To
Mr. Manner S. Eccles

Dear Sir

Please pardon my intrusion in your busy life. but I felt a urge to write to day. Many many thank you's for your kind words about the Citizens of this Country and our way of life & what we did to help win the War. Commented on in my daily paper The News - Chronicle March 10, more particularly how they welcomed as coming from an American resident - in America. They sent a glow of warm feeling through the heart - Your late President. Roosevelt. Was a good friend of England, also Mr. Wendell Wilkie who died, England can ill afford to lose such friends, But its cheering to know we still have good friends in America. I understand there as been many lasting friendships between individual Americans and and Citizens of this Country apart from the thousands of marriages which ought to cement a warmer friendship (free from Politics) between our two Countries. We in this Country have sincerely appreciated all that America did for us during the war. In spite of all this there is still that under current of feeling - probably through ignorance or misunderstanding of each the other's way of life. I am only an ordinary woman. Widow of a working man. but I have a deep love of my Country hence the pleasure when kind words are spoken.

Yours V. Sincerely
 Susan G. Barrett
