Dear Sir:

I would like to have a copy of your radio speech of last night on "Defense of Government Spending", if a copy is available.

This is a subject which is being officially debated by most American colleges this year, and we are particularly interested in your speech in this connection.

Mr. William H. Foulkes,
Editor and Publisher,
The Debaters' Digest,
P. O. Box 149,
East Orange, New Jersey.

Dear Mr. Foulkes:

In accordance with your request of January 24th, I take pleasure in enclosing a copy of Chairman Eccles' radio speech of last Monday evening on government fiscal and monetary policy.

It occurred to me that you might not have seen and might be interested to note the Chairman's recent speech in New York on this general subject and his subsequent open letter to Senator Byrd, who had severely criticized the New York address. Accordingly, I am also enclosing copies of these.

Chairman Eccles asked me to say to you that he felt the public discussion of these problems is of the utmost importance and that we would be glad to furnish you with copies of such material as we have available here if it would be of any service in connection with the debates which are now being conducted in American colleges.

Sincerely yours,

Elliott Thurston,
Special Assistant to the Chairman.
