Supplement A
RATES FOR DISCOUNTS AND ADVANCES

The following rates with respect to discounts and advances under the Federal Reserve Act and Regulation A are now in effect at this Bank:

Rates on Discounts and Advances	Per Annum	Effective From
Basic rate: Adjustment credit under 201.3(a) of Regulation A ¹	3½%	May 17, 1994
Seasonal credit under 201.3(b) of Regulation A ²	Flexible Rate	May 17, 1994
Extended credit under 201.3(c) of Regulation A ³
First 30 days.....	3½%	May 17, 1994
Thereafter.....	Flexible Rate	May 17, 1994

¹This is also the discount rate for 90-day commercial paper and other paper eligible for discount.

A rate higher than the basic discount rate will be applied to loans of unusual size that result from a major operating problem at the borrower's facility, unless the problem is clearly beyond the borrower's reasonable control. The new rate will be the highest rate within the structure of discount rates at the time in question.

²A flexible rate that takes into account rates on market sources of funds is applied to seasonal credit, but in no case will the rate be less than the discount rate applicable to adjustment credit. See 12 CFR 201.52(a).

³A flexible rate that takes into account rates on market sources of funds ordinarily will be applied to any "other extended credit" outstanding for more than 30 days. The flexible rate will not be lower than the basic rate plus one-half percentage point. At the discretion of this Reserve Bank, the 30-day time period for which the basic rate is charged may be lengthened or shortened. See 12 CFR 201.52(b).
