

Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia

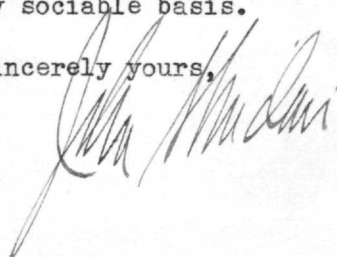

May 4, 1938

My dear Mr. Chairman:

On Wednesday, May 18, at twelve-thirty o'clock, d.s.t., this bank is giving a buffet luncheon for the delegates attending the annual convention of the Pennsylvania Bankers Association, on the Roof Garden of the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, Philadelphia.

It is my hope, and that of our directors, that you may find it convenient to attend the luncheon. There will be no formal program or speeches, the entire affair being on a purely sociable basis.

Sincerely yours,

Honorable Marriner S. Eccles,
Chairman, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System
Washington, D. C.

May 18, 1938.

Dear John:

Inasmuch as I was away over last weekend, as you know, and have agreed to go to Richmond tomorrow to meet with the officers and directors there, I felt that I should not attempt to get away again such as I would have liked to attend the buffet luncheon which you are having for the delegates to the convention of the Pennsylvania Bankers Association.

I wanted to thank you for the invitation, but particularly the occasion for this note is to express to you my appreciation of all that you did on my behalf not only in connection with my part on the program at the New Jersey Bankers Convention, but in making arrangements whereby I not only had the advantage of pleasant and interesting company, but both railroad and hotel accommodations that left nothing to be desired. Having put you to so much trouble, I wanted you to know that I am genuinely appreciative.

Sincerely yours,

M. S. Eccles,
Chairman.

Mr. John S. Sinclair, President,
Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia,

Dear Marriner,

I appreciate very much your nice note of the 18th and am glad that everything worked out as well as it did at the New Jersey Convention.

Sincerely yours,

Honorable Marriner S. Eccles, Chairman
Board of Governors of the
