Chairman Marriner S. Eccles
Federal Reserve System
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Eccles:

For several years I have been attempting in my teaching to relate student reading and student writing to student experience. Having now satisfied myself that my method is workable, I plan to publish a collection of readings for college freshmen. In this collection I should much like to include your speech "Government Spending Is Sound" on the N.B.C. Forum of the Washington Star, Monday night, January 23, 1939.

If you can permit me to use this material, I shall indeed be under obligation for your courtesy.

Yours very sincerely

A. Starbuck

Dear Mr. Starbuck:

Chairman Eccles requested me to acknowledge receipt of your letter of August 4 and to advise you that there is no objection whatever to your using the material from his radio talk on the evening of January 23.

I assume that you have a full copy of this, but in any case, I am enclosing the text as well as a copy of a subsequent address before the Harvard Business School Alumni, as the latter particularly well summarizes Mr. Eccles' general viewpoint.

Very truly yours,

Elliott Thurston,
Special Assistant to the Chairman.

Special Assistant to Chairman Eccles
Board of Governors Federal Reserve System
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Thurston:

Thank you for permission to reprint Chairman Eccles' Washington Star Radio Forum talk on January 23.

Thank you also for the copies of the two addresses you enclosed. I have just read the Harvard address with much interest, and have found it very stimulating. If I should find a place where it would fit into my collection I assume Mr. Eccles would not object to my using it.

Yours very sincerely

A. Starbuck

Dear Mr. Starbuck:

Please accept my apologies for not responding sooner to your letter of August 16, 1939, to tell you that there is no objection whatever to your using Mr. Eccles' address at Harvard as you wish.

Very truly yours,

Elliott Thurston,
