

40 WATER STREET

BOSTON

March 14, 1938.

Dear Marriner:

I have been attending the meetings at the Harvard Business School and just want you to know that last Saturday I was very favorably impressed with the way Dr. Currie presented his case for the Compensatory Fiscal Policy. Another paper was read taking the opposite view and it is fair to say that there were a number of influential men who in the beginning did not agree with Dr. Currie's side of the case. I thought, however, that he handled himself extremely well.

With warmest regards,

Sincerely,
