BANK DEBITS

Aggregate debits to individual account as reported by 150 of the country's leading clearing house associations for the week ending December 15, were 9,549 millions, or 893 more than for the immediately preceding week. Larger totals are reported for all the important centers, except New Orleans, Minneapolis, Kansas City, and Dallas. The increase in debits for New York City alone, where the volume of stock exchange transactions was much larger than the week before, amounted to more than 600 millions.

As compared with the corresponding week in 1919, which ended on December 17, and saw the collection of a large volume of tax checks, debits for the week under review are 1,422 millions smaller, decreases being reported for all the important centers, except Pittsburgh and San Francisco.
