial additional construction of new airways; maintenance of new air-navigation facilities; and for the handling of the additional duties imposed upon the Authority by the act of June 23, 1938, as outlined above.

Civil Service Commission

The estimate of $91,404,000 for the Civil Service Commission for the fiscal year 1940 is $13,738,250 in excess of the amount appropriated for the fiscal year 1939. For administrative expenses an increase of $1,600,000 is allowed and for printing and binding, $53,250. Provision is made in both of these estimates for a portion of the increase to be made immediately available, $550,000 for administrative expenses and $20,000 for printing and binding. This provision will enable the Commission to make without delay such increases in staff as are necessary because of (1) normal increase in work and (2) expansion incident to the Executive orders of June 24, 1938, extending the classified service. The remainder of the increase, $12,085,000, is in the estimate for the civil service retirement fund and is based upon the recommendations contained in the report, dated December 29, 1937, of the Board of Actuaries of the civil service disability and retirement fund, which report was transmitted to Congress by the President of the Civil Service Commission on January 14, 1938.

Civilian Conservation Corps

The estimate of $295,000,000 for the Civilian Conservation Corps is $8,467,935 in excess of the amount available for the fiscal year 1939. The estimate anticipates the continuance of 1,500 camps and an authorized maximum enrollment of 300,000 (the same number of camps and enrollees as authorized during the fiscal year 1939). The principal items of expenditure are as follows: Pay of enrollees, $105,561,468; subsistence, $47,251,836; pay of civilians, $44,753,722; supplies and materials, including clothing of enrollees, $23,621,999; pay of Reserve officers and Coast Guard warrant officers, $18,073,173; structures and parts, including the construction of new camps and moving and reconditioning of portable buildings, $14,553,467; and equipment, including automobiles, trucks, and other power-driven equipment, $9,643,099.

The increase over the fiscal year 1939 is necessary in order to provide for the replacement of a portion of the power-driven equipment, including trucks and automobiles, and for an increase in requirements for clothing and for camp construction.

District of Columbia Alley Dwelling Authority

The Authority contemplates continuing its program of eliminating alley dwellings as provided in the District of Columbia Alley Dwelling Act of June 12, 1934, as amended, for which purpose $1,000,000 is to be borrowed from the United States Treasury in 1940. With this money it is expected to complete eight comparatively small-scale projects.

The Authority likewise is proceeding upon a broad slum-clearance program under the United States Housing Act of 1937, as amended, for which purpose it is the intention to borrow some $15,000,000 from the United States Housing Authority. During the remainder of the present fiscal year and through the fiscal year 1940 it is expected that eight large-scale projects will be begun, including the construction of certain projects in areas not yet built up, and of replacement projects following clearance of slum sections.

The Authority will continue its management of the twelve completed projects, receipts from which in 1940 are expected to total some $220,000.

Employees' Compensation Commission

The estimates for the Employees' Compensation Commission, exclusive of trust accounts, aggregate $9,104,910, of which $5,018,400 relates to regular annual appropriations, and $4,086,510 is for appropriations of special funds, and show an increase of $90,589 as compared with the fiscal year 1939.

The estimate of $510,000 submitted for salaries and expenses has been increased by $31,775 over the appropriation for the fiscal year 1939 in order to provide additional funds for personnel and other obligations to take care of the regular work of the Commission. Limitations have been placed on the amounts that may be expended for administrative purposes from the several emergency funds available to the Commission. The estimate of $8,400 for printing and binding is increased by $150 in order to permit the printing of a revised schedule of medical facilities.

The estimate of $4,500,000 for the employees' compensation fund is decreased by $275,000 in view of the fact that the obligations for the fiscal year 1939 were $275,000 less than the appropriation and no change is anticipated for the fiscal year 1940.

The estimate of $208,870 for the employees' compensation fund, Civil Works, is decreased by $7,430 due to an anticipated decrease in disability compensation, medical treatment, and administrative expenses.

The estimate of $677,640 for the employees' compensation fund, Emergency Conservation Work, is $77,640 in excess of the appropriation for the fiscal year 1939 due to the cumulative increase in disability compensation, medical treatment, and death compensation.

The estimate of $3,200,000 for the employees' compensation fund, Emergency Relief, is increased by $263,454. Additional funds will be required, however, for any emergency activities continued through the fiscal year 1940.

Farm Credit Administration

The estimate of $3,600,000 for the Farm Credit Administration for salaries and expenses for the fiscal year 1940 is $150,000 less than the 1939 appropriation. The gross amount, including reimbursements and reappropriations that will be available for 1940, is $9,403,521 in comparison with an availability of $9,974,921 for 1939, or an availability decrease of $571,400. There has been a decrease in the volume of loans that are made, under the supervision of the Farm Credit Administration, by the Federal land banks, and the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation.

For the first time in annual Budgets, there is included an estimate of appropriation for crop loans. In previous years, Congress has annually authorized the making of crop loans, and supplemental estimates have been submitted for the necessary appropriations. The present Crop Loan Act, however, provides permanent authority for the making of crop loans. The amount of the estimate for 1940 is $15,000,000, which, together with the estimated unobligated balance on June 30, 1939, and estimated collections during 1940, will permit the making of crop loans up to $25,000,000 during the 1940 fiscal year.

Federal Communications Commission

The estimate of $2,038,175 for the Federal Communications Commission for the fiscal year 1940 represents a net increase of $293,175 over the appropriations for the fiscal year 1939.

An increase of $300,000, provided for salaries and expenses for the regular work of the Commission, is offset to the extent of $6,825 by a reduction from the amount allowed in 1939 for the special study of radio requirements necessary for ships navigating the Great Lakes and inland waters of the United States, which study is to be completed by December 31, 1939. The increase of $300,000 will enable the Commission to more carefully supervise rate structures and replace a portion of the obsolete technical radio equipment used by the inspection staff. It also provides for a small section of five employees to maintain the records and perform the necessary clerical work for the Interdepartmental Radio Advisory Committee.

Federal Power Commission

The estimates of the Commission for the fiscal year 1940 in the amount of $2,734,500 provide for an increase of $592,757 over the appropriations for 1939. Of this increase, $80,000 is provided in order to enable the Commission to more actively proceed with its investigations and regulation of electrical power utilities. The $35,000 increase in printing and binding will enable the Commission to print a more satisfactory electrical rate book, which book is to be sold and the proceeds deposited to the credit of miscellaneous receipts, and $2,757 represents additional mandatory payments to States from the proceeds of special license fees collected in accordance with the Federal Power Act. For new projects started in 1939 additional amounts are provided as follows: $250,000 for the enforcement of the Natural Gas Act approved June 21, 1938; $175,000 for surveys which the Commission is required to make under the provisions of the Flood Control Act of June 28, 1938, and $50,000 to expedite the Commission's work in determining the original cost of electrical power projects.

Federal Trade Commission

The estimates of appropriations for the Commission for 1940 amount to $2,324,000, an increase of $128,300 over the appropriations for 1939. The increase consists of $32,260 for administration, $106,739 for unlawful trade practice work, and $27,821 for trade practice agreements, which increases are partially offset by a reduction of $36,820 for general investigations and $1,700 for printing and binding. The increase will enable the Commission to reduce its backlog of active cases, to cooperate with industry in the making of voluntary trade-practice agreements, and to enforce the amendments to the Federal Trade Commission Act of March 21, 1938, in particular those sections relating to false advertising. The appropriation contains an item of $150,000 for special investigations, the same amount as was included in the 1939 appropriation.

Foreign Service Pay Adjustment

The estimate for the fiscal year 1940 of $1,570,000 is an increase of $70,000 over the appropriation for the fiscal year 1939. This increase is predicated on exchange appreciation costs for additional personnel estimated for certain departments and establishments on account of disturbed conditions abroad, particularly in Europe and the Far East, and on changes which it is contemplated will be made in the stations of certain personnel to areas in which exchange appreciation costs are higher.

General Accounting Office

The estimate of $5,306,540 for the General Accounting Office is the same as the amount appropriated for the fiscal year 1939. The General Accounting Office will also require additional emergency funds for the disposition during the fiscal year 1940 of its work on account of the emergency relief programs.

Interstate Commerce Commission

The estimates of appropriations for 1940 which amount to $8,930,000 show an increase of $404,000 over the amount appropriated for 1939 exclusive of $200,000 transferred to the Civil Aeronautics Authority. With the exception of a minor increase of $2,000 under the appropriation "Signal safety systems" in order to adjust the salaries of inspectors and place them on the same base as inspectors in other bureaus within the Commission, and an increase for the Bureau of Locomotive Inspection of $2,000 which is largely for travel, the Bureau of Motor Carriers is the only agency of the Commission for which additional funds are being provided. For this activity, $400,000 is allowed for additional personnel and other expenses in order to enable the Commission to bring the work of this Bureau up to date.

Maritime Labor Board

The estimate for the Board for the fiscal year 1940 in the amount of $190,000 shows an increase of $115,000 over the appropriation for 1939. This Board was created by Public, No. 705, approved June 23, 1938. In the Second Deficiency Appropriation Act, approved June 25, 1938, $75,000 was provided to start the work of the Board. The increase provided for 1940 is in order to enable the Board to continue work on its report regarding permanent regulation, to maintain its record of labor contracts, and to mediate labor disputes between maritime employers and employees in connection with actual or contemplated strikes. When the Board was first organized, it was not expected that interested parties would present cases for adjustment and mediation until after Congress had passed upon the question of permanent legislation. It appears, however, that both employers and employees are making an increasing number of requests on the Board for assistance in the settlement of such disputes.

Mount Rushmore National Memorial Commission

The estimate of $175,000 for the Mount Rushmore National Memorial Commission is $75,000 in excess of the amount appropriated for the fiscal year 1939. This increase is submitted in order to permit continuance of the construction work throughout the fiscal year, rather than closing down as has been done in the past through the winter months. This program contemplates the need for an additional amount of $75,000 for the fiscal year 1939.

National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics

For salaries and expenses, $1,717,000 is provided for the fiscal year 1940, an increase of $238,000 over that appropriated in 1939. The increase will enable the Committee to expedite studies which it has undertaken in connection with civil and military aeronautics. An additional $2,000 is allowed for printing additional technical papers on fundamental research. An estimate of $440,000 is included under "General Public Works Program" to provide for the repair and construction of laboratory facilities.

National Archives

The estimates of $864,000 for the National Archives show a net increase of $75,000 over the amount appropriated for the fiscal year 1939. This increase is necessary in order to provide for the employment of additional personnel and for other expenses incident to the operation of additional stack space, the use of which will be necessary during the fiscal year 1940, and is in line with the progressive expansion in occupying the available stack space in the Archives Building.

National Capital Park and Planning Commission

The estimate of $1,000,000 for 1940 will provide for the continuance of the program of land acquisition for the park, parkway, and playground system in the District of Columbia, as authorized by the Capper-Cramton Act of May 29, 1930. This act provided a total authorization of $16,000,000 for these purposes. Including the 1940 estimate there will have been provided approximately $7,000,000 under the Capper-Cramton Act. The 1940 estimate is contemplated to complete 15 park and playground projects and to continue 2 projects not yet brought to the completion stage.

National Labor Relations Board

The total estimate of $3,229,600 for the National Labor Relations Board, which represents an increase of $274,600 over the appropriation for the fiscal year 1939, provides an increase of $249,600 for salaries and expenses of the Board and an increase of $25,000 in the appropriation for printing and binding. These increases are necessary to permit the Board more effectively to carry out the provisions of the National Labor Relations Act and keep abreast of its increasing volume of work.

National Mediation Board

The estimate of $386,600 for the National Mediation Board for the fiscal year 1940 shows an increase of $12,400. There is an increase of $8,000 for salaries and expenses of the National Mediation Board and an increase of $4,400 for the National Railroad Adjustment Board. Provision is included for continuing during the fiscal year 1940 the unexpended balances of prior year appropriations for arbitration boards and emergency boards.

Protection of Interests of the United States in Matters Affecting Oil Lands in Former Naval Reserves

The estimate of $26,500 is $7,500 less than the amount appropriated for the fiscal year 1939, due to the fact that the work has progressed sufficiently to dispense with the services of temporary employees.

Railroad Retirement Board

An increase of $624,000 is provided for the general expenses of the Board, of which approximately $165,000 is for additional personnel and supplies to enable the Board to expedite action on claims, and $450,000 to supervise work which has been undertaken in connection with obtaining prior service records of employees subject to the act. For the printing of special forms for the designation of beneficiaries and prior service records, an increase of $9,000 is allowed. For the railroad retirement account the amount appropriated represents adjusted tax collections under the act of June 29, 1937, minus estimated administrative expenses.

Rural Electrification Administration

The estimate of $2,700,000 for salaries and expenses for 1940 is an increase of $350,000 over the appropriation for the fiscal year 1939. During the fiscal year 1939, the Administration had $143,295,000 available for loans and much of the administrative work incident to this program will extend into the fiscal year 1940. Loans are being made almost exclusively to cooperatives and this necessitates supervision of the projects not only during construction, but when they become operating units.

The estimate for printing and binding has been increased by $16,700 over the 1939 estimate to provide for the printing of additional pamphlets intended to stimulate the use of electricity on the farm and thereby assist completed projects to attain an earlier basis of profitable operation.

The estimate of $40,000,000 for loans is the annual amount authorized by Congress to be appropriated under the Rural Electrification Act. This represents a decrease of $103,295,000 from the amount available for 1939. In 1939, the annual appropriation of $40,000,000 authorized by Congress was augmented by a carry-over from 1938 in the amount of $3,295,000, together with $100,000,000 of funds from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Securities and Exchange Commission

The estimates for 1940 for the Commission in the amount of $5,370,000 provide for an increase of $863,000 over the appropriations for 1939. For personal and other related expenses, $854,000 is provided for the enforcement of the act of June 25, 1938, for the regulation of over-the-counter brokers and dealers; for the duties which the Commission is required to perform under chapter 10 of the amendments to the Bankruptcy Act, approved June 22, 1938; and to expedite work now being done in connection with the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935. For additional printing in connection with new activities, $9,000 has been allowed.

Smithsonian Institution

The estimates of $1,058,420 for the Smithsonian Institution show a net decrease of $2,745 compared with the fiscal year 1939, due to a decrease of $40,000 and an increase of $37,255. Of the aggregate increase of $37,255, $12,835 relates to the appropriation for "General expenses"; $19,420 to the appropriation for "Preservation of collections" and $5,000 for "Printing and binding." These additional amounts will permit some general repair work which is badly needed; provide for a few additional positions, and permit some administrative promotions that have been deferred for a number of years. There was a nonrecurring item of $40,000 in 1939 for expenses of the Smithsonian Gallery of Art Commission.

Social Security Board

The estimate of $350,500,000 for the Board for the fiscal year 1940 shows an increase of $21,200,000 over the appropriations for 1939. The increases consist of $1,050,000 for salaries and other related expenses, and $150,000 for printing and binding, which increases are due to the steady increase in the number of claims. For grants to States for old-age assistance, an additional amount of $11,000,000 is provided, and for grants to States for unemployment compensation administration, $9,000,000.

Temporary National Economic Committee

No estimate is provided herein for 1940, as the total amount authorized for the Committee by the act of June 16, 1938, was appropriated in the Second Deficiency Appropriation Act, fiscal year 1938.

Thomas Jefferson Memorial Commission

The estimate of $2,000,000 is an increase of $1,500,000 over the amount appropriated for the fiscal year 1939. This increase is necessary in order to provide sufficient funds to complete the major portion of the foundation and superstructural work of the memorial within the fiscal year 1940.

United States Maritime Commission

The Maritime Commission was created by the Merchant Marine Act of 1936. When the act became effective there was transferred to the Commission approximately $100,000,000. These moneys were placed in the construction fund authorized by the act, from which fund all expenditures of the Commission are paid. As the Commission is now actively engaged in the construction of a number of vessels, the fund will have to be replenished in the fiscal year 1940. It is estimated that on July 1, 1939, there will be a balance of approximately $33,000,000 remaining in the construction fund and that revenues accruing to the fund during the fiscal year 1940 will approximate $6,000,000. To supplement these funds it is planned to provide $100,000,000 additional making a total of $139,000,000 available for the fiscal year 1940. Expenditures for 1940 will be approximately as follows: $4,000,000 for administration; $112,000,000 for construction; $16,500,000 for grants, subsidies, and contributions; $2,000,000 for repairs and alterations to vessels; $2,000,000 for training maritime personnel and the balance of $2,500,000 for miscellaneous duties imposed upon the Commission.

United States Tariff Commission

The estimates for 1940, $918,000 for general administrative expenses and $15,000 for printing and binding, are the same as the amounts appropriated for 1939.

Veterans' Administration

Provision is made for total estimates of annual appropriations amounting to $557,078,000 for conducting the various activities of this agency during the fiscal year 1940. This is exclusive of trust account funds estimated at $95,505,000, and of all funds for public works. This total estimate of $557,078,000 represents a net increase of $13,660,500 over the corresponding funds appropriated for the fiscal year 1939.

For all administrative and operating activities of the Veterans' Administration, both in Washington and in the field, $97,000,000 is requested, an increase of $4,000,000 over the amount for 1939. Of the 1940 amount, personal services totaling $59,269,179 represents the largest single item, of which $9,900,000 is required to staff the central office, $2,548,908 for the 14 regional offices and $42,502,689 for the 90 hospitals, homes, and combined facilities and the 2 supply depots. Expenditures of $18,123,442 for supplies and materials, including $12,767,116 for subsistence alone, represent the second largest item under this administrative and operating appropriation. Other large items include $1,599,780 for travel and transportation; $2,019,075 for public utility services such as electricity, gas, and water; $2,734,117 for repairs and alterations; $3,894,618 for burial expenses; and $3,050,345 for equipment.

The increase of $4,000,000 over 1939 for administrative and operating expenses is necessitated principally by reason of the anticipated expansion in hospital and domiciliary bed facilities which will become available due to the opening of 5 new hospitals and the bringing in of additional beds at 29 other hospitals and homes. The estimates are predicated upon the operation of a total of 78,460 hospital and domiciliary beds during the fiscal year 1940 as contrasted with 71,665 beds during the fiscal year 1939. An increase of $7,500 for printing and binding, bringing the estimate for this purpose to $120,000, is occasioned because of the small amount of blank forms on hand and because of the expansion of hospital facilities during 1940.

The provision for monthly compensation and pension payments amounts to $432,063,000, which is $22,063,000 in excess of the amount appropriated for the fiscal year 1939. However, included in the amount for the fiscal year 1940 is $11,919,000 on account of anticipated expenditures during the current fiscal year in excess of the available appropriation, and which will be provided for under the authorization in the 1940 estimate of appropriation making that appropriation immediately available for prior fiscal year obligations. It will therefore be observed that the actual obligations during the fiscal year 1940 are estimated to be only $54,000 more than the total obligations contemplated to be incurred during the fiscal year 1939. This figure is reached after allowance has been made for pension expenditures amounting to $1,829,000 paid in 1938 but charged to the 1939 appropriation.

The amount for military and naval insurance shows a decrease of $13,264,000 due to the rapid termination of the 20-year payments under the former war-risk life-insurance policies.

The increase under adjusted service and dependents pay arises out of the action taken last year in reducing this appropriation because of the large balance of funds carried over from the previous year. The trend of expenditures under this heading continues downward.

Under trust accounts there is a decrease of $1,888,000 in the United States Government life-insurance fund and $500,000 in the adjusted-service-certificate fund.

GOVERNMENT CREDIT CORPORATIONS AND CREDIT ADMINISTRATIONS

The First Deficiency Appropriation Act, 1936, required that in pursuance to section 7 thereof there should be submitted for certain independent offices estimates of appropriation for administrative expenses for inclusion in the Budget. The governmental credit corporations and credit agencies mentioned below are those affected by the provisions of the act above referred to.

Commodity Credit Corporation

The functions of the Commodity Credit Corporation expire by law on June 30, 1939, and for this reason no estimate has been included in the 1940 Budget.

Electric Home and Farm Authority

The functions of the Electric Home and Farm Authority expire by law on June 30, 1939, and, therefore, no estimate has been included in the 1940 Budget.

Export-Import Bank of Washington

The functions of the Export-Import Bank of Washington expire by law on June 30, 1939, and for this reason no estimate has been included in the 1940 Budget.

Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works

The estimate for administrative expenses is $20,000,000 as compared with $24,000,000 for this purpose for the fiscal year 1939. The Administration has estimated that the construction program authorized under existing law will be completed by the end of the fiscal year 1940, and that in carrying out this program there will be required an additional amount of $3,000,000 in 1939. The estimate of appropriation of $20,000,000 for 1940 accordingly provides that $3,000,000 of that amount shall be immediately available for use in the present fiscal year.

Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation

The estimate of $9,500,000 for the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation for the fiscal year 1940 represents a decrease of $500,000 under the 1939 appropriation. This decrease has been made possible by a leveling off in the lending activities of the Corporation, which now permit a more accurate estimate of its administrative needs. The 1940 amount is $1,526,955 in excess of actual expenditures for 1938. This increase will permit additional collection efforts and thus assist the Corporation in overcoming the increasing delinquency of its loans to farmers and also permit the handling of extensions of many of its loans which become necessary with the expiration of the periods during which no principal payments were required. Further functions of the Corporation, for which allowance has been made, are the management and disposition of properties acquired by the Corporation under mortgage foreclosure.

Federal Home Loan Bank Board

The estimate of $1,400,000 for the fiscal year 1940 is $80,000 in excess of the 1939 appropriation. The total number of institutions supervised by the Board is steadily increasing. On June 30, 1938, there were 3,959 such institutions with assets totaling $4,312,000,000 as compared with 3,892 institutions and assets of $3,810,000,000 on June 30, 1937. The amount included for 1940 will enable the Board to make the necessary examinations and maintain general supervision of the increasing number of institutions in the home-loan bank system.

Federal Housing Administration

The estimate for salaries and expenses for 1940 is $12,500,000, of which $9,000,000 will be obtained from the mutual mortgage insurance fund and $3,500,000 from the funds of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. This compares with $8,500,000 appropriated in 1939, of which $3,500,000 was obtained from the mutual mortgage insurance fund and $5,000,000 from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

The insurance of modernization loans under title I and the insurance of mortgages on existing structures under title II expire on June 30, 1939. On the other hand, the Housing Act amendments of 1938 greatly liberalized the eligibility requirements regarding insurance of mortgages and have resulted in an increase of approved applications greatly in excess of that contemplated when the 1939 appropriation was made. It is believed the increase in insurance of new construction will continue into 1940.

Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation

The 1940 estimate of $300,000 provides an increase of $23,000 over the 1939 appropriation in order to take care of the increase in membership and total assets of insured institutions.

Home Owners' Loan Corporation

The fiscal year 1940 estimate of $24,000,000 is a reduction of $2,500,000 under the 1939 appropriation. The authorization of the Corporation to acquire home mortgages expired on June 13, 1936, and its activities are now largely confined to the collection of outstanding loans and the management and disposal of properties acquired. The amount included is in line with continued liquidation of the Corporation.

Reconstruction Finance Corporation

The 1940 estimate of $9,250,000 for administrative expenses is the same as the amount appropriated in 1939. While under existing law the Corporation can make no commitments for loans after June 30, 1939, its administrative expenses have been steadily increasing during the past year, due to the increased activity of the Disaster Loan Corporation and the volume of small loans to business.

GENERAL PUBLIC WORKS PROGRAM

The estimates of appropriations for the General Public Works Program for 1940 amount to $598,457,528 as compared with appropriations of $532,093,063 for 1939. This program includes the items of public construction, such as Federal highways, river and harbor improvements, flood control and reclamation projects, buildings at Army posts and naval shore stations, and other structures of various kinds, but does not include funds provided elsewhere in this Budget for construction of battleships and other vessels and the purchase or construction of airplanes and other military and naval armament.

National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, Public Works

There is submitted for the Committee an estimate of $440,000, of which $340,000 is to provide for the completion of a wind tunnel authorized in the fiscal year 1939. The remaining $100,000 is for the remodeling of an existing large-scale wind tunnel.

Tennessee Valley Authority, Public Works

There is included in the 1940 Budget $40,000,000 plus contract authorizations of $4,000,000 which is identical with the amounts appropriated and authorized for the fiscal year 1939. This will permit the Authority to carry on its operations in an orderly manner and continue its construction program at a uniform rate. Revenues, expenditures, and means of financing the various programs of the Authority appear in the Annexed Budget.

Veterans' Administration, Public Works

The amount provided in 1940 for "Hospital and domiciliary facilities and services" is $4,015,000, and includes additions to 2 existing hospitals to provide 483 neuropsychiatric beds, and certain major improvements at 18 other facilities. In addition, there will be available funds carried over from prior year appropriations in the amount of $3,956,105. In this connection, it should be noted that there has been granted during the present fiscal year Public Works Administration allocations of $13,268,200 for the construction of additional bed capacity at 20 facilities and for the construction of 4 new hospitals, increasing the total number of beds by 5,485 and thereby greatly advancing the regular annual construction program.

Department of Agriculture, Public Works

For the Department of Agriculture the appropriation estimates for public works for the fiscal year 1940 total $213,250,000. Included therein are $125,000,000 for the Federal-aid highway system; $25,000,000 for Federal-aid secondary or feeder roads (including farm-to-market roads, rural-free-delivery mail roads, and public-school bus routes); $50,000,000 for Federal aid in the elimination of hazards to life at railroad grade crossings; and $12,000,000 for the construction and maintenance of roads and trails in the national forests; a total of $212,000,000. This increase of $13,000,000 over the total appropriated for these items in the fiscal year 1939 entirely exhausts the authorizations of the Act of June 16, 1936, and, in the case of national-forest roads and trails, covers $5,000,000 of the 1940 authorization of $10,000,000 for this purpose under the act of June 8, 1938.

The estimates also include $1,000,000 for main roads through unappropriated or unreserved public lands. Section 6 of the act of June 8, 1938, authorized an appropriation in the fiscal year 1940 of this amount for this purpose. For the fiscal year 1939 the sum of $2,500,000 was authorized and appropriated for such roads and the estimate for 1940, therefore, represents a decrease of $1,500,000.

A new item of $250,000 is included to provide for construction and equipment, on the site of the Weather Bureau in Washington, of the first unit of an extensible building designed to house at a total cost of $815,000, the entire Weather Bureau establishment in this city.

Department of Commerce, Public Works

The amount of the estimate of appropriation for the fiscal year 1940 for public works of the Department of Commerce is $1,381,000, a decrease of $819,000 below the appropriation for the fiscal year 1939. An item of $500,000 in the 1939 appropriation for construction of an electrical laboratory at the Bureau of Standards accounts for part of the decrease, and $319,000 is due to emergency fund allotments to be made in the fiscal year 1939 for relief projects relating to works of the Lighthouse Service that normally would be included in Budget estimates for that Service for the fiscal year 1940.

The 1940 estimate for public works of the Department for the Lighthouse Service includes $881,000 for the construction of three tenders and a buoy boat and $500,000 for the establishment of marine navigation major aids.

Department of the Interior, Public Works

The estimates for 1940 for public works under the Department of the Interior amount to $82,423,500, as compared with appropriations for 1939 of $64,555,832, or an increase of $17,867,668 over the current fiscal year.

The amount required for continuation of the construction of the power-distribution system, Bonneville project, Oregon, is $14,000,000.

For the Bureau of Indian Affairs, there are included items of $7,095,500, of which $3,239,000 is for the construction, repair, and rehabilitation of irrigation systems on Indian reservations, $2,000,000 for the construction of roads on Indian reservations, under the authority of section 9 of the act of June 8, 1938, and $1,856,500 for the construction, repair, and rehabilitation of buildings and utilities of the Indian service.

The estimates for the Bureau of Reclamation total $49,648,000, as compared with 1939 appropriations of $39,615,000. The amount required for continuation of construction and for administrative expenses to be expended from the reclamation fund is $9,948,000, divided as follows: Gila project, Arizona, $700,000; Colorado-Big Thompson project, Colorado, $1,500,000; Pine River project, Colorado, $1,000,000; Boise project, Idaho, Payette Division, $500,000; Minidoka project, Idaho, $100,000; Carlsbad project, New Mexico, $100,000; Tucumcari project, New Mexico, $250,000; Rio Grande project, New Mexico-Texas, $483,000; Owyhee project, Oregon, $270,000; Provo River project, Utah, $1,500,000; Yakima project, Washington, Roza Division, $1,000,000; Kendrick project, Wyoming, $1,000,000; Riverton project, Wyoming, $100,000; Shoshone project, Wyoming, Heart Mountain Division, $450,000, Willwood Division, $45,000; general investigations $200,000; and administrative expenses, $750,000. For continuation of construction of projects to be expended from the general fund of the Treasury, there is included $39,700,000, divided as follows: Central Valley project, California, $10,000,000; Grand Coulee Dam project, Washington, $23,000,000; Boulder Canyon Dam project, $4,000,000; All-American Canal project, including the Coachella main canal, $2,000,000; and administrative expenses, $700,000.

The estimates of the National Park Service for public works construction in 1940 include $3,500,000 for construction of roads and trails in national parks and monuments under the authority of section 7 of the act of June 8, 1938, $5,000,000 for continuing the construction and maintenance of the Blue Ridge and Natchez Trace Parkways, under the authority of section 8 of the same act; and $2,500,000 for air conditioning of public buildings in the District of Columbia under the jurisdiction of the National Park Service, or a total of $11,000,000.

There is included $680,000 for construction at St. Elizabeths Hospital.

Department of Justice, Public Works

The appropriations for public works under the Department of Justice for the fiscal year 1939 amounted to $1,335,620, and the estimates of appropriations for 1940 total $1,106,600, representing a decrease of $229,020. There were, however, nonrecurring projects in 1939 in the amount of $285,000; thus providing a gross increase for 1940 of $55,980.

The 1940 estimate provides $850,000 for buildings and equipment, penal institutions (all of which is for the women's reformatory being constructed at Dallas, Tex.), a decrease of $113,000; $48,600 for continuing the development of the island area at the United States Penitentiary, McNeil Island, Wash., a decrease of $14,400; and $208,000 to continue the program for additional buildings and equipment at the National Training School for Boys in the District of Columbia, which is an increase of $183,380 over the amount provided in 1939.

Navy Department, Public Works

The appropriation under the head of "Public works, Bureau of Yards and Docks," for 1939 amounted to $27,381,000. The estimates for such purposes for 1940 amount to $18,246,550, a reduction of $9,134,450. Of the 1940 amount of $18,246,550, the sum of $14,836,550 will be required to continue or complete during that year work on projects which will be uncompleted on June 30, 1939, and $3,410,000 will be required for work on other projects specifically authorized in the estimates to be commenced during 1940. Major projects to be undertaken during 1940 are as follows: Additional aviation facilities at Alameda, Calif.; improvement of channels and harbor and mooring facilities, at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii; barracks, mess hall, laundry, and boiler-plant building and accessories at the submarine base, Coco Solo, Canal Zone; replacement of building destroyed by fire at the Marine Barracks, Quantico, Va.; improvement of the power plant at the Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md.; purchase of land at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, and Dahlgren, Va.; and officers' quarters at Coco Solo, Canal Zone, and enlisted men's barracks and mess hall at Pearl Harbor Hawaii.

Department of State, Public Works

The estimates of appropriations under the Department of State for the fiscal year 1940 amount to $3,000,000, compared with $1,212,500 appropriated for the fiscal year 1939, or an increase of $1,787,500. In view of nonrecurring projects in 1939 amounting to $254,500, there is thus provided a gross increase for 1940 of $2,042,000. This gross increase provides $1,000,000, an increase of $688,500 over the amount available in 1939, to continue and expedite the work on the lower Rio Grande flood control; $1,000,000, an increase of $353,500 to continue and expedite control and canalization of the Rio Grande; and $1,000,000 for public buildings for diplomatic and consular establishments abroad, to begin certain new projects under the foreign service buildings program authorized by the act of May 25, 1938, for which new projects no previous appropriations have been made.

Treasury Department, Public Works

The estimates for 1940 for public works under the Treasury Department amount to $46,000,000, as compared with appropriations for 1939 of $39,410,000. For the construction of public buildings outside the District of Columbia to be selected by the Secretary of the Treasury and the Postmaster General, acting jointly, from public building projects specified in the fourth revision of House Report No. 1879, Seventy-third Congress, second session, the sum of $30,000,000 is requested. For public buildings in the District of Columbia there is included $3,000,000 for completion of construction of annex buildings for the Government Printing Office; $8,000,000 for continuation of acquisition of the necessary land and the construction of buildings for the Social Security Board and the Railroad Retirement Board, and $5,000,000 for continuation of the acquisition of land as a site for buildings for the War Department, and for continuation of the construction of the first building unit for that Department.

War Department, Public Works

For the War Department there is included a total estimate of $188,594,878 for public works, consisting of estimates of $8,594,878 for the construction and installation of buildings, utilities, and appurtenances at military posts; $30,000,000 for the prosecution of such projects of improvement of rivers and harbors heretofore authorized by Congress as may be most desirable in the interests of commerce and navigation; $110,000,000 for prosecuting work of flood control on various rivers and waterways under the Omnibus Flood Control Act of June 22, 1936, as amended and supplemented by the Flood Control Acts of August 28, 1937, and June 28, 1938, including $3,000,000 for transfer to and expenditure by the Department of Agriculture for preliminary examinations and surveys for run-off and water-flow retardation and soil-erosion prevention on the watersheds of flood-control projects; $31,000,000 for continuing the work of flood control on the Mississippi River and tributaries under the Mississippi River Flood Control Act of May 15, 1928, as amended and supplemented by the acts of June 15, 1936, and June 28, 1938; $2,000,000 for continuing the construction of a hydroelectric power plant at Fort Peck Dam, Mont.; and $7,000,000 for continuing the contruction of a hydroelectric power plant at Bonneville Dam on the Columbia River, Oreg. These estimates show a total increase over 1939 for public works under the War Department of $38,796,767. However, there was provided by Congress for river and harbor improvements in 1939 an amount of $42,000,000 by transfer and reappropriation of emergency funds, thus making a total availability for 1939 of $191,798,111. This amount, compared with the total of the Budget estimates for 1940, produces a net decrease for 1940 of $3,203,233. This net decrease consists of increases of $28,000,000 for carrying forward the general flood-control program and $9,000,000 for continuing the construction of hydroelectric power plants at Fort Peck Dam, Mont., and Bonneville Dam, Oreg., and decreases of $38,528,231 for improvement of rivers and harbors and $1,675,002 for construction at military posts.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Major changes in the structure of the Department of Agriculture, designed primarily to unify and coordinate effort in the lines of work which have assumed highest importance in recent years, have been made effective by order of the Secretary, in October 1938. The execution of marketing work, including marketing agreements, commodity exchanges, the Sugar Act, marketing research, service and regulatory work, and removal of surplus commodities, is placed under the supervision of a director of marketing and regulatory work. The execution of all physical land-use programs which involve operations by the Government on farm lands is assigned to the Soil Conservation Service. Research work in the field of agricultural and industrial technology, with particular emphasis upon discovery and development of new and broader uses for agricultural products and byproducts, is given unified direction in the Bureau of Agricultural Chemistry and Engineering.

The reorganization, while occasioning numerous shifts of appropriations and related functions, has not operated either to increase or decrease the total appropriation estimates included in the 1940 Budget. The readjustments involved are summarized in the following table, and are explained in detail by appropriate footnotes throughout the Department of Agriculture chapter of the Budget.

Summary of reorganization

Exclusive of items in the General Public Works Program and of trust accounts, the Budget estimates for the Department of Agriculture provide for direct appropriations in 1940 totaling $705,722,216 as against direct appropriations for 1939 of $1,079,386,037.16, a decrease for 1940 of $373,663,821.16. Reappropriations of unobligated balances are contemplated for 1940 to the extent of $87,232,000 as against similar reappropriations for 1939 of $219,876,511, a decrease for 1940 of $132,644,511.

The total availability for 1940, direct appropriations plus reappropriations, is, therefore, $506,308,332.16 less than in 1939, the principal items of increase and decrease being accounted for as follows:

For the Office of the Secretary an increase of $54,945 is provided, of which $12,945 is for rental of building space in the District of Columbia and $42,000 to strengthen administrative and fiscal inspection and the accounting functions of this central office.

The $70,640 increase for the Office of Information includes $3,240 for repair and replacement of equipment, $2,400 for personnel adjustments, and $65,000 to meet higher costs of printing. No increase in quantity of printing is contemplated.

For the Library of the Department there is provided an increase of $3,800 for additional personnel to meet increased demands for library service.

A total increase of $324,505 for the Office of Experiment Stations includes increases in payments for Federal aid of $5,000 to Hawaii, $2,500 to Puerto Rico, and $1,250 to Alaska, these sums being one-half the annual increments authorized by the acts of May 16, 1928, May 4, 1931, and June 20, 1936, respectively; and $300,000 for payments to States and Territories under the Bankhead-Jones Act of June 29, 1935, this sum being one-half of the 1940 increment authorized by that act. There is also included an item of $15,755 for studies of quinine and other tropical plants at the insular experiment station in Puerto Rico.

For the activities of the Extension Service, which administers the Smith-Lever, Capper-Ketcham, Bankhead-Jones, and other acts providing payments to States, Hawaii, Alaska, and Puerto Rico for cooperative agricultural extension work, a net increase of $403,162 is provided. There is a statutory increase of $1,000,000 authorized by the Bankhead-Jones Act of June 29, 1935; an increase of $30,000 to provide additional personnel for farmers' cooperative demonstration work; and an increase of $43,162 to carry on farm forestry extension work on the scale contemplated by the Clarke-McNary Act of June 7, 1924. These increases, totaling $1,073,162, are in part offset by decreases of $395,000 in supplementary cooperative extension work, and $275,000 in additional cooperative extension work, for which there is no basic statutory authorization.

For Foreign Agricultural Service the estimates include an increase of $250,000, to finance expansion of the work of the Department with respect to foreign competition and demand in the Latin-American countries, and to maintain, broaden, and improve cultural and economic relations with these countries.

Material strengthening of the service of the Weather Bureau is contemplated in the increase of $1,758,700. Of this amount, $153,700 is to finance more adequate general weather service to agricultural and industrial interests and to the general public. The remainder of the increase, $1,605,000, is intended to bring about a marked advance in weather service and in upper-air research for the benefit of aviation.

For the Bureau of Animal Industry an increase of $4,455,900 in the direct appropriation for 1940 as against that for 1939 is more than offset by a decrease of $6,600,000 in the amount of unobligated balance to be reappropriated in 1940 as compared with such reappropriation for 1939. For eradication of tuberculosis and Bang's disease there is a total availability in 1939 of $13,230,000, comprised of a direct appropriation of $5,403,000, plus $7,827,000 of reappropriated 1938 unobligated balances. Since the 1939 unobligated balance estimated to be available for 1940 reappropriation is estimated as only $1,227,000, and the needs of the work will be closely comparable with 1939, it is necessary to increase the 1940 direct appropriation to $9,800,000, a facial increase of $4,397,000. There are also provided increases of $23,500 for animal husbandry, $15,000 for intensified work on diseases of animals, and $20,400 for strengthening the meat-inspection service.

The increase of $34,000 for the Bureau of Dairy Industry provides for additional nutritional studies and further development and application of the dairy-herd-improvement association program.

An increase of $10,007 is included to enable the Bureau of Plant Industry to carry out an intensive study of revegetation problems in the "dust-bowl" region.

The net increase of $266,885 in the Forest Service estimates results from the following increases and decreases: For protection and management of the national forests there is provided an increase of $1,109,246, comprising $500,000 to strengthen the campaign against blister rust in the white-pine and sugar-pine regions; $500,000 to enable the Forest Service to log national-forest timber in areas where such logging will not be undertaken by private operators, and where these operations will result in employment of distressed local labor, accomplish silvicultural benefits, and yield increased revenue; $75,000 for more adequate administration of the grazing use of the forests; and $34,246 for strengthening forest-fire prevention and preparedness. An increase of $71,639 is included for studies by the Forest Products Laboratory of wood utilization with special reference to building construction, including low-cost housing; $30,000 for the establishment of a tropical forest experiment station in Puerto Rico; $10,000 for research in forest economics; and $25,000 for expansion in cooperative work with private timberland owners. To give effect to the acts of May 11, 1938, June 15, 1938, and June 25, 1938, authorizing use of receipts for purchase of key tracts in certain western national forests, increases totaling $31,000 are provided. The partially offsetting decreases are: $10,000 in the appropriation for acquisition of land in the Uinta and Wasatch Forests and $1,000,000 in the item for acquisition of lands for national forests under the Weeks Act of March 1, 1911, as amended.

For the reorganized Bureau of Agricultural Chemistry and Engineering there is a net increase of $19,000. There are increases of $19,000 for the Citrus Products Laboratory at Winter Haven, Fla., and $25,000 for strengthened engineering service, and a decrease of $25,000 which is due to completion of a laboratory construction project.

There is a net decrease of $733,953 in the estimates for the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine. The major decrease is one of $700,000 in the item for control of incipient and emergency outbreaks of insect pests and plant diseases. Experience indicates that this item cannot be accurately estimated for in the regular annual Budget, and can be best provided through a supplemental appropriation later in the year. There is also a decrease of $80,000 in the item for control of truck-crop and garden insects, due to completion of a tobacco laboratory construction project. These decreases are in part offset by increases of $20,031 for control of the white-fringed beetle, $10,000 for the insect-pest survey, and $16,016 for insecticide and fungicide investigations.

Under the Bureau of Biological Survey there is a total increase of $275,351. Of this amount, $8,000 is to provide for operation of a new accounting system prescribed by the General Accounting Office; $14,851 for operation of the newly established Patuxent Wildlife Research Refuge, Md.; $50,000 for enforcement of Migratory Bird Treaty Acts; $142,500 for protection and management of the increasing number and area of Federal mammal and bird reservations; and $60,000 for the purchase of tracts of private land to round out the upper Mississippi River Wildlife Refuge.

The estimates for the Bureau of Public Roads are entirely included in the chapter of the Budget devoted to the General Public Works Program, and are discussed under that head.

For the Bureau of Agricultural Economics the Budget estimates show an increase of $37,000, of which $19,350 is for studies in connection with the agricultural outlook service, and $17,650 for expansion of studies of the economics of marketing.

For the Agricultural Marketing Service the Budget estimates provide a net increase of $324,590. Increases totaling $339,590 for expansion of work on crop and livestock estimates, strengthening of service on grading, inspection and certification of various agricultural products, improvement of the market news service, enlargement of the classification and information service in communities organized for cotton quality improvement, and for more adequate administration of the Grain Standards and Warehouse Acts, are offset in part by a decrease of $15,000 due to elimination of a 1939 item for laboratory equipment.

An increase of $99,620 has been included to develop further the administration and enforcement of the Commodity Exchange Act.

The new Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act of June 25, 1938, occasions the inclusion in these estimates of an increase of $751,620 for the Food and Drug Administration. This new law extends jurisdiction of the Administration over many products not covered by the old Food and Drug Act, as well as extending the powers of the Department with respect to such products as were covered by the old act.

Under the appropriation "Conservation and use of agricultural land resources, Department of Agriculture," for carrying out the provisions of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act of February 29, 1936, and the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, there is available for the fiscal year 1939 a total of $500,000,000, of which $345,000,000 was a direct appropriation, the remainder, or $155,000,000, being the reappropriated unobligated balances of earlier appropriations. For 1940 a direct appropriation of $415,000,000 is contemplated by these estimates, plus a reappropriation of 1938 unobligated balances, estimated as $70,000,000.

Section 501, title V, of the Work Relief and Public Works Appropriation Act of 1938, appropriated $212,000,000 to enable the Secretary of Agriculture to make parity payments to producers of wheat, cotton, corn, rice, and tobacco, pursuant to section 303 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938. This is a nonrecurring item for 1940.

For carrying out the provisions of the Sugar Act of 1937, in which item a facial decrease of $16,000,000 is shown, the 1940 availability is made up of a direct appropriation of $32,000,000, plus a reappropriation of unobligated 1938 balances amounting to $16,000,000, as against the direct appropriation of $48,000,000 in 1939.

The retirement of cotton pool participation trust certificates, for which $1,800,000 was appropriated in the 1939 act, will be completed during this fiscal year. The 1940 Budget accordingly shows a decrease under this head of $1,800,000.

For the administration of the Federal Crop Insurance Act there is a facial increase of $6,000,000, but since $5,500,000 was made available in 1939 for this purpose from unobligated 1938 balances of the item for "Conservation and use of agricultural land resources, Department of Agriculture," the actual increase is $500,000. This amount includes a decrease of $245,300 in expenses of State and county agricultural conservation committees; and increases of $134,300 for administration of the steadily expanding program of the Corporation, and $611,000 for storage of wheat accepted in payment of premiums.

The 1939 Agricultural Appropriation Act made available from 1938 unobligated balances of the appropriation for "Conservation and use of agricultural land resources, Department of Agriculture," $20,000,000 as the initial Federal investment in the stock of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation. Provision for an additional subscription does not appear to be necessary at this time.

For the farm-tenancy-loan program authorized by title I of the Bankhead-Jones Act, the Budget includes a new direct appropriation of $25,000,000 which equals the direct appropriation for 1939. The 1939 appropriation was supplemented, however, by reappropriation of 1938 unobligated balances, and the estimates contemplate similar reappropriation of the balance remaining unobligated at the close of the fiscal year 1939.

The same situation exists with respect to the reappropriation of unexpended balances of the appropriation for land utilization and retirement of submarginal land, for which a direct appropriation of $5,000,000 was made in 1939, and a direct appropriation of equal amount is included in the 1940 estimates.

Section 1 (3) of the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1938 made available in 1939 for rural rehabilitation the sum of $175,000,000, and the omission of this item from the 1940 Budget contemplates its consideration as a feature of such emergency relief measure as may be proposed for 1940.

The act of August 28, 1937, declared it to be the policy of Congress to assist in providing facilities for water storage and utilization in the arid and semiarid areas of the United States, and authorized the appropriation for this purpose of such sums as Congress might from time to time determine to be necessary. The first such appropriation, in the sum of $500,000, was provided by the Agricultural Appropriation Act for 1939, and the 1940 estimates include a like amount. The 1939 appropriation, which is being largely used for formulation and maintenance of a program of projects, as required by the basic act, is being supplemented during 1939 by $5,000,000 provided by the Farm Security Administration from the $175,000,000 appropriated by section 1 (3) of the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1938 for rural rehabilitation. The Budget estimates contemplate consideration of this item also in connection with such emergency relief measures as may be proposed for 1940.

For the Beltsville Research Center the estimates include an increase of $5,000 for additional equipment.

Under cooperative farm forestry there is included a new item of $600,000 to initiate the program contemplated by the Norris-Doxey Act of May 18, 1937.

The 1939 appropriation of $10,000 for the Mediterranean Fruitfly Board was provided by the Second Deficiency Appropriation Act, 1938, for a special investigation and report. This work will be completed during the current fiscal year, and the estimates, therefore, show a decrease of $10,000.

Under the classification of "Permanent appropriations" the Budget for 1940 shows a net decrease of $53,864,593.16. Section 32 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, as amended, provides permanent indefinite annual appropriations equal to 30 percent of the gross annual receipts from customs duties collected under the customs laws, to be used by the Secretary of Agriculture to encourage exportation and domestic consumption of agricultural commodities. Under this provision $144,024,893.16 was made available for such use in the fiscal year 1939. For 1940 it is estimated that reduction in customs collections will operate to reduce the amount so available to $90,000,000. Anticipated increases in national forest revenues will provide additional payments of $160,300 to the States as their authorized shares in such revenues.

Under the classification "Trust accounts," there appears a decrease of $365,000 in the item of State Rural Rehabilitation Corporation funds. These funds are deposited in trust in the Treasury of the United States and made available to the Farm Security Administration for rural rehabilitation purposes within the respective States under individual agreements with corporation directorates. There is also a decrease of $10,500 in the item "Miscellaneous contributed funds, Department of Agriculture." Under the item "Payments in lieu of taxes, and for operation and maintenance of resettlement projects," an increase of $400,000 is shown. The amount of this item is based on best available estimates of resettlement project revenues, which are appropriated in full for the purposes indicated.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

The Budget estimates for the Department of Commerce, exclusive of trust funds and items under the Public Works Program, total $51,458,280, a net increase of $20,121,320 over the appropriations for 1939 after excluding $14,151,480 appropriated for 1939 for the Air Commerce Bureau which has been transferred to the Civil Aeronautics Authority as directed in section 203 of the act of June 23, 1938 (52 Stat. 982). The principal items of increase and decrease involved in the net increase of $20,121,320 for 1940 over 1939 are as follows:

The net decrease of $863,390 for the Office of the Secretary results from a gross decrease of $932,872 in contingent expenses, travel expenses, and printing and binding, due for the most part to the transfer of the Air Commerce Bureau to the Civil Aeronautics Authority and also to the inclusion of amounts for these purposes for the Bureau of the Census in the estimate for "Expenses of the Sixteenth Census." The difference of $69,482 between the gross decrease and the net decrease represents increases of $13,860 for salaries of employees transferred to the Office of the Secretary from Bureau rolls; $5,537 for contingent expenses; $18,585 for printing and binding; and $31,500 for travel, which amount includes $10,500 transferred to the travel appropriation from the appropriation "Inquiry respecting food fishes." Corresponding deductions have been made in the estimates of appropriations from which the transfers have been made.

For the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce the estimates provide a net increase of $41,280. The gross increase consists of $17,700 for additional personnel in the Washington office, particularly in the duplicating, foreign tariffs, and supply divisions; $15,000 for the preparation, in conjunction with the Bureau of Standards, of commercial standards for export trade; $15,000 for three trade specialists in the foreign service, and $11,200 for transportation of families and quarters allowance, including for the first time quarters allowances for American clerks in the foreign service. Decreases include $7,620 transferred to "Salaries, Office of the Secretary," and $10,000 for district and cooperative office service.

The estimates for the Bureau of the Census, which total $22,100,000, contemplate an increase of $20,010,000. With the exception of $20,000 for Social Security Act age verifications, the entire increase is for beginning the taking of the sixteenth decennial census of population, including censuses of agriculture, drainage, distribution, unemployment, mines, and the regular annual census work of the Bureau. The 3-year decennial census period begins January 1, 1940, and most of the field work will be completed in that fiscal year. The estimate prescribes a limit of cost of the Bureau work for the period July 1, 1939, to December 31, 1942, of $45,200,000.

An increase of $38,480 for the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation will provide $18,480 for 8 additional employees in the Washington office for examination of plans for new vessels and for the review of reports of marine casualty investigations, and $20,000 additional for the field service, of which $16,000 is for operating a new office at Port Arthur, Tex., directed to be established at the last session of Congress, and $4,000 is for the promotion to $1,800 each of 20 clerks in shipping commissioners' offices who have had 3 years practical experience and thereby attained eligibility for the minimum pay of deputy shipping commissioners.

Under the Bureau of Standards the estimates reflect an increase of $230,000, of which $165,000 is for the purchase of a tract of land for Bureau purposes; $5,220 is for additional custodial personnel required for the care and protection of the Bureau; $22,000 is for additional testing which is paid for by the public and the receipts deposited in the general fund in the Treasury; $17,780 is for research in the fields of extreme-pressure lubricants, fatigue resistance of structural elements and the vibrations of engineering structures, and the preparation of standard specifications for photographic films and papers which are purchased in large quantities by the Government; and $20,000 is for assistance, in conjunction with the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, in the preparation of commercial standards for the export trade.

The estimates for the Bureau of Lighthouses total $300,000 in excess of the amount appropriated for the Bureau for the current year. The increase is distributed as follows: $137,430 for the net additional cost of operating nine new, and two recommissioned tenders over the cost of operating eight vessels to be decommissioned; $30,390 for additional officers and men for vessels now in commission to comply with hours-of-labor regulations, and four lighthouse engineer officers to inaugurate in-service training; $36,800 to service and maintain additional established aids to navigation; $25,000 for retired pay; $47,960 for additional lighthouse keepers, lamplighters, and other field employees to maintain newly established aids to navigation, and for district offices and new depots, and $22,420 for administrative promotions in the Bureau and field.

The net increase of $99,950 in the estimates for the Coast and Geodetic Survey represents a gross increase of $109,000, since there were 1939 items in the amount of $9,050 which are nonrecurring in 1940. The gross increase is for the following purposes: $33,000 in the estimate of appropriation for "Coastal surveys," with which has been consolidated the estimates of appropriations for "Researches, tides, currents, etc.," "Coast pilot," and "Miscellaneous objects," which increase provides for operating a wire drag along the New England coast, for the net additional cost of operating two new vessels, for installing a taut wire apparatus on the Lydonia, and for revising the Coast Pilot; $10,000 for field magnetic observations for preparing the 1940 quinquennial isogonic chart; $7,000 for additional employees to operate new vessels; $15,000 for accruing longevity increases in pay of commissioned officers and for allowances; $24,500 to replace depleted stocks of chart paper, and $19,500 to accelerate chart production and processing geodetic data.

The net increase of $40,000 in the estimates for the Bureau of Fisheries results from increase of $152,900 and decrease of $112,900. The larger items of increase are $45,200 to operate four new hatcheries and eight new subhatcheries, $30,000 for a new laboratory boat and two patrol speed boats for Alaska, $25,000 for investigation of Columbia River Basin fisheries as directed in the act of May 11, 1938 (52 Stat. 345), and for fishery management in an additional forest region, $15,000 for fish distribution trucks, $10,000 for a laboratory at Little Port Walter, Alaska, $12,200 additional for fish food, and $9,000 to establish an additional fishery market news service station in the field. The major items of decrease are $86,500 for nonrecurring hatchery construction and $25,500 for nonrecurring expenditures incidental to salmon investigations in Alaska. The estimates include $155,000 to complete the fisheries construction program authorized by the act of May 21, 1930 (46 Stat. 371).

For the Patent Office, the estimates provide an increase of $225,000, of which $165,000 is for 383 examiner positions reallocated by the Civil Service Commission, $50,000 for printing and binding, and $10,000 for steel filing cabinets to accommodate increasing copies of patents issued.

The estimated expenditure of $140,100 from trust funds in the fiscal year 1940 is $400 less than the amount of estimated expenditures from such funds included in the Budget for the fiscal year 1939. It now appears that expenditures from these funds in the fiscal year 1939 will approximate the estimates of expenditures in 1940. The amounts of the 1939 estimates have been revised accordingly.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

The estimates for the Department of the Interior, general and special accounts, for the fiscal year 1940, exclusive of items of public works, aggregate $98,817,093.23, as compared with appropriations of $96,537,581.36 for 1939, or an increase of $2,279,511.87. Included in the figure of $98,817,093.23 is $83,159,593.23 for annual appropriations, which amount is $1,988,511.87 in excess of the annual appropriations for 1939, and $15,657,500 for permanent appropriations, which amount is $291,000 in excess of the permanent appropriations for 1939. In addition the estimates of appropriation for 1940 under the various trust accounts aggregate $7,900,740, which is an increase of $766,580 over the requirements under such accounts for 1939.

Annual appropriations.—Principal increases are to be found in the following estimates: For the Office of the Secretary there is a net increase of $16,440 which results from major increases of $58,860 for salaries, Office of the Secretary; $26,940 for salaries, Office of the Solicitor; $58,000 for salaries, Division of Investigations; $100,000 for salaries and expenses, Division of Grazing; and $13,000 for contingent expenses. These increases are offset by decreases of $225,000 under the item for salaries and expenses, Petroleum Conservation Division; and $16,000 under the item for printing and binding.

For the National Bituminous Coal Commission, the estimate for the fiscal year 1940 is $3,500,000, an increase of $250,000 over the amount appropriated for the fiscal year 1939. The increase will enable the Commission to keep its work current and effectively to enforce its regulations.

An estimate of $300,000 is submitted for the Consumers' Counsel, an increase of $30,000 over the amount appropriated for 1939. This increase will enable the Counsel to keep abreast of the work of the Commission in connection with his duties as representative of the consuming public.

For the United States Housing Authority there is included $5,500,000, an increase of $2,000,000, and as in 1939 the amount is made available from the funds of the Authority. Of the $5,500,000 allowed, not to exceed $1,500,000 is made available for administrative expenses incurred at the site and in connection with the construction of United States Housing Authority non-Federal projects. This amount is reimbursable, in the discretion of the Administrator, by the public housing agencies constructing the projects, and it is proposed in the text of the appropriation to make such reimbursement available for administrative expenses.

The United States Housing Act amendments of 1938 increased the loanable funds of the Authority from $500,000,000 to $800,000,000, and eliminated the restrictions as to the years in which such funds could be loaned. Construction of projects will be started in the fiscal year 1939 and reach a peak in the fiscal year 1940. The increase in administrative expenses is to permit the Authority to supervise this construction from Washington and in the field and is in line with the expanded program of the Authority.

In addition, there is appropriated out of the funds of the Treasury the amount of $5,000,000 for the payment of annual contributions to public housing agencies in accordance with section 10 of the United States Housing Act of 1937, as amended. The maximum amount authorized by Congress for such contributions is $28,000,000 per annum and the appropriation of $5,000,000 is predicated upon the number of projects that will be completed on or before June 30, 1940.

For the Bonneville project, Oregon, there is an increase of $235,000 for maintenance of facilities and marketing and administrative expenses. An estimate for the construction of transmission lines and development of power is contained in the General Public Works Program.

For the General Land Office, there is a net decrease of $10,500 resulting from an item of $10,000 for maps of the United States (a biennial item, which is nonrecurring in 1940), and certain minor items of increase and decrease.

A net increase of $1,453,234.39 is provided for the Office of Indian Affairs. After deducting a number of nonrecurring items aggregating $469,148.84, the actual increase for this office is $1,922,383.23. The principal items of increase are $21,800 for additional personnel in Washington, $45,100 for the maintenance of law and order on Indian reservations, $30,000 for transportation costs of goods and supplies purchased, $250,000 for the acquisition of land for Indian tribes and $100,000 as an addition to the revolving credit fund (both in accordance with the authorizations contained in the Indian Reorganization Act), $20,000 for the purchase of equipment and the recopying and rebinding of land records, $38,000 to provide more adequate protection to Indian-owned timber, $15,000 for the supervision by the United States Geological Survey of mineral operations on Indian property, $30,000 for further expansion of agricultural and stock raising activities, $30,000 for the maintenance of domestic and stock water facilities on certain southwestern reservations, $96,377 for the maintenance and operation of irrigation works, $408,455 for educational purposes (of which $126,380 is for work in Alaska), $96,170 for health work (of which $32,000 is for the benefit of natives of Alaska), $93,700 for general agency administrative purposes (including the employment of additional clerical help), $90,000 for payments to Sioux Indians in accordance with existing laws and treaties, and $425,000 for the payment of interest on Indian trust funds (occasioned by judgments totaling nearly $10,000,000 obtained by the Klamath Indians in Oregon and the Shoshone Indians in Wyoming through suits disposed of by the Court of Claims). The principal items of decrease are $253,960.66, the final installment due the Pueblo Indians of New Mexico under the act of May 31, 1933; $75,000 for a loan to the Navajo Tribe in Arizona and New Mexico to assist in the sheep-reduction program of the reservation; $57,315 for the operation and maintenance of the San Carlos irrigation project by reason of payment by the Indians of operation and maintenance charges, and $50,000 for a survey and appraisal of the property and reindeer authorized to be acquired for the natives of Alaska by the act of September 1, 1937 (50 Stat. 900).

For the Bureau of Reclamation, there is a reduction of $55,000 due to decreased cost of operating existing irrigation distribution systems paid from the reclamation fund. The other items of the Bureau of Reclamation will be found under the General Public Works Program.

For the Geological Survey, the increase of $151,320 contemplates increases of $13,320 for salaries, $68,000 for gaging streams, $55,000 for printing and binding, and $15,000 for mineral leasing.

For the Bureau of Mines, the net decrease of $472,975.23 is accounted for by a nonrecurring item of $537,975.23 for the purchase of helium properties, which is partially offset by increases of $21,000 for operating mine-rescue cars and stations and investigation of accidents; $7,000 for testing fuel; $30,000 for the operation of mining experiment stations; and $7,000 for economics of mineral industries.

The 1940 estimates for the National Park Service show a net increase of $285,062.71, resulting from increases amounting to $1,086,608 and decreases totaling $801,545.29. Of the total decrease, $743,265.29 represents the amount appropriated for the fiscal year 1939 for the acquisition of lands to complete the Great Smoky Mountains National Park and the remainder concerns nonrecurring expenditures for equipment and park improvements. Of the total increase of $1,086,608, there is included in the estimates $333,560 for the necessary replacement of worn-out and obsolete road equipment and the purchase of additional equipment properly to maintain the increased mileage of roads and trails throughout the National Park System, and for the improvement of recreational and sanitary facilities for the reasonable accommodation of the increasing tourist population in these areas. For public buildings outside the District of Columbia, an increase of $215,808 is required principally for the rehabilitation of the building located at 45 Broadway, New York City. The remaining increase of $537,240 is reflected in the estimates for the activities of the National Park Service located in the District of Columbia and may be summarized as follows: $221,455 for rental of additional space; $153,080 additional for physical improvements to public buildings; $98,465 for building maintenance personnel and expenses; $22,200 in the item "Salaries and expenses, National Capital Parks," mainly for repairs to the approaches to the Arlington Memorial Bridge; and $42,040 for additional personnel and general expenses of the Washington office of the National Park Service to meet the increased volume of work.

For the Office of Education, there is a net increase of $1,297,050, which is occasioned by increases aggregating $1,301,250 and a decrease of $4,200. The principal increase, of $1,250,000, for the further development of vocational education is the additional amount considered necessary under the provisions of the George-Deen Act for allotments to the States for cooperative vocational education. Other increases provide $20,000 for a study of higher education for Negroes to determine the areas of educational concentration or specialization upon which the various colleges should embark, and $31,250 for additional personnel and expenses of the administrative staff in the District of Columbia in connection with the expanded activities of the Office of Education.

The estimates for the Government of each of the Territories show net decreases which are due principally to the fact that the Alaska and Hawaii Legislatures will not be in session during the year, to the increase in municipal revenues in the Virgin Islands which will permit a corresponding reduction in the amount to be appropriated, to a reduction in the Alaska Railroad appropriated fund, and to nonrecurring items for the equatorial and South Sea islands. The total decreases in annual appropriations amount to $321,460, exclusive of the Emergency Relief appropriation for 1939 of $6,000,000 for the Puerto Rico Reconstruction Administration.

For the several institutions in the District of Columbia under the supervision of the Department of the Interior the following net increases are shown: St. Elizabeths Hospital, $69,120; Howard University, $22,000; and Freedmen's Hospital, $39,920. The respective increases are due mainly to Federal patient increase at St. Elizabeths Hospital, to a request for additional funds to purchase well-known collections of Negro works for the library at Howard University, and to the need for utilizing approximately 100 additional beds at Freedmen's Hospital.

The 1940 estimates of permanent appropriations show increases of $50,000 for payments to States from receipts under the Mineral Leasing Act, and $265,000 from operating revenues for cost of operation of the Alaska Railroad. These increases are offset by a reduction of $24,000 in the estimated receipts in connection with the development and operation of helium properties.

There is a net increase of $767,080 in trust accounts which is occasioned by increases of $1,015,000 under the Bureau of Indian Affairs, $200 under the National Park Service, and $2,000 under St. Elizabeths Hospital, which increases are offset by a decrease of $250,620 under the Bureau of Reclamation.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

The estimates for the Department of Justice for the fiscal year 1940, exclusive of construction projects and trust accounts, amount to $50,544,670, an increase of $7,608,295 over the appropriations for the fiscal year 1939. This increase includes $2,510,210 for the Office of the Attorney General, $3,601,130 for the penal and correctional institutions, and $1,496,955 for the Judiciary. The principal reasons for these increases, aside from the ordinary growth in business, are the authorization by the Seventy-fifth Congress of the appointment of 22 new judges, the prospective expansion in antitrust activities, additional investigative work by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and extensions to existing penal and correctional facilities and the establishment of six new penal and correctional institutions.

Among the items included in the increase of $2,510,210 for the Office of the Attorney General are a net increase for personal services of $34,270 composed of increases of $351,330 less $317,060 for the Lands Division, which has been included with other funds for this Division in a separate appropriation; for traveling expenses of the Department and the Judiciary, $190,800; for contingent expenses, $56,500; for printing and binding, $64,500; for the Federal Bureau of Investigation, $806,800; for the Antitrust Division, $749,940; for the Bonds and Spirits Division, $18,000; for the Bureau of Prisons, $64,400; and for the Bureau of War Risk Litigation, $30,000.

The Lands Division is now operating with funds derived from a number of sources for which it is necessary to keep separate accounts and which procedure is undesirable and impracticable because of the difficulty in properly apportioning expenses to the respective appropriations. It is proposed, therefore, to have a single appropriation from which all expenditures for this Division will be made, and there is recommended for this purpose for the fiscal year 1940, $1,800,000, which is approximately the amount the Division will use during the current fiscal year.

It is estimated that there will be an increase in prison population for the fiscal year 1940 over the fiscal year 1939 of about 4.7 percent, and to provide the necessary funds for the maintenance and operation of the penal and correctional institutions the following increases are recommended: Leavenworth, Kans. (main), $108,540; Leavenworth, Kans. (annex), $74,930; Atlanta, Ga., $127,680; McNeil Island, Wash., $37,120; Lewisburg, Pa., $64,995; Alcatraz Island, Calif., $37,405; Alderson, W. Va., $35,320; Chillicothe, Ohio, $82,230; El Reno, Okla., $203,170; Springfield, Mo.,· $187,740; Petersburg, Va., $98,245; Federal jails, $153,425; and the National Training School for Boys, Washington, D. C., $27,200. There is a net decrease of $16,550 in the estimate for prison camps, due to the elimination of funds appropriated for a new prison camp for the fiscal year 1939 which it is felt will not be needed in view of the fact that additional facilities of a permanent character will become available during the ensuing fiscal year.

An amount of $1,700,000 is recommended for the purpose of organizing and equipping the new institutions to be constructed at Terre Haute, Ind.; Dallas, Tex.; Denver, Colo; Danbury, Conn.; Ashland, Ky.; and Texarkana, Tex.

The estimate for the probation system, United States courts, contains an increase of $137,380 for additional probation officers in districts where this service is inadequate. For medical and hospital service at the penal and correctional institutions there is an increase of $342,300, the greater part of which is to provide such service at the new institutions. There is an increase from $1,500,000 to $1,700,000 in the estimate for the support of United States prisoners confined in non-Federal institutions, to meet an advance in the average cost of the maintenance of such prisoners from 80 to 85 cents a day.

The increase of $357,000 in the estimate for salaries of circuit, district, and retired judges is to provide for the 22 new judges and an increase in the pay roll of retired judges. Increases in other court estimates include $92,000 for fees of jurors and witnesses; $58,340 for pay of bailiffs; $202,350 for miscellaneous salaries, United States courts; and $63,710 for miscellaneous expenses, United States courts.

There are also increases in the estimates for salaries, fees, and expenses of marshals, of $265,560, for salaries and expenses of district attorneys, of $190,000; for pay of special assistant attorneys, of $56,400; and for salaries and expenses of clerks, United States courts, of $146,860.

The estimated expenditures of $2,000,000 from trust accounts for the fiscal year 1940 are the same as for the fiscal year 1939, and comprise $600,000 for funds of Federal prisoners, $300,000 for commissary funds of Federal prisons, $100,000 for fees and collections of United States marshals, and $1,000,000 for fees and collections of clerks of United States courts.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

The estimates of appropriations for the Department of Labor for the fiscal year 1940 amount to $30,930,280 exclusive of trust accounts, a net increase over the total amount provided for the fiscal year 1939 of $3,108,730. This net increase is the result of increases totaling $4,125,250, less a decrease of $1,016,520, accounted for as follows:

The Fair Labor Standards Act was approved June 25, 1938. To initiate the administration of this act during the fiscal year 1939 there was appropriated $400,000 in the Second Deficiency Appropriation Act, fiscal year 1938, approved June 25, 1938. For its administration during the fiscal year 1940 there is included in the Budget estimates $3,350,000 for the Wages and Hours Division of the Department of Labor and $500,000 for the Children's Bureau of that Department, making a total of $3,850,000—an increase of $3,450,000 over the amount appropriated for the fiscal year 1939.

The estimate provides a total of $2,440,760 under the heading "Office of the Secretary" wherein provision is made for the Secretary's Office proper, for salaries and expenses of the Division of Labor Standards, the Commissioners of Conciliation, the Division of Public Contracts, liaison with the International Labor Organization, Geneva, Switzerland, and for expenses of the Department as a whole with respect to contingencies, travel (except that incident to the administration of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938), and printing and binding. The total increase for these purposes, occasioned by reason of the increased volume of work to be performed, amounts to $182,930, consisting of $35,720 for the Office of the Secretary proper, $10,580 for the Division of Labor Standards, $16,900 for the Commissioners of Conciliation, $22,120 for the Division of Public Contracts, $9,800 for contingent expenses, $65,000 for traveling expenses, $21,610 for printing and binding, and $1,200 for the International Labor Organization.

The estimates include $960,000 for the Bureau of Labor Statistics, a net increase of $131,000 to meet the need for collecting and compiling additional and more detailed statistics along various lines, including occupational outlook surveys for the furnishing of information with respect to occupational opportunities to employers, labor, and educators.

There is provided for the Immigration and Naturalization Service $9,876,360, representing a net increase of $161,360 for additional immigration inspectors and other field personnel for new stations, automatic promotions, increased number of deportations, and removals to be effected during the fiscal year 1940, and increased amount for rent and miscellaneous needs, including certain extraordinary items of repair at immigration stations.

The estimates of $9,366,680 for the Children's Bureau, in addition to the item of $500,000 for carrying out the child-labor provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act, mentioned above, provide other increases totaling $183,180 of which $30,000 is for maternal and child-welfare work under the Social Security Act and $150,000 is for grants to States under said act for maternal and child-health service and service to crippled children.

The Women's Bureau is given an increase of $16,680 for additional personnel for strengthening its research work pertaining to the development of standards for employment of women and related subjects, making a total of $160,000 available for the fiscal year 1940.

The funds available to the United States Employment Service for the fiscal year 1939 comprise regular appropriations of $2,793,000 plus $3,000,000 provided by the Emergency Relief Act of 1938, making a total of $5,793,000. The Budget estimate for the fiscal year 1940 is $4,776,480, or a net decrease of $1,016,520. This net decrease is the result of an increase of $1,530,000 for payments to States under the provisions of the Wagner-Peyser Act, approved June 6, 1933, as amended, and a decrease of $2,546,520, for administrative expenses in connection with the supervision of State employment offices in accordance with said act. The amount available for administrative expenses for 1939 is $3,843,000, of which amount, on the basis of present information, approximately $2,051,150 will be expended. The estimate of $1,296,480 for 1940 administrative expenses, therefore, represents a decrease below the expected expenditures for 1939 of only $754,670. This decrease is made possible through a reduction in the number of offices to be supervised, the completion of certain necessary preliminary work, and a more efficient organization of the field work.

The amount of the estimate for trust accounts, $295,300, is the same as for the fiscal year 1939.

NAVY DEPARTMENT

The estimates for the Navy Department for the fiscal year 1940, exclusive of trust funds, and funds for public works under the Bureau of Yards and Docks, amount to $720,987,403, compared with the direct appropriations of $559,175,744 for the fiscal year 1939, an increase of $161,811,659.

The estimates for public works appearing in the Budget under the heading "General Public Works Program" amount to $18,246,550, and compare with $27,381,000 appropriated for 1939. For 1939 the direct appropriations were supplemented by reappropriations of $4,071,000. Taking these two items into consideration for purposes of comparing the total availability for the 2 years (excluding trust accounts), the total Navy estimates for 1940 amount to $739,233,953 and the total availability for 1939 aggregates $590,627,744, indicating an increase in availability of $148,606,209 over 1939. Explanation regarding Public Works will be found elsewhere in this Budget, while the increase of $161,811,659 stated in the first paragraph above is discussed herein.

By adding to the direct appropriations of $559,175,744 the amount of $4,071,000 reappropriated, the availability for 1939 (exclusive of trust accounts and Public Works) amounts to $563,246,744. The comparable figure for 1940 is $720,987,403, indicating an increase in availability of $157,740,659. Of this increase, $34,308,809 is necessary for increased personnel, aviation, and general maintenance, and operation; and $123,431,850 for new vessels, modernization of two aircraft carriers, and building up reserve stocks of materials.

The increase of $34,308,809 for increased personnel, aviation, and general maintenance and operation is divided among bureaus and offices as follows: Office of the Secretary (for field services), from $1,751,960 for 1939 to $1,864,500 for 1940, an increase of $112,540; Bureau of Navigation, from $14,061,935 ($13,690,935 appropriated plus $371,000 reappropriated) for 1939 to $14,534,869 for 1940, an increase of $472,934; Bureau of Engineering, from $26,887,000 ($26,387,000 appropriated plus $500,000 reappropriated) for 1939 to $25,800,000 for 1940, a decrease of $1,087,000; Bureau of Construction and Repair, from $23,294,590 for 1939 to $22,600,000 for 1940, a decrease of $694,590; Bureau of Ordnance, from $26,849,600 for 1939 to $27,400,000 for 1940, an increase of $550,400; Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, from $224,617,350 ($221,517,350 appropriated plus $3,100,000 reappropriated) for 1939 to $230,647,000, for 1940, an increase of $6,029,650; Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, from $2,550,000 for 1939 to $2,670,000 for 1940, an increase of $120,000; Bureau of Yards and Docks (excluding public works) from $8,370,000 for 1939 to $8,670,000 for 1940, an increase of $300,000; Bureau of Aeronautics, from $48,075,000 for 1939 to $74,000,000 for 1940, an increase of $25,925,000; Marine Corps, from $27,796,830 ($27,696,830 appropriated plus $100,000 reappropriated) for 1939 to $30,036,440 for 1940, an increase of $2,239,610; and departmental salaries and expenses, from $4,879,329 for 1939 to $5,219,594 for 1940, an increase of $340,265.

The increase of $34,308,809 detailed above is principally due to increases in the number of officers and enlisted men in the Navy and in the Marine Corps and increases in aeronautical activities. The estimates provide for an increase in the officer strength of the Navy of 448 (from 10,186 to 10,634) and of the Marine Corps of 73 (from 1,351 to 1,424) in the fiscal year 1940 over the number provided for in 1939, and for an increase in the enlisted force of the Navy of 5,500 (from an average of 107,550 to an average of 113,050) and of the Marine Corps of 1,000 (from an average of 17,500 to an average of 18,500). On account of aeronautical activities, the estimates for 1940 provide for the maintenance and operation of the planes in the 1939 program, including procurement of planes for replacement of crashed planes, etc., and for the procurement of 95 expansion planes toward the obtainment of the number of planes called for by section 3 of the Naval Expansion Act, approved May 17, 1938.

The estimate of funds required for construction of naval vessels in the fiscal year 1940 amounts to $270,000,000, an increase of $115,886,850 over the amount of $154,113,150 appropriated for 1939. This increase provides for continuing construction of vessels already under way and for beginning the construction during 1940 of two battleships, two cruisers, eight destroyers, eight submarines, two seaplane tenders, and one repair ship. The construction of the vessels commenced and under way prior to the 1940 program will have reached a point during the fiscal year 1940 where large expenditures, as compared with previous years, will be necessary if the progress of construction is not to be retarded.

During the fiscal year 1940 it is proposed to begin the modernization of the aircraft carriers Lexington and Saratoga, as authorized by the act approved May 17, 1938, and an estimate of $4,000,000 has been included for this purpose.

The Navy Department has strongly urged the procurement of a stock of materials to be maintained as a war reserve, and $3,545,000 has been included in the Budget for the purpose of initiating this program.

The estimated receipts to be appropriated under the various trust accounts amount to $2,185,000 for the fiscal year 1940, compared with $2,235,000 for 1939, involving a decrease of $50,000 under 1939. However, the estimated expenditures of $1,924,000 for the fiscal year 1940 represent an increase of $372,242 over the estimated expenditures of $1,551,758 during the fiscal year 1939. This increase is principally due to contemplated additional expenditures from the naval hospital fund at various naval hospitals.

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT

The estimates for the Post Office Department are included as an Annexed Budget, as the excess of expenditures over the postal revenues is paid from the general fund of the Treasury and only such excess is carried to Statement No. 2 of the Budget for 1940 and to the General Budget Summary and supporting schedules.

For the fiscal year 1940, it is estimated that the postal revenues will amount to $740,000,000, and that the expenditures under the estimates of appropriations included in the Annexed Budget will aggregate $793,281,872. Under these estimates the excess of postal expenditures over postal revenues will amount to $53,281,872, which sum will become a charge against the general fund of the Treasury.

The details concerning the estimates for the Post Office Department will be found in the summary tables and explanatory statement under the Annexed Budget.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

The estimates of the Department of State for the fiscal year 1940, exclusive of construction projects and trust accounts, amount to $16,474,266, an increase of $787,916 over the appropriations for the fiscal year 1939. This increase includes $225,840 for the Office of the Secretary of State, $493,800 for the Foreign Service, and $68,276 for international obligations, commissions, congresses, and bureaus, etc.

The increase of $225,840 in the estimates for the Office of the Secretary of State consists of $132,400 for personal services, $47,190 for contingent expenses, $41,750 for printing and binding, and $4,500 for promotion of foreign trade. These increases are considered necessary in order to enable the Department to more adequately meet its increasing volume of work.

There is an increase of $74,900 in the estimate for salaries of Foreign Service officers, to provide for automatic promotions as authorized by the Foreign Service Act of February 23, 1931, and for the appointment of 15 additional Foreign Service officers. The estimate for salaries of Foreign Service clerks has been increased by $210,980, of which $66,020 is for permanent and $25,000 for temporary personnel, $15,920 for employees transferred from other appropriations, and $104,040 for promotions. For the salaries and allowances of miscellaneous employees in the Foreign Service there is a net increase of $30,320, composed of increases of $14,620 for additional personnel, $17,260 for promotions, and $10,800 for supervisors of construction, a total increase of $42,680, from which is deducted $12,360 for personnel transferred to the appropriation for Foreign Service clerks.

The estimate for transportation of Foreign Service officers and employees contains an increase of $53,300, including $10,000 for trade conferences, $12,500 for transfers of ambassadors and ministers, $16,800 for the transportation of the new officers and clerks to their posts of duty, $4,000 for consular conferences, and $10,000 for temporary details. There is a decrease of $4,000 in contingent expenses of the Foreign Service and an increase of $11,800 in the Foreign Service retirement and disability appropriated fund.

For office and living quarters in the Foreign Service an increase of $68,000 is recommended, of which $27,690 covers allowances for living quarters for the new officers and clerks, while $40,310 represents the additional amount necessary to provide in 1940 the required allowances for existing 1939 personnel. An increase of $28,500 is recommended for cost of living allowances, made up of $6,150 for allowances to the new officers and clerks, $12,350 due to the general advance in cost of living in certain foreign countries, and $10,000 for living allowances to certain diplomatic and consular officers who are also entitled to representation allowances but whose expenses are heavy. The estimate for representation allowances has been increased from $125,000 to $145,000 to more nearly meet the requirements of the Service. There is recommended for United States contributions to international commissions, congresses, and bureaus for the fiscal year 1940, $843,066, compared to $835,590 for the fiscal year 1939, and increase of $7,476.

While the estimate for emergencies arising in the diplomatic and consular service for the fiscal year 1940 is left at the same figure as the appropriation for the fiscal year 1939, or $175,000, it is proposed to amend the text of this appropriation to provide that whenever the President shall find a state of emergency exists endangering the lives of American citizens in any foreign country he may make available for expenditure for the protection of such citizens not to exceed $500,000 by transfer to this appropriation from the various appropriations under the heading "Foreign intercourse," and that reimbursements by American citizens to whom relief has been extended shall be credited to any appropriation from which funds have been transferred for such purposes.

An increase of $55,000 is recommended for the International Boundary Commission, United States and Mexico, to provide for the maintenance and operation of the American Dam and Canal at El Paso, and the project for rectification of the Rio Grande River where it forms the boundary between the two countries, from El Paso to Box Canyon, both of which projects will be completed during the current fiscal year. For the fiscal year 1939 there was appropriated for the International Pacific Salmon Fisheries Commission an amount of $15,000 to continue the experimental and organization work of this commission, but beginning with the fiscal year 1940 it is expected to put into effect the methods devised by the experiments of prior years, and $40,000 is included in the Budget for this purpose to match an equal amount expected to be provided by the Canadian Government. The estimate for the International Fisheries Commission has been increased from $25,000 to $31,500, to match the amount which it is understood will be appropriated by Canada for this work.

New items appearing in the Budget for the fiscal year 1940 are estimates of $90,000 for the Eighth Pan American Scientific Congress, $5,000 for the Seventh General Assembly of the Union of Geodesy and Geophysics, and $500 for the Ninth International Seed Testing Congress, all of which are to be held in the United States in 1940. Another new item is an estimate of $72,000 for payment to the Government of Nicaragua, under an agreement with the United States signed April 14, 1938, providing for the adjustment of certain accounts of indebtedness and claim for refund of income taxes between the two countries. Appropriations for the fiscal year 1939 for various international commissions and conferences, and miscellaneous items, which will not be required for the fiscal year 1940, amount to $196,950.

The expenditures from trust accounts for the fiscal year 1940 are estimated at $1,192,100, an increase of $19,800 over the fiscal year 1939.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT

The estimates of appropriations for the Treasury Department, general and special accounts, for the fiscal year 1940, exclusive of items of Public Works, aggregate $2,529,561,220 as compared with appropriations of $2,235,183,067 for 1939, or an increase of $294,378,153. Included in the figure of $2,529,561,220 is $889,100,620 for annual appropriations, which amount is $218,413,283 in excess of the annual appropriations for 1939. Permanent appropriations for 1940 total $1,640,460,600 which is an increase of $75,964,870 over the permanent appropriations for 1939. In addition, the estimates of appropriations for 1940 under the various trust accounts aggregate $1,452,109,375, which is an increase of $98,147,275 over the requirements under such accounts for 1939.

Annual appropriations.—Principal increases are to be found in the following estimates: Office of the Secretary, $274,842,620; Bureau of Customs, $2,655,000; Public Health Service, $1,005,950; Processing Tax Board of Review, $250,000; Bureau of the Budget, $164,570; Procurement Division, Public Buildings Branch, $161,370; Bureau of the Mint, $83,930; and Bureau of Narcotics, $64,900. Major items of decrease are to be found in the estimates of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, $40,263,600; Office of Commissioner of Accounts and Deposits, $11,463,400; Procurement Division, Branch of Supply, $5,500,000; Bureau of Engraving and Printing, $1,700,000; Coast Guard, $739,787; Office of Treasurer of the United States, $648,620; Division of Printing, $247,780; Secret Service Division, $202,220; and Public Debt Service, $84,030.

The estimates of the Office of the Secretary for 1940 total $663,772,620, which is an increase of $274,842,620 over the appropriations for 1939. This increase is largely accounted for by increases of $240,000,000 in the amount for the old-age reserve account under the Social Security Act, $9,500,000 in the amount for payment to Federal land banks on account of the reduction in the rate of interest on certain land-bank loans, $1,000,000 for a loan to the Alley Dwelling Authority for the District of Columbia, and $25,000,000 on account of advances to the railroad unemployment insurance account, and by a decrease of $700,000 in the amount for payment to the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation on account of the reduction in the rate of interest on Land Bank Commissioner's loans provided for in the act of June 16, 1938.

The annual estimates of the Bureau of Customs for 1940 aggregate $39,255,000, which is an increase of $2,655,000 over the appropriation for 1939. Items of increase include $2,250,000 for payment of refunds and drawbacks, $69,500 for additional personnel and incidental expenses for offices of comptrollers of customs, to effect proper control of fiscal transactions, $322,140 for promotions to low-salaried employees, and $39,000 for educational and scientific equipment.

The estimates of the Public Health Service for 1940 amount to $25,698,150, or an increase of $1,005,950 over appropriations for 1939. The major part of this increase is to be found in the following appropriations: Salaries, Office of Surgeon General, $36,920; pay of commissioned officers, $41,800; pay of other employees, $49,300; maintenance, National Institute of Health, on account of new buildings at Bethesda, Md., $66,000; pay of personnel and maintenance of hospitals, $525,000, which item includes approximately $200,000 for reduction of working hours of certain employees; preventing the spread of epidemic diseases, $25,000; expenses, Division of Mental Hygiene, $280,000, due mainly to the operation of the new United States Public Health Service Hospital at Fort Worth, Tex., on a full-year basis in 1939; and maintenance of the new National Cancer Institute at Bethesda, Md., $40,000.

The appropriation of $250,000 for salaries and other expenses of the Processing Tax Board of Review is to take the place of funds heretofore provided by the Bureau of Internal Revenue, and represents an increase of $123,030 over the amount estimated to be required for the purpose during 1939.

The estimates of the Bureau of the Budget for 1940 total $519,280, which represents an increase of $164,570 over the appropriations for 1939. This increase is to provide, in major part, for the placement on a full-year basis of the enlarged organization for which funds were provided on a part-year basis for 1939.

The total estimates of the Procurement Division, Public Buildings Branch, for 1940 amount to $5,937,840, which is an increase of $161,370 over the appropriations for 1939. This increase results principally from a need for additional personnel, furniture and repairs thereto, and supplies for the operation of public buildings. Items for construction of public buildings are included under the General Public Works Program.

The estimates of the Bureau of the Mint for 1940 total $2,395,850, which is an increase of $83,930 over the appropriation for 1939. It is proposed to consolidate the 1939 appropriation of $750,000 for "Expenses, Silver Purchase and Gold Reserve Acts," with certain other appropriations of the Bureau. The decrease of $117,270 resulting from this consolidation is offset, however, by increases of $201,200 in other appropriations, the principal item of which is $200,000 for the transportation of bullion and coin to provide for increased shipments thereof to the depositories at Fort Knox, Ky., and West Point, N. Y., and to the mint at Denver, Colo.

The estimate of the Bureau of Narcotics for 1940 is $1,332,500, which represents an increase of $64,900 over the appropriation for 1939. This increase is required for salaries of additional personnel and incidental expenses to provide for an increase in the work of that Bureau.

The total annual estimates of the Bureau of Internal Revenue for 1940 are $103,485,200, which is $40,263,600 less than the total appropriations for 1939. This decrease is due to the fact that no additional funds are being requested for 1940 for the refunding of processing and related taxes. For 1939 there was appropriated $50,000,000 for this purpose, of which it is estimated that there will be expended during the year approximately $7,500,000, leaving a balance of $42,500,000 available for reappropriation for 1940. This decrease of $50,000,000, however, is offset by increases of $4,000,000 for the refunding of internal-revenue collections, $1,404,400 for additional field personnel and incidental expenses to handle various classes of internal-revenue-tax returns and collections other than processing taxes, $555,600 for printing and binding heretofore included in the appropriation for printing and binding for Treasury Department, $40,000 for the purchase of automobiles for the use of field personnel of the Alcohol Tax Unit, and $3,766,000 for salaries and expenses in connection with the refunding of processing taxes, now paid from funds transferred from the appropriation "Salaries and expenses, section 915, Revenue Act of 1936 (transferred from 'Exportation and domestic consumption of agricultural commodities, Department of Agriculture, 1936')', 1937–1939."

The estimates of the Office of the Commissioner of Accounts and Deposits for 1940 amount to $2,601,600, which is a decrease of $11,463,400 below the appropriations for 1939. This net decrease results principally from nonrecurring appropriations of $8,000,000 and $3,500,000 for administrative expenses, Office of the Commissioner of Accounts and Deposits, and Division of Disbursement, respectively, under the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act for 1938, and an increase of $41,600 for additional personnel required to take care of the increase in the work of the Office of the Commissioner of Accounts and Deposits.

The estimate for the Procurement Division, Branch of Supply, for 1940 is $480,000, a decrease of $5,500,000 below the appropriation for 1939, due to the nonrecurrence of the appropriation in that amount for administrative expenses under the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1938.

The estimate of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing for 1940 is $8,500,000, a decrease of $1,700,000 below the appropriation for 1939. This decrease is due principally to a reduced currency program in 1940, to lower current prices for supplies and materials, and to a lower production cost of currency due to improved pressing methods.

The total estimates for 1940 for the Coast Guard amount to $25,792,740, which is $739,787 less than the appropriations for 1939. Nonrecurring items not required in 1940 amount to $1,574,900, which decrease is offset by the following items of increase: Salaries and expenses, $58,260; pay and allowances, $468,000; outfits, $50,280; civilian employees, $30,910; repairs to Coast Guard vessels, $200,000; and repairs to Coast Guard aircraft, $27,663.

The annual estimates of the office of the Treasurer of the United States for 1940 total $1,323,000, which is a decrease of $648,620 below the appropriation for 1939. This decrease is accounted for by the exclusion of nonrecurring items not required in 1940 amounting to $752,620, and by increases of $74,000 for additional personnel to take care of the increase in the work of that office and $30,000 for promotions to low salaried personnel. Included in the nonrecurring items is $750,000 appropriated for administrative expenses under the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act for 1938.

The total estimates of the Division of Printing for 1940 amount to $1,176,400, which is a decrease of $247,780 below the appropriations for 1939. This decrease results from an increase of $113,000 in the amount considered necessary for stationery, and a decrease of approximately $362,000 in the amount required for printing and binding by reason of the elimination from this appropriation of the printing and binding requirements of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, for which provision is being made in the appropriations for that Bureau.

The total estimates of appropriations for the Secret Service Division amount to $1,111,590, which is a decrease of $202,220 below the appropriations for 1939. A nonrecurring item of $300,000 for administrative expenses under the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act for 1938 is offset by an increase of $97,708 to provide additional personnel and incidental expenses for the increased work of this Division.

The total annual estimates of appropriations for the Public Debt Service amount to $3,265,970, which is $84,030 less than the appropriations for 1939. While an increase of $114,500 has been provided for additional personnel required in connection with the redemption of United States savings bonds and for the work of the Register of the Treasury, there has been a decrease of $198,530 in the amount required for the purchase of distinctive paper for United States securities.

Permanent appropriations.—The estimates of permanent appropriations for 1940 total $1,640,460,600, an increase of $75,964,870 over 1939. The increase includes $74,000,000 for interest payments on the public debt, $1,774,870 for debt retirement payments, and $190,000 for expenses of loans under the Public Debt Service to provide additional personnel to handle the work on new public debt issues, for additional funds to reimburse the Post Office Department for expenses connected with the handling of United States savings bonds, and for reimbursement to Federal Reserve banks for expenses incurred in their capacity as fiscal agents of the United States in connection with new security issues.

Trust accounts.—The estimates of appropriations under this head total $1,452,109,375, which is an increase of $98,147,275 over the requirements for 1939. The increase occurs almost entirely in the estimates covering the investment of and payments from the unemployment trust fund, and the investment of interest accruals to the old-age reserve account.

WAR DEPARTMENT

Exclusive of items included in the General Public Works Program, and of trust accounts, the Budget estimates for the War Department, including the Panama Canal, for the fiscal year 1940 amount to $515,979,944. This is an apparent net increase over the comparable total appropriated for 1939 of $9,415,506. However, in addition to the direct appropriations for 1939, amounting to $506,564,438, there were reappropriated unexpended balances totaling $4,275,474, making a total availability of $510,839,912. The difference between this latter amount and the total of the 1940 Budget estimates is $5,140,032, which is the actual increase over 1939.

Departmental activities.—The net increase is $243,403, consisting of increases of $77,780 for additional personnel, $52,040 transferred from field pay rolls, $19,180 to meet the cost of reclassification of various positions by the Civil Service Commission, $33,960 for administrative promotions, $7,423 for reductions in estimated savings through lapses, $9,000 for additional office supplies and replacement of unserviceable typewriters and other office devices, and $51,000 for printing and binding; total increases, $250,383, less reduction of $6,980 in various requirements; net increase $243,403.

Military activities.—The estimates for the General Staff Corps show an increase of $47,952, of which $35,550 covers an increase in the cost of military intelligence activities of the Army and $12,402 is to provide for a slight variation in the cost of the annual Army maneuvers or field exercises.

For the Army War College, the net increase is $1,880, consisting of increases of $1,200 for an additional guard and $2,980 for replacement of unserviceable equipment, less $2,300 covering nonrecurring items.

Under The Adjutant General's Department there is a net ncrease of $30,700, resulting from increases of $1,260 for an additional employee, $31,100 for the replacement of unserviceable equipment at the Command and General Staff School, and $500 for additional recreational equipment for enlisted men traveling on Army transports, less $2,160 covering nonrecurring items.

The estimates for the Finance Department for 1940 show a net increase of $3,408,838 over the appropriations for 1939, which consists principally of increases of $275,475 to cover automatic increases in the base pay of officers; $137,500 additional to provide for a full year's pay in 1940 for officers commissioned on various dates during 1939; $637,500 for base pay of 456 additional officers to be commissioned in 1940; $173,996 for flying pay for officers of the Air Corps, due to increase in the number of such officers; $924,384 for pay of enlisted men, due to the necessity of providing additional grades and ratings because of the progress made in the mechanization and motorization of the Army and expansion of the Air Corps; $711,242 on account of increases in the retired lists of commissioned and warrant officers, nurses, and enlisted men; $114,233 for flying pay for enlisted men of the Air Corps, due to an increase in the number of such men required for crews of airplanes; $274,919 for rental and subsistence allowances for commissioned officers occasioned by increase in the officer strength of the Army; and $121,026 for travel allowance to enlisted men upon discharge. The estimates for 1940 provide for average active strengths of 13,031 commissioned officers and 165,000 enlisted men of the Regular Army, and 6,415 enlisted men of the Philippine Scouts. In addition provision is made for 185 officers of the Corps of Engineers to be employed on river and harbor and flood-control works and paid from the appropriations for such works.

For the Quartermaster Corps there is an apparent net increase of $2,731,837, but deducting reappropriations of $447,182 made available in 1939 gives an actual net increase of $2,284,655. This latter figure results from a number of increases and decreases. The principal increases are: $500,000 for strengthening the working capital, or carry-over of stocks, for subsistence of the Army, to meet the needs of a force of 165,000 enlisted men; $2,000,000 for the replacement of automotive equipment, the useful life of which will expire in 1940, and for the purchase of additional automotive equipment for new motorized tactical units of the Army; $357,100 for rail transportation, due mainly to an increased quantity of munitions to be distributed to storage depots; and $232,000 for acquisition of land. The principal decreases consist of $957,000, covering reduced requirements for clothing and equipage, and $233,450 reduction in procurement of animals, due to progress made in motorization of the Army.

For the Signal Corps there is an apparent net decrease for 1940 of $1,696,467, but since $189,700 was reappropriated and made available in 1939 in addition to the regular appropriation, the actual decrease in 1940 is $1,886,167. This decrease is practically all covered by nonrecurring items, principally $1,020,000 provided in 1939 for the liquidation of a contract authorization.

For the Air Corps the estimates for 1940 show a net decrease of $2,756,532. This net decrease is due to the fact that fewer airplanes will need to be procured in 1940 under the present program of 2,320 airplanes. The Budget estimate will make it possible for the War Department to have this number of airplanes on hand and on order during the fiscal year 1940.

For the military activities of the Corps of Engineers the estimates for 1940 show a decrease of $414,040, which merely represents changes between the 1939 and 1940 programs of work and procurements. The same may be said of the net decrease of $135,300 for the Chemical Warfare Service.

The 1940 estimates for the Ordnance Department show an apparent net increase of $6,997,111. However, there was reappropriated and made available in 1939 the sum of $1,249,000 in addition to the regular appropriation for that year, so that the actual net increase for 1940 is $5,748,111. Of this amount, $4,900,000 is to be applied to the liquidation of contracts authorized for the fiscal year 1939; $724,966 covers a number of net increases in the program of procurements; and $123,145 is a net increase in the cost of maintenance and repair of arsenals, occasioned by the necessity of replacing unserviceable power equipment.

For the Infantry, Cavalry, Field Artillery, and Coast Artillery Service Schools the 1940 estimates show a decrease of $16,668, covered by nonrecurring items of procurement of equipment.

For seacoast defenses of the United States, Hawaii, and the Panama Canal the Budget estimates for 1940 are $501,965, net, in excess of appropriations for 1939. This involves a number of increases and decreases, distributed among items concerned with the construction, maintenance, and repair of fixed fortifications, and their accessories.

The 1940 estimates for the United States Military Academy show an increase over 1939 of $208,970, made necessary by an increase in the average number of cadets, the need for a few additional employees, and additional requirements for the maintenance of buildings and utilities, including boiler replacements in the power plant.

For the National Guard there is an apparent increase in 1940 of $1,721,523, but since there was reappropriated for 1939 unexpended balances totaling $1,271,151, the actual net increase for 1940 is $450,372. This latter amount results from increases and decreases in a large number of items concerned with the arming, equipping, and training of the National Guard. For 1940 the estimates provide for a strength in officers and enlisted men of 210,000.

The increase in 1940 for the Organized Reserves is, facially, $702,860. The actual net increase, however, is $189,417, due to the fact that, in addition to the regular appropriation for 1939, there was reappropriated and made available for that year $513,443 of unexpended balances. The actual net increase of $189,417 is occasioned principally by the need for an increase in the number of Reserve officers to be assigned to extended active duty with the Air Corps of the Regular Army, estimated to cost $668,600, and by decreases in the cost of training of other classes of Reserve officers.

While the 1940 estimates for the Reserve Officers' Training Corps in schools and colleges show an apparent increase of $502,354, there is no actual increase over 1939, since an equal amount of unexpended balances was reappropriated for 1939 in addition to the regular appropriation, and no similar reappropriation is provided for the fiscal year 1940.

For citizens' military training camps the decrease of $300,700 in the 1940 estimates represents the difference in cost of providing for 30,000 trainees in 1940 and approximately 35,000 in 1939. This decrease is made in the interest of providing for more vital needs of the Army.

Civil activities.—The net decrease of $2,688,909 for the civil activities of the War Department (exclusive of the Panama Canal, items under the General Public Works Program, and trust accounts) consists of decreases of $328,410 for cemeterial expenses, covering nonrecurring costs of establishing new cemeteries and improving others; $2,493,569 for maintenance of river and harbor improvements, due to a more equitable distribution of overhead costs between maintenance and the item for works of improvement carried under the General Public Works Program; and $14,330 for salaries and expenses of the Office of United States High Commissioner to the Philippine Islands; partly offset by increases of $12,400 for new equipment for the Alaska Communications System and inclusion in the Budget for the first time of a special receipt account of $135,000 relating to the maintenance and operation of dams.

For the Panama Canal the estimates show a net increase of $324,799, of which $283,087 consists principally of the net difference between the 1939 and 1940 cost of betterments pertaining to maintenance and operation of the canal, and $41,712 provides for replacement of unserviceable equipment and for the hire of a few new employees under the appropriations for sanitation and civil government of the Canal and Canal Zone.

Trust accounts.—Trust accounts under the War Department consist of the United States Soldiers' Home permanent fund, bequest of Maj. Gen. Fred C. Ainsworth to the library of Walter Reed General Hospital, funds advanced and funds contributed for works of flood control and improvement of rivers and harbors, deposits of savings by enlisted men of the Army, and funds derived from the estates of deceased soldiers. The receipts from these sources are made available annually by law and are expended for the purposes contemplated by the various trusts. For 1940 the total made available is $3,718,200, which is a net increase over 1939 of $539,653, due to increases in the amounts of contributed funds and in savings deposits by enlisted men of the Army.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

The estimates of appropriations for the District of Columbia for the fiscal year 1940, together with prior year appropriations, are to be found in an Annexed Budget. The net expenditures to the extent that they affect the general fund of the Treasury are carried to the General Budget Summary and supporting schedules. The appropriation requirements for 1940, insofar as they constitute a charge upon the United States Treasury, are estimated at $5,000,000, the amount appropriated for 1939. The details of the requirements of the District of Columbia are to be found in the summary and supporting schedules of the Annexed Budget.

Statement of proposed expenditures for purchase, maintenance, repair, and operation of motor-propelled and horse-drawn passenger-carrying vehicles, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1940, as required by 5 U. S. C. 78

GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE

Appropriation	For purchase					Old vehicles still to be used	Total maintenance, repair, and operation, all cars	Public purpose and users
	New vehicles (motors unless otherwise indicated)		Old vehicles to be exchanged		Net cost of new cars
	Number	Gross cost	Number	Allowance (estimated)
Public printing and binding	2	$1,750	2	$600	$1,150		$1,350	New cars to be used for official business by the officials of the Government Printing Office when in writing ordered by the Public Printer.

Printing and binding for Congress chargeable to the foregoing appropriation, when recommended to be done by the Committee on Printing of either House, shall be so recommended in a report containing an approximate estimate of the cost thereof, together with a statement from the Public Printer of estimated approximate cost of work previously ordered by Congress within the fiscal year for which this appropriation is made.

During the fiscal year [1939] 1940 any executive department or independent establishment of the Government ordering printing and binding from the Government Printing Office shall pay promptly by check to the Public Printer upon his written request, either in advance or upon completion of the work, all or part of the estimated or actual cost thereof, as the case may be, and bills rendered by the Public Printer in accordance herewith shall not be subject to audit or certification in advance of payment: Provided, That proper adjustments on the basis of the actual cost of delivered work paid for in advance shall be made monthly or quarterly and as may be agreed upon by the Public Printer and the department or establishment concerned. All sums paid to the Public Printer for work that he is authorized by law to do shall be deposited to the credit, on the books of the Treasury Department, of the appropriation made for the working capital of the Government Printing Office for the year in which the work is done, and be subject to requisition by the Public Printer.

All amounts in the Budget for the fiscal year [1940] 1941 for printing and binding for any department or establishment, so far as the Bureau of the Budget may deem practicable, shall be incorporated in a single item for printing and binding for such department or establishment and be eliminated as a part of any estimate for any other purpose. And if any amounts for printing and binding, including the total cost of work produced on the multilith, multigraph, and other similar equipment are included as a part of any estimates for any other purposes, such amounts shall be set forth in detail in a note immediately following the general estimate for printing and binding: Provided, That the foregoing requirements shall not apply to work to be executed at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

No part of any money appropriated in this Act shall be paid to any person employed in the Government Printing Office while detailed for or performing service in the executive branch of the public service of the United States unless such detail be authorized by law (52 Stat. 396–397).

OFFICE OF SUPERINTENDENT OF DOCUMENTS

Salaries, Office of Superintendent of Documents—

[Salaries:] For the Superintendent of Documents, assistant superintendent, and other personal services in accordance with the Classification Act of 1923, as amended, and compensation of employees paid by the hour who shall be subject to the provisions of the Act entitled "An Act to regulate and fix rates of pay for employees and officers of the Government Printing Office", approved June 7, 1924 (44 U. S. C. 40), $630,000: Provided, That for the purpose of conforming to section 3 of this Act this appropriation shall be considered a separate appropriation unit (52 Stat. 397).

[BUREAU OF AIR COMMERCE] CIVIL AERONAUTICS AUTHORITY

NOTE.—The Bureau of Air Commerce of the Department of Commerce and the Bureau of Air Mail of the Interstate Commerce Commission were abolished, and the functions and funds of these Bureaus were transferred to the Civil Aeronautics Authority under the provisions of the act approved June 23, 1938 (52 Stat. 973-1030).

Salaries, Bureau of Air Commerce—

[Departmental salaries: For personal services in the District of Columbia, $650,000] (52 Stat. 270).

Aircraft in Commerce—

[Aircraft in commerce: To carry out the provisions of the Act approved May 20, 1926, entitled "An Act to encourage and regulate the use of aircraft in commerce, and for other purposes", as amended by the Act approved February 28, 1929, and the Acts approved June 19, 1934 (49 U. S. C. 171–184), including personal services in the field; control of air traffic on civil airways at air terminals, including necessary equipment therefor; rent in the District of Columbia and elsewhere; contract stenographic reporting services; fees and mileage of witnesses; purchase of furniture and equipment; stationery and supplies, including medical supplies, typewriting, adding, and computing machines, accessories, and repairs; purchase, including exchange (not to exceed $10,000), maintenance, operation, and repair of motor-propelled passenger-carrying vehicles for official use in field work; purchase of special clothing, wearing apparel, and similar equipment for aviation purposes; purchase of books of reference and periodicals; newspapers, reports, documents, plans, specifications, maps, manuscripts, and other publications; and all other necessary expenses not included in the foregoing; in all, $1,249,800] (52 Stat. 271).

Safety and Planning, Bureau of Air Commerce—

[Safety and planning: Further to carry out the provisions of the Act approved May 20, 1926, entitled "An Act to encourage and regulate the use of aircraft in commerce, and for other purposes", as amended by the Act approved February 28, 1929, and the Acts approved June 19, 1934, through safety research relative to aviation equipment, personnel, and operation methods; including not to exceed $75,000 for personal services in the District of Columbia and not to exceed $80,000 for personal services in the field; not to exceed $1,000 for the purchase of books of reference and periodicals; purchase of reports, documents, plans, specifications, and manuscripts; maintenance, repair, and operation of motor-propelled passenger-carrying vehicles; and all other necessary expenses $258,000] (52 Stat. 271).

Purchase and Maintenance of Aircraft, Bureau of Air Commerce—

[Purchase and maintenance of aircraft: For all necessary expenses, except personal services of Bureau of Air Commerce employees, of purchase, including exchange, operation, maintenance, repair, and overhaul of aircraft, aircraft power plants, propellers, and equipment, and spare parts therefor, $335,000: Provided, That this appropriation shall not be available for the procurement of experimental aircraft, aircraft power plants, and accessories required to carry out the provisions of section 2 (d) of the Air Commerce Act of 1926 (Public, Numbered 254, Sixty-ninth Congress), as amended by the Act of June 19, 1934 (Public, Numbered 418, Seventy-third Congress) for the development of aircraft, aircraft power plants, and accessories, which items shall be purchased under the appropriation for "Safety and planning"] (52 Stat. 271–272).

Maintenance of Air-Navigation Facilities—

[Maintenance of air-navigation facilities: For all necessary expenses of operation, maintenance, and upkeep of existing aids to air navigation, including purchase, exchange, maintenance, operation, and repair of motor-propelled passenger-carrying vehicles; purchase of special clothing, wearing apparel, and suitable equipment for aviation purposes (including rubber boots, snowshoes, and skis); books of reference and periodicals; $6,758,680] (52 Stat. 271).

Air Mail, Interstate Commerce Commission—

[Air mail: To enable the Interstate Commerce Commission to perform the duties imposed upon it by the Act approved June 12, 1934, entitled "An Act to revise air-mail laws, and to establish a Commission to make a report to the Congress recommending an aviation policy" (39 U. S. C. 469–469q), as amended by the Act approved August 14, 1935, entitled "An Act to amend the air-mail laws and to authorize the extension of the Air Mail Service" (39 U. S. C. 469d–469m), including field hearings, field audits, traveling expenses, contract stenographic reporting services; office supplies and equipment; purchase and exchange of books, reports, and periodicals; $200,000, of which amount not to exceed $165,000 may be expended for personal services in the District of Columbia, exclusive of special counsel or special aviation assistants for which the expenditure shall not exceed $20,000] (52 Stat. 418).

NOTE.—Appropriations under above titles are consolidated under title "Salaries and expenses, Civil Aeronautics Authority".

Salaries and Expenses, Civil Aeronautics Authority—

Salaries and expenses: For salaries and expenses of the Civil Aeronautics Authority, including the expenses of operation, maintenance and upkeep of air navigation facilities, in carrying out the duties, powers, and functions devolving upon it pursuant to the authority contained in the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 (52 Stat. 973), including traveling expenses and expenses of employees detailed by the Chairman of the Authority or the Administrator to attend meetings of associations, organizations, or other properly constituted bodies concerned with the civil aeronautics industry or the art of aeronautics, in the United States or in foreign countries; personal services and rentals in the District of Columbia and elsewhere; contract stenographic reporting services; examination of estimates of appropriations in the field, including actual expenses of subsistence or per diem allowance in lieu thereof; expenses of packing, crating, drayage, and transportation of household effects and other personal property (not exceeding in any one case 6,000 pounds) of employees when transferred from one official station to another for permanent duty, upon specific authorization by the Chairman of the Authority or the Administrator; purchase and exchange of professional and scientific books, law books, books of reference, atlases and maps, periodicals, and newspapers; purchase and exchange (not to exceed $400,000), operation, maintenance, repair, and overhaul of aircraft, aircraft power plants, propellers and equipment, and spare parts therefor; purchase and exchange (not to exceed $45,000), hire, maintenance, repair, and operation of passenger-carrying automobiles including two automobiles for use in the District of Columbia; and purchase of special clothing, wearing apparel, and suitable equipment for aviation purposes (including rubber boots, snowshoes, and skis), $13,750,000: Provided, That this appropriation shall be available for payments, at a rate not to exceed 3 cents per mile, to maintenance and operating personnel, as reimbursement to such personnel of the expenses of necessary travel in their personally owned automobiles within the limits of their official posts of duty when such travel is performed in connection with the maintenance and operation of remotely controlled air navigation facilities (52 Stat. 973–987).

Estimate 1940, $13,750,000 Appropriated 1939, [a] $9,451,480

[a] Includes appropriations consolidated under the above title as follows: "Salaries, Bureau of Air Commerce," $650,000; "Maintenance of air-navigation facilities," $6,758,680; "Aircraft in commerce," $1,249,800; "Safety and planning, Bureau of Air Commerce," $258,000; "Purchase and maintenance of aircraft, Bureau of Air Commerce," $335,000; "Air mail, Interstate Commerce Commission," $200,000.

NOTE.—Estimate includes $54,840 transferred from "Establishment of air-navigation facilities," $650,000 transferred from "Traveling expenses, Department of Commerce," $18,455 transferred from "Contingent expenses, Department of Commerce," and $25,000 transferred from "Printing and binding, Department of Commerce."

FEDERAL EMERGENCY ADMINISTRATION OF PUBLIC WORKS

Administrative Expenses, Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works—

Not to exceed [$9,000,000, from funds on hand or to be received from the sale of securities,] $20,000,000 of the funds appropriated by the Public Works Administration Appropriation Act of 1938 shall be available [during the fiscal year 1939] for administrative expenses [in connection with the liquidation] of said Administration, as follows: $17,000,000 for the fiscal year 1940 and $3,000,000 for the fiscal years 1939 and 1940, which administrative expenses shall include [including] personal services in the District of Columbia and elsewhere; travel expenses, in accordance with the Standardized Government Travel Regulations and the Act of June 3, 1926, as amended (5 U. S. C. 821–833); printing and binding; law books, books of reference, and not to exceed [$500] $1,000 for periodicals, newspapers, and press clippings; procurement of supplies, equipment, and services; purchase and exchange (not to exceed $12,000), maintenance, repair, and operation of motor-propelled passenger-carrying vehicles, to be used only for official purposes, typewriters, adding machines, and other labor-saving devices, including their repair and exchange; not to exceed $1,000 for expenses of attendance, when specifically authorized by the Administrator, at meetings concerned with the work of the Administration; rent in the District of Columbia and elsewhere; and all other necessary administrative expenses: Provided, That except for the limitations in amounts hereinbefore specified, and the restrictions in respect to travel expenses, the administrative expenses and other obligations of the Administration shall be incurred, allowed, and paid in accordance with the provisions of Title II of the National Industrial Recovery Act: Provided further, That section 3709 of the Revised Statutes (41 U. S. C. 5) shall not apply to any purchase made or service procured when the amount involved is less than $300 (52 Stat. 434).

[(f) Not more than $15,000,000 of the appropriation in this title shall be available for administrative expenses of the Administration during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1939; such amount and the amount made available in the Independent Offices Appropriation Act, 1939, for administrative expenses for the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works shall be available for administrative expenses thereof during such fiscal year for the purposes and under the conditions set forth in such Act for such Administration, except that the condition therein that such administrative expenses are in "connection with the liquidation of said Administration" is hereby rescinded and both amounts are hereby made available, in addition to the other purposes, for the purchase and exchange of motor-propelled passenger-carrying vehicles for official use in field work and in the District of Columbia in a total amount not to exceed $75,000 but not more than $1,500 thereof shall be so expended for such purchase and exchange for use in such District. And the Administrator shall reserve from the appropriation in this title an adequate amount for administrative expenses of the Administration for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1940, for the completion (except liquidation) of the activities of such Administration, subject to authorization hereafter by annual appropriation acts for the utilization thereof] (52 Stat. 816–817).

RECONSTRUCTION FINANCE CORPORATION

Administrative Expenses, Reconstruction Finance Corporation and The RFC Mortgage Company—

Not to exceed $9,250,000 of the funds of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, established by the Act of January 22, 1932 (47 Stat. 5), shall be available during the fiscal year [1939] 1940 for administrative expenses of the Corporation, and of The RFC Mortgage Company, including personal services in the District of Columbia and elsewhere; travel expenses, in accordance with the Standardized Government Travel Regulations and the Act of June 3, 1926, as amended (5 U. S. C. 821–833); printing and binding; law books, books of reference, and not to exceed $1,000 for periodicals and newspapers; procurement of supplies, equipment, and services; typewriters, adding machines, and other labor-saving devices, including their repair and exchange, rent in the District of Columbia and elsewhere; use of the services and facilities of the Federal Reserve banks; and all other necessary administrative expenses: Provided, That all necessary expenses in connection with the acquisition, operation, maintenance, improvement, or disposition of any real or personal property belonging to the Corporation or The RFC Mortgage Company or in which they have an interest, including expenses of collections of pledged collateral, shall be considered as nonadministrative expenses for the purposes hereof: Provided further, That notwithstanding the provisions of section 4 hereof, except for the limitations in amounts hereinbefore specified, and the restrictions in respect to travel expenses, the administrative expenses and other obligations of the Corporation shall be incurred, allowed, and paid in accordance with the provisions of said Act of January 22, 1932, as amended (15 U. S. C. 601–617) (52 Stat. 434–435).

ESTIMATES OF APPROPRIATIONS

Salaries and Expenses, Veterans' Administration—

Administration, medical, hospital, and domiciliary services: For all salaries and expenses of the Veterans' Administration, including the expenses of maintenance and operation of medical, hospital, and domiciliary services of the Veterans' Administration, in carrying out the duties, powers, and functions devolving upon it pursuant to the authority contained in the Act entitled "An Act to authorize the President to consolidate and coordinate governmental activities affecting war veterans," approved July 3, 1930 (38 U. S. C. 11–11f), and any and all laws for which the Veterans' Administration is now or may hereafter be charged with administering, [$93,000,000] $97,000,000: Provided, That not to exceed $3,500 of this amount shall be available for expenses, except membership fees, of employees, detailed by the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs to attend meetings of associations for the promotion of medical science and [annual national] conventions of organized war veterans: Provided further, That this appropriation shall be available also for personal services, and rentals in the District of Columbia and elsewhere, including traveling expenses; examination of estimates of appropriations in the field, including actual expenses of subsistence or per diem allowance in lieu thereof; for expenses incurred in packing, crating, drayage, and transportation of household effects and other property, not exceeding in any one case five thousand pounds, of employees when transferred from one official station to another for permanent duty and when specifically authorized by the Administrator; furnishing and laundering of such wearing apparel as may be prescribed for employees in the performance of their official duties; purchase and exchange of law books, books of reference, periodicals, and newspapers; for passenger-carrying and other motor vehicles, including purchase, maintenance, repair, and operation of same, including not more than two passenger automobiles for general administrative use of the central office in the District of Columbia, one of which may be replaced during the fiscal year 1940 at a cost, including exchange, of not to exceed $1,500; and notwithstanding any provisions of law to the contrary, the Administrator is authorized to utilize Government-owned automotive equipment in transporting children of Veterans' Administration employees located at isolated stations to and from school under such limitations as he may by regulation prescribe; and notwithstanding any provisions of law to the contrary, the Administrator is authorized to expend not to exceed $2,000 of this appropriation for actuarial services pertaining to the Government life-insurance fund, to be obtained by contract, without obtaining competition, at such rates of compensation as he may determine to be reasonable; for allotment and transfer to the Public Health Service, the War, Navy, and Interior Departments, for disbursement by them under the various headings of their applicable appropriations, of such amounts as are necessary for the care and treatment of beneficiaries of the Veterans' Administration, including minor repairs and improvements of existing facilities under their jurisdiction necessary to such care and treatment; for expenses incidental to the maintenance and operation of farms; for recreational articles and facilities at institutions maintained by the Veterans' Administration; for administrative expenses incidental to securing employment for war veterans; for funeral, burial, and other expenses incidental thereto for beneficiaries of the Veterans' Administration accruing during the year for which this appropriation is made or prior fiscal years: Provided further, That the appropriations herein made for the care and maintenance of veterans in hospitals or homes under the jurisdiction of the Veterans' Administration shall be available for the purchase of tobacco to be furnished, subject to such regulations as the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs shall prescribe, to veterans receiving hospital treatment or domiciliary care in Veterans' Administration hospitals or homes: Provided further, That this appropriation shall be available for continuing aid to State or Territorial homes for the support of disabled volunteer soldiers and sailors, in conformity with the Act approved August 27, 1888 (24 U. S. C. 134), as amended, for those veterans eligible for admission to Veterans' Administration facilities for domiciliary care.

No part of this appropriation shall be expended for the purchase of any site for or toward the construction of any new hospital or home, or for the purchase of an hospital or home; and not more than [$3,100,000] $2,500,000 of this appropriation may be used to repair, alter, improve, or provide facilities in the several hospitals and homes under the jurisdiction of the Veterans' Administration either by contract or by the hire of temporary employees and the purchase of materials (5 U. S. C. 673–738; 24 U. S. C. 71–154; 38 U. S. C. 1–724; 52 Stat. 81, 352–353, 440–441, 754–755, 816–818, 940–941, 1189–1193, 1214, 428–429).

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

BUREAU OF PUBLIC ROADS

Federal-Aid Highway System—

General administrative expenses: For the employment of persons and means, including rent, in the city of Washington and elsewhere for the purpose of conducting research and investigational studies, either independently or in cooperation with State highway departments, or other agencies, including studies of highway administration, legislation, finance, economics, transport, construction, operation, maintenance, utilization, and safety, and of street and highway traffic control; investigations and experiments in the best methods of road making, especially by the use of local materials; and studies of types of mechanical plants and appliances used for road building and maintenance and of methods of road repair and maintenance suited to the needs of different localities; for maintenance and repairs of experimental highways; for furnishing expert advice on these subjects; for collating, reporting, and illustrating the results of same; and for preparing, publishing, and distributing bulletins and reports; to be paid from any moneys available from the administrative funds provided under the Act of July 11, 1916 (39 Stat. 355–359), as amended, or as otherwise provided (5 U. S. C. 511, 512—establishing Department of Agriculture; 23 U. S. C. 1–56 and 25 U. S. C. 318b—Federal Highway Act and miscellaneous highway legislation (the foregoing citations apply to all appropriation items under the Bureau in addition to any legislative authority cited therein); 52 Stat. 736).

FEDERAL-AID HIGHWAY SYSTEM

For carrying out the provisions of the Act entitled "An Act to provide that the United States shall aid the States in the construction of rural post roads, and for other purposes", approved July 11, 1916 (39 Stat. 355–359), and all Acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto, to be expended in accordance with the provisions of said Act, as amended, including not to exceed $1,120,000 for departmental personal services in the District of Columbia, $125,000,000, to be immediately available and to remain available until expended, which sum is the amount authorized to be appropriated for the fiscal year [1938] 1939, by section 1 of the Act approved June 16, 1936 (49 Stat. 1519–1520): Provided, That none of the money herein appropriated shall be paid to any State on account of any project on which convict labor shall be employed, except this provision shall not apply to convict labor performed by convicts on parole or probation: Provided further, That not to exceed $45,000 of the funds provided for carrying out the provisions of the Federal Highway Act of November 9, 1921 (23 U. S. C. 21, 23), shall be available for the purchase of motor-propelled passenger-carrying vehicles necessary for carrying out the provisions of said Act, including the replacement of not to exceed one such vehicle for use in the administrative work of the Bureau of Public Roads in the District of Columbia [at a cost, including the exchange value of the vehicle to be replaced, not to exceed $1,200]: Provided further, That, during the fiscal year [1939] 1940, whenever performing authorized engineering or other services in connection with the survey, construction, and maintenance, or improvement of roads for other Government agencies the charge for such services may include depreciation on engineering and road-building equipment used, and the amounts received on account of such charges shall be credited to the appropriation concerned: Provided further, That during the fiscal year [1939] 1940 the appropriations for the work of the Bureau of Public Roads shall be available for meeting the expenses of warehouse maintenance and the procurement, care, and handling of supplies, materials, and equipment stored therein for distribution to projects under the supervision of the Bureau of Public Roads, and for sale and distribution to other Government activities, the cost of such supplies and materials or the value of such equipment (including the cost of transportation and handling) to be reimbursed to appropriations current at the time additional supplies, materials, or equipment are procured, from the appropriation chargeable with the cost or value of such supplies, materials, or equipment: Provided further, That the appropriations available to the Bureau of Public Roads may be used in emergency for medical supplies and services and other assistance necessary for the immediate relief of employees engaged on hazardous work under that Bureau (52 Stat. 736–737).

Advances to Colorado River Dam Fund, Boulder Canyon Project—

Boulder Canyon project: For the continuation of construction of the Boulder Canyon Dam and incidental works in the main stream of the Colorado River at Black Canyon, to create a storage reservoir, and of a complete plant and incidental structures suitable for the fullest economic development of electrical energy from the water discharged from such reservoir; to acquire by proceedings in eminent domain, or otherwise, all lands, rights-of-way, and other property necessary for such purposes; and for incidental operations, as authorized by the Boulder Canyon Project Act, approved December 21, 1928 (43 U. S. C., ch. 12A); [$3,500,000] $4,000,000, to be immediately available and to remain available until advanced to the Colorado River Dam fund; and there shall also be available from power and other revenues not to exceed $500,000 for operation and maintenance of the Boulder Canyon Dam, power plant, and other facilities; which amounts of [$3,500,000] $4,000,000 and $500,000 shall be available for personal services in the District of Columbia (not to exceed $25,000) and in the field and for all other objects of expenditure that are specified for projects [hereinbefore] included in [this Act] the Interior Department Appropriation Act for the fiscal year 1940, under the caption "Bureau of Reclamation, Administrative provisions and limitations", without regard to the amounts of the limitations therein set forth (43 U. S. C. ch. 12A; 49 Stat. 597–598; 52 Stat. 323).

Construction of Public Buildings, Act August 25, 1937—

Construction of public buildings outside of the District of Columbia: For continuation of construction of, and acquisition of sites for, public buildings outside of the District of Columbia, including the purposes and objects, and subject to the limitations, specified under this head in the Third Deficiency Appropriation Act, fiscal year 1937 [,$11,000,000]: Provided, That the provisions of Section 322 of the Act of June 30, 1932 (47 Stat. 412), shall not apply with respect to the rental of temporary quarters for housing Federal activities during the replacement or remodeling of buildings authorized under this or previous acts, $30,000,000.

[SEC. 301. Construction of Public Buildings Outside the District of Columbia: The total amount authorized to be appropriated for the three-year program for the acquisition of sites and construction of public buildings by the paragraph under the caption "Emergency Construction of Public Buildings Outside the District of Columbia", contained in the "Third Deficiency Appropriation Act, fiscal year 1937", approved August 25, 1937 (50 Stat. 773), is hereby increased from $70,000,000 to $130,000,000. All applicable provisions and authority of such paragraph shall be operative with respect to the enlarged authorization provided in this title except that the list from which projects, including the sites therefor, are to be selected by the Postmaster General and the Secretary of the Treasury acting jointly shall be the revision, dated April 25, 1938, of House Report Numbered 1879, Seventy-third Congress. Toward such increased program there is hereby appropriated, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of $25,000,000, of which not to exceed $500,000 may be utilized as an addition to the fund specified in such paragraph in such Act for the augmentation of the limits of cost of selected projects in amounts not exceeding 10 per centum of such limits of cost. The appropriations heretofore made under the authority of such paragraph, together with the appropriation in this title, shall be consolidated into a single fund and be available toward the consummation of the entire authorized program] (50 Stat. 773; 52 Stat. 138, 818).

Cooperative Agricultural Extension Work—

For the purpose of paying the expenses of cooperative agricultural extension work and the necessary printing and distributing of information in connection with same, the Act of May 8, 1914 (7 U. S. C. 341–348), permanently appropriated $480,000 for each year, $10,000 of which is paid annually to each State which has by action of its legislature assented to the provisions of the Act. It also appropriated an additional sum of $600,000 for the fiscal year following that in which the foregoing appropriation first became available, and for each year thereafter for seven a sum exceeding by $500,000 the sum appropriated for each preceding year, and for each year thereafter there is permanently appropriated the sum of $4,100,000 in addition to the sum of $480,000. The additional sums are allotted annually to each State by the Secretary of Agriculture and paid in the proportion which the rural population of each State bears to the rural population of all the States as determined by the next preceding Federal census, but no payment out of the additional appropriations can be made in any year to any State until an equal sum has been appropriated for that year by the legislature of such State, or provided by State, county, college, local authority, or individual contributions from within the State, for the maintenance of cooperative agricultural extension work. On May 16, 1928 (7 U. S. C. 386–386b), this appropriation was amended to include a permanent allotment to the Territory of Hawaii of $10,000 plus an additional sum of $12,935.43, subject to the same terms and conditions as the original act. The permanent annual appropriation was thereby increased to $4,602,935.43. Under the 1930 census the amount of money available to Hawaii increased by $3,160, thereby automatically raising the total amount available under the original Smith-Lever Act by this amount. The Act of March 4, 1931 (7 U. S. C. 386d–386f) provides that the Smith-Lever Act and Acts supplementary thereto be increased without diminishing the amount now received by any State or other Territory, to carry out the provisions of this Act in the Territory of Puerto Rico and specifies that the appropriation for 1933 and subsequent years shall be $50,000, this amount to be increased by $10,000 annually, or such part thereof as may be necessary, until the total to which Puerto Rico is entitled under the provisions of this Act is reached. The maximum for Puerto Rico ($95,069) was reached during the fiscal year 1938, bringing the total permanent annual appropriation to $4,701,165 (7 U. S. C. 341–348).

Estimate 1940, $4,701,165 Appropriated 1939, $4,701,165

22 Grants, subsidies, and contributions: Obligations—1940, $4,701,165; 1939, $4,701,165; 1938, $4,701,165.

FOREIGN AGRICULTURAL SERVICE

Foreign Agricultural Service—

[Foreign competition and demand:] To enable the Secretary of Agriculture to carry into effect the provisions of the Act entitled "An Act to promote the agriculture of the United States by expanding in the foreign field the service now rendered by the United States Department of Agriculture in acquiring and diffusing useful information regarding agriculture, and for other purposes", approved June 5, 1930 (7 U. S. C. 541–545), and for collecting and disseminating to American producers, importers, exporters, and other interested persons information relative to the world supply of and need for American agricultural products, marketing methods, conditions, prices, and other factors, a knowledge of which is necessary to the advantageous disposition of such products in foreign countries, independently and in cooperation with other branches of the Government, State agencies, purchasing and consuming organizations, and persons engaged in the transportation, marketing, and distribution of farm and food products, including biologic and economic investigations of rubber, forestry, medicinal and insecticidal, and other agricultural plants and products of the Latin-American countries, and including the employment of persons and means in the District of Columbia and elsewhere, and the purchase of such books and periodicals and not to exceed $1,000 for newspapers as may be necessary in connection with this work, [$295,000] $545,000: Provided, That the Secretary of Agriculture may, in his discretion, allot or transfer funds from this appropriation to any agency of the Department of Agriculture to enable such agency to render assistance in carrying out the purposes of this appropriation (52 Stat. 739).

Estimate 1940, $545,000 Appropriated 1939, $295,000

BUREAU OF ANIMAL INDUSTRY

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

Salaries and Expenses, Bureau of Animal Industry—

For carrying out the provisions of the Act approved May 29, 1884 (7 U. S. C. 391; 21 U. S. C. 112–119, 130), establishing a Bureau of Animal Industry, and the provisions of the Act approved March 3, 1891 (45 U. S. C. 75, 76), providing for the safe transport and humane treatment of export cattle from the United States to foreign countries, and for other purposes; the Act approved August 30, 1890 (21 U. S. C. 101–105), providing for the importation of animals into the United States, and for other purposes; and the provisions of the Act approved February 2, 1903 (21 U. S. C. 111–113, 120–122), to enable the Secretary of Agriculture to more effectually suppress and prevent the spread of contagious and infectious diseases of livestock, and for other purposes; and also the provisions of the Act approved March 3, 1905 (21 U. S. C. 123–128), to enable the Secretary of Agriculture to establish and maintain quarantine districts, to permit and regulate the movement of cattle and other livestock therefrom, and for other purposes; and for carrying out the provisions of the Act of June 29, 1906 (45 U. S. C. 71–74), entitled "An Act to prevent cruelty to animals while in transit by railroad or other means of transportation"; and for carrying out the provisions of the Meat Inspection Act of June 30, 1906 (21 U. S. C. 95), as amended by the Act of March 4, 1907 (21 U. S. C. 71–94), as extended to equine meat by the Act of July 24, 1919 (21 U. S. C. 96), [and] as authorized by section 2 (a) of the Act of June 26, 1934 (31 U. S. C. 725a), and as further amended by the Act of June 29, 1938 (52 Stat. 1235–1236); and for carrying out the provisions of the Act approved March 4, 1913 (21 U. S. C. 151–158), regulating the preparation, sale, barter, exchange, or shipment of any virus, serum, toxin, or analogous products manufactured in the United States and the importation of such products intended for use in the treatment of domestic animals; [and for carrying out the provisions of the Packers and Stockyards Act, approved August 15, 1921 (7 U. S. C. 181–229), as amended by the Act of August 14, 1935 (7 U. S. C. 218–218d);] and the Secretary of Agriculture, upon application of any exporter, importer, packer, owner, agent of, or dealer in livestock, hides, skins, meat, or other animal products, may, in his discretion, make inspections and examinations at places other than the headquarters of inspectors for the convenience of said applicants and charge the applicants for the expenses of travel and subsistence incurred for such inspections and examinations, the funds derived from such charges to be deposited in the Treasury of the United States to the credit of the appropriation from which the expenses are paid; and to enable the Secretary of Agriculture to collect and disseminate information concerning livestock and animal products; to prepare and disseminate reports on animal industry; to employ persons and means in the city of Washington or elsewhere; to purchase in the open market samples of all tuberculin, serums, antitoxins, or analogous products, of foreign or domestic manufacture, which are sold in the United States, for the detection, prevention, treatment, or cure of diseases of domestic animals, to test the same, and to disseminate the results of said tests in such manner as he may deem best; to purchase and destroy diseased or exposed animals, including poultry, or quarantine the same whenever in his judgment essential to prevent the spread of pleuro-pneumonia, tuberculosis, contagious poultry diseases, or other diseases of animals from one State to another, as follows (5 U. S. C. 511, 512—establishing Department of Agriculture; 7 U. S. C. 391—establishing Bureau of Animal Industry (the foregoing citations apply to all appropriation items under the Bureau); 52 Stat. 718–719):

Eradicating tuberculosis and Bang's disease: For the control and eradication of the diseases of tuberculosis and paratuberculosis of animals, avian tuberculosis, and Bang's disease of cattle, [$5,403,000] $9,800,000, together with the unobligated balances of the funds reappropriated under this head for the fiscal year 1939 by the Agricultural Appropriation Act for that year from unobligated balances of funds made available by the Act of May 25, 1934 (48 Stat. 805), and section 37 of the Act of August 24, 1935 ([49 Stat. 775–776] 7 U. S. C. 612b): Provided, That in carrying out the purpose of this appropriation, if in the opinion of the Secretary of Agriculture it shall be necessary to condemn and destroy tuberculous or paratuberculous cattle, or cattle reacting to the test for Bang's disease, and if such animals have been destroyed, condemned, or die after condemnation, he may, in his discretion, and in accordance with such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, expend in the city of Washington or elsewhere such sums as he shall determine to be necessary for the payment of indemnities to owners of such animals but, except as hereinafter provided, no part of the money hereby appropriated shall be used in compensating owners of such cattle except in cooperation with and supplementary to payments to be made by State, Territory, county, or municipality where condemnation of such cattle shall take place, nor shall any payment be made hereunder as compensation for or on account of any such animal if at the time of inspection or test, or at the time of condemnation thereof, it shall belong to or be upon the premises of any person, firm, or corporation to which it has been sold, shipped, or delivered for the purpose of being slaughtered: Provided further, That out of the money hereby appropriated no payment as compensation for any cattle condemned for slaughter shall exceed one-third of the difference between the appraised value of such cattle and the value of the salvage thereof; that, except as hereinafter provided, no payment hereunder shall exceed the amount paid or to be paid by the State, Territory, county, and municipality where the animal shall be condemned; and that in no case shall any payment hereunder be more than $25 for any grade animal or more than $50 for any purebred animal: [Provided further, That indemnity payments may be made for cattle slaughtered prior to May 1, 1939, even though the State, Territory, county, or municipality where animals are condemned has made no payment or has not equaled the Federal payment, but in no case arising under this proviso shall the Federal payment exceed the highest amount authorized to be paid at the time by the Federal Government in similar cases in any State contributing to such indemnity payments; and this proviso shall apply only to Bang's disease work:] Provided further, That not to exceed $100,000 of the amount herein made available may be used for continuation of scientific experimentation in diseases of livestock as authorized by section 37 of the Act of August 24, 1935 (7 U. S. C. 612b) (52 Stat. 720).

ERADICATION OF FOOT-AND-MOUTH AND OTHER CONTAGIOUS DISEASES OF ANIMALS

Eradication of Foot-and-Mouth and Other Contagious Diseases of Animals—

Eradication of European Fowl Pest and Similar Diseases in Poultry—

In case of an emergency arising out of the existence of foot-and-mouth disease, rinderpest, contagious pleuropneumonia, or other contagious or infectious disease of animals, which, in the opinion of the Secretary of Agriculture, threatens the livestock industry of the country, he may expend in the city of Washington or elsewhere any unexpended balances of appropriations heretofore made for this purpose in the arrest and eradication of any such disease, including the payment of claims growing out of past and future purchases and destruction, in cooperation with the States, of animals affected by or exposed to, or of materials contaminated by or exposed to, any such disease, wherever found and irrespective of ownership, under like or substantially similar circumstances, when such owner has complied with all lawful quarantine regulations: Provided, That the payment for animals hereafter purchased may be made on appraisement based on the meat, dairy, or breeding value, but in case of appraisement based on breeding value no appraisement of any animal shall exceed three times its meat or dairy value, and, except in case of an extraordinary emergency, to be determined by the Secretary of Agriculture, the payment by the United States Government for any animals shall not exceed one-half of any such appraisements: Provided further, That the sum of $5,000 of the unexpended balance of the appropriation of $3,500,000 contained in the Second Deficiency Appropriation Act, fiscal year 1924, approved December 5, 1924, for the eradication of the foot-and-mouth disease and other contagious or infectious diseases of animals, is hereby made available during the fiscal year for which appropriations are herein made to enable the Secretary of Agriculture to control and eradicate the European fowl pest and similar diseases in poultry (21 U. S. C. 129; 52 Stat. 722).
