Dear Mr. Eccles -

You begin to re-establish a community of interest in this country when you say things so honestly, intelligently and reasonably as you did in your reply to Senator Byrd.

I am entirely opposed to the New Deal in its soft and calculatedly popular philosophy. But your statement of it begins to take on the semblance of intelligence, restraint and self-discipline.

God knows, we better begin to get to a community of interest in this amazing and wonderful land, when we are already at war with the stern philosophies of hard-working and reasonably strong people such as the Germans and Japanese.

Thank you, sir,
Respectfully
Louis H. Roelick

M. S. Eccles,
Chairman.
