Processed: MA

Date: 11/2/55

MELVIN ALVAH TRAYLOR

(1878 - 1934)

The papers of Melvin A. Traylor, lawyer, bank president, member and vice president of the Federal Advisory Council, member of the organization committee for the Bank for International Settlements, are housed in the sub-basement of the First National Bank of Chicago. They are classified and filed as they came from Mr. Traylor's office after his death in 1934. They include considerable material concerning the Federal Reserve System, and the Federal Advisory Council.

Measure of size: 4 steel file cabinets, each containing 4 drawers

Approximate number of items:

It is thought that these papers were not used when Cyril James was studying the Forgan papers (in the same sub-basement).

The collection would be made available to qualified students working under the Committee on the History of the Federal Reserve System and obtaining permission from the President of the First National Bank of Chicago.
