CONDITION OF MEMBER BANKS, APRIL 10, 1956 ELEVENTH FEDERAL RESERVE DISTRICT

To the Member Banks in the

Eleventh Federal Reserve District:

Against the background of a high level of economic activity and a gradual tightening of reserve positions, member banks in the Eleventh Federal Reserve District as of April 10, 1956, showed a $$ 243,539,000$ increase in total assets from the comparable 1955 date, although a seasonal decline of $$ 622,579,000$ was recorded during the first quarter of this year. Total deposits followed a similar pattern, with a year-to-year rise of $$ 156,971,000$ but a quarterly decline of $$ 655,585,000$. Member banks reported a $$ 67,600,000$ growth in total capital accounts during the April-to-April period, including a $$ 23,427,000$ advance during the first quarter of 1956.

Net loans of these banks experienced a rapid increase during the past year, resulting in a gain of $$ 386,070,000$. As a consequence, the ratio of loans to deposits rose to 43.6 percent from 40.0 percent a year earlier. Commercial and industrial demand for credit, exhibiting the greatest strength, accounted for $$ 288,931,000$ of the year-to-year increase in total loans. The banks' combined portfolio of United States Governments, on the other hand, was off $$ 180,971,000$ during the year ended April 10, 1956. The total cash position of Eleventh District member banks on April 10, 1956, was only slightly below the year-earlier level, the cash-total deposits ratio having declined from 30.9 percent to 30.3 percent.

Except for demand deposits of individuals and United States Government deposits, all categories contributed to the $$ 156,971,000$ year-to-year increase in total deposits, with the principal gains originating from balances of states and political subdivisions and individual time deposits. In the first quarter, the heaviest deposit drain came from individual demand deposits and interbank balances - a typical development during this period. Member banks in the Eleventh District had the same ratio of capital accounts to risk assets - 15.2 percent - on April 10, 1956, as on the comparable date a year earlier.
