

120 BROADWAY, NEW YORK

May 20, 1938.

Dear Marriner:

I am very much interested in all the speeches you make and I think your address before the New Jersey Bankers Association was excellent.

So often these addresses are not reported in full in the New York papers, and it is quite difficult for me to see them, and I wonder if it wouldn't be inconvenient to you if you would put me on your list of the press releases.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Jim:

Your complimentary note of May 20th with reference to my recent talk before the New Jersey Bankers Association is highly gratifying. I take pleasure in sending you a copy of the full text. At the same time I have had your name added to our mailing list to receive future copies.

With kindest personal regards,

Sincerely yours,

Mr. James Bruce,
