Room 240, Senate Office Building,

Dear Senator:

I almost forgot the request you made of me at the Club a week or so ago, i.e., to send you copies of articles I had written or speeches I had made recently relative to inflation and the defense program. I hope my delay has not inconvenienced you, and that the material I am enclosing will serve your purpose.

With best regards,

Sincerely yours,

M. S. Eccles.
