

December 10, 1936.

My dear Henry:

It occurred to me that you might be interested in seeing the enclosed mimeographed copy of a talk which I recently gave in Boston. While it was extemporaneous and intended to be off the record, it was taken down by stenotype. Since it deals with matters of general public interest, particularly at this time, I felt that it would not be inappropriate to make it available to some of my friends as well as to a wider group of business men and bankers who are interested in the problems of consolidating and preserving the recovery.

With kind regards,

Sincerely yours,

M. S. Eccles,
Chairman.

Honorable Henry B. Steagall,
Ozark, Alabama.
