

FEDERAL RESERVE BANK OF SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO 20, CALIFORNIA

September 1, 1949

Dear Marriner:

When I last saw you I mentioned that we would endeavor to have a joint meeting of our Salt Lake City and San Francisco boards of directors at Salt Lake City this fall and you indicated some interest in it.

The Chairman of our Board, Brayton Wilbur, is today informing the Board of the meeting, which has been set for Monday, October 24, and is extending a cordial invitation to Board members to attend. I am calling it to your attention particularly because all of us would like to have you present.

I am also writing to Larry Clayton, since he will undoubtedly be attending the convention of the Supervisors of State Banks at Reno and the A. B. A. convention at San Francisco and may be able to arrange conveniently a stop-over at Salt Lake City.

Sincerely,

President.

Dear Cecil:

I acknowledge receipt of your letter of September 1, advising me that a joint meeting of the Salt Lake City and the San Francisco Boards of Directors will be held at Salt Lake City on Monday, October 24.

Brayton Wilbur called me on the telephone and extended to me a special invitation to be there because of it being my home territory and his desire that I participate in the conference. I advised him that I was planning to be in Utah most of October and I would be glad to attend and be of such assistance as I could. At his request I talked to Larry Clayton about his attending and he said that inasmuch as he is planning to attend the A.B.A. Convention at San Francisco the latter part of October he would try to arrange to attend the Salt Lake meetings on the 24th.

I will be looking forward to seeing you at that time.

With kind regards,

Sincerely yours,

M. S. Eccles.
