Dear Mr. Eccles:

At its first October meeting, held this noon, the Club's Program Committee asked that I express to you its deep appreciation of the outstanding address with which you favored our membership on September 25th.

It was agreed by all who heard you that you fully lived up to expectations in your complete grasp of your theme, both from the standpoint of history, theory, and practical application of theory.

The comments made after your talk were many and cordial. They would have pleased you could you have heard them.

You gave us in forty-three minutes a picture of the nation's financial problems and the efforts being made to answer them which we do not believe could have been equalled by anyone else.

Again on behalf of the Club permit me to express to you our hearty appreciation.

Cordially yours,

Stuart R. Ward
