Upon motion duly made and seconded, and by unanimous vote, Mr. Harrison was elected Vice Chairman of the executive committee of the Federal Open Market Committee to serve until the first meeting of the Federal Open Market Committee after March 1, 1941.

Upon motion duly made and seconded, and by unanimous vote, the executive committee directed the Federal Reserve Bank of New York until otherwise directed by the executive committee,

(1) To make such shifts of securities in the account (which may be accomplished when desirable through replacement of maturing securities) as may be necessary in the practical administration of the account or for the purpose of exercising an influence toward maintaining orderly market conditions, up to an aggregate of $200,000,000 of purchases and a like amount of sales or redemptions, provided that in making such shifts the total amount of bonds held in the account be not increased nor decreased by more than $100,000,000;

(2) To make such outright purchases or sales for the System account as may be necessary for the purpose of exercising an influence toward maintaining orderly market conditions, provided that the total amount of securities in the account be not increased or decreased through operations under this paragraph by more than $100,000,000; and

(3) Upon approval by a majority of the members of the executive committee, which may be obtained by telephone, telegraph, or mail, to make such other shifts or such purchases or sales (which would include authority to allow maturities to run off without replacement) for the account as may be found to be desirable within the limits of the authority granted to the executive committee by the Federal Open Market Committee.

Thereupon the meeting adjourned.
