Another authorization card for continuous use in connection with the Bond-A-Month Plan will be stocked as a permanent item by the Federal Reserve banks. This authorization card is intended primarily for use by bank officers and personnel in signing up depositors during personal interviews. A few of these cards are enclosed, and it is suggested that an order be placed with this bank or one of its branches for a sufficient number to meet the initial requirements of your bank. Additional supplies of cards may be obtained from this bank or its branches at any time, upon request.

In view of the expected increase in the sale of bonds through the Bond-A-Month Plan, it is suggested that banks check their supplies of special penalty envelopes used in mailing bonds to purchasers and place orders for anticipated additional requirements with this bank or appropriate branch.
