FISCAL AGENT OF THE COMMODITY CREDIT CORPORATION

Dallas, Texas, March 24, 1966

OFFERING OF COMMODITY CREDIT CORPORATION CERTIFICATES OF INTEREST

To All Banking Institutions and Others Concerned
in the Eleventh Federal Reserve District:

There is quoted below a press statement issued on March 23, 1966, by the United States Department of Agriculture in regard to an offering of Special Series Certificates of Interest:

The U. S. Department of Agriculture today announced that the Commodity Credit Corporation will offer to banking institutions, dealers in investment securities and other interested persons the opportunity to participate in financing approximately $500 million of CCC price support loans on agricultural commodities, by purchasing a special series of Certificates of Interest in a pool of such loans.

Special Series Certificates of Interest, which are non-interest bearing, will be offered for sale at discount on a bid basis, both competitive and noncompetitive as is done for Treasury bills. The Certificates, in bearer form, will be issued April 6, 1966, and will mature on August 1, 1966 (117 days).

Bids in writing for Special Series Certificates of Interest must be received at any Federal Reserve Bank (not branch) before 1:30 P.M., E.S.T., on Wednesday, March 30, 1966. The Invitation for Bids covering Special Series Certificates of Interest will be available through Federal Reserve Banks about March 25, 1966. Those submitting successful bids will be so advised by the Federal Reserve Banks. Bids will be accepted in multiples of $5,000.

Commodity Credit Corporation has statutory authority (15 U.S.C. 714b(i) and 713a-4) to borrow up to $14.5 billion, has reserved an amount of its uncommitted borrowing authority sufficient to redeem outstanding Special Series Certificates of Interest, and has arranged to borrow from the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States any portion of such uncommitted amount of its borrowing authority whenever needed to redeem such Certificates.

The Certificates are eligible as security for advances at Federal Reserve Banks and as collateral for Treasury Tax and Loan accounts.

CCC anticipates that it will offer investors an opportunity to participate in financing price support loans again next year about this time.

Proceeds from the sale of these Certificates will be paid into the United States Treasury to be applied as payments on CCC notes held by the Treasury.

The delivery of certificates allotted may be made by wire transfer to any Federal Reserve Bank (not branch). At maturity the certificates may be redeemed at this bank and its branches at El Paso, Houston and San Antonio; however, denominational exchanges may be made only at this bank.

The official invitation for bids and tender form for the new securities are enclosed. As indicated in the announcement, tenders are to be submitted only to the head office of this bank and will be received up to twelve-thirty P.M., Central Standard Time, Wednesday, March 30, 1966.

Yours very truly,

Watrous H. Irons

INVITATION FOR BIDS ON COMMODITY CREDIT CORPORATION CERTIFICATES OF INTEREST SPECIAL SERIES

To All Banking Institutions and Others Concerned

in the Eleventh Federal Reserve District:

Your attention is invited to the following statement giving details of an issue of Certificates of Interest:

Commodity Credit Corporation (hereinafter referred to as "CCC"), an agency and instrumentality of the United States within the Department of Agriculture, hereby invites bids for the purchase of a special series of non-interest bearing negotiable Certificates of Interest in an approximate amount of $500,000,000. These Certificates evidence participation in the financing, and an interest in a pool, of outstanding CCC price support loans on agricultural commodities. The Certificates will be sold on a discount basis and will be issued in denominations of $5,000, $10,000, $100,000, and $1,000,000, but denominational exchanges may be made at any Federal Reserve Bank. The Certificates have a maturity date of August 1, 1966, and will be redeemed by CCC on or after the maturity date upon presentation at any Federal Reserve Bank or branch thereof. The Certificates are eligible as security for advances at Federal Reserve Banks and as collateral for Treasury Tax and Loan accounts.

Bids will be received at any Federal Reserve Bank up to 1:30 P.M., E.S.T., Wednesday, March 30, 1966. Bids must be in writing in multiples of $5,000 and the price offered must be expressed on the basis of 100, with not more than three decimals, e.g., 99.925. Fractions may not be used. It is urged that bids be made on the printed forms, and forwarded in the special envelopes, to be furnished by Federal Reserve Banks on application thereof.

Banking institutions generally may submit bids for account of customers provided the names of the customers are set forth in such bids. Others may only submit bids for their own account. Bids will be received without deposit from incorporated banks and trust companies and from responsible and recognized dealers in investment securities. Bids from others must be accompanied by a deposit of 2 percent of the face amount of the Certificates bid for, unless such bids are accompanied by an express guaranty of payment by an incorporated bank or trust company.

Immediately after the closing hour, CCC will open and evaluate the bids, and will then publicly announce the amount and price range of accepted bids. CCC expressly reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bids, in whole or in part, and any such action shall be final. Subject to this reservation, noncompetitive bids from any one bidder for $200,000 or less without stated price will be accepted in full at the average price (in three decimals) of accepted competitive bids. Those submitting successful bids will be so advised by the Federal Reserve Bank to which the bid was submitted, and settlement therefor must be made at such Bank on April 6, 1966, in U. S. dollars, either in cash or other immediately available funds. Payment cannot be made by credit through the Treasury Tax and Loan account.

After payment in full has been made to the Federal Reserve Bank for Certificates allotted against a bid, such Certificates so allotted on original issuance will be transferred by wire in any amount, on request of the owner, to any other Federal Reserve Bank for his account.

CCC has statutory authority to borrow up to $14.5 billion and reserves an amount of its uncommitted borrowing authority sufficient to redeem outstanding special series Certificates of Interest. CCC has an arrangement to borrow from the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States any portion of the uncommitted amount of its borrowing authority whenever needed to redeem such Certificates, which arrangement is confirmed in the following quoted letter:

"THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY WASHINGTON

Dear Mr. Schnittker:

March 19, 1966

Reference is made to the request that an arrangement be made between Commodity Credit Corporation and the Secretary of the Treasury to borrow any portion of the uncommitted amount of Commodity Credit Corporation's borrowing authority whenever it is needed to redeem outstanding special series Certificates of Interest.

The Commodity Credit Corporation has statutory authority (15 U.S.C. 714b(i) and 713a-4) to borrow up to $14.5 billion, provided the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury is obtained. I am advised that the unused balance of Commodity Credit Corporation's authorized borrowing authority presently exceeds $1.9 billion. I understand that the Commodity Credit Corporation has reserved $500 million of this unused balance to be used only for the redemption of special series Certificates of Interest at maturity on August 1, 1966. After giving effect to this reservation of $500 million for such redemption, the current unreserved and unused balance of Commodity Credit Corporation's borrowing authority will be in excess of $1.4 billion.

Accordingly, on the records of the Treasury Department, we are reserving $500 million of your total unused borrowing authority for the purpose of redeeming outstanding special series Certificates of Interest.

The Honorable
John A. Schnittker
President
Commodity Credit Corporation
Department of Agriculture
Washington, D. C. 20250"

Sincerely yours,
/s/ Henry H. Fowler
