Notice 96-57

TO: The Chief Executive Officer of each member bank and others concerned in the Eleventh Federal Reserve District

SUBJECT

Technical Corrections to the Community Reinvestment Act Rules

DETAILS

The Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and the Office of Thrift Supervision have corrected their joint final rule concerning the Community Reinvestment Act (CRA).

The joint final rule was originally published on May 4, 1995, and amended by a subsequent joint final rule published on December 20, 1995. This document corrects a cross-reference to Small Business Administration regulations, which were recently amended. The correcting amendment makes no substantive change in the requirements of the current regulations.

ATTACHMENT

A copy of the Board's notice as it appears on pages 21362-64, Vol. 61, No. 92, of the Federal Register dated May 10, 1996, is attached.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:Introduction

The agencies jointly are amending their regulations implementing the CRA (12 U.S.C. 2901 et seq.). This joint final rule makes a technical correction to the agencies' joint CRA regulations, 12 CFR parts 25, 228, 345, and 563e. Those regulations establish the framework and criteria by which the agencies assess an institution's record of helping to meet the credit needs of its community, including low- and moderate-income neighborhoods, consistent with safe and sound operations, and provide that the agencies will take those assessments into account in reviewing certain applications.

Background

Last year, the agencies revised their CRA regulations. They adopted a joint final rule, which was published on May 4, 1995 (60 FR 22156). The agencies published a correction and clarification to the joint final rule on December 20, 1995 (60 FR 66048).

Need for Correction to the Final Rule

The agencies' joint final rule, as amended, defines "community development" to mean activities that promote economic development by financing businesses or farms that meet the size eligibility standards of 13 CFR 121.802(a) (2) and (3). These size eligibility standards refer to the Small Business Administration's size limitations for Development Company and Small Business Investment Company (SBIC) programs. See 60 FR 22159 (May 4, 1995) and 60 FR 66049 (Dec. 20, 1995).

On January 31, 1996, the Small Business Administration amended its regulations. See 61 FR 3280. Effective March 1, 1996, the size limitations for Development Company and SBIC programs are described at 13 CFR 121.301 (b) and (c). 61 FR 3294. Therefore, it is necessary to amend the agencies' CRA regulations to reflect this change.

The agencies are amending their regulations to mention by name the SBA's Development Company and SBIC programs, as well as to refer readers to 13 CFR 121.301. The agencies believe that reference both to the programs by name and to the SBA's regulation by section will more clearly describe the size standards to which the agencies are referring while continuing to direct interested parties to the size standards' general location in the SBA's regulations.

The agencies find that notice and public procedure concerning this correcting amendment are impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest under 5 U.S.C. 553(b)(B). The agencies make this finding because these correcting amendments involve only technical corrections to the agencies' CRA regulations and make no substantive changes to the agencies' CRA regulations.

In addition, under 5 U.S.C. 553(d)(3), the agencies have determined to make this correcting amendment effective with less than 30 days prior publication. The agencies find that there is good cause for shortened notice due to the minor nature of the changes. Furthermore, the SBA's amended regulation became effective March 1, 1996 (61 FR 3280), thereby making the current cross-references in the agencies' CRA regulations erroneous as of that date.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

Pursuant to section 605(b) of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, the OCC, Board, FDIC, and OTS hereby certify that this joint final rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. The agencies expect that this joint final rule will not have significant secondary or incidental effects on a substantial number of small entities, or create any additional burden on small entities. This joint final rule merely makes a technical correction to a cross-reference in the rules already adopted by the agencies and will not increase burden on institutions. Accordingly, a regulatory flexibility analysis is not required.

Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995

There are no collection of information requirements in this joint final rule.

Executive Order 12866

OCC and OTS: The OCC and the OTS have determined that this joint final rule is not a significant regulatory action as defined in Executive Order 12866.

Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995

OCC and OTS: Section 202 of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995, Pub. L. 104-4, 109 Stat. 48 (1995) (Unfunded Mandates Act), requires that covered agencies prepare a budgetary impact statement before promulgating a rule that includes any Federal mandate that may result in the expenditure by State, local, and tribal governments, in the aggregate, or by the private sector, of $100 million or more in any one year. If a budgetary impact statement is required, section 205 of the Unfunded Mandates Act also requires covered agencies to identify and consider a reasonable number of regulatory alternatives before promulgating a rule. As discussed in the preamble, this joint final rule amends the agencies' CRA regulations by making one technical correction. Therefore, the OCC and the OTS have determined that this joint final rule will not result in expenditures by State, local, and tribal governments, or by the private sector, of $100 million or more in any one year. Accordingly, the OCC and the OTS have not prepared a budgetary impact statement or specifically addressed the regulatory alternatives considered.
