BANK DEBITS

Debits to individual accounts, as reported by banks in leading cities for the week ending March 26 aggregated $9,829,000,000 or about 2.6 per cent below the total of $10,197,000,000 reported for the previous week. Most of the important centers reported smaller figures than for the week before, which included the usual mid-month payments and also a large portion of the first installment of income tax payments. An increase of about $105,000,000 is reported for New York City, while decreases of $1,000,000 are reported for Boston, $32,000,000 - for Los Angeles, $31,000,000 - for San Francisco, and $29,000,000 - for St. Louis.

As compared with the corresponding period in 1923, debits for the week under review show an increase of $650,000,000, or of about 7 per cent. Increased figures are reported by most of the large centers. New York City reports an increase of $100,000,000, Chicago - an increase of $50,000,000, Detroit - an increase of $22,000,000, and Los Angeles - an increase of $33,000,000.

Aggregate debits for 141 centers for which figures have been published weekly since January, 1919, were ^{about} $9,296,000,000 as compared with $9,516,434,000 for the preceding week and $8,644,227,000 for the week ending March 28, 1923.

Debits to individual accounts were reported to the Federal Reserve Board for 250 centers, of which 244 are included in the summary by Federal reserve districts.
