

February 9, 1945.

Honorable George E. Outland,
House of Representatives,
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Mr. Outland:

An old friend of mine, Judge John Curtis Hamm of San Gabriel, California, with whom I have carried on an intermittent correspondence for a good many years, requested me to send you a copy of the enclosed talk which I gave before the National Industrial Conference Board.

Judge Hamm, who reminds me that he has crossed the line of eighty-six years, thought you might be interested in this discussion. Otherwise, I would not take the liberty of inflicting it upon you.

Sincerely yours,

M. S. Eccles,
Chairman.

Enclosure

ET:b

Congress of the United States
House of Representatives
Washington, D. C.

February 13, 1945.

Mr. M. S. Eccles
Chairman
Board of Governors
Federal Reserve System
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Mr. Eccles:

Thank you very much for sending me the reprint of your speech on the Postwar Price Problem.

I am grateful to Judge Hamm for suggesting that you send it to me for I shall certainly be interested in this discussion.

Sincerely yours,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "George E. Outland". The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style with a large, prominent "G" at the beginning.

George E. Outland.