Dear Lee:

The financial press so badly mangled my testimony on Monday that I decided to prepare a written statement, a copy of which I enclose for your information. I read this to the Committee yesterday, and it occurred to me that you might be interested in seeing the text.

With kind regards,

Sincerely yours,

The Honorable A. L. M. Wiggins,
Under Secretary of the Treasury,
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear John:

Although a copy of the attached statement went to your office in the usual course, it occurred to me that you might not have been informed as to the reason for it. It was simply that the financial press, in reporting my testimony before the Committee on Monday, gave such a garbled account that I felt it necessary to prepare a statement that would clarify and correct the erroneous impressions.

With best regards,

Sincerely yours,

The Honorable John W. Snyder,
Secretary of the Treasury,
Washington 25, D. C.
