Dear Mario:

From present indications I expect to arrive in San Francisco about the first or second of August and will have two or three days' leeway before the beginning of my Army duty at the Presidio. I shall call you soon after arrival and hope that you will not be too busy to see me even though I hail from Washington, whence, from your point of view, no good breezes blow. I shall also hope for the pleasure of visiting briefly with your father.

With best wishes in which the family join, I am

Yours sincerely,
