DALLAS, TEXAS 75222

Circular No. 67-135

RULES REGARDING DELEGATION OF AUTHORITY

To All Member Banks and Others Concerned in the Eleventh Federal Reserve District:

Effective July 1, 1967, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System delegated certain of its administrative and bank supervisory functions to the Federal Reserve Banks and to specified officials on the Board's staff. The action, which marks the initial implementation of authority granted to the Board by the Congress in November 1966, takes the form of a new regulation, "Rules Regarding Delegation of Authority".

Authority to approve domestic branches of State-chartered member banks is among the more significant matters delegated to the Reserve Banks. Examples of other delegated actions include extensions of time for registration by a bank holding company, extensions of time for registration of securities of State member banks, waiver of the six months' notice that a State member bank must give before withdrawing from membership, approval of an investment by a State member bank in bank premises in excess of its capital stock, and the declaration of dividends by a State member bank in certain circumstances.

The new regulation provides for review by the Board of Governors of any action taken by those to whom authority has been delegated in the event that any person claims to have been adversely affected.

It is expected that the efficient and expeditious performance of the Board's major responsibilities, both in the field of monetary and credit policy and in the field of bank supervision and regulation, will be facilitated by the delegation of many functions that formerly had to be performed in all cases by the Board itself.

Attached is a copy of the new regulation for insertion in the ring binder containing the Regulations of the Board of Governors and the Bulletins of this bank.

Yours very truly,

Watrous H. Irons
President
