

December 8, 1936

My dear General Wood:

Your letter of November 24th from London has just reached me, but I am addressing this reply to your Chicago office because I assume that you are on the wing abroad and there is no particular occasion for having this response reach you before you return. However, I was very much interested in your comments, particularly with reference to the ballish attitude towards our recovery and your conversation with Governor Norman.

I hope to have a long visit with you when you get back to this country because I would be much interested in having your impressions of the foreign scene from your close up view of conditions at this time. In the meantime, I want to express appreciation of your letter.

Sincerely yours,

H. S. Eccles
