Dear Harriner,

A. Senator La Follette, I understand, is going to ask you & have Dr. Goldenweiser look into Tarnowski's plan for financing housing. I'd be glad if you would have this examination made. The plan has had considerable interest in high quarters, and may have something in it.

B. Could you be persuaded to lunch with John Lewis, re wage rates, if I can arrange it at my house with no witnesses?

Yours
David Cogh

Dear Dave:

Following your letter of May 26th, I received from Senator LaFollette the proposal for financing housing and I have turned it over to our economic division for analysis and digest, so that I may give it the consideration which you feel it merits.

As to your paragraph B, I appreciate your suggestion and I would like very much to have an opportunity to take luncheon or dinner with Mr. Lewis, as you say, without witnesses, but I would prefer to put this off for a week or two, or possibly until the first part of next month, because I want to have more time to organize my own study and thinking on the general subject of wages and hours and especially on the bill which has just been presented to Congress. As my family are going west the latter part of this month, we might possibly arrange to meet at my apartment. In any case, I will get in touch with you in a week or two.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. David Cushman Coyle,
