Hon. M. S. Eccles, Governor
Federal Reserve Board
Washington, D. C.

My dear Governor Eccles:

It seems to me that I should express in writing what I said to you upon your departure yesterday - that is that the bankers of this state greatly appreciate the compliment paid through your appearance on the program of our Mid-Winter Meeting and thoroughly enjoyed the very able address which you gave. Your appearance made possible a most successful meeting.

I hope that you feel that the large audience (750 people were present from eight states) afforded you at least a reasonably good opportunity to present the new principles which you have embodied in the Banking Act of 1935.

I personally appreciated the pleasure of making your acquaintance and want you to know that you may feel free to call upon me at any time for information or such aid as might be given in connection with matters pertaining to this state.

Please understand our willingness to defray the expenses of your trip. If you will advise us as to the amount of such expense, we shall be glad to act accordingly.

Again thanking you, I am

Sincerely yours,

David M. Auch
Secretary.
