

December 15, 1964.

Mr. Roy A. Young, Governor,
Federal Reserve Bank of Boston,
Boston, Massachusetts.

Dear Governor Young:

With further reference to your suggestion, regarding the round table talk at an informal luncheon of Boston bankers on February 16th, the day I expect to be in Boston to address the Commercial Club of Boston The Merchants Club, at the time Mr. Creighton called and extended me an invitation to speak before the Chamber of Commerce on February 15th, I did not know that a great many of that group of men would be in attendance at the evening dinner. Mr. Wadsworth of the Boston Chamber of Commerce has just written me advising me of this fact, and I agree with him that it would not be advisable for me to appear before the Chamber of Commerce at that time.

I am giving you this information in case you desire to do anything further in connection with the round table talk.

Sincerely yours,

M. S. Eccles,
Governor.

FEDERAL RESERVE BANK
OF BOSTON

ROY A. YOUNG
GOVERNOR

December 27, 1934

Hon. Marriner S. Eccles
Federal Reserve Board
Washington, D. C.

Dear Governor Eccles:

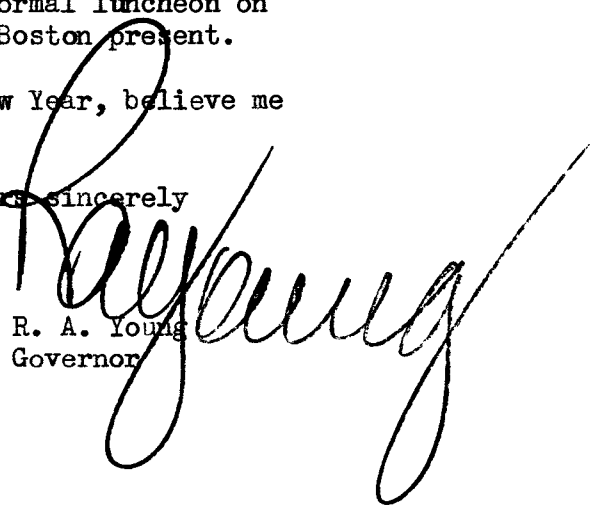

This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of December 15 and I am inclined to agree with Mr. Wadsworth that, to a large extent, there would be a duplication of audience if you spoke to the Chamber of Commerce on February 15 and the Commercial Club of Boston on February 16.

Under these circumstances, Mr. Curtiss and I will make arrangements to have a small informal luncheon on February 16 with the prominent bankers of Boston present.

With best wishes for the New Year, believe me to be

Yours sincerely

R. A. Young
Governor
