November 17, 1995

DALLAS, TEXAS 75265-5906

Notice 95-111

TO: The Chief Operating Officer of each member bank and others concerned in the Eleventh Federal Reserve District

SUBJECT

Notice of Fraudulent Check Cashing Scheme

DETAILS

The Department of the Treasury Financial Management Service has notified us of a possible fraudulent check scheme concerning paper items that appear to be payable at the Office of the Postmaster, Treasurer of the United States. According to the Treasury, they have recently received a few calls from financial institutions questioning the authenticity of these items. Most of these calls have been from institutions west of the Mississippi River.

The Treasury says that there is an individual who may be creating paper items called "Certified Bankers Checks: Comptroller Warrants." The paper says it is redeemable at the Office of the Postmaster, Treasurer of the U.S. and "payable on sight." Some of the paper has no MICR information, but it appears that the newer items do include MICR lines. The paper has been in amounts ranging from $2,000 to $660 million. These items are not government checks. So far as the Treasury knows, the items are not redeemable anywhere.
