Dear Sir:

Having heard your address
before the Commonwealth Club of San Francisco at its luncheon on Wednesday, September 25th, and having found it extremely interesting, I should like it in permanent form. Would you be so kind as to send me a copy of that talk?

Yours sincerely,

ROBERT L. McWILLIAMS,

Mr. Robert L. McWilliams,
Financial Center Building,
San Francisco, California.

Dear Sir:

Replying to your letter of September 26th addressed to Mr. Marriner S. Eccles, we do not have copies of the address which Mr. Eccles gave before the Commonwealth Club of San Francisco on September 25th.

On account of Mr. Eccles' having accepted the invitation to address the Club less than two days before it met, he did not have time to put his address in written form for public release. Some of it he gave from a memorandum and some of it extemporaneously, and it would, therefore, be impossible to furnish you with a copy of the address.

Yours very truly,

Secretary to Mr. M. S. Eccles.
