

28 School Street
Orange, Mass.
Dec. 28, 1938

Marriner S. Eccles
Chairman Federal Reserve Board
Washington, D. C.

Dear Chairman Eccles:

Bully for you! Your letter to Senator Byrd of Virginia should arrest the attention and meet the approval of every liberal-minded citizen in the country.

It is not only irrefutable in argument, but a just and forceful rebuke to that type of advocate who act and speak as if in the direct employ of corporate or special interests.

The Senator's brother the Admiral, toured the country a few years ago as the hired-man of a capitalistic organization opposed to government expenditures for Soldier's Bonuses. This from a man receiving a handsome bonus himself from the government ever since he turned an ankle while on parade as a cadet at Annapolis. I guess its in the blood of these Byrd boys to win public attention and gain personal prestige - the senator has been mentioned as a prospective Presidential candidate - rather than serve the public interests in anything they may promote or advocate.

But thanks for that letter. It is a defense of the Roosevelt-administrative policies from a new angle which I predict will attract nation-wide attention and baffle Senator Byrd and his monopolistic backers in trying to refute.

Sincerely yours,

Everett W. Coleman

January 3, 1939.

Mr. Everett W. Coleman,
28 School Street,
Orange, Massachusetts.

Dear Mr. Coleman:

This is to acknowledge receipt of your letter of December 28th with reference to my recent reply to Senator Byrd. I was glad to have your comments, and I wanted you to know that I appreciated your thoughtfulness in writing to me.

Sincerely yours,

M. S. Eccles,
Chairman.

ET:b