Dear Bishop Moulton:

I was glad to see you at the conference in Salt Lake, and I greatly appreciate your commendation of the statement I made at the meeting.

I don't know just when I will be in Salt Lake again, but if I do get down there and find that time and opportunity will permit, I will be glad to get in touch with you as you suggest.

I am leaving about noon today with my family to spend about ten days in Sun Valley, where I hope to get some rest and relaxation before returning to Washington.

With kindest personal regards,

Sincerely yours,

The Reverend Arthur W. Moulton,

Dear Maxine
Your speech at the University was a knockout. and I would like a couple of copies in case you hang any. Went up to school several times but it seems they didn't have the money for printing copies.
so I phoned your Mother - and she suggested I write you in a letter.

In case you hang an extra copy - please send it to

Thank you.

Dear Janice:

I was surprised but very pleased to see you at the meeting held under the auspices of the Institute of World Affairs of the University of Utah, and appreciate your very complimentary remarks in your note of September 15.

As requested in that note, I am enclosing a copy of the speech. The delay is due to the fact that copies had to be made after my return to Washington. The enclosed text does not cover all that I had to say as part of the talk was extemporaneous.

With kind regards,

Sincerely yours,

Miss Janice Clayton,
c/o Lander,
