Request for Comments on Proposed Amendments to Appraisal Regulation

DETAILS
The Federal Reserve Board, along with the other federal agencies regulating financial institutions, has issued for comment an interim common

The Board stated at that time that the USPAP was undergoing revisions and that public comment would be solicited when revisions were complete. The Board now seeks comment on the revised USPAP.

The Board must receive comments by March 1, 1991. Comments should be addressed to William W. Wiles, Secretary, Board of Governors of the Federal All comments should refer to Docket No. R-0720.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

Title XI of the Financial Institutions Reform, Recovery, and Enforcement Act of 1989 ("FIRREA"), Pub. L. No. 101-73, 103 Stat. 183 (1989), is designed to ensure that reliable appraisals are rendered in connection with federally related transactions. Section 1121 of FIRREA, 12 U.S.C. 3390, defines a "federally related transaction" as any real estate-related financial transaction requiring the services of an appraiser that is entered into, contracted for, or regulated by the OCC, Board, FDIC, OTS, NCUA, or the RTC (the "agencies").

Section 1110 of FIRREA, 12 U.S.C. 3385, requires each agency to adopt regulations setting minimum standards for appraisals used in connection with federally related transactions within its jurisdiction. Under section 1110 of FIRREA, the regulations must require appraisals to be performed in accordance with generally accepted appraisal practices as evidenced by the appraisal standards promulgated by the Appraisal Standards Board of the Appraisal Foundation.

The Appraisal Standards Board of the Appraisal Foundation has promulgated appraisal standards for real-estate related transactions in its Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice (the "USPAP") as amended in June, 1990. Each agency has published a final appraisal regulation requiring appraisals for federally related transactions within its jurisdiction to be performed in accordance with the USPAP. See 55 FR 34664 (August 22, 1990) (FIRREA final rule on appraisals and requirements for insurance); 55 FR 34719 (August 22, 1990) (RTC final rule on real estate appraisals). This interim common rule will amend the agencies' existing appraisal regulations by adding an appendix that contains excerpts from the USPAP provisions applicable to federally related transactions. The agencies are publishing these excerpts as an interim rule because Title XI and applicable regulations already require compliance with the USPAP.

Some of the provisions contained in the USPAP are applicable to real estate appraisals and, therefore, do not apply to federally related transactions. For instance, the USPAP includes sections on real estate and real property consulting and personal property appraisals. The interim common rule includes only those USPAP provisions which are applicable to federally related transactions. Cross references to those sections of the USPAP which are not applicable to federally related transactions have been excluded from the interim rule and in some places additional text has been added for clarification.

The agencies are soliciting public comment on those provisions of the USPAP which are being added as an appendix to each agency's appraisal regulation. A final common rule will be published after consideration of all comments received.

The complete text of the USPAP as promulgated by the Appraisal Standards Board is available from the Appraisal Foundation, 1229 Vermont Ave., NW., suite 900, Washington, DC 20005. The complete table of contents for USPAP is provided here to help readers understand what provisions are excluded from the interim rule.

Regulatory Flexibility Act Statement

Pursuant to section 605(b) of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, the OCC, the Board, the FDIC, the OTS, the NCUA, and the RTC hereby independently certify that the common interim rule is not expected to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. Accordingly, a regulatory flexibility analysis is not required.

For federally related transactions, Title XI of FIRREA requires financial institutions which are regulated by the OCC, the Board, the FDIC, the OTS, the NCUA, or the RTC to use appraisals prepared in accordance with generally accepted appraisal standards promulgated by the Appraisal Standards Board of the Appraisal Foundation.

Since the USPAP standards only codify appraisal practices that are usual and customary in the appraisal industry, adoption of this regulation should not result in a material departure from existing practice by regulated institutions or cause a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

OCC and OTS Executive Order Statement

The OCC and the OTS have independently determined that this interim rule does not constitute a "major rule" within the meaning of Executive Order 12291 and Treasury Department Guidelines. Accordingly, a Regulatory Impact Analysis is not required on the grounds that this interim rule, exclusive of those effects attributable to requirements imposed by Title XI of FIRREA, (1) would not have an annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more, (2) would not result in a major increase in the cost of financial institution operations or governmental supervision, and (3) would not have a significant adverse effect on competition (foreign and domestic), employment, investment, productivity or innovation, within the meaning of the executive order.

For federally related transactions, Title XI requires the financial institutions supervised by the OCC and the OTS to use appraisals prepared in accordance with generally accepted appraisal standards as evidenced by the appraisal standards promulgated by the Appraisal Standards Board of the Appraisal Foundation. Since these standards only codify appraisal practices and procedures that are usual and customary in the appraisal industry, they should not cause a significant departure from current appraisal practices by regulated institutions, or a substantial effect on the economy.

NCUA Executive Order 12612 Statement
This interim rule will apply to all federally insured credit unions. The NCUA Board, pursuant to Executive Order 12612, has determined that the interim rule may have a substantial direct effect on the state, on the relationship between the national government and the state, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government, but that Title XI of FIRREA requires that this interim rule apply to all federally insured credit unions.

Section I—Introduction

It is essential that a professional appraiser arrive at and communicate his or her analyses, opinions, and advice in a manner that will be meaningful to the client and will not be misleading in the marketplace. These Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice reflect the current standards of the appraisal profession.

The importance of the role of the appraiser places ethical obligations on those who serve in this capacity. These standards include explanatory comments and begin with an Ethics Provision setting forth the requirements for integrity, objectivity, independent judgment, and ethical conduct. In addition, these standards include a Competency Provision which places an immediate responsibility on the appraiser prior to acceptance of an assignment. The standards contain binding requirements, as well as specific guidelines and definitions applicable to these standards are also included.

These standards deal with the procedures to be followed in performing an appraisal or review and the manner in which an appraisal or review is communicated. Standards 1 and 2 relate to the development and communication of a real property appraisal. Standard 3 establishes guidelines for reviewing an appraisal and reporting on that review.

These standards are for appraisers and the users of appraisal services. To maintain the highest level of professional practice, appraisers must observe these standards. The users of appraisal services should demand work performed in conformance with these standards.

Comment: Explanatory comments are an integral part of the Uniform Standards and should be viewed as extensions of the provisions, definitions, and standards rules. Comments provide interpretation from the Appraisal Standards Board concerning the background or application of certain provisions, definitions, or standards rules.

There are no comments for provisions, definitions, and standards rules that are axiomatic or have not yet required further explanation; however, additional comments will be developed and others supplemented or revised as the need arises.

Ethics Provision

Because of the fiduciary responsibilities inherent in professional appraisal practice, the appraiser must observe the highest standards of professional ethics. This Ethics Provision is divided into four sections: conduct, management, confidentiality, and record keeping.

Comment: This provision emphasizes the personal obligations and responsibilities of the individual appraiser. However, it should also be emphasized that groups and organizations engaged in appraisal practice must also observe these standards. The development of an appraisal, review, or consulting service must be performed in accordance with these standards, and the preparer of the written report of an assignment where the appraiser communicates a misleading or fraudulent report or to knowingly permit an employee or other person to communicate a misleading or fraudulent report.

The development of an appraisal, review, or consulting service based on a hypothetical condition is unethical unless:

(1) The use of the hypothesis is clearly disclosed;

(2) The assumption of the hypothetical condition is clearly required for legal purposes, for purposes of reasonable analysis, or for purposes of comparison and would not be misleading and

(3) The report clearly describes the rationale for this assumption, the nature of the hypothetical condition, and its effect on the result of the appraisal, review, or consulting service.

An individual appraiser employed by a group or organization which conducts itself in a manner that does not conform to these standards should take steps that are appropriate under the circumstances to ensure compliance with the standards.

Management. The acceptance of compensation that is contingent upon the reporting of a predetermined value or a direction in value that favors the cause of the client, the amount of the value estimate, the attainment of a stipulated result, or the occurrence of a subsequent event is unethical.

The payment of undisclosed fees, commissions, or things of value in connection with the procurement of appraisal, review, or consulting assignments is unethical.

Comment: Disclosure of fees, commissions, or things of value connected to the procurement of an assignment should appear in the certification of a written report and in any transmittal letter in which conclusions are stated. In groups or organizations engaged in appraisal practice, intracompany payments to employees for business development are not considered to be unethical. Competency, rather than financial incentives, should be the primary basis for awarding an assignment.

Advertising for or soliciting appraisal assignments in a manner which is false, misleading, or exaggerated is unethical.

Comment: In groups or organizations engaged in appraisal practice, decisions concerning finder or referral fees, contingent compensation, and advertising may not be the responsibility of an individual appraiser, but for a particular assignment, it is the responsibility of the individual appraiser to ascertain that there has been no breach of ethics, that the appraisal is prepared in accordance with these standards, and that the report can be properly certified as required by Standards Rules 2-3 or 3-2.

The restriction on contingent compensation in the first paragraph of this section does not apply to consulting assignments where the appraiser is not acting in a disinterested manner and would not reasonably be perceived as performing a service that requires impartiality. This permitted contingent compensation must be properly disclosed in the report.

The preparer of the written report of an assignment where the appraiser... is not acting in a disinterested manner must certify that the compensation is contingent and must explain the basis for the contingency in the report, certification, executive summary and in any transmittal letter in which conclusions are stated. Confidentiality. An appraiser must protect the confidential nature of the appraiser-client relationship.

Comment: An appraiser must not disclose confidential factual data obtained from a client or the results of an assignment prepared for a client to anyone other than: (1) the client and persons specifically authorized by the client; (2) such third parties as may be authorized by due process of law; and (3) a duly authorized professional peer review committee. As a corollary, it is unethical for a member of a duly authorized professional peer review committee to disclose confidential information or factual data presented to the committee.

Record Keeping: An appraiser must prepare within records of assignments including oral testimony and reports (or a transcription thereof) all data and statements required by these standards, and other information as may be required to support the findings and conclusions of the assignment. Such records also includes information stored on electronic, magnetic, or other media. Such records must be made available by the appraiser when required by due process of law or by a duly authorized professional peer review committee.

Competency Provision
Prior to accepting an assignment or entering into an agreement to perform any assignment, an appraiser must properly identify the problem to be addressed and have the knowledge and experience to complete the assignment competently or alternatively:
1. Disclose the lack of knowledge and/or experience to the client before accepting the assignment and
2. Take all steps necessary or appropriate to complete the assignment competently and
3. Describe the lack of knowledge and/or experience and the steps taken to complete the assignment competently in the report.

Comment: The background and experience of appraisers varies widely and a lack of knowledge or experience can lead to inaccurate or inappropriate appraisal practice. The competency provision requires an appraiser to have both the knowledge and the experience required to perform a specific appraisal service competently. If an appraiser is offered the opportunity to perform an appraisal service but lacks the necessary knowledge or experience to complete it competently, the appraiser must disclose his or her lack of knowledge or experience to the client before accepting the assignment and then take the necessary or appropriate steps to complete the appraisal service competently. This may be accomplished in various ways including, but not limited to, personal study by the appraiser; association with an appraiser reasonably believed to have the necessary knowledge or experience; or retention of others who possess the required knowledge or experience.

Although this provision requires an appraiser to identify the problem and disclose any deficiency in competence prior to accepting an assignment, facts or conditions uncovered during the course of an assignment could cause an appraiser to discover that he or she lacks the required knowledge or experience to complete the assignment competently. At the point of such discovery, the appraiser is obligated to notify the client and comply with Items 2 and 3 of the provision.

The concept of competency also extends to appraisers who are requested or required to travel to geographic areas wherein they have no recent appraisal experience. An appraiser preparing an appraisal in an unfamiliar location must spend time to understand the nuances of the local market and the supply and demand factors relating to the specific property type and the location involved. Such understanding will not be imparted solely from a consideration of specific dates such as demographics, costs, sales and rentals. The necessary understanding of local market conditions provides the bridge between a sale and a comparable sale or a rental and a comparable rental. If an appraiser is not in a position to spend the necessary amount of time in a market area to obtain this understanding, affiliation with a qualified local appraiser may be the appropriate response to ensure the development of a competent appraisal.

Jurisdictional Exception
If any part of these standards is contrary to the law or public policy of any jurisdiction, only that part shall be void and of no force or effect in that jurisdiction.

Supplemental Standards
These Uniform Standards provide the common basis for all appraisal practice. Supplemental standards applicable to appraisals prepared to specific purposes or property types may be issued by public authorities, and/or financial institutions. Appraisers and clients must ascertain whether any supplemental standards in addition to these Uniform Standards apply to the assignment being considered.

Definitions
For the purpose of these standards the following definitions apply:
Apraisal: (noun) The act or process of estimating value; an estimate of value.
Adjective) of or pertaining to appraising and value.
Appraiser: (noun) A person who possesses the necessary knowledge or experience to perform an appraisal service.

A current economic definition agreed upon by federal financial institutions in the United States of America is:
The most probable price which a property should bring in a competitive and open market under all conditions requisite to a fair sale, the buyer and seller each acting prudently and knowledgeably, and assuming the price is not affected by undue stimulus, in the context in which the property is to be sold.

Market Value: Market value is the major focus of most real property appraisal assignments. Both economic and legal definitions of market value have been developed and refined. A current economic definition agreed upon by federal financial institutions in the United States of America is:
The most probable price which a property should bring in a competitive and open market under all conditions requisite to a fair sale, the buyer and seller each acting prudently and knowledgeably, and assuming the price is not affected by undue stimulus, in the context in which the property is to be sold.

Payment is made in terms of cash in United States dollars or in terms of financial arrangements comparable thereto; and
3. The price represents the normal consideration for the property sold unaffected by special or creative financing or sales concessions granted by anyone associated with the sale.

Substitution of another currency for United States dollars in the fourth condition is appropriate in countries or in reports addressed to clients from other countries.

Persons performing appraisal services that may be subject to litigation are cautioned to seek the exact legal definition of market value in the jurisdiction in which the services are being performed.

Mass Appraisal: The process of valuing a universe of properties as of a given date...
utilizing standard methodology, employing common data, and allowing for statistical testing.

Mass Appraisal Model: A mathematical expression of how supply and demand factors interact in a market.

Personal Property: Identifiable portable and tangible objects which are considered by the general public as being "personal," e.g., furnishings, artwork, antiques, gems and jewelry, costume jewelry, equipment; all property that is not classified as real estate.

Real Estate: An identified parcel or tract of land, including improvements, if any.

Real Property: The interests, benefits, and rights inherent in the ownership of real estate.

Comment: In some jurisdictions, the terms "real estate" and "real property" have the same legal meaning. The separate definitions recognize the traditional distinction between the two concepts in appraisal theory.

Report: Any communication, written or oral, of an appraisal, review, or consulting service. Keeping: The act or process of critically reviewing and revising appraisal methods and techniques that are necessary to meet new circumstances.

An appraiser to simply maintain the skills and techniques to meet new circumstances.

Standards Rule 1-1. In developing a real property appraisal, an appraiser must be aware of, understand, and correctly employ those recognized methods and techniques that are necessary to produce a credible appraisal.

Comment: Standard 1 is directed toward the substantive aspects of developing a competent appraisal. The requirements set forth in Standards Rules 1-1, the appraisal guidelines set forth in Standards Rules 1-2, 2-1, 3-1, 4-1, and the requirement set forth in Standards Rule 3-1 to the concept of due care. The fact that the carelessness or negligence of an appraiser has not caused an error that significantly affects his or her opinions or conclusions and thereby seriously harms a client or a third party does not excuse such carelessness or negligence.

Standard Rules 1-2. In developing a real property appraisal, an appraiser must observe the following specific appraisal guidelines:

(a) Adequately identify the real estate, identify the real property interest, consider the purpose and intended use of the appraisal, consider the extent of the data collection process, identify any special limiting conditions, and identify the effective date of the appraisal;

(b) Define the value being considered: if the value to be estimated is market value, the appraiser must clearly indicate whether the value is the most probable price:

(i) In terms of cash;

(ii) In terms of financial arrangements equivalent to cash;

(iii) In such other terms as may be precisely defined: if an estimate of value is based on market financing or financing with unusual conditions or incentives, the terms of such financing must be clearly set forth, their contributions to or relative influence on value must be described and estimated, and the market data supporting the valuation estimate must be described and explained.

Comment: For certain types of appraisal assignments in which a legal definition of market value has been established and takes precedence, the Jurisdictional Exception may apply to this guideline.

If the concept of reasonable exposure in the open market is involved, the appraiser should be specific as to the extent of marketing time linked to the value estimate.

(c) Consider easements, restrictions, encumbrances, leases, reservations, covenants, contracts, declarations, special assessments, ordinances, or other items of a similar nature.

(d) Consider whether an appraised fractional interest, physical segment, or partial holding contributes pro rata to the value of the whole.

Comment: This guideline does not require an appraiser to value the whole when the subject of the appraisal is a fractional interest, a physical segment, or a partial holding. However, if the value of the whole is not considered, the appraiser must clearly reflect that the value of the property being appraised cannot be used to estimate the value of the whole by mathematical extension.

(e) Identify and consider the effect on value of any personal property, trade fixtures or intangible items that are not real property but are included in the appraisal.

Comment: This guideline requires the appraiser to recognize the inclusion of items that are not real property in an overall value estimate. Additional expertise in personal property or business appraisals may be required to allocate the overall value to its various components. Separate valuation of each item is required when they are significant to the overall value.

Standard Rule 1-3. In developing a real property appraisal, an appraiser must observe the following specific appraisal guidelines:

(f) Consider the effect on use and value of the following factors: existing land use regulations, reasonably probable modifications of such land use regulations, economic demand, the physical adaptability of the real estate, neighborhood trends, and the highest and best use of the real estate.

Comment: This guideline sets forth a list of factors that affect use and value. In considering neighborhood trends, an appraiser must avoid stereotyped or biased assumptions relating to race, age, color, religion, gender, or national origin or an assumption that racial, ethnic, or religious homogeneity is necessary to maximize value in a neighborhood. Further, an appraiser must avoid making an unsupported assumption or premise about neighborhood decline, effective age, and remaining life. In considering highest and best use, an appraiser should develop the concept to the extent that is required for a proper solution of the appraisal problem being considered.

(b) Recognize that land is appraised as the unit, and available development to its highest and best use and that the appraisal of improvements is based on their actual contribution to the site.

Comment: This guideline may be modified to reflect the fact that, in various legal and practical situations, a site may have a from developments under construction. and anticipated events such as competition current market factors affecting such trends, the appraiser, in developing income and expense appropriate evidence; and expenses on reasonably clear and appropriate evidence; and °| j j for corresponding reporting requirements such part must be tested by reference to analysis of such data.
This guideline requires an appraiser, in developing income and expense so the market rental of the framing the value of the whole and to the extent that market actions reflect such improvements (if any), (ii) such comparable data as are available to indicate the time of completion of the proposed improvements; and
Reasonably clear and appropriate evidence supporting development costs, anticipated earnings, occupancy projections, and the anticipated completion at the time of completion Comment: The evidence required to be examined and maintained under this guideline may include such items as contractor's estimates relating to cost and the time required to complete construction, market analysis studies, appraiser cost data, and the history of recently completed similar developments. The appraisal may require a complete feasibility analysis.
(iv) All pertinent information in items (a) through (b) above shall be used in the development of an appraisal.
Comment. See standards Rule 2-2(k) for corresponding reporting requirements.
(f) Identify and consider the appropriate procedures and market information required to perform the appraisal, including all physical, functional, and external market factors as they may affect the appraisal; Comment: Appraisal requirement is not permitted. Since most reports are used and relied upon by third didies, communications considered adequate by the appraiser's client may not be sufficient.
An appraiser must observe extreme care to make certain that his or her reports will not be misleading in the marketplace or to the public.
[3] Contain sufficient information to enable the user of the report to make a serious error even though each user's experience, opinion, and conclusion in the report is clearly and accurately stated. To avoid this problem and the dangers it presents to clients and other users of reports, this rule requires an appraiser to include in such report sufficient information to enable the reader to understand it properly.
Comment: Departure from this binding requirement is not permitted. A failure to observe this rule could cause a client or other users of the report to make a serious error, even though each user's experience, opinion, and conclusion in the report is clearly and accurately stated. To avoid this problem and the dangers it presents to clients and other users of reports, this rule requires an appraiser to include in such report sufficient information to enable the reader to understand it properly. All reports, either written or oral, must clearly and accurately present the analyses, opinions, and conclusions of the appraiser with sufficient depth and detail to address adequately the significance of the specific appraisal problem
(c) Clearly and accurately disclose any extraordinary assumption or condition that directly affects the appraisal and indicate its impact on value.
Comment. Departure from this binding requirement is not permitted. Examples of extraordinary assumptions or conditions that might include such as the execution of a pending lease agreement, physical condition, or completion of onsite or offsite improvements. In a written report the disclosure would be required in conjunction with statements of each opinion or conclusion that is affected.
Standards Rule 2-2. Each written real property appraisal report must:
(a) Identify and describe the real estate being appraised;
(b) Identify the real property interest being appraised;
Comment on (a) and (b): These two requirements are essential elements in any report. Identifying the real estate can be accomplished by any combination of a legal description, address, map reference, copy of a survey or map, property sketch and/or photographs. A property sketch and photographs also provide some description of the real estate in addition to written comments about the physical attributes of the real estate. Identifying the real property rights being appraised requires a direct statement substantiated as needed by copies or summaries of legal descriptions or other documents setting forth any encumbrances.
(c) State the purpose of the appraisal;
(d) Define the value to be estimated;
(e) Set forth the effective date of the appraisal and state date of the report;
(f) Consider and analyze the effect on value, if any, of anticipated public or private improvements, located on or off the site, to the extent that market actions reflect such anticipated improvements as of the effective date;
Comment: About valuation objectives and considerations in certain jurisdictions, the jurisdictional exception may apply to this standard.
In reporting the results of a real property
appraisal an appraiser must communicate each analysis, opinion, and conclusion in a manner that is not misleading.
Comment: Standard 2 governs the form and content of the report that communicates the results of an appraisal to a client and third parties.
Standards Rule 2-1. Each written or oral real property appraisal report must:
(a) Clearly and accurately set forth the appraisal in a manner that will not be misleading;
(b) Define the value to be estimated;
(c) Include the effective date of the appraisal and state date of the report;
(d) Consider the effect on value, if any, of anticipated public or private improvements, located on or off the site, to the extent that market actions reflect such anticipated improvements as of the effective date.
Comment: About valuation objectives and considerations in certain jurisdictions, the jurisdictional exception may apply to this standard.
In reporting the results of a real property
appraisal an appraiser must communicate
each analysis, opinion, and conclusion in a manner that is not misleading.
Comment: Standard 2 governs the form and
content of the report that communicates the results of an appraisal to a client and third
requires both an appropriately referenced definition and any comments needed to clearly indicate to the reader how the definition is being applied [See Standards Rule 1-2(a)]. The substantive content of the appraisal establishes the context for the value estimate, while the date of the report indicates whether the perspective of the appraiser on the market conditions as of the effective date of the appraisal was prospective, current, or retrospective.

Retention of the date of the report and the effective date of the appraisal at various stages of the report in tandem is important for the clear understanding of the reader whenever market conditions on the date of the report are different from market conditions on the effective date of the appraisal.

(f) Describe the extent of the process of collecting, confirming, and reporting data.

Comment: This requirement is designed to protect third parties whose reliance on an appraisal report may be affected by the extent of the appraiser's investigation; i.e., the process of collecting, confirming, and reporting data.

(g) Set forth all assumptions and limiting conditions that affect the analyses, opinions, and conclusions.

Comment: It is suggested that assumptions and limiting conditions be grouped together in an identified section of the report.

(h) Set forth the information considered, the appraiser's analyses followed, and the reasoning that supports the analyses, opinions, and conclusions.

Comment: This requirement calls for the appraiser to summarize the data considered and the procedures that were followed. Each item must be addressed in the depth and detail required by its significance to the appraisal. The appraiser must be certain that sufficient information is provided so that the client, the users of the report, and the public will understand it and will not be misled or confused. The substantive content of the report, not its size, determines its compliance with this specific reporting guideline.

(i) Set forth the appraiser's opinion of the highest and best use of the real estate, when such an opinion is necessary and appropriate.

Comment: This requirement calls for written report to contain a statement of the appraiser's opinion as to the highest and best use of the real estate, unless an opinion as to highest and best use is unnecessary, e.g., insurance valuation or value in use appraisals. If an opinion as to highest and best use is unnecessary, the appraisal report is true and correct.

Comment: Departure from this binding requirement is not permitted.

(j) Set forth any additional information that may be appropriate to show compliance with, or clearly identify and explain permitted departures from, the requirements of Standard 1.

Comment: This requirement calls for written appraisal report or other written communication concerning the results of an appraisal to contain sufficient information to indicate that the appraiser complied with the requirements of Standard 1, including the requirements pertaining any permitted departure from the appraisal guidelines. The amount of detail required will vary with the significance of the information to the appraisal.

Information considered and analyzed in compliance with Standards Rule 1-3 is significant information that deserves comment in any report. If such information is unobtainable, comment on the efforts undertaken by the appraiser to obtain the information required.

(k) Include a signed certification in accordance with Standards Rule 2-3.

Comment: Departure from binding requirements (a) through (l) there is not permitted.

Standards Rule 2-3. Each written real property appraisal report must contain a certification that is similar in content to the following form:

I certify that, to be best of my knowledge and belief:
- The statements of fact contained in this report are true and correct.
- The reported analyses, opinions, and conclusions are limited only by the reported assumptions and limiting conditions.
- My analyses, opinions, and conclusions were developed and this report has been prepared in conformity with the Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice.
- I have (or have not) made a personal inspection of the property that is the subject of this report. (If more than one person signs the report, this certification must clearly specify which individuals did and which individuals did not make a personal inspection of the reported property.)
- No one provided significant professional assistance to the person signing this report. (If there are exceptions, the name of each individual providing significant professional assistance must be stated.)

Comment: Departure from this binding requirement is not permitted.

Standards Rule 2-4. To the extent that it is both possible and appropriate, each oral real property appraisal report (including expert testimony) must address the substantive matters set forth in Standards Rule 2-2.

Comment: In addition to complying with the requirements of Standards Rule 2-1, an appraiser making an oral report must use his or her best efforts to address each of the substantive matters in Standards Rule 2-2.

Testimony of an appraiser concerning his or her analyses, opinions, and conclusions is an oral report in which the appraiser must comply with the requirements of this Standards Rule.

See Record Keeping under the ETHICS PROVISION for corresponding requirements.

Standards Rule 2-5. An appraiser who signs a real property appraisal report prepared by another, even under the label of "review appraiser", must accept full responsibility for the contents of the report.

Comment: Departure from this binding requirement is not permitted.

This requirement is directed to the employer or supervisor signing the report of an employee or subcontractor. The employer or supervisor signing the report is as responsible as the individual preparing the appraisal for the content and conclusions of the appraisal and the report. Using a conditional label next to the signature of the employer or supervisor or signing a form report on the line over the words "review appraiser" does not exempt that individual from adherence to these standards.

This requirement does not address the responsibilities of a review appraiser, but addresses the content and conclusions of the report, not its size, determines its compliance with Standards Rule 1.

Section III—Review Appraisals

Standard 3

In reviewing an appraisal and reporting the results of that review, an appraiser must form an opinion as to the adequacy and appropriateness of the report being reviewed and must clearly disclose the nature of the review process undertaken.

Comment: The function of reviewing an appraisal requires the preparation of a separate report or file memorandum by the appraiser performing the review setting forth the results of the review process. Review appraisers go beyond checking for a level of completeness and consistency in the report under review by providing comment on the content and conclusions of the report. They may or may not have first-hand knowledge of the subject property or of data in the report.

The COMPETENCY PROVISION applies to the appraiser performing the review as well as the appraiser who prepared the report under review.

Reviewing is a distinctly different function from that addressed in Standards Rule 2-5. To avoid confusion in the marketplace between these two functions, review appraisers should not sign the report under review unless they intend to take the responsibility of a cosigner.

Review appraisers must take appropriate steps to indicate to third parties the precise extent of the review process. A separate report or letter is one method. Another appropriate method is a form or checklist prepared and signed by the appraiser conducting the review and attached to the report under review. It is also possible that a stamp placed on the face of the original report under review, signed or initialed by the reviewing appraiser, may be an appropriate method for separating the review function from the actual signing of the report. To be effective, however, the stamp must briefly indicate the extent of the review process and refer to a file memorandum that clearly outlines the review process conducted.

The review appraiser must exercise extreme care in clearly distinguishing between the review process and the appraisal or consulting process. Original work by the review appraiser may be governed by STANDARD 1 rather than this standard. A misleading or fraudulent review and/or report violates the ETHICS PROVISION.

Standards Rule 3–1. In reviewing an appraisal, an appraiser must:
(a) Identify the report under review, the real estate and real property interest being appraised, the effective date of the opinion in the report under review, and the date of the review;
(b) Identify the extent of the review process to be conducted;
(c) Form an opinion as to the completeness of the report under review in light of the requirements in these standards;
Comment: The review should be conducted in the context of market conditions as of the effective date of the opinion in the report being reviewed.
(d) Form an opinion as to the apparent adequacy and relevance of the data and the propriety of any adjustments to the data;
(e) Form an opinion as to the appropriateness of the appraisal methods and techniques used and develop the reasons for any disagreement;
(f) Form an opinion as to whether the analyses, opinions, and conclusions in the report under review are appropriate and reasonable, and develop the reasons for any disagreement.
Comment: Departure from binding requirements (a) through (f) above is not permitted. An opinion of a different estimate of value from that in the report under review may be expressed, provided the review appraiser:
1. Satisfies the requirements of STANDARD 1;
2. Identifies and sets forth any additional data relied upon and the reasoning and basis for the different estimate of value; and
3. Clearly identifies and discloses all assumptions and limitations connected with the different estimate of value to avoid confusion in the marketplace.
Standards Rule 3–2. In reporting the results of an appraisal review, an appraiser must:
(a) Disclose the nature, extent, and detail of the review process undertaken;
(b) Disclose the information that must be considered in Standards Rule 3–1 (a) and (b);
(c) Set forth the opinions, reasons, and conclusions required in Standards Rule 3–1 (c), (d), (e) and (f);
(d) Include all pertinent information;
(e) Include a signed certification similar in content to the following:
I certify that, to the best of my knowledge and belief:
The facts and data reported by the review appraiser and used in the review process are true and correct.
The analyses, opinions, and conclusions in this review report are limited only by the assumptions and limiting conditions stated in this review report, and are my personal, unbiased professional analyses, opinions and conclusions.
—I have no (or the specified) present or prospective interest in the property that is the subject of this report and I have no (or the specified) personal interest or bias with respect to the parties involved.
—My compensation is not contingent on an action or event resulting from the analyses, opinions, or conclusions in, or the use of, this review report.
—My analyses, opinions, and conclusions were developed and this review report was prepared in conformity with the Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice.
—I did not (did) personally inspect the subject property of the report under review.
—No one provided significant professional assistance to the person signing this review report. (If there are exceptions, the name of each individual providing significant professional assistance must be stated.)

Comment: Departure from binding requirements (c) through (e) above is not permitted.
