

September 10, 1934.

Mr. McKee

Mr. Eccles

I am attaching for your immediate information a memorandum from the auditor of the First Security Bank of Idaho, with reference to reports which they are required to make to various Governmental agencies.

I should have sent this information to you sooner in view of the conferences of bank examiners which are now being held in Washington and the attention which is being given to the simplification and unification of bank reports. However, you may still find this information useful and I think it is representative of the situation in the great majority of banks over the country.

Attachment.
