Governor Eccles
Arthur W. Marget

January 25, 1951
Excerpts from The Economic
X-Ray, January 15, 1951

At the suggestion of Governor Szymczak, I am circulating some excerpts from "The Economic X-Ray," a publication of Reuters Limited, the British equivalent of our Associated Press.

It may be noted that this particular issue of "The Economic X-Ray" appeared before the recent speech by Secretary Snyder. It may also be noted that, in an issue of some months ago, the same publication paid tribute to the Federal Reserve Board for the position which it was taking against the Treasury on the subject of interest rate policy.

REMARKS:

Mr. Marget asked me to call your attention to the fact that the X-ray article is CONFIDENTIAL and you should be careful to whom you give it -- you will note on the top of the memo:

The "Economic X-Ray" is the confidential weekly letter published by Reuters Limited the British counterpart of our Associated Press
